COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1936. No. 31.

SENATE

THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1936

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D.D., offered the following prayer:

O Thou Creator of all things, we thank Thee for the beautiful art gallery Thou has constructed and bestowed upon man. Its foundation is omnipotent creative power. Its superstructure and dome are Thy heart-throbs of love for us. It has sixty-six spacious rooms. Upon their walls Thou hast hung many pictures painted by Thine own skillful hand, depicting scenes enacted upon earth from the morning-dawn of time to the coming of Thy Son. His career is painted in living colors and the struggle to establish His kingdom on earth is made startingly real.

We call this art gallery the Bible, Thy Holy Word. If we would more frequently wander through its sixty-six rooms and study the paintings hanging upon their walls, Thy Spirit would speak to our souls in audible tones and our lives would be brought into closer touch with Thee. Lead us to enter this sacred structure daily, there to commune with Thee, the Master Artist of the ages. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FREY, from the Committee on Municipal Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 85 (House Bill No. 81), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act, approved the twenty-fifth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 82), entitled "An act requiring certain cities to allow members of the fire department twenty-four consecutive hours of rest each week and fourteen days vacation each year, except in emergency cases," by providing that the provisions of said act shall be mandatory; and prohibiting any diminution of salary or compensation.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 6, on third reading, entitled:

Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the Senators from Allegheny County expressed their willingness to have me appear before them to see if I could persuade them to allow Allegheny County to be included in this amendment, and I therefore ask that this bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 46, entitled:

An Act relating to proceedings for the forfeiture of rights, privileges or franchises of corporations making claim against street railway, traction or motor power companies in certain cases; and providing for the disposition of rights, privileges or franchises forfeited and for contracts relating thereto.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this bill was drafted by a member of the Philadelphia Bar who perhaps is a better bill drafter than John H. Fertig, which is saying a great deal. I spent one Sunday evening with Judge McDevitt, going over the items of this bill, and he advised me to introduce the bill. The bill has therefore been intelligently criticised. I did not consult His Honor, the Mayor, but I am very happy he is here today so that I can consult him openly. He and I were instrumental, although the Philadelphia Record claims to be a third partner—but that is not true, in saving the citizens of Philadelphia from a bond issue of $129,000,000 to acquire these 42 underlying companies of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit. The price originally was $200,000,000, when Mr. Stotesbury was Chairman of the Board. Then, you may remember, Commissioner Benn resigned under pressure because he was accused of—well, the gossip was that he was Mr. Mitten's messenger boy—in arranging an appraisal of $129,000,000 on the traction system of Philadelphia; and Mayor Mackey, General Atterbury, Drexel & Company, Mr. Mitten—I would not like to say conspired together but they had a good set-up to sell the transportation system to Philadelphia for $149,000,000; and His Honor, the Mayor and myself have the honor, I think, of upsetting the applecart. Now the price has fallen to $84,000,000. From $200,000,000 to $84,000,000 is a considerable drop.

The Mayor and I may part company on the fundamental question of whether the city ought to be the owner of the system or not but the P. R. T. and all these underlying companies are forever having a family row. The P. R. T. every October had to send a $9,000,000 check to the Union Traction Company, to pay the rentals. The P. R. T. is in arrears, and you may have noticed there is a hearing now before a Master by which the underliers are trying to prove they own everything and the P. R. T. owns nothing.

This bill is introduced in the hope that the family row will go so far that somebody will become angry enough to have the traction company foreclose, and have the P. R. T. declared the owner of the franchises; and then, when the P. R. T. undertakes to operate the system, if it does not operate it properly it can be brought into court and perhaps forfeit its charter, so that the citizens of Philadelphia may recover the rights to their streets, which they gave away—under their Council and Mayor—at that time for nothing, for a period of 999 years. I submit that that is a long time to wait, and this bill might be a short cut.

I do not want to detain the Senators not interested in Philadelphia matters, but I do want to say that in my opinion this Union Traction matter was conceived in sin and born in iniquity; and it is a matter of record that the Mayor of Philadelphia then locked his door on a million dollar check of John Wanamaker for those franchises.

All this may be ancient history, but it bears out the proverb, "Chickens come home to roost"; and this bill will be instrumental, perhaps, in restoring to the citizens of Philadelphia the rights to their streets that were given away for 999 years.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 46, on third reading, go over in its order, at the request of the Mayor of Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, does the Senator know that in the Governor's Call he asks for an appropriation for the Disabled Veterans' Commission?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am aware of that fact, yes, and I believe that there will be ample provision made for such relief as may be needed, without tapping what is known as the Fund for the construction of roads and highways in this State. For a period of thirty years this State has maintained a fund from the tax on gasoline and motor licenses for road purposes, and road purposes only. This is an entering wedge to tap that fund for relief. I believe the people in this Commonwealth are amply able to raise money for relief purposes, whether it be for the Disabled Veterans' Commission or for any other purpose without having to tap the motor license fund. I am opposed to it regardless of who may be the recipient of that relief.

Mr. MALLERY. I would like to have the Senator from Bucks inform the members in what way this bill will be tapping the motor fund.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the bill provides for extra licenses for favorite friends for motor registration plates. After taking $1.00 of that fund for overhead expenses, they appropriate the rest of it for relief to some Veterans' organization.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I would like to inform the Senate that this bill does not tap the motor fund. This bill provides for a special license which anyone in the State who desires can obtain the special license if he wants it. If he does not want it, he can obtain a license at the rates that prevailed heretofore. Since the setting up of this fund, for this disabled Veterans' Commission, the State of Pennsylvania has appropriated almost a million dollars for the care of disabled veterans and their dependents. The war may be over, but we still have the disabled veterans and we still have the dependents. On leaving to come down here this week, I was stopped just as I was leaving my office, by the widow of a veteran, who died leaving a family of some six or eight children, and that veteran has a bonus coming to him, but the widow nor the children have received it, and it may be months before they do receive, and what will it amount to when they do receive it? I do not think the time has come that we in Pennsylvania want to deny people who wish to contribute to that fund for widows and children, and I hope there will not be a member of this Senate who will refuse to vote for this bill.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill, not because of the privilege it gives to veterans, but because it starts, I think, a vicious condition in this State in relation to issuing licenses for automobiles. We have had, up until a year ago, what, I think, was unfair and improper distribution of license plates in this State, favoring people. The rich man and politically influential men were able to secure for their cars automobile plates which gave them privileges that the common people did not have. This bill is intended to restore that vicious condition. I want to say that I am as willing as anybody else on this floor to make an appropriation to veterans. I am for them, but I want to do it openly and above board, and not be by a lottery scheme that permits a lot of people in this State to secure advantages from the police force that the ordinary man does not have.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BUCKMAN and Mr. HARRIS and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—10

Batchelor,	Buckman,	Huffman,	Rodgers,
Baumer,	Gelder,	Lanius,	Woodward,
Bean,	Howell,

NAYS—33

Aron,	Homsher,	Prince,	Ruth,

Frey,	McCreesh,	Reed,	Staudenmeier,
Graff,	McGinnis,	(Washington)	Thompson,
Harris,	Miller,	Rice,	(Centre)
Harvey,	Pierson,	Roberts,	Thompson, (Westmoreland)

So the question was determined in the negative.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 63, entitled:

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 6, on third reading, entitled:

Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 6, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That article nine section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 8 The debt of any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district except as provided herein and in section fifteen of this article shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein but the debt of the city and county of Philadelphia may be increased in such amount that the total city and county debt of said city and county shall not exceed fifteen (15) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable realty therein nor shall any municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such assessed valuation of taxable property or taxable realty without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the city and county of Philadelphia at any time there shall be deducted from such debt so much of the debt of said city and county as shall have been incurred or is about to be incurred and the proceeds thereof expended or about to be expended upon any public improvement or in the construction purchase or condemnation of any public utility or part thereof or facility therefor to the extent that such public improvement or public utility or part thereof whether separately or in connection with any other public improvement or public utility or part thereof may yield or may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expenses sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges thereon The method of determining such amount so to be deducted may be prescribed by the General Assembly

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city and county of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof with provision for a sinking fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity the payment to such sinking fund to be in equal or graded annual or other periodical installments Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city and county of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvements of public works or utilities of any character from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city and county or for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city and county such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred but not in excess of five years from the time of the incurring of such indebtedness and said city and county shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking fund charges as required by section ten article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of said work Provided however That any county city borough township or other municipality or incorporated district may with the consent of the electors thereof increase its indebtedness to the extent of three (3) per centum over and beyond any limitation fixed herein toward the sole purpose of constructing or completing sewage treatment works

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 1, page 1, line 13, by inserting after the word "but" the following: "the debt of the county of Allegheny may be increased in an amount that the total county debt of such county shall not exceed ten (10) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable realty therein and"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I just want to state that the Philadelphia Senators, the Senators from Allegheny and the Mayor of Philadelphia met in the room to the left, considered this amendment and agreed upon it.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, all five of the Senators from Allegheny County are heartily in favor of this amendment to Senate Bill No. 6, and in view of the fact that it requires another session of the Legislature to be passed upon and to a vote of the people of Allegheny County, we feel that this enabling legislation will be properly handled by the people who after all are the court of last resort. This three per cent in the amendment permits the county to borrow to that extent, solely for the purpose of sewers and other necessary works.

I believe it personally to be a splendid thing for Philadelphia and Allegheny County at this time. We know there is strong agitation for the cleaning out of our streams, and I believe there is only one way in which we will ever get a stream pollution bill properly enacted to enforce it, and that is to enable municipalities to borrow sufficient money to build these public works which, in turn, will take care of our sewers, and so I say that for Allegheny County, and I speak as just one Senator, I am heartily in favor of the amendment to Senate Bill No. 6, and I believe that our other Senators are also in favor of it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

Whereupon,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, last evening I made some remarks tending to lay some base for a sound relief estimate for the period of July 1, 1936 to February 1, 1937. It was not my purpose to emphasize the figures I used in illustrating my points. The thing that I did want to emphasize indelibly was the wisdom of adopting the formula suggested by the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure. I did not carefully make the divisions, deductions and additions involved in the figures stated by me.

I do wish at this time to clarify certain phases of my remarks. I will also try to give figures more carefully selected and based upon tangible facts.

I realize fully that in the selection of a typical week of relief expenditure, I selected the average week of the first quarter of this year. My colleagues can justly criticise this selection for it apparently is the quarter of the year during which the relief expenditures are the highest. I say that this criticism is just as fair as my criticism of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, for selecting one of the lowest weeks of relief expenditures as the basic and typical week. However, these two points of view can easily be reconciled by taking the month of lowest and the month of highest expenditures and evolve from them the average week of expenditure. This surely should be a fair base from which to draw a respectable relief estimate.

It appears that the months of January and June of this year are respectively the months of the highest and lowest relief expenditures. In January the expenditures were $6,523,439.57. In the month of June the expenditures were $4,923,869.28. Both these expenditures were for periods of four weeks each, or a total of eight weeks. Th total expenditures for both these months were $11,-447,308.85. Dividing this total by eight, the result is $1,430,913.61. This represents the average week of relief expenditure. If we multiply this by 30½ the result will be $43,642,865.11, which will represent the estimated average expenditure for the 30½ weeks. Let us deduct from this 17% or the sum of $7,419,287.07 to allow for the transfer of 33,000 cases to W. P. A., and the remainder is $36,223,578.04, the actual relief estimate for the period July 1, 1936 to February 1, 1937. We must now add to this 8% or $2,897,886.24 for administration costs, and the total is $39,121,464.28. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, would deduct from this 5% or $1,956,073.21 for purging the ineligibles from the relief rolls, and the remainder—$37,165,390.89—the gentleman would allow as the total relief estimate for the period July 1, 1936 to February 1, 1937. If we add to this $8,716,211, the sum transferred from special funds since the middle of May, and the total is $45,881,601.89, which, under the formula of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, would allow as a relief estimate from the middle of May to February 1, 1937.

But, as I stated yesterday, I think the deduction of 5% for purging the ineligibles from relief rolls should not be allowed, and the basic relief estimate should be $47,-838,675.10, or roughly, 48 millions. Yesterday my figures were roughly 48½ millions, but they were based differently than the ones I have just given. Yesterday's figures included a duplication of administration costs sufficient to cover the transfers made up to July 1st. Today's figures have corrected that error and also clarify the point that about 48 million dollars will repay the transfers and provide a fair fund for unemployment relief from July 1, 1936 to February 1, 1937.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 104 (House Bill No. 153), on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief, work relief, and expenses, defining the purposes for which such monies may be expended, and prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Board and certain State Departments, and ratifying, confirming and validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making monies available for unemployment relief prior to the adoption of this act.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order.

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 104 (House Bill No. 153), as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief work relief and expenses defining the purposes for which such monies may be expended and prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Board and certain State Departments and ratifying confirming and validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making monies available for unemployment relief prior to the adoption of this act

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I wish at this time to make a motion to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 104 (House Bill No. 153) passed second reading, for the purpose of allowing me to offer an amendment on second reading.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, to state to us the purpose of the amendment.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this bill, House Bill No. 153, has been amended in Committee, increasing the appropriation from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000; and there is an accompanying bill transferring $3,000,000 from the other funds. In other words, this bill is carrying out the principle we have followed since this session began—transfer funds from other sources and then pass an appropriate bill to cover it. I wish to amend this bill back to its original form, which is for $2,000,000 of money that has already been expended, and which is provided for. The $5,000,000 for which the bill calls has not been provided for, except that it would be taken again from special funds—which I oppose.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes, certainly.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe, if his amendment passes, does it stop relief?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it has already stopped.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, if we pass the bill in its present form, do we not have relief for the unemployed at once?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I cannot answer that "yes" or "no"; but I want to say this, that it is a temporary arrangement. We have no provision here, so far as I know, for the appropriation of sufficient money to take care of the relief from now down to the end of January. This is carrying out the plan that the Republican side of the House has followed, as I said, since the beginning of the Session—for a period of ten or eleven weeks; and we, on our side, feel that the time has arrived when we must stop. The other funds are needed where they are. The Highway Department has pretty nearly broken down. There came a delegation from one of my counties here today to say that 200 men, working on a highway project out in one of the counties, will be thrown out of work at the end of this week because there is no money to continue the project. That is a beginning. You are taking money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund, which money belongs to the counties and the townships and the boroughs now, and they need it. No provision is being made by taxation to return these funds. We have taken $17,500,000 from the road fund alone, and under the proposed tax bill program of the Republican Party in Pennsylvania the best I can figure out of it is that it will net about $30,000,000.

The Governor is asking, and the Emergency Relief Board is asking, for $55,000,000; and no program, no set of figures, will teach us that $30,000,000, or $35,000,000, if you please, will be sufficient to take care of the poor down to the end of the period; and until that time arrives we do not feel like transferring funds from sources that now need those funds.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, further.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe where we would get the money to continue relief now—at this time—this week, if all the tax bills now on the program were passed.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would answer the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, by saying, I think that is your problem.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe the further question: Is it not a fact that there has been no bill introduced in this Legislature yet for providing for the issuance of tax anticipation notes to get money for relief?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would answer that by saying, yes, there has been.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, when was it introduced?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, to the best of my information, it was introduced last week, or this week.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is it not a fact that it was introduced the day before yesterday by a member of the House of Representatives who was not even a recognized member of the Democratic organization in this State?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I cannot say "yes" or "no" to either question; I do not know whether it was the day before yesterday that the bill was introduced, and I do not know who introduced it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is it not a fact that if every tax bill that has passed the Democratic House and been sent to this Senate, had been passed, we would have no relief money today unless we had a transfer, or had a provision for tax anticipation notes?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I think that is begging the question. We have been here for eleven weeks—ten or eleven weeks, and had we passed tax bills at the beginning of the session instead of at this time—or trying to—undoubtedly we would have plenty of money now.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I insist on the Senator from Monroe answering my question, which is, is it not a fact that if all tax bills now in this Senate were passed, we would either have to issue tax anticipation notes or make a transfer to take care of relief this week?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, if they were all passed at the present time?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if they were all passed now, at the present time.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, if they had been passed in time we would not need any assistance from funds.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if it is not a fact that even if they had been passed three weeks ago still there is no legislation for tax anticipation notes offered yet, or passed in neither the House nor the Senate.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, what the gentleman is raising is the question of the validity of the Act passed last year for further usage of the funds. That is a matter of dispute among lawyers, and to cover that a new Act has been introduced to permit us to issue the tax anticipation notes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, is it not a fact that the present administration has learned that they cannot issue tax anticipation notes without a new Act, and that that Act was not introduced until this week, and that no matter what happens in this Senate relief is cut off, unless we make a transfer until that Democratic Act is passed—that has already passed in the House?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, relief has already been cut off; I have already answered your question.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it seems to me the time has come to meet this issue. Night before last the Governor of Pennsylvania released a highly inflammatory statement against the Republican members of this Senate. This statement was utterly and maliciously false, and he should have known that it was false at the time he made it. For the first time in the history of this Commonwealth the Governor has lowered himself to the level of common mendacity for the purpose of deliberately deceiving the people of the State as to a situation.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is a motion to have the vote by which this bill passed second reading reconsidered; it is not debatable.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am speaking on this motion. This is a motion to strike out of this bill the only possible provision for giving relief to the unemployed of Pennsylvania—the only possible provision—and that is what I am debating.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that that is not the motion. The motion is to reconsider the vote by which this bill passed second reading, and that is only debatable within a very limited sphere—principally on the mechanics of it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand I shall proceed, or sit down?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order raised by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is well taken.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, a few minutes ago the Senator from Monroe spoke of the "Republican policy" of transferring money from special funds. I should like to ask the Senator if any one of these transfer resolutions was introduced in the Senate, or if it is a fact that each and every one originated in the House, and was passed by the House before it reached the Senate.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations—the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that this bill, Senate Bill No. 104, is to transfer money, apparently, from the General Fund. Am I correct?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, it is.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it correct, also, that unless Senate Bill No. 105 passes,—to provide for the transfer of funds, there will be no money in the General Fund from which to make appropriations for relief?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I think that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it not true that our voting for these appropriations from the General Fund, where there is no money, is just a proceeding that is innocuous?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I think it implies that Senate Bill No. 105 should also be passed. Perhaps we have the cart before the horse, and should first called up Senate Bill No. 105.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is correct, and I suggest to the Senate that the vote on Senate Bill No. 104, for the appropriation of funds that do not exist, should be postponed until we act on Senate Bill No. 105—to see whether or not we here are willing to make the transfer.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. GELDER and Mr. HUFFMAN and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

Baumer,	Law,	Reed,	Ruth,
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Shapiro,
Frey,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Sones,
Huffman,	Miller,	Roberts,	Thompson,
Kahle,	Pytko,	Rodgers,	(Centre)
Lanius,	Rankin,

NAYS—26

Aron,	Gelder,	McClure,	Scott,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Owlett,	Sordoni,
Bean,	Harris,	Pierson,	Staudenmeier,
Buckman,	Harvey,	Prince,	Thompson,
Chapman,	Homsher,	Reed,	(Westmoreland)
Coyne,	Howell,	(Dauphin)	Woodward,
Ealy,	Mallery,	Salus,	Ziesenheim,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to renew what

I was about to state before. I repeat that night before last the Governor of Pennsylvania released a highly inflammatory statement to the press, against the Republican members of this Senate. This statement was utterly and maliciously false, and he should have known it to be false at the time he made it. For the first time in the history of the Commonwealth, the Governor of the State has lowered himself to the level of common mendacity for the purpose of deliberately deceiving the people of the State as to a situation which he has persistently misrepresented during the whole period of this Special Session. The Governor has violated all the rules of fair conduct and decency.

We should no longer tolerate these exhibitions of temper and irresponsible conduct without explaining, on our part, the full factual situation at Harrisburg, as well as making clear to the people of Pennsylvania the kind of propaganda that is going around this State. The time has come for a show down—

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, do I understand that House Bill No. 153 is before the Senate for consideration?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, yes, Senate Bill No. 104 (House Bill No. 153).

The PRESIDENT. That is right.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe, Mr. HUFFman, will state his point of order.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, is not speaking to the point on the question of the consideration of the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I wish to state I am speaking on this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair believes that the Senator from Tioga is not very close to the bill. The Senator will kindly confine his remarks to the bill in question.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I say, we welcome this opportunity to make a full exposure of the facts. This bill before us, Senate Bill No. 104 (House Bill No. 153), is the only measure possible in this Senate to give relief to the unemployed at this time, and any one that opposes this bill is voting against relief in Pennsylvania, and there is not any other issue at stake here.

Now, Mr. President, there has been no bill introduced in this Senate whatever, there was no bill introduced in the House until day before yesterday, providing for any tax anticipation notes. Everybody that studied the question knows that we cannot raise money through these tax bills—even if they were all passed—until we issue tax anticipation certificates to get the money.

Mr. President, three weeks ago we passed a bill, a tax bill, levying a tax on liquor, for $7,500,000. If the Administration had passed a tax anticipation note bill, as they should have done three or four weeks ago, introduced it in the House and sent it over here, we would have available today $7,500,000 from that bill, and the people of this State would not go hungry.

Now, Mr. President, there is no other conclusion to be drawn from the facts than that this plan of having relief stop in Pennsylvania this week is a deliberate, preconceived plan for the purpose of politics and nothing else. I say to you, Mr. President, that if the Governor of this Commonwealth had complete control of this Senate today, there is nothing he could do—there is nothing that anybody could do—to relieve unemployment in Pennsylvania except to pass these two bills; because that is the only fund available, that is the only money we can get for relief until tax anticipation notes are sold,—there is no bill providing for them other than that. And I say again, anyone voting against this bill is voting against the continuance fo relief in Pennsylvania.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will be very glad to.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, is it not a fact that the Republican Party has decided in caucus that the tax program should be a maximum of $35,000,000?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that has nothing to do with this bill. The fact is that the Republican caucus has decided time and time again, and has decided for the last two days, that the going off of relief is nothing more than a scheme to be used for political purposes; and that as far as the Republican membership of the Senate is concerned they are going to use the only methods that they have available, or anybody has available, to get money for the relief of the suffering in this State.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I still would like to have the Senator from Tioga answer my question.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator from Monroe repeat the question.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, my question was, whether the Republican Party in Pennsylvania, as represented by the Republican Senators in caucus, have not decided that the maximum of the bills that they would send out for passage is $35,000,000

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Republican membership of this Senate, in a caucus, decided that in their judgment $35,000,000 was ample to take care of relief if Mr. Jones as he said he would, namely, take off of the direct relief rolls, the married men now on those rolls and transfer them to WPA in exchange for an equal number—I believe 25,000 is the number—of single men on the WPA rolls. It was Mr. Jones's own suggestion that he could save $1,000,000 a month.

The Republican members of the Senate conceived that $41,000,000—backed up by State Treasurer Waters—would continue relief on the present basis until February 1, 1937. From that has been deducted the sum of $7,000,000—or $6,000,000, representing the $1,000,000 a month saving which Mr. Jones himself said could be effected if they made the transfer of cases that I have just mentioned; and we could not conceive that with the chance of saving $1,000,000 a month to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania this Administration would fail to avail itself of that offer.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the answer is the maximum is to be $35,000,000, and the only figures we have that are reliable are the figures we get from the State Emergency Relief Board, which are, that we need $35,000,000. The only tax bills that were sent out over a period of more than ten weeks by the Committee on Finance of this Senate are the three—the increase in the Liquor Tax and the two bills on the calendar now. The one will net $575,000, and not in excess of $21,000,000. The Revenue Department say $18,000,000, which makes a total of $30,575,000 to cover the tax programme that the Emergency Relief Board says will require $55,000,000.

Therefore, no provision, I say, has been made, and there is no intention of making provision here for more than about one-half of this period; and if the people must go out and go hungry is it not better to have it done in the month of July than to have it next December? I say that we have been going along this long on all this borrowed money, but some time we will have to stop. These funds have become exhausted; there is no money in the Treasury now; but I say it is their talk that we at this time cannot afford to transfer any more funds from other sources.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the simulated humane attitude of my colleagues on the other side of this House reminds me of the old quotation in the Holy Scriptures, where the ancient Jewish patriarch said, "The voice is the voice of Jacob but the hands are the hands of Esau", and I think that is exactly the character of the expressions that we are hearing today from the other side of this Senate.

Now, I say this Mr. President, the facts which are based upon the Journal of this Senate, Let us just back to our Journal of a month ago, to see if the Democratic side of this House is responsible for the political malingering that has been going on in this Senate since the 4th of May.

Mr. President, let me read from the Journal of June 8th. Let me read from the remarks of one of the Democratic Senators: "* * * To provide by proper taxation a reasonable and adequate amount for relief is our immediate problem. Sufficient money for this purpose must and can be raised. But although five weeks have passed, no plan or policy so far has been advanced in this Extraordinary Session by this Senate. It is time that we act Our people are uttering words of discontent over our delay; just criticism is spreading throughout the State; and ere long June shall be called upon for a transfer of more funds."

Quoting again: "I think it would be better for all of us, on both sides of this House, to take the good, up to date, Twentieth Century American text, and let our text be, on all of these problems, to go to work. I was ashamed of myself when I looked at this Senate calendar tonight. We saw bills on our calendar last week—and what happened to them? Just the same thing that happens to any piece of legislation that appears on our calendars. Back in Committee! Back in Committee! That is where all of this legislation goes.

As the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has reminded us, we are coming right to the narrow edge of the passage of this social security legislation. The State of Pennsylvania will lose millions of dollars if we do not begin acting this week and do not act next week. And what do we do? Try to delay for political conventions!

We all heard it propounded last week, on the floor of this Senate that we adjourn for the political conventions; and that, Mr. President, did not come from the Democratic side of the House. If we would have adjourned this Senate last week for the political conventions, it would have meant the death of social security legislation in Pennsylvania.

The Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Prince, says that the Republican Party is willing to go the limit on all of these problems for the protection of the unfortunate of this State. I ask you, Mr. President, why doesn't the Republican Party go somewhere on this problem—anywhere, as a matter of fact? But we sit here for a month and a half and the Republican Party has not gone anywhere. Is this lack of courage? Is this a lack of ability to face these problems and to dispose of them frankly and fairly, and in a manner which is answerable to the public of Pennsylvania? I say, let us go somewhere in this Senate, even if we do make a mistake; let us do something, and not sit here interminably with a calendar of two or three bills on it, and probably send those bills back to committee before we adjourn within twenty-four hours after we convene."

Mr. President, those quotations, that word of caution, was thrown out to the Republican side of this Senate a month and a day ago. A month elapsed before any tax bills were seen on the calendar of this Senate, and those tax bills were in the Finance Committee the night that those remarks were made.

Mr. President, how does any Republican Senator in this House have the audacity to stand up and say that the Democrats are in anywise responsible for any emergency that exists? Mr. President, I say to you that the Republican side of this House is 100% responsible for the emergency that exists in the State of Pennsylvania today. They have been warned over and over again. I could go through this Journal, Mr. President, week by week since the middle of May and show you those same words of caution, those same words of pleading, those same words begging the Republican side of this House to do something, to face an emergency which was certainly going to come. Anywhere from two months ago to a month ago the same words of caution have been thrown out, but they closed their eyes to the future, they closed their eyes to the fact, they would do nothing, they would say nothing, they would bring nothing on the floor of this Senate for disposition by the Senate, and then they come in this afternoon by subterfuge and try to throw the burden of this situation on the Democratic side of the House.

Mr. President, I say, in answer to the remarks from the Senator from Tioga, that the Republican side of this House has been guilty of public and political malingering since the 4th day of May, and they would come in here this afternoon and except the Senators on the Democratic side of this House to keep on voting for measures which will not relieve this crisis, but it will aggravate this crisis. They cannot expect us to vote for smokescreen legislation to cover up their own derelictions. If they had been on the level, if they had been interested in the welfare of the starving people of Pennsylvania, they would have heeded the remarks in this Journal of June 8th.

Mr. President, let us have on the record of this Senate a thorough understanding of what the Democratic position is. Mr. President, the Democratic position is not against the transfer of funds, but the Democratic Party says to the Republican side of this Senate, "we will not cripple our counties, we will not further cripple our boroughs and our townships and our school districts, and our other municipal subdivisions; we will not run a chance of dumping 80,000 employes under the operation of the State Highway Department back on to the relief rolls by transferring additional funds; we will not submit to any more transfer of funds that are being delegated for this special purpose until this Senate has passed an adequate and a comprehensive program of taxation which will be necessary to meet this situation from now until the first of February. When an adequate and comprehensive program of taxation has been passed by the political malingerers in this State Senate, the Democratic Party will then do everything in its power to provide by temporary transfers for which repayment is already provided, the funds from which to take care of the funds for our immediate necessities. Mr. President, when that time comes, I am sure that all of us will join with our new humane bretheren on the other side of this House to help relieve any temporary emergency, but I say again, Mr. President, until that time arrives, until we have something to offer the people of the State of Pennsylvania besides a smokescreen maneuver, until that time, Mr. President, I, for one, and I believe I speak for the majority of my Democratic brethren, will not vote for any more transfers of funds.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I believe that this discussion is out of order but I am unwilling to allow the situation to be beclouded by what I might call "disorderly" discussions—and I use the word advisedly. I think, in discussing the bill, however, or the bill, the question of good faith is always present; and therefore I think I can take refuge in the phrase, whether or not this bill is offered in good faith for the purpose of what I consider an out of order discussion in the light of what has already occurred.

The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, says anybody who is voting against this bill is voting against relief. This is the only measure by which you can get relief. In response to question I put to the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, as to whether or not this bill provides any money, he says, "No, because it is an appropriation of $3,000,000 from the Treasury"—which does not exist, it is not there; and how anybody can be voting against relief when he is voting for an appropriation which does not exist, I do not understand. And I come back to the question of good faith because all these things that are being done are mere subterfuges—this is merely an empty shell.

In discussing this question someone asked the question, and got the answer that all these bills originate in the House. Let us look at that. The first transfer bill was for $11,000,000. It came over from the House. It recited the fact that whereas we have met, and there is not now sufficient time to pass bills creating revenues, we will have to have a temporary transfer. And we requested an $11,000,000 transfer. Did the Republicans say, "Well, one thing is certain: You will need $11,000,000 for relief, and we might as well give that"? Oh no, the Republicans took that resolution and reduced it to $3,330,000. When that expired the Republicans said, "Your figures are all wrong. We will show you they are all wrong. The first thing is to have a W. P. A. investigation, and the next thing is to talk about it." And the day before relief expired the Republicans did nothing. The Democrats foolishly presented another resolution, which, if I had charge of affairs would never have been done—because, the child having been taken over and dumped into the lap of the Republican Party, it was their child. But they did nothing, so in desperation the Democrats sent over another resolution asking for $6,086,211. Did the Republican majority adopt that, Oh, no, they took that into committee and said, "You don't need that much money; we have not had time to go over the figures, but you need less." And what did they do to that resolution? They reduced it to $4,000,000. And when that money was expended, and starvation again threatened, and we were talking about people going hungry, on the floor of this Senate, another resolution was introduced by the Democrats, and that resolution asked for $6,086,000. Was that agreed on? Oh, no; the Republicans said, "You do not need that much money," and they first reduced it to $1,000,000 for the balance of June, and then, after that, when the $1,000,000 was used up, every penny, they added another million dollars for July. The total appropriation to this State is less than the $11,000,000 asked for in the first resolution; and we are having now another resolution asking for the other million dollars.

On the question of good faith, I leave it to fair and honest-thinking people whether or not that is the complete answer as to who is acting in good faith. I say, this resolution, or this appropriation bill, is a mere shell. I contend that the next resolution cannot be legally acted upon, because the next resolution contains an amendment which the Chair has no right to receive. It is an original resolution carrying out a moral obligation to appropriate $2,000,000, and when it is so amended that it calls for another appropriation of $3,000,000 it is in violation of the original purpose of the resolution, and I shall raise the question at the proper time, and those who are familiar with parliamentary procedure must acknowledge that there is no merit in the amendment, and no validity in that amendment. Properly speaking, that amendment cannot be received by the Chair. I do not propose to have anybody try to place me in the position of having merely promised to vote for a $2,000,000 resolution, and then amend it so as to compel me—on the ground that I had promised merely to vote for two—to vote for five, on the statement, "If you don't vote for the five, the bill falls."

I will have the courage of my convictions, and I will vote, as I have always done, against that resolution when it comes up for transfer; but I contend that there is nothing in this appropriation bill, and there is nobody going to be helped, and nobody going to be stopped from starving by that bill, because it is a mere shell.

And I want to say I do not intend at this time to answer the tirade of the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, against the highest officer of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I have tried thus far to refrain from engaging in personalities and the calling of names. I have found that it never pays to do it. At the proper time there may be a proper answer to that. But I have been listening with great interest and appreciation to the criticisms of the gentleman who has the honor of opening these exercises, in the hope that some light may fall on the Republican members of the Senate. I ask them to refer to the Journal of Wednesday, July 1, and read the prayer of the Rev. Dr. Howard:

"We thank Thee that the cradle of freedom lies within the confines of our great State. Make us worthy sons of our heroic sires, facing the problems of today with the same courage displayed by them one hundred and sixty years ago. The crisis of that day was indeed serious. Perhaps equally serious is the crisis of today. Oh God, give us men brave enough to face every issue arising from the surging confusion of twentieth century life."

We were praying for Divine guidance. I suggest that that guidance, in this gilded room—existing in a time which contains some 173,000 families who are suffering—has been over us at all times. In the words of the Divine, "I have seen the affliction of my people and have heard their cry, and I will redeem them."

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, referred to the mess of pottage story in the Old Testament, and I have a copy of the Evening Bulletin of May 5th, referring to the mess of pottage. Unfortunately, I have lost the first page but on this next page the heading is "Earle Boosts Tax Program to $80,618,600 Total." This was early in May. The article goes on to say, "The Administration moved swiftly in a legislative way to keep pace with the Governor's suggestions and his expressed hope that the Special Session 'will be very short.' Bills covering his tax recommendations are ready for consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee, following their introduction in the Democratic lower branch last night."

Then, in the next column it says, "Earle's revised figure of $70,991,000 for relief requirements up to the end of next January—a period of nine months—reflects a decrease . . ."

Now, my argument is that by prolonging this Session we are not faced now with Governor Earle's revised figure of $70,991,000, but his re-revised figure now is $55,000,000, and if we just sit here long enough it may be lower.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I have listened very carefully to the statement of the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, relative to the position of the Democratic side of the Senate, and there is one question I did not hear answered, which is rather strange to me. Will the Senator explain to us just what his plan is now for feeding people tomorrow. I would like to have that answered.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, In answer to the remarks of the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim, I would say that the Democratic side of this House does not propose to pull the Republican chestnuts out of the fire. The Republican side of this House has brought down the wrath of the people of Pennsylvania on their heads, and I say that we do not propose to cripple the government of this State, of the people of the subdivisions, by pulling the Republican chestnuts out of the fire.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, do I understand the Senator's position is that in order to have political advantage, he proposes that the people shall starve; is that the idea?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, we have not proposed anything for political advantage, we have not tried to take any political advantage; but I have watched the action of the Senator from Erie and have listened to the remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, trying to capitalize political advantage that may be in this particular emergency, and I say to you, Mr. President, when the Republican side of this House, having delayed for eleven weeks to pass adequate legislation, appropriate legislation, appropriating that taxation, then we will be in a position to talk transfer.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, the Senator from Centre still has not explained what the people are going to do tomorrow.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, that has been up to the Republican side of this House to explain for the past eleven weeks and they have not offered any explanation.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. Prsident, I would ask the Senator from Centre if the people have been hungry in the last eleven weeks.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the people have been in the last eleven weeks and will be hungry from now on until the first of February of next year, if the program of the Republican Party as presented to us thus far is allowed to prevail in this Legislature.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I take it, then, that the Senator from Centre is going to feed them history instead of food. Is that it?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, we will feed the people of Pennsylvania when the Republican majority in this Senate takes some action to demonstrate they have a real interest in the people of Pennsylvania, real interest in the welfare of the people.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I cannot permit the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, to use the word "malingering" so often as he has this afternoon without placing the responsibility upon Pennsylvania's great malingerer. On the fifth day of this Session, in a question of personal privilege, I put four distinct questions to Governor Earle as questions that must be answered in order that we could decide the amount necessary for relief. It was about a month ago that my distinguished colleague, the Senator from Cumberland, Dr. Prince, addressed a question to Governor Earle with respect to money due under the agreement with Harry L. Hopkins, and to that question we have had no reply. It was approximately three weeks ago that the Republican membership of the Senate of Pennsylvania addressed a letter to Governor Earle, containing six vital questions upon which the Republican side of this Senate could determine what the necessary amount for relief should be, and after three long weeks we have had no reply. I, therefore, ask the question who is the malingerer? Why has not the Governor of this Commonwealth, who on the opening day of this legislative session stated that he would gladly submit all facts and figures with regard to the relief question? I am beginning to wonder does he dare to make a reply.

Now, after all this malingering on the part of the Governor of this Commonwealth in failing or refusing to answer the questions to which this Senate is entitled, as I understand he has made the statement that he will sign no more transfer bills. This is a spectacle that Pennsylvanie may well ponder upon, people on relief, people forced to go hungry, and yet this Administration saying that, until you adopt our program of $55,000,000, they shall continue to go hungry even though the Governor of this Commonwealth has refused, and persistently refused, to give facts to which the Senate of Pennsylvania and the people of Pennsylvania are entitled.

Ever since the first Talbot Bill of 1931, I have taken the position that in this Commonwealth no one should be permitted to go hungry. That has been the position of the Republican Party, and, thank God, it is the position of the Republican Party today, and so, Mr. President, I ask that, as speedily as possible, in relief of those in distress we pass these bills and send them to the House, to see if the House of Representatives has a spark of humanity in its membership, and that they may go to the Governor of this Commonwealth and let him determine whether he is going to sign them, and also to let the Senate of Pennsylvania know when he is going to answer those questions, so that the people of the Commonwealth, as well as the Senate of Pennsylvania, shall have the facts to which we are entitled.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I always like to feel that when the Senator from Dauphin speaks, he speaks with full sincerity. Sometimes, however, I doubt very seriously whether he clearly expresses himself. Sometime ago I referred to this "master of confusion", sometimes I was not far from telling the truth. If the Senator from Dauphin, who has pleaded so eloquently with the Governor, has refused to answer certain questions or to go on his knees to plead and beg the Republican Senators on this relief program, I say, if the Senator from Dauphin were a little careful and a little cautious, he would only recollect things that have already been done by the Governor and would probably take a different attitude. I would like to refer the Senator from Dauphin, who says that the Governor refused to meet them, or refused to answer the questions, I would like to refer him to the opening address of the Governor on May 4th, found in the Journal of this Senate on page 53, in which the gentleman told the Senator from Dauphin and all other Senators this: "I shall be happy to meet with any committee of your honorable body, at any time, to discuss the entire subject. I am perfectly willing to accept any tax substitutes you may propose, on two conditions. One is that such substitutes do not fall upon necessities, the other is that they be based upon ability to pay." And no longer than a month ago, the Governor extended that same invitation to the Senator from Dauphin and his colleagues, and did they accept the invitation? Not by any means, and I am mighty glad that the Senator from Dauphin had learned the full meaning of the word "malingering", as used by my colleague from Centre, because that expresses fully what the Senator from Dauphin and his colleagues have been doing for the last ten weeks.

Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, on remarks made by him.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, state whether the amendments in his bill in committee from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 is part of the program approved and adopted by the Republican caucus.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the amendment in this bill is part of the program of the Republican members of this Senate, to see to it that the people of Pennsylvania do not starve this week. Does that answer the question?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, my friend here on my left had attracted my attention and I did not hear the answer.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the benefit of the Senator from Fayette, I will repeat that the bill now before this Senate, Senate Bill No. 104, together with Senate Bill No. 105, which follows, is the program of the Republican members of this Senate for preventing the people in Pennsylvania from starving this week.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the question I asked the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, is whether it is part of the $35,000,000 program adopted and approved by the Republican caucus.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, I would say that these bills provide and make available immediately the sum of $3,000,000 for relief to apply on July. Then when the program is adopted, this $35,000,000 or $41,000,000 program, this $3,000,000 will apply on that amount the same as the previous transfers have applied?

Mr. President the Republican members of this Senate offer this Senate and offer the Governor this opportunity of making available and the only way enough would be available if all tax bills are passed, of taking care of this immediate situation.

Mr. President, the Governor, two days ago said again, on Thursday night, in the Moose Hall in Philadelphia, "I am going to carry my fight for the starving men, women and children of Pennsylvania on Friday. I am going to speak at Memorial Hall, Shenandoah, and then I am going to every district represented by the Republican Senators." I invite him to my Senatorial District any time he wants to come, and I will tell the people up there why there is not any money for unemployment. I will explain that it because the Democratic members of this Senate and the Democrats in the House refused to make the funds available that we have available for relief.

I want to call the Senator's attention to one more fact. This bill provides for the transfer—this companion bill, which is part of our program—provides for the transfer of $3,000,000, $1,500,000 from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund. Mr. President, today, in the treasury of this State, remains $2,663,797.30 in the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund. Bills are in the process of passing which will enable this fund to be raised as soon as the Democrats put through Tax Anticipation Notes which they will have to do pretty soon. Then the State Stores, today that fund contains $3,336,890.31. 81.

Now, I would like to ask the Senator from Fayette whether there is any reason for the people of Pennsylvania to go hungry with all that money lying in the treasury of Pennsylvania, when it is the only money available, no matter what you do.

I would like to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will. I did not know that my question was of such delicate construction that it would break loose such a flood of explanation.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want the Senator from Fayette to understand the Republican members' program as I understood it, so I wanted to give him a full explanation.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, but still the Senator's flood of explanation has not informed me definitely whether or not this bill in its amended form is part of the $35,000,000 program adopted and approved by the Republican caucus.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the moneys which would be transferred by these bills will be repaid by the $35,000,000 tax program as soon as it is enacted, of course.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I see no difficulty for the Senator from Tioga to answer that question, the question whether or not it is part of their program.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it is not part of the bill which will be passed making a general appropriation. It is a special appropriation to care of immediate needs, and it is part of the $35,000,000 program in that it will be repaid with the funds derived from new tax bills which will be passed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Tioga if the amendment to this bill was one of the consideration of the Republican caucus.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, yes, it was one of the considerations at several meetings of the Republican Senators when they were trying to see what could be done with the immediate relief situation in Pennsylvania, after it was discarded by the Democrats.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I think it is as hard for me to get an answer to my question as it is to chase a "will-o-the-wisp," and I can readily see that the Senator from Tioga does not wish to tell us whether this amendment is part of the Republican program or not, and whether or not is was considered as such in the Republican caucus.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I think I have answered that question.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the Senator from Tioga invited the Governor to come up to his district and I am curious to know why. I would like to have the Senator tell me whether he thinks it pays the Governor to go into Tioga County, where there are 396 cases, while in Allegheny County there are 59,000, and in Philadelphia County 69,000 cases.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to say this: Happily in the district I come from we have a small relief roll; however, unlike the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, we try in that section of the State to look at all the members of the State as our brothers, and try to be concerned in all other members of the State, and, Mr. President, while it is true that we have small relief rolls in my area, I am concerned about unemployment in the large sections in Pennsylvania, and, Mr. President, I am told today that they are going hungry and this bill will provide for them, and that is why I am for it.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, after the humane expressions from the Senator from Tioga, I would like to ask him whether or not he is for the $55,000,000 relief program?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am not for the $55,000,000 program because I know, and everybody knows who studies the problem, that this amount is not needed to take care of relief in Pennsylvania. I know that WPA, if it were run as it should be run, and the employables taken off the relief rolls, and no people brought down from New York State and $6,000 or $5,000 jobs meted out to these people who are friendly with this Administration, we would not need that amount of money. And, Mr. President, further than that this relief administration now has 12%, or $800,000 a month expense in administering relief and if this were cut down as it should be cut down, and if the cases were taken off relief rolls that should be taken off, much less than $55,000,000 would be ample to take care of relief, although, Mr. President, that has nothing whatever to do with these bills before us. These bills provide today immediate money for the unemployed who need food.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether or not he is in favor of the $49,000,000 program.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am not.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga whether he is in favor of the $45,000,000 program.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I am in favor of a $41,000,000 relief program, if we find Mr. Eddie Jones is not going to carry out his promise to transfer the single men from WPA to direct relief, and to take over the married men, 25,000 of them, and give them decent wages and decent jobs in the WPA. If he is not going to do what he said he would, and if Governor Earle is not going to see that cooperation is given to do that, and they are going to use WPA money for political purposes instead of taking care of these people, then I am for giving $41,000,000 for relief of the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga whether he will this week vote for revenue measures to enact this $41,000,000 relief program.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted to report out the revenue measures that were in the Finance Committee, which are now out on the floor of this Senate. Some of these measures I expect to vote for, some I expect not to vote for. We have no alternative but to bring out of the Finance Committee such measures as the Democratic membership of the House sees fit to send over to us, because as we know, and as everybody else knows, they must originate in the House. I am hopeful that these bills which we brought out will be passed. I think they will be, and in answer to the question as to how I will vote, I will decide that as the bills come up.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I think it has been sufficiently shown here that the attitude of the Republican membership of this House is, as Senator Owlett has intimated, to treat this as a piece-meal proposition to meet the situation each week, or each two week period, as it comes up. We are determined on this side of the House that the whole problem of relief for the ensuing period up to January 31st shall be met at once. That is what we wish to see and that is what I am satisfied that the people of Pennsylvania wish to see.

I had intended, when I was on my feet, to move the previous question, but I understand that the Senator from Delaware wishes to speak.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, this debate is contagious. I hesitate to take more of the time of the Senate, nevertheless the remarks of the Senator from Centre County cast a reflection on the Committee on Finance. He intimated that the Committee on Finance was responsible for most of the malingering. I might reply to that by using the words of the Senator from Fayette when he used the words "masters of confusion." If there are any "masters of confusion" they are in the Democratic Administration and not on the Republican side. I, for a few minutes, want to call several facts to your attention. On May 4, 1936, in the Governor's address to the General Assembly he stated, "Unemployment Relief Needs to January 31, 1937 are $70,991,000." We, the members of the Committee on Finance, thought that was too great an amount to adequately supply relief for those in Pennsylvania.

On June 13, 1936, the Governor addressed the following letter to Dr. de Schweinitz:

"Dr. Karl de Schweinitz, Director,
State Emergency Relief Board,
Harrisburg, Pa.
Dear Dr. de Schweinitz:

The Federal Works Progress Administration has made possible the employment on W. P. A. projects of 30,000 additional persons now on the Commonwealth's direct relief rolls.

It has done so by extending the period of eligibility of direct relief employables for W. P. A. employment from January 15 to June 15.

This action of the Federal Government followed a conference in Washington last Friday with Acting Federal Works Progress administrator Aubrey Williams and State Works Progress Administrator Edward N. Jones, at which U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey and I presented Pennsylvania's unemployment relief situation.

In March, before the present Special Session of the Legislature convened, you estimated that $70,991,000 would be required to meet unemployment relief needs until January 31, 1937."

Before I read the next paragraph I want to call your attention to what has gone on behind the scenes in the Democratic Party.

"Subsequently," I quote the letter, "On May 29th, because of the progress of business and industrial recovery, you advised me that the $70,991,000 would probably be sufficient to meet relief requirements until the middle or even the end of March, 1937.

In view of the action of the Federal Works Progress Administration which will take 30,000 cases from the direct rolls, involving more than 100,000 persons, I would appreciate a revised estimate of direct relief requirements until January 31, 1937.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) GEORGE H. EARLE"

I call to your attention, then, that on May 29th Dr. de Schweinitz notified the Governor that the amount of $70,991,000 would possibly provide relief for an additional two months. Let us see what happened after that. We have all read the statement of the W. P. A. Administrator, Edward N. Jones, issued on June 21st, in which he said that if he should receive the proper cooperation from the S. E. R A. he could substantially reduce the relief rolls and cleanse them of all employables. At the same time, or a few days later, in conference with two members of this body, he indicated that if cooperation was extended, and married men taken instead of single men, that the rolls would be further reduced. Later, on July 1st, Edward N. Jones addressed the Committee on Finance, at which time he informed us that the Governor's last estimate was $55,000,000 for relief.

The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, has taken a great interest in the figures which I submitted to the Senate last week. He has stated here that he approves of the formula proper—not as a whole but in a great part; and this afternoon he, himself, has stated that $48,000,000 is his opinion of the amount required for relief.

Mr. President, I submit to you, in view of these facts, how could the members of the Committee on Finance arrive at an amount of money necessary for relief? Have we heard the end of it? We do not know whether we are justified in passing this bill this afternoon, so that the men, women and children of this State who are waiting to be fed can receive food.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I have heard a lot this afternoon about what the proper amount for relief is. I think if the Republican members of this Senate had devoted themselves to the question, in an effort to ascertain what is the proper amount for relief, and had passed the necessary legislation, we would not be here in this dilemma today.

The Republican Party has been in control of this State and nation for the last fifty years. It is reliably stated that during all that time, even during the most prosperous days, there were 4,000,000 men walking the streets, or without jobs. They fooled the American people for a good many years on the tariff; they said that the tariff was a bill put through for the working man. One time I was making a speech in Pittsburgh on the tariff, and a working man jumped up and said, "My God! If the tariff raised wages one penny a day—not high wages, but if it raised the wages of the working men one penny a day, Trick and Gary and Mellon would be down in Washington to wipe it off the statute books in twenty-four hours." He said, "They go to Washington and beg for a tariff, and then come back and drive out union labor in every mill they own." And that has been so for fifty years, and everybody in this room knows that, and we know today that this partnership between the Republican Party and big business would get so greedy that they would wreck a nation; and along in August 1929 the powers-that-be were not satisfied to make money in the ordinary fast way that a lot of them were making it, they decided that they would put fake stocks and bonds on the American people, and shove them out into the little banks—the big fellows—and get them to sell those fake stocks and bonds to the poor working people of the United States, and they flayed $17,000,000 out of the American people on that proposition alone, and then comes the crash. Now, they certainly could not blame that on the Democratic side of any legislative body; they were in complete control of this State and Nation for fifty years, and along comes this terrific crash, and we are down, down in the depths.

And I do say to you, the Republican Party has never met this question of the Machine Age. Do you know that in Pittsburgh today the Westinghouse Company is producing more than it ever produced in all its history—with nine thousand less men. I can take you to mills in Homestead that employed thousands of men, and take you in when they are running full blast, today, and you will hardly see a soul except one man up where those lamps are, touching a button and the mill is running from one end to the other, handling and manufacturing material—not a man to be seen. I can take you down here where they are digging ditches with a ditch digger, and that takes the places of a thousand men.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, is not discussing the bill under consideration.

The PRESIDENT. Wide latitude has been permitted in this discussion and the Chair is of the opinion that the Senator from Allegheny is laying the foundation for approach to the subject.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, may proceed.

Mr. McGINNIS. Well, Mr. President, I think this applies directly to this question—why this discussion of the relief question is necessary. I can take you out to a farm where the machine is doing the work of twenty men of twenty years ago. We have the chain stores today. In Pittsburgh I know a good many wholesale houses that had as high as forty salesmen—heads of forty families—traveling all over the country showing their goods; and today all those men have lost their jobs. Today we have the chain stores, chain restaurants, chain gasoline stations, chain hotels. In the steel industry we have the chain handling all these men and labor-saving devices. Now, if we had in the old days the 4,000,000 walking the streets, today we have even more, although today times are about normal in the United States.

But it is perfectly natural that my friends on the other side would take the attitude they have taken for fifty years. You know, in the mines around Pittsburgh, the owners, when they shut down, have kept the mules; they do not turn the mules out on the street, or out in the field—except for pasture. They take care of the mules but they turn their human beings out to shift for themselves. And it is this Administration, National and State, the first time in this country that they have ever turned their minds to the question of how to take care of the unemployed, in this machine age.

I have heard on this floor that there is a lot of chiseling on relief. It is a new thing, it is a perplexing thing, it is hard to handle; but I just have some official figures here on L. W. D. in Pittsburgh. From July 6 to July 15, just one week, under L. W. D. they called 16,000 men off relief to go to work on relief projects. Of those 16,000 only 142 refused to go to work. I say to you that on W. P. A. projects men have worked for weeks without stockings in their shoes, and worked and toiled; and when you say they are chiselers, and that men don't want to work nowadays, I say there are a few, but on the whole the men on Emergency Relief, and those out of work, are begging for work.

This is not a laughing subject; this is a serious subject; and I say to you that the Republican side has not met this question for the last ten weeks, they have not grappled with it as if it were a serious question, as if human beings were suffering throughout this State. I am glad that I have had the opportunity to live under an Administration that, when we were down in the depths, when a million men were walking the streets, when our factories were closed, when our mills were closed, took hold of this country and took hold of the men starving and saw to it that they were fed, and there was not a soup house in the United States.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I am no politician, never have been, and never expect to be, but I am greatly interested in the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania. I have always believed that relief and politics should not be joined together. When this Session opened I felt that that was the line of activity and was going to be followed by this Senate. Shortly after the Session had gotten under way politics at once began to enter into the discussion on both sides of this Senate Chamber and since that time down to the present time this question of relief has not become a question of humanitarian purpose but it has become a political question and from one side of this chamber goes forth volumes of political oratory, only to be answered by volumes from the other side, and that has been going on continuously for almost the beginning of this Session, and I believe the people of this great Commonwealth are becoming tired of this kind of procedure. If we, the members of this Senate, the agents of the people of this great State, can not sit down together and work out a program that will take care of the needy of this State, I say that every one of us should resign his seat from this Senate and go back to private life.

This is a very important question. It is important not only to the members of this Senate but it is important to the people of this Commonwealth and I see no reason why we should not lay aside political controversy and sit down as friends and work out a program that will be satisfactory to all the people of Pennsylvania. I introduced a resolution in the middle of May with this purpose in view. The resolution is still in committee, but even at that we can still sit down as members of this Senate and as people who should be interested in the people of Pennsylvania, and work out a program and do it quickly and do it efficiently, because we have plenty of information on this big subject that should be gathered together. We should decide upon a program, work it out carefully, prudently and efficiently, and go to our homes feeling that we have done our duty to the people of this great Commonwealth.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 105 (House Bill No. 154), on third reading, entitled:

An Act ratifying confirming and validating the transfer of money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund and the Liquor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, This bill originally provided that if this bill be ratified and validated in regard to the transfers of funds covering two million dollars. It has been amended carrying with it a provision for further transfer of three million dollars. This is new matter and the original purpose of the bill has been changed. I raise the question that the amendment cannot be received by the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair sustains the point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I appeal from the decision of the Chair:

In the Senate July 9, 1936.

To the President of the Senate: We the undersigned respectfully appeal from the decision of the Chair relative to sustaining the point of order raised by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, on the question of the constitutionality of amendment inserted by the Committee on Appropriations in Senate Bill 105 (House Bill 154), Printer's No. 177.

Respectfully submitted,

C. J. BUCKMAN,
F. D. GELDER,
GEORGE L. REED,
GEORGE E. WOODWARD.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Rule 37 be read.

Senate Rule 37 was read as follows:

37. No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through the Senate as to change its original purpose. No bill shall be considered unless referred to a committee, returned therefrom, and printed for the use of the members. No local or special bill shall be reported unless the same be accompanied by proof of the publication of the notice thereof, in accordance with law, and of section eight of article three of the Constitution; and proof of such publication shall be certified to by the President or Secretary of the committee reporting the bill.

The PRESIDENT PRO-TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. The question is shall the decision of the Chair stand as the judgment of the Senate?

A vote "aye" is a vote to sustain the decision of the Chair, a vote "no" is a vote not to sustain the decision of the Chair. The roll will be called.

The ayes and nays were required by Mr. BUCKMAN and Mr. GELDER, and were as follows:

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry before the vote is announced.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that nothing is in order except the announcement of the vote.

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I now rise to a point of parliamentary inquiry, the question raised before the announcement of the vote.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, where an appeal involves the suspension of Rule 37 of this Senate, and that being true, does not the vote necessary to override the decision of the President require a two-thirds vote of the Senate?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules the point of order is not well taken.

The PRESIDENT, (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy), in the Chair.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the motion to proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 105 (House Bill No. 154).

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 105 (House Bill No. 154), as follows:

An Act ratifying confirming and validating the transfer of money from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund and the Liquor License Fund providing for additional transfers from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund and the State Stores Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as requird by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading. I desire to state that I wish to offer amendments to cut out the amendments put in the bill in committee.

Mr. RANKIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HUFFMAN and Mr. MILLER.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—20

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, my reason for voting "no" is this: there has been a great deal said about what the members are going to do about relief. This bill does not help the situation and that is why I am voting "no." If the Republican members of the Senate had passed—which they will pass—the $35,000,000 or $40,000,000 relief legislation which would bring in that much money, there would be some sense in voting for this bill, in spite of the fact that we think, those of us who know anything about the figures, that it is totally inadequate. I say that I am perfectly willing, and I make it a matter of public record, that this situation shall continue. I hope it will not continue long, but I have come to the conclusion that the only way the Republican caucus can be brought to the point where they will present a program, claim it as their own and stand up for it, whatever it may be, is to bring the facts to their attention; and the only way, it seems, they can be made to understand it, is by letting those who suffer expose their suffering. I am one of those who believe that sometimes injury, some injury, may be necessary, some suffering must be endured for the good of the cause; this piecemeal proposition is continued the longer the this piecemeal proposition is continued the longer the suffering continues.

I agree that the time to meet the issue is now, because we are here now; and if this relief proposition is not met, or if it is inadequately met, we will have to be called back in the winter time, when the suffering will be greater. I think the people who are unfortunately obliged to expose themselves to public gaze by begging charity will appreciate the attitude of the Democratic Senators; I think they will understand we are not trying to prolong their suffering, but that we are trying to stop it and bring the whole issue to the forefront. We are trying to see if it is not possible to, in some way, finally get the Republican members of the Senate to say how much they will give and from where this money that they propose to give will come and when they will give it.

The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, has raised the question about the tax anticipation bill and he contends that it is some fault of the Democrats that they did not pass such tax anticipation bill. No tax anticipation bill not already passed should be passed, or can be legally passed, at least, to support it. In other words, the tax anticipation bill provides that it is issued and passed for the purpose of taking advantage of the revenue which will come. That is the purpose of the bill. There are a lot of decisions establishing that; and since there is no revenue which can come through it, there is no sense in passing a tax anticipation bill. And again, that is only an argument, or an explanation, but no excuse for the failure of the Republican Senators to meet the issue.

I have said frequently, any program that has a basis of reason will meet with approval under protest; but there is no program which has been suggested here that has any basis of approval, because there is no controversion of the facts which have been presented to us, and the figures.

I have communicated with the Liquor Board this morning when I saw this transfer bill. The Liquor Control Board has $2,700,000 in its treasury. The Federal Government may make demand upon it at any moment for the payment of some $640,000 in taxes. The Liquor Control Board is now asked to transfer a million and a half dollars, and leave its treasury with $500,000; and it is a business which has no credit. By that I mean it cannot go out and borrow money, either from the State Treasurer or from anyone else. The Chairman of that Board told me an effort was made last year, in view of the fact that in the winter months, in the fall and winter months, capital must be accumulated to provide for its stock; and unless it can accumulate that money in the next few months there will be no money accumulated to run their business properly, and a loss will be incurred. Now if these transfers continue, if we transfer $1,500,000, they can neither buy and stock their warehouse with the necessary merchandise nor discount their bills, the total of which discounts amounted one year to approximately $750,000. Then it seems to me that we are wasting close to three-quarters of a million dollars for the purpose of enabling the Republican Party to delay their answer to an important question for another week or so, and it furnishes me with sufficient reason to vote against these bills. I have the firm conviction that if the members of the Republican Party are kept here in session until they make up their minds, they will make up their minds quickly; because I have come to the conclusion, notwithstanding what may have been said in the disparaging remarks about the highest officer of the State, that they will not be satisfied or be informed of the situation until they see blood run; and I am one of those who believe, and I say it sincerely, and I am convinced of it, and I shall have the courage of my convictions to back it up with my vote, that these people must unfortunately suffer, because there is no other way in which we can get to the minds of these individual Senators when they group themselves, as well as we can, in our everyday individual association. I am not saying anything in a disparaging way of these men as men, individuals. If I have acquired nothing else in this Senate except the friendships I have made I shall feel that I have been, in a great measure, compensated. They are fine men as individuals, but I repeat, what I have already said, that as a group they lose their individual identity and individual thinking; and now I am saying to the people of Pennsylvania by my vote, that it is unfortunate that you are suffering, but you are suffering because it will relieve you in the future.

We have listened to prayers for guidance, as I have said before, day by day, and to words of wisdom. We have been told what our duty is, we have been asked to call upon Divine Providence for guidance, and it has not made an impression on us, except as individuals. As a group it has fallen on dead ground and it is up now to the Democratic members of this Senate to have the courage to stand up and take the consequences of their acts, because I believe that it will bring results when this group of Senators known as the Republican caucus will hear the resounding echo from all over the State of what those people who are suffering think, of what the people who know what is going on, people who are not in politics, think. Then they will come to a conclusion very quickly. And we will be here until tomorrow night, and by tomorrow night, I am certain that if the Democratic members of this Senate have the courage of their convictions they will find that all the slings and arrows that have been sent from the other side by the Republican members will have no effect upon them as individuals, they will be given the credit for having saved the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the cost of an extra session, they will be given the credit for having forced these men—this group of men, I should say, to do their duty and have equal courage of their conviction to come out and vote for a program. I call attention to the fact that the Senator from Tioga, who has been the most outspoken antagonist of the Governor's office, and who has been the one who most criticised the figures, though he states $41,000,000 may be necessary, will not state that he will vote for legislation necessary to raise $41,000,000. I understood his answer—he reserves the right to himself to withhold his vote, and will take the position that I suggest and prophesy that a number of the members in this Senate on the Republican side are going to take; they are going to say, "We will give you the bills; we will report them out of committee; but you vote for them. We will give you the program of $35,000,000, which is ours; we will give you the plan which is ours; but we do not have the courage of our convictions to vote for them."

I suggest to the Democratic members that if they wait a very, very short time they will find in that attitude the answer as to who is acting in good faith. I repeat, I say, it is with no personal reference to any individual Senator and with no intention to criticize them as indivduals, but I have no hesitancy in criticising them as a group; and I say that I have a right, by their actions up until now, to justly criticise the Republican caucus for its failure to come out whoteheartedly, boldly, for the program which it suggests, and let us vote on that. I will vote to transfer the moment there is appropriate legislation to repay. You can talk all you want about the suffering, it is not caused by the failure to transfer; but I call your attention to the fact that by this transfer, and others, you will place more men upon the relief roll, because you take away from the government the money which it uses to carry on its normal functioning. The Highway Department has been depleted, the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund has been depleted. Philadelphia has not enough to pay $6,000 a month to take unemployables off the list and carry on its government services, and is waiting for the State of Pennsylvania to turn over some of this Liquid Fuels Tax. The Firemen's Fund is next. There are several millions of dollars owing to them from transfers, and that has not been paid.

I was the first one to suggest the transfer of $25,000,000 in 1935 from the Road Fund for the purpose of helping relief, and I created a stir in this Senate, and resentment such as never was heard before—the sacred money of the Road Fund was being invaded for relief; and now apparently the Republican Caucus believes there is no sacred fund, none at all. And I say, therefore, that the members of the Democratic Party need have no fear of criticism; they will gain the commendation of the people of the State for having the courage, in face of the fact that they know that what they are doing is bringing some suffering, to stand up and maintain their position, and, believing in the righteousness of their position, say they have heard their voice and not the voice of the Republican members of the Senate.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Philadelphia whether he is certain that he is following Divine Guidance or guidance of the Democrats of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, anyone who has had any experience in Divine Providence would not forsake it definitely for Democratic or Republican bosses.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, one question. I desire to ask the Senator from Philadelphia whether he regards that it is better for men, women and children in the Seventh Senatorial District of Pennsylvania to go hungry, whether it will interfere with the funds of the Liquor Board?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, The people in the Seventh Senatorial District have said to me, in no uncertain terms, that they believe their refusing to follow the Republican bosses last June—who call themselves bosses—and in refusing to follow the suggestion of the Republicans, who call themselves citizens, and taking stand to which I do. I have on my file letters from my district backing me up and telling me to urge the rest of the Democratic Senators to do the same. I have no fear of what the people in my district think of me, you will find the answer in November.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee if the passage of this bill, if signed by the Governor, will relieve the misery that now exists in the State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, my opinion is that it will relieve the people who are on relief in Pennsylvania.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, and if it fails of passage the misery will continue?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, if it fails of passage I know of no money that the Relief Board has to continue that business.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the amount appropriated for July, up to now, is $1,000,000, transfer $3,000,000, that is a total of $4,000,000; will the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, state how he figures, with the figures of the Relief Board before the Committee would show that there will be needed for July a total $6,346,000, that relief will not suffer and will be stopped in Pennsylvania in the month of July?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President; it will be stopped in Pennsylvania, at least until the $3,000,000 is used up.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, then in other words, what is intended by this resolution is to stop suffering for another two weeks?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the intention is to provide relief for the citizens of Pennsylvania. Our Democratic friends, for some reason, have been very little concerned with relief stopping at this particular time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Susquehanna a further question, and I want to preface the question by saying that I am not now concerned with what the Democratic friends are thinking, I am taking their figures of $6,346,000 necessary for July, and is it not true that unless further funds are provided by legislation before the end of this month the suffering will begin anew?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I imagine that when the three million is exhausted, if further funds are not produced, those on relief will begin to suffer.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, as the first Relief Director of Pennsylvania, I believe I can speak with some little knowledge on the situation. I think you are doing the Relief Director a great injustice when you enact piecemeal legislation in that form to relieve the distressed of this State. There is not a man in business today who could anticipate more than a week or two weeks ahead his revenue. I question whether there is a man who could run his business economically. What do you suppose will be the effect of this piecemeal legislation upon hundreds of employes of the State Emergency Relief Board at this moment? Can you imagine an investigator not knowing whether the check is coming in next week, can you imagine the distress of those? Can you imagine the confusion that is in the minds of those in consequence of an endeavor to administer this relief economically, and everyone is expected to do that. There is no distress—speaking for those recipients of relief—there is no distress like mental distress, and I would sooner be hungry any day than have the mind disturbed. Can you imagine how these people throughout the State feel when they do not know whether they are going to get a check the next week or not?

I ask that you put sufficient funds into the hands of your Relief Administrator to carry him on at least until the next regular session of this legislature I feel that in passing this piecemeal legislation you are causing distress not only to the hundred of employes of the present administration of relief, but you are causing your Relief Administrator to be in such a positon that he cannot do a good job. There is not a man in this entire Senate Chamber today who could conduct his business in the same manner in which you are expecting your Relief Administrator to conduct the relief of this State, and I beg of you, gentlemen, to give Mr. de Schweinitz a chance to do a real job. Since he has been in office he has been continually harassed by the fear that we may shut off next week, or he may not have a sufficient amount for the full amount. Give him a chance. I know he can do a good job and I beg of you, gentlemen, to put your tax program before this body in a sufficient amount that he can carry on as you would expect him to do for the balance of this year.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, perhaps it is hardly necessary for me to say anything on this bill after the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers, has spoken. He has made almost a perfect argument in support of this bill. The thoughts of the Republican members in this chamber were just exactly as expressed by the Senator from Allegheny County, that you are going to break down the morale, not only of those who are administering relief, but those who are expecting their checks to come. Frankly, I want to say, as Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, that I was amazed that apparently there is no concern on the part of our Democratic friends to have this stop-gap, if you please to call it that, legislation passed. In the previous periods, when we had no relief and it has been announced relief is going to stop at the end of a certain period, I have been besieged by the Director of Relief and by many of the members on the Democratic side of this chamber.

We have heard today, or we have found, our Democratic friends trying to seek information as to what has happened in the Republican caucus in the last few days, and I want to say to you that while we are not curious about what happened in the caucus down on the banks of the Susquehanna, I feel that there has been a decided change in the attitude of many of our friends on the left since that session, in which the Director of Relief and the Administrator of W. P. A., and the Governor of the Commonwealth, and I understand the Chairman of the Democratic Party, and at least most of the Democratic Senators in this body, participated. It would almost seem as though the strategy was that the people of Pennsylvania who are on relief were to go hungry for a period, with the idea that perhaps they could make the Republican members of this Senate responsible. Their arguments today have my sympathy. They certainly have been talking uphill in trying to befog the issue. I realize the full handicap after the impetuous words of the gentleman who is over in the other end of the Capitol, who has said that he would stand for no more transfer of funds, the practice which has originated always in the House and is sent out by the Democratic members. This bill that we have before us today also came from the House. We have amended it to meet a condition that, as was pointed out to you when we were discussing Senate Bill 104, can be met in no other way. Our friends would be in a much more logical position in their arguments today too in the tax measures that are now on the calendar, were still in the Senate Finance Committee. They are out here awaiting a vote, which shows the good faith of the Republicans in going at least part way towards meeting.

Now if this is an effort on the part of the Democratic members to serve notice that it is $55,000,000 or nothing, that it is $55,000,000, whether or not that amount of money is needed in Pennsylvania, I want to say to you that, in my judgment, they will be able to hold another caucus down on the banks of the Susquehanna River when the river is frozen over, before they will get money that is not needed for relief. The Republicans are perfectly willing to tax the people of Pennsylvania to feed the hungry or distressed, but they are not willing to tax money out of the people of Pennsylvania to have just an orgy of spending by any party, or any people in this Commonwealth.

I have heard the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, talk about the Republicans as individuals, and his opinion of them as individuals and collectively. I want to say to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that we on the Republican side have just as much respect and admiration for our Democratic colleagues as individuals, and we are sometimes surprised that even on the most finer propositions their attitude has come to change when they have been seen. Now I would like to say, for the benefit of those who intend to vote for this transfer, that the State Treasurer has informed me that there is in the State Fund, or was at the close of business last evening, $3,690,000.81 which was a considerably larger amount then was given to us by the Senator from Philadelphia. He also informed me that within a month after the passage of the financial program here and the adjournment of this body he would would be able to repay the money in both of these funds but, Mr. President, the real issue today is an issue as to whether or not the people of Pennsylvania on relief shall be fed this week and next week and not whether or not they shall starve in January.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I want to ask the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, whether he is nearer a definite financial program now than we were when the first funds were transferred during this Extraordinary Session.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would say that we are $30,000,000 nearer if the bills that are now on the calendar today are passed now.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, has said that they have made up their minds that people should not starve for political purposes. I want to ask the Senator a question. I want to say that we can have a meeting at one minute after twelve tonight so that the tax bills which are on the calendar can be given their second reading today and pass finally at one minute after twelve tonight. I think the rest of the Democratic Senators will agree that that is the fair thing to do if we have no desire to make people suffer and we are fighting for what we think is proper. I ask the Senator from Susquehanna whether he is willing to defer action on the transfer bills until the two are on the calendar and are passed finally?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, the answer of the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee is that the bills are not his, they are the bills as amended by the Appropriations Committee. I for one will not consent to further delay, the others can speak for themselves.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that further action on Bill 105, on the second reading calendar of today, be postponed until tomorrow.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. ARON. I hope the Senate will not approve this motion. We are interested in one thing—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the motion to postpone is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

On the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and Mr. ARON and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19.

Baumer,	McCreesh,	Reed,	Ruth,
Cavalcante,	McGinnis,	(Washington)	Shapiro,

Gelder,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. THOMPSON. (Centre). Mr. President, I marvel how chameleon like my friends on the Republican side of this house can change color. Now they would persuade themselves that the Democrats have something to do with the stopping of relief. Mr. President, the Republican side of this house stopped relief last week. We all heard the Chairman of the Finance Committee stand on the floor of this Senate last week and admit to this Senate that $41,000,000, or forty-one and one-half million dollars, at least, was necessary for relief in Pennsylvania. We all knew that relief funds expired last week. We adjourned last week on motion of the Senator from Bucks County, Mr. Buckman, without any tax bills on the calendar. We adjourned without any gesture on the Republican side of this house providing a solution for the relief which they stopped. We heard arguments this week, the Chairman of the Finance Committee promised this house that there would be within the 24-hour period revenue bills in the sum of $50,650,000 on the calendar of this Senate for action, and what do we have on the calendar today? Revenue bills which will yield $23,000,000. The Republican caucus has again gone on record as favoring an appropriation for relief of $35,000,000. The Senator from Delaware told us last week we needed at least forty-one and one-half million dollars. This week he promises tax bills of $50,650,000 will be reported out and what do we have on the calendar? Tax bills which can yield, at most, $23,000,000.

Mr. President, how could the Republican majority of this Senate say, in the face of these facts, that they are trying to solve this relief problem? How could they say that they are not responsible for having stopped relief in the State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. President, I say that when the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, would try to relieve himself and his colleagues of some responsibility for stopping relief in Pennsylvania he is only trying to use the Governor for a moral umbrella, and I say to you, Mr. President, that this situation in relief can never be answered until the Republican side of this Senate comes out of its shell and puts on the calendar of the Senate and passes, tax bills and appropriation bills for some comprehensive program. We have not as yet anything like an approximation of what the Republican caucus says is necessary or what the Senator from Delaware says is necessary. Why can we not do something along this line? Why must this be a continual process of malingering on the part of the Republicans on these relief problems.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, probably I have a poor memory, but I do not remember the $50,650,000 of tax bills, neither do I remember promising that any definite bills would be reported to the floor. Will the Senator from Centre kindly read the record and refresh my memory?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, before this debate began I went to the desk and asked if the Journal for Tuesday was as yet printed, because I recall definitely the interrogation of the Senator from Delaware, and his answer, and the Senator from Delaware answered on Tuesday of this week, "Within the twenty-four hour period that House Bill No. 19, Senate Bill 28, would be on the floor of this Senate and would yield $10,100,000," and in answer to my interrogation the Senator from Delaware also said House Bills 26, 27, 28, Senate Bills 43, 30 and 44 would be on the floor of this Senate within the twenty-four hour period calculated to yield $40,000,000. He also further stated that House Bill 100 calculated to yield $1,000,000 for biennium period, or a half million dollars for a year, or until May 31st the next year, would likewise be on the floor of this Senate. Mr. President, I say to you that that is in the journal of this Senate.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Senator has not correctly quoted me. I told him I thought it was the intent of the Finance Committee to report the bills to the floor of the Senate which he mentioned.

Mr. President, I desire to call your attention to corrected figures on the different tax bills, which have either passed or been reported to the floor of the Senate. It is estimated by the Finance Committee that Senate Bill No. 30, House Bill No. 27, will net 24 million dollars, that House Bill No. 17, Senate Bill 28, that provides revenue of six million dollars in liquor taxes, has already been passed. It is estimated that they will net $7,500,000. There is another tax bill passed which will net $500,000,000, which will make $38,000,000.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, was the Senator from Delaware not advised by the Department of Revenue, on the basis of experience in the collections of last year, with the personal property tax last year, that the most that the bill on calendar can yield under the most favorable circumstances, as they exist at the present time, the sum of approximately $6,000,000 a year?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, yesterday a representative of the Revenue Department was called before the Committee and advised the Committee that this same bill, House Bill 27, would net between $6,500,000 and $8,000,000. Today I received a letter informing me that it would net a much smaller amount.

Mr. President the members of the Finance Committee will remember the estimates made by the Department of Revenue during the regular 1935 Session. You recall the Cigarette Tax Bill is netting almost twice the estimate. Mr. President, it seems to me, that it is going to be very difficult to have the Department of Revenue make proper estimates of the revenues expected from this bill, for the simple reason that they want additional money to continue the spendthrift tactics which are noted in this administration.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the Senator from Delaware is holding up the judgment and estimates of the Finance Committee as the basis as to what this tax will yield. I would like to ask the Senator from Delaware what the judgment of the Finance Committee was as to what the Document Stamp Tax last year would yield.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the estimate was given to us by the Department of Revenue.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Delaware whether that was concurred in by the Finance Committee.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that was accepted by the Finance Committee.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware inform us what that estimate was?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I do not remember.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the Senator from Delaware recalls, does he not, that the estimated yield of the Document Stamp Tax was not borne out by experience and collection, is that not correct?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Senator from Centre is correct, but all estimates during the regular session of 1935 were supplied by the Department of Revenue.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to inquire of the Senator from Delaware whether or not the revised figures as to the estimated current yield of House Bill 27, as presented to him by the Revenue Department, whether or not that is based upon the experience of the Revenue Department in its collection.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it was so stated in the letter that the Department of Revenue has not completed the collection of all the taxes, and therefore the estimate could not be relied on.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I merely wanted to say that I can understand the aversion of the Democratic Senators to the transfer of special funds as a policy, for I share that myself, as I am sure that most of our Republican Senators do. I can also understand their solicitude that the hungry shall not go hungry in the future, and we all share that solicitude, but I would like to interrogate any Democratic Senator, including the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and have him tell me how we can feed the hungry tomorrow if we do not pass this bill tonight.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will be very glad to answer the question first by saying I accept the gentleman's first statement that transfers, as a policy are bad, and by saying that the attitude of this Senate has made the transfers a policy. We have already made four of them.

Secondly, I state that we will feed the hungry tomorrow if we do not make this transfer tonight because I do not believe that this group of Senators will dare to defy the demands of the public when they find that this is another piecemeal proposition and they will be hungry. The voice will be heard and the Senate will answer.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, where he will get the money to feed the hungry tomorrow.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the Republicans will adopt whatever policy they propose and will pass tax legislation which will show that this transfer is not a habit or a custom, we will then have evidence of the fact that the money will be available in the very near future, and I am quite sure that every Senator here, including the Democrats, will vote for the transfer when the legislation is passed. That was the reason for making my motion to postpone action upon this bill, so that we could at least find out that we could rely upon the group of Senators to carry out their program to pass this act.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I would still remind the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that that will not provide funds for tomorrow.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would suggest to the Senator from Cumberland that one minute after twelve tonight, if these bills are passed, that two minutes after twelve this same transfer bill can also be passed, and they will be fed tomorrow.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Democratic side of this House feels that it is not only opposed to these transfers because of a general principle, but because of another matter which I hope the Republican members of this Senate will pay attention to while I explain. On July 1st the Senator from Dauphin spoke in these words: "Mr. President and members of the Senate, I desire to call the attention of the Senate that thirteen days ago a committee of five Senators, representing the Republican membership of the Senate of Pennsylvania, sent a letter to Governor Earle containing six very pertinent questions. As far as I am concerned, until we have an answer from Governor Earle, I do not propose to vote for one tax bill in this Senate." And, Mr. President, if the Senator from Dauphin has the courage of his own convictions and stands upon that statement, then I say, in all fairness and in all decency to the distinguished Senator from Dauphin, he should not vote for transfers from these special funds when he will not vote for tax bills, and I say that the conduct of the Republican members of this Senate is indicative of the fact that they intend to do the very same thing. They will stand on the floor of this Senate pleading for humanity, and the transfer of money from these special funds, but they will not have the courage of their own convictions and vote for tax bills to repay those funds.

I say the conduct of these Republican Senators is indicative of that proposition to this time, and they expect to keep under that shell, chameleon like, and after all these funds are transferred from the special funds then they will put on the floor of this Senate tax bills to cover those transfers and then expect the Democratic side of this house to furnish the votes to pass those tax bills. That is the policy of this Republican majority and I would like to ask the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, if he intends to vote for the transfer of this fund, or this fund included in this bill, and then not vote for a tax bill raising sufficient funds to repay that transfer.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I think the Senator from Fayette put an inquiry to me.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair so understood.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I made that statement last week and I did it in all good faith, but when I made that statement I did not believe that it was humanly possible that the Democratic membership of this Senate would be so inhuman as to hold up that program. Furthermore, I believe the Governor will not answer those questions. I desire to call attention to the fact that I have read in a Harrisburg paper on the day that the Governor received that letter he said, "I have not had a chance to study it, I will have comment to make after I have had time to go over it and give it careful consideration. Any communication from the Senator or Senators warrants a reply."

According to the papers of Pennsylvania the Governor twenty days ago promised a reply to that letter and I had sufficient confidence when I spoke a week ago to believe that the Governor would keep his promise, made to the paper, to answer that.

I will further state to the Senator from Fayette that although I did make that statement, I may violate a statement sometimes in the intense humanity we have to do something and I do not propose to be bound by any statement, if of necessity the rights of humanity are involved.

Now I desire to interrogate the Senator from Fayette.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Fayette whether it is not true that a week ago he stated that he would vote for this transfer?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I probably could answer the Senator from Dauphin if he would indicate to me where I promised or stated that I would vote for a transfer.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will withdraw that question. Did you not actually vote for a transfer a week ago?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, what transfer does the Senator from Dauphin mean? Probably the Senator from Dauphin had in mind my statement that that was the last resolution for transfer that I would vote for.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator from Fayette why he made that reservation.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, because I was sick and tired of that piecemeal legislation for the starving people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, then I understand the Senator from Fayette is not interested that tomorrow and next week men women and children in Fayette County will go hungry.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am very much interested and if the Senator from Dauphin will heed the good sound judgment wait until 12:01 tonight, will pass the kind of bills that I can vote for, for which the Senator from Dauphin is on record that he will not vote for.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I just desire to say this, that this prolonged discussion might have splendid results, I believe, that in applying for relief for the starving men, women and children of the state that we should have a little charity towards the Senators who are now hungry and need relief. I desire to call the attention of the members of the Senate that we have only the faithful few here listening to this debate, so I now speak on behalf of the hungry Senators and the hungry faithful few who have remained here and I rise now to ask that we proceed with the vote on this bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—26

Aron,	Gelder,	McClure,	Scott,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Owlett,	Sordoni,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 28 (House Bill 19), entitled:

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this is the corporation income tax bill which passed the House and will carry with it about $10,000,000. In the Finance Committee it was cut down just one half and it would yield, therefore, at the present time, as the Secretary of Revenue says, $5,075,000. The amendment is designed to put the bill back where it was and I call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this is a tax net income of corporations. It certainly can do no harm to take part of the net income, and in most the bill is restored to the place where it was when it passed the House. It would take but 10 per cent. of the net income of corporations in Pennsylvania. However, it is a fraction more than 7 per cent., because the bill provides that the taxes paid, both in State and nation, may be deducted.

I have offered this because the bill as it stands here on the floor. Including $7,500,000 passed and expected from the liquor tax we will have $30,575,000, and that is the estimate of the Revenue Department. This would increase the amount by about $5,000,000, which would be in total slightly above $35,000,000.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the amendment was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The amendment was agreed to.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I was waiting to hear the explanation of the Senator from Monroe and therefore no question was raised. We shall have to take the time to unravel it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Bucks did not vote on the bill and he cannot move to reconsider it.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, no one voted on the bill, as I recall it.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair went through the regular form and there was no objection to the statement that the amendment was agreed to.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it seems to me that it is a fact that the amendment was agreed to, nevertheless, I think that it was a misapprehension on the part of the Republican members; so far as I am concerned, I think it would be perfectly right to withdraw the agreement, if the Chair is willing that that should be done.

The PRESIDENT. There is only one way to unravel this parliamentary tangle, and that is to move to reconsider the vote by which the amendment was agreed to.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the amendment was agreed to.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, this bill was given very careful consideration in the Committee on Finance and in view of the greatly increased revenue I felt that this 10 per cent. should be reduced to 8 per cent. I also want to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that if 10 per cent. in corporate tax was passed in Pennsylvania it would probably be the highest net corporate tax of any state in the Union and would have a bad effect on new industries which intended locating in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I ask the members to defeat these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) and Mr. FREY and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Aron,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Rodgers,
Baumer,	Lanius,	Rankin,	Ruth,

Ealy,	McClure,	Scott,	Ziesenheim,
Gelder,	Owlett,

So the question was determined in the negative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to.

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An Act to amend section three of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208), entitled "Corporate Net Income Tax Act," by increasing the rate of tax for a limited period of time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move to amend page 1, line 14 of the title, by inserting after the word "for" and before the word "limited" the word: "a".

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, on the passage of this bill on second reading I asked that it be treated without the usual informality which is customary on second reading, and in that connection I wish to call attention of the Senate in connection with the passage of this bill as to what this general relief problem is. We have gone pretty far afield here this afternoon in many places in the discussion. Let us just review, briefly, the figures that comprise our relief problem. This Commonwealth started the first of May with a balance available for relief purposes of $3,687,000, our first transfer amounted to $3,630,000, the second transfer to $4,086,211, our transfer for the balance in June was $1,000,000, or we spent from the first of May until the first of July the sum of $12,403,211 for relief purposes up to and including July 4th, an additional sum of $1,000,000 was spent, or we spent up to and including the end of last week $13,403,211. If we deduct from that sum the sum of $9,716,211, or $3,687,000, which was the balance on hand on May 1st. We have found that we have provided revenue in the sum of $916,211 since May 1st for relief purposes. This nine million seven hundred odd thousand dollars, with interest, must be repaid. Let us deduct that figure from the sum of $35,000,000 agreed upon by the Republican caucus, which gives us the sum of $25,284,000, which will be available under the terms of the Republican caucus for relief from the 5th day of July until the first day of February, 1937, or a period of seven months. This would make a monthly expenditure for relief of $3,612,000.

Mr. President, we all know the inadequacy of this figure, we know what must occur if this figure is adopted by this legislature as the figure for relief that must be provided. We all know that the first thing that must occur is that 13,000 unemployed in the City of Philadelphia, which we fought so hard to maintain on the relief rolls yesterday, must come off immediately. We know that all other unemployed in every other part of the state must come off of the relief rolls, and we know that a great many more people must suffer if the figures adopted by the Republican caucus must prevail. We likewise know that unless more money is raised on these bills than is provided by this bill as it comes out of the Finance Committee, which are not sufficient tax bills from which to provide adequate revenue.

Mr. President, I say to you that in this bill with the refusal of the Republican side of this Senate to amend this bill to provide adequate revenue for relief purposes, that I cannot conscientiously vote for the bill in its present form. I want also further to say that these bills which we are acting on today do not begin to provide funds, even with the figures set by the Republican caucus. We have seven and one-half million dollars appropiated from the Liquid Fuel Tax at this time. That in itself does not nearly cover the figure of $9,700,000 which we have already transferred and have not repaid. We say that under the most favorable estimate this bill and the bill following cannot yield over $21,000,000, and I say to you, Mr. President, that this legislation, as proposed tonight cannot even yield the figure which the Republican caucus states, of $3,600,000, for the next seven months for relief in Pennsylvania, and I say to you, Mr. President, that if we let this bill go out of the hands of this Senate without raising this bill to a figure which adequately provides for relief funds we are taking the first major step to cripple the relief situation in this state for the next seven months.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Thompson (Centre) and Mr. Frey.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—25

Aron,	Graff,	Pierson,	Sordoni,
Batchelor,	Harvey,	Prince,	Staudenmeier,
Bean,	Homsher,	Reed,	Thompson,
Buckman,	Howell,	(Dauphin)	(Westmoreland)
Chapman,	Mallery,	Salus,	Woodward,
Coyne,	McClure,	Scott,	Ziesenheim,
Gelder,	Owlett,	Sones,

NAYS—21

Baumer,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Lanius,	Rankin,	Ruth,
Ealy,	Law,	Reed,	Shapiro,
Frey,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Thompson,
Harris,	McGinnis,	Rice,	(Centre)
Huffman,	Miller,	Roberts,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, a constitutional majority is required for the passage of this bill and I think the same rule applies to second reading.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair does not so understand. That applies to bills on final passage.

Ordered, That the bill be transcribed for a third reading.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 30

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 30 (House Bill No. 27), entitled:

STATEMENT BY MR. JONES

Mr. JONES asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, after we adjourned last night, when we were all crowded back here in the back of the hall, one of the leading Democratic ladies from our county in a very loud voice, up here in the back of the hall, trying to make a show out of me evidently, said, "You voted 'no' on that resolution." I said, "Evidently you are mistaken, I voted 'aye' on that resolution." She said, "Alright, I just moved into your district, and what the Democrats are going to do to you!" I said that all I had done was to vote for something so as to try and feed the hungry in this Commonwealth. She said, "Yes, you voted against the Democratic party." I said, "Sure, I voted against the Democratic party, when they are not trying to serve my people back home."

I want to tell you, my friends, now, that last night I had to send five dollars back home. You know and I know that this session has got the House broke down here, we have been here over two months. I had to send five dollars to my brother, who has a large family and nothing to eat. He told me before I left that if he didn't have his check he wouldn't eat. Now, this lady is Miss Mary Trainer, and she is a leader in my county.

Members of this House, I have been here for ten years. Did I sell the old and aged out? I voted for the old and aged. Did I sell the blind out? No; I voted for the blind. Did I sell out the mothers' aid and the children depending on pensions? No. I tried a couple of weeks ago to get you to help them out, when they were hungry. You know it is in the record. I want to tell you another thing. I didn't sell the Lord's day out when that matter was up, and you know that my district is in favor of those things. I didn't sell that out. If I wanted to be a good fellow and get more votes, I would have voted for some of those things.

I am serious today and this is no laughing matter. I tell you, the only thing in this world that I know of that can laugh like that, when people are hungry, when I am trying to tell them about it, is the laughing hyena, and he doesn't know any better, he is always laughing. How do you like that? I mean that, too, men.

I told my people down there that you fellows on that side were a great bunch of fellows, and I told them that you were absolutely for relief. I went to see a fellow in prison one time, and I asked him what he was in there for, and I told him, "They can't put you in here for that." "No," he said, "but I am in here." That is the way it is in this State today. We have a situation confronting us in this State today, where over five hundred thousand women and children are waiting for their relief. I am not counting the men,—just the women and the children.

Men of the House, there was many a little child saying its prayers last night, who said, "Mama, when is the legislature going to give us more milk?" Now, listen, that may seem funny to you, but those are the facts. I am not trying to be funny here today. I will make a funny speech later on so that you can laugh at it.

I want to make this assertion here today: I am not for transferring funds if we can do it another way. Now, listen, I went down to the State Treasurer's office and they told me they have more than twelve million dollars that are lying over there, and you over on that side want appropriated one million dollars for the people in my district to help them. I am terribly serious. If you over there or anybody sitting on the other side can show me any other way I am willing to vote for it. I can't help what they did on this side of the House, I can't help what they did on the other side of the Houe. I am a member of this House and, by God, I am going to vote for these people that are hungry. In all my life I have never turned a man down when he asked of me to give him twenty-five cents or fifty cents,—never. I don't care what side of the House you are on, I don't care where you are from, I don't care whether you are Margiotti, I don't care whether you are Dave Lawrence, I don't care whether you are Joe Guffey, if somebody will show me some method to get these people something to eat, if they will simply show me some way so that we can start immediately so that these people can get their stuff, I will go along with it, but, by God, I am not going to stay here and let two political parties fight among themselves and the people go hungry. They don't care what we are fighting about down here, but they want milk and they want something to eat. Are we going to play politics and let them go hungry? They said we can't let them go hungry, but we are.

Now, men, listen, there is no other solution that I know of for the next two or three weeks except to transfer funds. Let's reconsider what we did last night and do something about it. Give us some way so that we can start the stuff going, and I will go along with it,—anything, but, for the Lord's sake, don't let them suffer when they have twelve million dollars lying over in the State Treasury. Men, please reconsider what you did last night, and I will forgive you everything you did. I want us all to be friends. Let us do something.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 153.

An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief work relief and expenses defining the purposes for which such monies may be expended and prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Board and certain State Departments and ratifying confirming and validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making monies available for unemployment relief prior to the adoption of this act

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out the word "two" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "five"; also same line by striking out the numerals "($2,000,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the numerals "($5,000,000)"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Democratic majority in this House last night and during the past few days has gone on record as being unalterably opposed to any further transfers of funds from special funds to the general fund for the purpose of unemployment relief, unless and until the Senate has come forward with an adequate tax program. So far the record shows that the Senate has no adequate tax program, at least they haven't offered any. They haven't even come forward with enough tax revenue producing measures to take care of the transfers that have already been made and which are proposed to be made in the companion bill to this appropriation bill.

The Democratic majority of this House is irrevocably opposed to any further transfers of funds, where there are no tax producing measures which will take care of those funds. We are opposed to any starvation relief program. For that reason Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I move you that the communication together with the bill be laid upon the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter.

The SPEAKER. The interrogation is not in order. A motion to lay upon the table is not debatable.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, while I recognize the fact that a motion to lay on the table is not debatable, it seems to me the interrogation of the gentleman who has made the motion is in proper order.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would like to read from the decisions of the House for the information of the gentleman from Delaware.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, before you rule on this, might I point out to you, and perhaps guiding you in your ruling that I think the interrogation is perfectly proper in view of the fact that the gentleman from Allegheny has made a statement, prefacing his motion to lay on the table.

The SPEAKER. The Chair must rule that the interrogation is out of order and will read Decision No. 136.

"Under a parliamentary inquiry the question was raised as to whether an interrogation on a motion to lay a resolution on the table was proper or improper.

"The Speaker stated under the rule which provides that a motion to lay on the table is not debatable, it would preclude an interrogation which certainly is in the nature of an argument. (Legislative Journal February 17, 1931, p. 335.)"

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. TURNER. I move that Rule No. 51 be suspended, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. For what purpose?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of debating the question of the interrogation of the gentleman from Allegheny.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there is nothing in order except a vote upon the motion to table, the question having been put to the House.

The SPEAKER. In reply to the point of order raised by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, the Chair will read Rule No. 88:

"Any rule of the House may be suspended at any time for a specific purpose by a majority vote of the members elect; after the accomplishment of which purpose the rule shall remain in force as before."

Therefore, the Chair is of the opinion that the motion of the gentleman from Delaware is in order.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion to suspend Rule 51?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the reason why I have asked to suspend the rule is that I feel that the legislation that is now before us and which the gentleman from Allegheny has sought to lay upon the table—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not discussing the subject under debate. He is discussing the motive of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The Chair feels that no debate is in order. The only question before the House is the motion to suspend.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is not a motion to suspend the rules debatable?

The SPEAKER. That is correct, but the gentleman is endeavoring to suspend a rule which is not debatable and therefore, the motion is not debatable. The Chair so rules.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, in suspending the rule, is it is not necessary to state the purpose for which you desire to suspend the rule?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already stated that purpose. The purpose is to permit debate upon the motion before the House.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaer, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his yuestion of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if the motion to suspend the rule is debatable, then the rule is debatable, and if the reason to suspend the rule is a part of that motion then must it not therefore be a part of the entire motion, that you can debate the reasons?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the gentleman from Delaware, who has made a motion to suspend Rule 51, which is a rule that is not debatable, therefore, the Chair rules that the motion before the House is not debatable.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to suspend Rule 51-

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNER and Mr. SCHROCK and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will now declare a recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it being apparent that the Democratic majority of this House is unwilling to attempt to immediately solve the pressing relief needs that have been before this House—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, under a question of personal privilege, only where the integrity of a member has been attacked can he rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. In answering the point of order raised by the gentleman from Clearfield, the Chair will read Rule No. 67.

"Any member may rise and explain a matter personal to himself by leave of the Speaker, but he shall not discutt any pending question in such explanation."

The Chair will further read the rulings on this rule:

"Questions of personal privilege are, first, those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity and the integrity of its proceedings. Second, the rights, reputation and conduct of its members individually in their representative capacity only. (Legislative Journal, March 20, 1933, p. 1251. Also Legislative Journal, January 23, 1933, p. 247.)"

"Personal privilege questions must be confined to the integrity of the member or of the House." (Legislative Journal, May 20, 1931, p. 4677)".

The Chair feels that the gentleman from Dauphin having asked the floor on a question of personal privilege, he should confine his remarks to matters pertaining to himself only.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House—

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield? If the gentleman wishes to discuss other matters, he will have to obtain unanimous consent of the House for the purpose of making a statement.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to discuss matters concerning myself.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as a member of this House my integrity is and will be questioned if I do not do everything within my power in an attempt to provide immediate relief for those who come from my—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, will state his point of order.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Dauphin is out of order for two reasons: first, he is far afield from the question of personal privilege; and second, he is violating an armed truce between the Republican leadership on his side and the Democratic leadership on this side relative to a recess for conference.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield until the Chair has given a decision on the last point of order raised?

POINTS OF ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to withdraw the points of order that I raised.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, am I permitted to interrupt my remarks to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know from the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether or not the Democratic majority in this House proposes to bring out again the Eberharter bills and pass them as soon as the Senate passes the tax bills which are on the third reading calendar for tomorrow?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I think the position of the Democratic majority of this House has always been that we desire to have an adequate relief program. I am not sure at the present time as to the exact yields of the two bills that are now on the Senate third reading calendar. The estimates of income that will be derived from those two bills vary between the estimate of the Republican Senators and the members of the majority of this House. The Republican estimate, I believe, indicates that the increase of two per cent in the corporate net income tax means an income of six million dollars to the Commonwealth. That is one million dollars in excess of the estimate that was placed upon it by the majority of this House.

In addition thereto, the increase in the personal property tax has been estimated by the Senate to yield the sum of $24,000,000, and the best available information that we have on that particular measure, in its amended status, is to the effect that it will raise but $18,000,000, so that the program that is now in the Senate rather than raising $30,000,000 on those two particular bills in reality raises but eighteen and five, or twenty three million dollars, a difference in those two bills of approximately seven million dollars. Until an analysis is made of the income represented by those bills and a definite understanding arrived at between the membership of this House and the majority in the Senate, we will not be in a position to state just exactly what will be done by the measure.

At the time when the gentleman from Dauphin was making his statement, we were attempting to effectuate some understanding between the majority in this House and the majority in the Senate, which conference Mayor Wilson of Philadelphia was also attending. However, I was forced to leave that conference due to the fact that I had been informed that the House had not recessed but that it was proceeding with the business before the House, and I, therefore, returned to the floor of the House. I do not have available all the information relative to the negotiation in the proceeding.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask this further question of the gentleman from York: Is my assumption correct, Mr. Cohen, that in your answer you are now stating that there is no definite agreement to bring before the House and pass House Bills 153 and 154 if the Senate passes all of the tax bills that will be on it third reading calendar tomorrow?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, there is no definite understanding that I know of to present to this House at the present time. I wish the gentleman from Dauphin and the membership of this House to realize that as soon as I am relieved of the interrogation I expect to continue with the negotiation.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Cohen is relieved and I will resume on the question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the facts which have been brought out in the interrogation, I consider that my integrity as a member of this House would be under serious question if I did not do everything within my power to provide immediate relief—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, will state his point of order.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the gentleman from Dauphin is attempting to discuss pending legislation under a question of personal privilege. Therefore, ne rules that the point of order of the gentleman from York is well taken.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer the following resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the introduction of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

The Chair wishes to inform the House that this is not a privileged resolution.

RECESS

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House do now recess for fifteen minutes.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. COHEN and Mr. TUMELTY and were as follows:

YEAS—94

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I voted against these bills, and I do not understand the reason or the logic of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, when he says these bills were Democratic bills. I disagree with him entirely. When this child was sent over here by the Democrats it lay in the Committee, tossed about, for months; and when it came out tonight, bruised and battered and emasculated, it was no Democratic child. If the Republicans, as I have said before, believed, honestly, that $35,000,000 is sufficient for relief, it was their duty to vote their program. These bills are their bills now, not ours. I said—what we might term "yesterday"—that the Republicans would not vote for these bills, I prophesied that they would not vote for these very bills which they produced themselves; and my prophecy has been proven to be correct.

I suggest to the gentleman who say we do not want relief, that if they would have accepted our amendments, or if they will now accept our amendments, they can deliver the same seven or eight votes which they think is necessary to pass these bills, and I assure them that every man who voted against the bills in their present emasculated condition will vote for the bills in their original Democratic condition. It is no answer, either in this Senate or to the people of Pennsylvania, to say, "We gave you enough votes for our program and you would not vote for it." The transfers have been made time and again, but when we come to the revenue measures it is just like the recurring decimal, always identical in form and always diminishing in value. There has nothing here been suggested by the Republican Party for which they themselves would stand. Their program for $35,000,000 means that the situation in Pennsylvania, financially, would be this—and that is what I had in mind when I voted against these bills: First, that there would be an estimated expenditure of $55,000,000; secondly, that there would be estimated enactments of $35,000,000—and under the decision in the Kalodner case the tax anticipation notes would be invalid, no tax anticipation notes could be sold, because the decision requires that the estimated income shall be equal to the estimated expenditures, so that the budget may be balanced, and unless the budget is balanced there can be no sale of tax anticipation notes. The only way the budget could be balanced would be for the Relief Administrator to reduce his estimated expenditures to equal the $35,000,000 estimated requirements; and in order to carry it out would have to immediately take off six of seven thousand persons now on relief rolls; and it was because of that situation which would be facing us sooner or later that I voted against the reduction, believing that they themselves did not have the courage to follow even that program. I thought the Committee on Finance, of which the Senator from Delaware is Chairman, might have the courage to vote for these bills, however; but the Committee on Finance emasculated the bills before presenting them to us, and when they came out they came out in their crippled condition.

There has been talk of a constructive program. I have seen no constructive program presented that I believe would be carried out. We have heard a lot of criticism, but there has been no program either constructive or conciliatory to form the basis for settlement. Nobody can believe that the program that has been presented is intellectually honest; that the statements made now by the Senators on the Republican side are made honestly and with any idea of carying them out. You can judge of it by their behavior here—just think of it. It has been pointed out here that these bills were attempted to be amended by the Democratic members, to bring them back so thy could vote for their own bills. And that was opposed by whom?—By the Republicans. They had enough votes to do that, and enough votes to defeat the amendments. And then, on roll call for second reading they had enough votes to carry all the bills, and on third reading they have the effrontery to say, "We delivered enough votes to take care of our program, with which you do not agree, and since you did not accept, the fault must lie with you." That may be an excuse, but I doubt whether it is even an explanation, and it does not solve the problem; and I agree with the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson—I have maintained for the past three weeks that the Republican Party has undertaken to tear down the program of the Democratic Party; and I say now, maybe the Democratic Party wants too much money—I don't know; I have pointed out before that these are all estimates, and they are subject to conditions over which we have no control, and the only basic argument we could use to support them is the experience of the past. The experience of the future is only conjecture. Even tonight—or, this morning, rather, this Republican Senate has flown in the teeth of experience as recent as the thirty days in June. The relief rolls for June cost over $6,000,000. So far as there has been appropriated for July with the same amount of people on the relief rolls $1,000,000; and tonight there was transferred $3,000,000 or a total of $4,000,000. The total amount that would be left, out of the money that they have suggested, however thirty-five millions of dollars, would not be sufficient and I disagree with the figures because they have failed to take into consideration that there are more than twenty-eight weeks in the succeeding seven months Those figures would not give to the Relief Board more than $2,900,000 a month, in the final analysis, to be spent for relief, and our experience in the last five months has shown that the figure needed is nearer $6,200,000.

Now, how these people expect to answer—not the public but their own consciences, when they go home and think about the fact that there is relief no more in Pennsylvania, and that there will be no more funds by virtue of the fact that they themselves have refused to stand up for the only constructive suggestion—not program but suggestion—that we will give—and we think $35,000,000 is not based on any adequate figures—is more than I can understand. How they can explain to themselves, sufficient to satisfy them, that because they delivered, or were willing to deliver, ten votes for their program, to which we are opposed—and for which we accept the full responsibility, is more than I can understand.

Whether we be wrong or not, at least we have had the courage of our convictions, and we have stood up for our program, believing in it, and believing it to be necessary These gentlemen have told us time and again that relief is too costly, and $35,000,000 is enough—and they have not stood up for their program. The people of Pennsylvania will want to know why, if the Republicans said $35,000,000 was enough, they did not give it. The House is waiting for these bills, the House was ready to meet this situation if it could be met. There was room for compromise if all these bills were passed, but it had to be the Republican program and not the Democratic program It was proposed by the Republicans and it should have been put over by them. I said, myself, and I reiterate it that had these bills been passed I would have been willing to vote for transfers. They were not passed, because the Republicans would not pass them. I said, before, that the Republicans intended not to vote for this program, that this is a smokescreen, and that it is an effort to take away the political effect that must necessarily follow, and they were upon the shoulders of the Republicans. I think the Democrats have proved their case, and the Republicans have proved their weakness.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will be glad to be interrogated.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is it not a fact that the Republican majority in this State Senate mustered up 26 votes for the passage of Senate Bill No. 19 on second reading yesterday afternoon?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is so.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). And is not it a fact, Mr. President, that the Republican majority mustered 26 votes for the passage of Senate Bill No. 27 yesterday afternoon?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, pardon me, the Senator from Centre is under a misapprehension. I recall that there were twenty-five votes for the bill and not twenty-six—or twenty-four.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I think the Senator from Delaware, if he informs himself correctly, will find that there were twenty-six votes for one and twenty-seven votes for the other.

Mr. McCLURE. Well, Mr. President, the Senator from Centre may inquire from the desk how many votes were cast for these bills yesterday afternoon.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to know why the bills were all right to vote for yesterday afternoon, and became so repulsive this morning?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I suppose the Republicans voted for those bills yesterday to give the Democrats a chance to join with the Republicans to-night in the final passage of those bills. Tonight the Democrats showed no inclination to vote for these bills, and not one person, not one Senator among the Democrats, would vote for them.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is it not true that on Tuesday, July 7th, in answer to my question as follows: "Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware inform the Senate as to what is anticipated as the return from House Bill No. 19?" the Senator from Delaware answered: "Mr. President, if the increase is from six per cent to ten per cent., the income would be $10,000,000?"

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I believe I answered $10,150,000.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, excuse me, the Senator from Delaware is correct—$10,150,000.

Mr. PRESIDENT, is it not a fact that in answer to my question, on the same day, as follows: "Mr. President, what is anticipated as a return from House Bill No. 26?" the Senator from Delaware answered: "Mr. President, House Bills Nos. 26, 27 and 28 are included together. The revenue from those measures would be $40,000,000, and there is no subdivision of the revenue by the Department of Labor, in connection with these bills"?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the statement of the Senator fom Centre is corect.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is it not a fact that in answer to my question, on the same day, as follows: "Mr. President, do we understand that we have reasonable assurance that such bills will be reported out as promptly as they can be handled by the Committee and corrected by the sub-committees; is that correct?" the Senator from Delaware replied: "Mr. President, I am not committing the Committee on Finance to any definite action, but it was evident this morning that it was their intention to report these bills out after they are amended"?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Senator from Centre is reading from the record, and I made the statement, and I still stand for that statement.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is it not a fact that when House Bill No. 19 came out upon the calendar it was not in the form as stated on Tuesday by the Senator from Delaware, but the estimated income from that bill had, in fact, been cut in half?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is so. I also want to call attention to the previous statement I made, that I was not responsible for the action of the Finance Committee.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is it not a fact that when House Bill No. 27 came out on the floor of this Senate it was not accompanied by House Bill No. 26 and House Bill No. 28, as was the statement of the Senator from Delaware on July 7th, but it was by itself and emasculated in such shape that it will now only yield, according to the estimate of the Department of Revenue, not more than $18,000,000?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, House Bills Nos. 26 and 28 were postponed for the present in Finance Committee, if I remember correctly, by a unanimous vote. The question of revenue seems to be a very illusive one. Yesterday morning, as I explained, we called before our Committee a representative of the Department of Revenue. At that time he informed us that House Bill No. 27 would produce revenue between $8,000,000 and $6,500,000. To-day I received a letter from the same gentleman, informing me that this revenue bill will not produce even $6,000,000, if my memory serves me correctly.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is it not a fact, then, that the bills as they occur on the calendar—the bills which have just been defeated—as they were reported out by the Senate Committee on Finance, instead of yielding $50,150,000, as assured by the Senator from Delaware on Tuesday, will yield approximately only $23,-000,000, according to the estimate of the Department of Revenue?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I stated to the Senator from Centre this afternoon that I have never given him the amount of $50,150,000. I have never made such a statement. Evidently the Senator from Centre took the bills at the time it was thought they might be reported to the floor, and computed his own revenue.

Mr. PRESIDENT, may I interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Senator from Centre this afternoon mentioned the same figure of $50,150,000, and I am curious to know what record he has to show that I mentioned that amount of money.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, reading from the Journal Tuesday, July 7, the answer of the Senator from Delaware—he is referring to House Bill No. 19—is as follows: "Mr. President, if the increase is from six per cent to ten per cent, the income would be $10,-150,000." And again, on the same day, referring to House Bills Nos. 26, 27 and 28, he said, "The revenue from these measures would be $40,000,000." Adding the two together we get the total of $50,150,000.

On down, on the record, the Senator from Delaware states that in addition thereto House Bill No. 100 would yield approximately $460,000, in addition to these other figures for the rest of the present biennium. So I think the Senator from Delaware will agree with me that these are not my figures but his figures.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I realize the total $50,150,000, but in my statement I did not add the revenue from the different bills. I agree with the Senator from Centre County that they do total that much, and there can be no argument about that.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Delaware.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I would be very glad to be interrogated.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in view of the fact that the bills as they reposed in Committee on July 7th were estimated by the Senator from Delaware to yield $50,150,000, and as they came out of the Committee, and are on the calendar, are proposed to yield $23,000,000, or a difference of $17,150,000, will the Senator from Delaware explain how, with such emasculation, these bills can be considered a part of the Democratic program?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I am very glad that the gentleman from Centre asked be that question; it saves me from replying to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

These bills were introduced in the House by Democratic members. They passed the Democratic House and came to the Senate. The revenues from these bills were reduced in the Senate Finance Committee. They still represent a part of the revenue in the original bill. There seems to be a thought in Democratic circles to pass punitive legislation of different kinds. I can speak for myself and I think I speak for several members of the Finance Committee when I state that we believe the tax burden should be spread as much as possible. And this, of course, necessitates a number of bills, and thereby the burden is not borne by a few.

We still adhere to the principle of ability to pay. We believe that there are others in the State who might be taxed, which are not covered by these bills; and we cannot see any reason why these two particular bills should bear all the relief burden.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 46, on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to proceedings for the forfeiture of rights, privileges or franchises of corporations making claim against street railway, traction or motor power companies in certain cases; and providing for the disposition of rights, privileges or franchises forfeited and for contracts relating thereto.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, after observing the vote which defeated House Bill No. 19 and House Bill No. 27, I say that the pretensions of the Republican side of this Senate yesterday afternoon, when they pretended to have eyes and ears and hearts for the people of this State who need relief was a false front. We have seen that while the other side of this House was willing to transfer funds that did not exist, although they had a majority and voted a majority in favor of both these bills on second reading, yet they were not sincerely interested in levying taxes to be appropriated for relief purposes.

When Democratic side of this House yesterday afternoon wanted the Republican side of this House to come out in the clear and show us a program that would be adequate to meet the necessities of the situation and pass tax bills with the majority which only they have in this Senate, that then we would be for temporary expedients to raise funds but, Mr. President, while they have passed these bills on second reading, they have demonstrated here this morning that they are not sincerely interested in the welfare of the people of this State, but all they said and all they did yesterday afternoon was a pious pretense which they did not propose to back up with their votes.

Mr. President, this relief situation is now in the lap of the Republican members of this Senate more so than it has ever been. It is up to them now to propose their program, whether it be the $35,000,000 program, such as was hinted at the Republican caucus, the $41,000,000 program of Senator McClure, or the $45,000,000 program of some of the other Senators or whatever they want; but I say that it is time now that they come out in the clear before the Senate of Pennsylvania, the other House of this General Assembly and the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and say what they propose to do in this relief situation.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President. I will.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, tell me how many Democrats voted on third reading for Senate Bill No. 28 (House Bill No. 19) this morning?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, according to my count there was none voted in favor of it.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Centre tell me how many Democratic Senators voted for Senate Bill No. 30 (House Bill No. 27)?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I did not keep any count of the vote on that bill because the Republican majority in this Senate had demonstrated in their vote on House Bill No. 19 that they were not on the level in their pretensions to provide funds for relief, and I felt that they would do the same thing with House Bill No. 27 that they did with House Bill No. 19, and I say again, as I said yesterday afternoon, that the Democratic side of this House will not pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the Republican majority.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it must have been a great effort this morning for the gentleman from Centre to make this speech and charge the Republicans with insincerity. There has been no cooperation here in the passage of these bills. Not one Democartic Senator voted for these bills. and all that we have heard for ten or eleven weeks has been that we should report bills from the Finance Committee so that they could be passed for the purpose of relief. I do not know what bills they want us to report out that they will vote for. These bills are Democratic bills, introduced in the House of Representatives by Democrats, passed the House with Democratic votes, came to this Senate, and we, the Republicans on this side of this House, feel that we have done more than we should be called on to do, or, at least, we have done as much as we should do to provide for relief. If relief breaks down and it continues for an indefinite time, it s no fault of any Republicans. These Democrats in this House showed yesterday afternoon a great determination that they wanted relief to break down. They instituted every parliamentary procedure known to block the passage of the transfer bills, and this morning they come back here and not one Democratic Senator will vote for these bills which are to provide relief.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, just a moment ago the Senator from Delaware stated that he is fully in accord to distribute the tax burden among those who are able to pay. At this time I offer the following motion:

I move that the Committee on Finance of this Senate be discharged from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 20 (House Bill No. 21), so that the same may be returned to the floor of this Senate for constitutional consideration.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I inform the members of this Senate that that bill is the Chain Store Tax, and I trust that the Senator from Delaware will agree, with his vote, that that group can pay some taxes.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it is not unlike the Senator from Fayette to ask that the Committee be discharged from consideration of this particular bill. This bill provides for a tax on chain stores. We know that if it is possible for business to pass the burden to consumers they always do it; and this tax is a tax on the market basket, it is a tax that will be passesd on to every woman when she goes to market; and I am very glad tonight to have this motion made to discharge this particular bill from committee, because it, to my mind, shows that no great consideration is being given by the Democrats when they consider a tax of this kind.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, is the Senator from Delaware informed as to the enormous salaries being paid to the presidents and other officials of all these chain stores?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I do not think that the salaries of the chain stores officers are any higher than the salaries of officials of other organizations doing the same gross business and carrying the same responsibilities.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, is the Senator from Delaware informed as to the enormous profits of the chain stores in the year 1935?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I have not examined the statement of any chain store company.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, is the Senator from Delaware informed that just about seventy per cent of the money that this Commonwealth spends for relief goes into the coffers of the chain stores?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the only reason I can see for that is that they can buy at the chain stores cheaper than they can buy at the other stores; and that is the reason for having chain stores—so that people can purchase cheaply.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair point out that the discussion on this motion must necessarily be limited to the mechanics of the motion to discharge the committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. FREY and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—24

Baumer,	Law,	Reed,	Sones,
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Staudenmeier,

Present and not voting: Salus.

So the question was determined in the negative.

The PRESIDENT. Less than the number required by the rules, the motion is lost.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I want to explain the reason for my vote here tonight of "Present." It wasn't made viciously, but my present inclination is to sit in my seat from now on and vote "Present" on every question that comes before us for action until both sides and both factions of this House get closer together, until somebody, somehow, can get them together, to get some good common sense; and unless my views of tonight are changed, I propose to vote "Present" on all legislation.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 75, entitled:

Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section one C

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the author of this joint resolution, the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator from Erie explain what this resolution means.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, this resolution proposes an amendment to the Constitution, which, if adopted by this Session of the Legislature and by the 1937 Session, would then go to a vote by the people in 1938. If adopted at that referendum in 1938 it provides that after 1943 the maximum millage that might be levied against real estate would be ten mills on the fair market value, in addition to necessary provision for debt service. In other words, if any municipality requires ten mills, we will say, for debt service, and the ten mills of this bill for current expenses, the total maximum millage in that municipality would be twenty mills.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Ziesenheim, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the Senator from Erie state whether this limitation applies to each of the subdivisions—that is, as to county, city or borough or township, and school, or whether it is the total for the three?

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, it would be within the province of the Legislature of 1943, or thereafter, to regulate that. That would not be fixed by the Constitution but fixed by future legislation.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I still do not get the answer—whether that is ten mills for each or a total of ten mills.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, a grand total of ten mills for current expenses, as distinguished from debt service.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—41

This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, for the last ten weeks, and perhaps before the last ten weeks, we have been listening to a very great many nice, sweet, oratorical words that are put out to the people of Pennsylvania as to the values of both the candidates for the office of President. Last week, and perhaps we have them here tonight; I saw them in the early sessions here, when I arrived here this evening—the Mayor of Philadelphia, who was telling us in Philadelphia we are going to have 50c gas. The experience in this Senate the last ten weeks has taught us that if we could just get the distinguished Mayor to connect this Senate with the gas lines of the U. G. I., perhaps we will get gas for nothing in Philadelphia. We have been listening to a lot of hot air, and hot air is gas, on personal privilege questions from the members of this Senate for ten weeks, and what have we accomplished? An empty nothing.

Now then, when we are coming down to tax people, tax everybody and anybody anywhere; and every time a fellow puts up his head he will be subject to a tax—whether it is the president of a bank or a lady at the wash tub. As to the president of the bank, you must tax him because he is apparently making money.

Why don't these leaders of both parties get together, and get down to real, honest-to-God taxes, and tax anyone and everybody, and put a tax on everybody, and have everybody in the State of Pennsylvania, come Marcus Hook to Erie County and from Pike County to Delaware County, pay a fair tax on what they are earning? Let us get away from here, and stop sitting around all summer long.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until next Monday evening at 9 o'clock.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask permission to withdraw the motion for the present.

The PRESIDENT. Does the seconder of the motion withdraw his second?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is withdrawn.

May the Chair say that this Senate is rather in a ridiculous position at the present moment. The Chair awaits the pleasure of the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I was somewhat afraid yesterday that the distinguished Senator from Lancaster, as he listened to the proceedings in this Senate and reflected on the character of the men who were here during the earlier part of his long and distinguished service, might have said to himself "How have the mighty fallen", but as the storm clears the atmosphere, I think, perhaps, the debate yesterday will have cleared this situation, and when we return with our minds clear, we can sit down and work out together a program for the salvation of the State. It would help considerably, Mr. President, if someone would tell the Governor that the course which he is pursuing does not add any respect. A former Governor of this Commonwealth took a similar plan and only brought discredit upon himself and the high office which he held and I am afraid that the people of this Commonwealth will think that the attacks of the Governor upon members of a coordinate branch of this Commonwealth, no matter how much he may consider them warranted, will not be proper.

I hope that the House of Representatives will pass the bills for relief that the Senate sent over yesterday. I know that they will not grant permanent relief, but they will give us temporary relief in this situation, and will do a considerable part in that respect if the Director of Relief of Pennsylvania will only put into effect the economies which he has too long neglected and will purge the relief rolls of those who do not belong there. If this is not done, the duty will devolve upon the municipalities to discover the more serious cases and, it seems to me, that those in authority should make it very clear and plain that the persons on the relief rolls, or any able bodied man, his case be suspended and that he will be required to accept any reasonable work which may be offered, or show cause why he cannot get a job.

Considerably more than a year ago, attention was called in this Senate to the fact that this system of relief must be changed, and shortly after that was done, investigating committees, quite a number of them, were appointed by the House of Representatives and a Joint Investigating Committee was appointed for the purpose of investigating the system of relief, and I believe that all those House Committees, without exception, reported in favor of the decentralization of relief.

A Joint Investigating Committee was appointed under a resolution, the preamble of which was in part as follows:

"That some inherent defect exists in the present system of relief distribution; that taxpayers are demanding that the light of publicity be thrown upon the whole system of distributing public relief; and that system of administering relief fails to approach the task of placing relief upon a sound State-wide business basis."

Now, that Joint Investigating Relief Committee proved and declared that their examination showed that that preamble was proper and that the statements therein were borne out by the investigation. This joint committee at the last session of the legislature in 1935 said, in part, in the investigation by the committee, "no criticism occurred more frequently than that relating to the type of employes administering relief. Under Federal rules and regulations, the administration of relief has passed to a large extent into the hands of professional social workers and conduudcted from their point of view. The testimony of the Assistant Administrator of Direct Relief showed the large measure of free play given to the social influence in the whole administration of relief.

Unfortunately many of these persons have been salaried men and women who do not have the viewpoint of the taxpayer who conducts a business with great difficulty to avoid insolvency or who only by most strenuous efforts is able to save himself and family from going on the relief rolls. Everyone desires, of course, to uplift the standard of living of those in want but the danger today from the enormous increase in the cost of relief, is that the whole of society will be precipitated into the same ruin so that the standard of all will eventually be lowered."

This committee, with only one dissenting voice, really five of the six members—although Senator Norton did not actually sign this report, this was before he had gone away, but having previously given the substance of it his approval, and this committee, in making its report said: "The undersigned members of the committee would suggest the passage of an Act of Assembly at this time (that is, the last session of the legislature) for decentralization of the administration of relief. We feel that the State Director of Relief is making an honest effort to cope with a difficult situation but the bureaucratic system which has been built up will make such effort to a great extent fruitless. If a local board with large powers and responsible to the appointing power or to the electors as the case may be, is created by law in each of the counties to begin functioning at a future time to be fixed by the Director of Relief under certain limits, we feel it will be a decided step toward reduction of the relief rolls and the cost thereof."

Now, at that session of the legislature this Senate passed two bills for decentralization of relief. Both of them were rejected by the House. It seems to me that this relief setup is like all bureaus. It is largely concerned in building up and perpetuating itself. Out there in the State of Ohio, in Steubenville, Jefferson County, in May of this year a meeting was held by members of the Jefferson County Tax League, and almost unanimously they sustained a resolution that "relief as administered in Jefferson County has resulted in reckless extravagance, waste, idleness, loss of self-respect, graft, failure and shame. This is a perfidious and ever-increasing pest, and is rapidly devouring the very vitals of our nation. We must call a halt. Many of those in need the most are getting but little, and hundreds of those with other support are getting the most:"

And down in Congress, a group of fifty members of Congress said: "We advocate that all relief funds as far as the Federal Government is concerned should be by grants to the several states and administered by non-partisan committees in local communities. We believe this program of administering relief will save from twenty-five to fifty percent of present expenditures, and result in more adequate and efficient relief of needy and deserving citizens."

I was astonished when the present Relief Director only a short time ago made up his estimate of the amount of funds needed to take care of the system of relief for the next seven months, put in an item of $700,000 to $800,000 for the cost of overhead and salaries of the relief officers, to pay out a fund of $5,200,000. It seems to me that $800,000 is an enormous sum and cannot be justified in any method of computation or calculation. Back in 1932 we were operating under the first Talbot Act, and in September of that year, the last month the Talbot Act was in effect, there were more persons on relief than there are now, and the figures which I have here, taken from the report of one of the directors, show there were 676,011 persons on relief in 1932. The report of the present Director, for the period ending June 20th, shows 568,559 cases on relief, a considerable number less than 1932, yet the cost of administering relief in September, 1932, was $10,809.00, whereas the cost in a month now runs $800,000 or over. In September, 1932, although they had considerably more persons on relief rolls, there was only a little more than $1,000,000 spent for relief. Of course, the standards have been raised, but you cannot account for the vast difference in the amount for relief. Of course these standards have been raised, but you cannot account for the vast difference in the amount of relief merely by the raising of standards, and it seems to me what this Director of Relief is doing in asking for this enormous sum to carry on the cost of administration for these next months is he, just like all of the social relief set-ups, considers this a permanent thing, and that after this flury blows over here, we will get back our big amount of funds to distribute and will keep their organization intact.

Suppose, Mr. President, this WPA ended. Assuredly somebody knows that the Federal Government cannot afford to pay out billions and billions indefinitely, as it does, and if the WPA were stopped, these persons are going to be put back on the states, and we are going to carry these tremendous relief rolls, and our state and every other state within the nation will go bankrupt. The Director of Relief with those three million dollars should spread it as much as possible and cut down this overhead and purge the rolls of these chiselers.

Over here in New Jersey they tried this, and while the Governor has given us his story of the investigations he made of WPAers and relief workers, they got just what they were sent out to get. I would have been astonished if they had reported anything different from what they did report. If you go out to find a certain thing and look hard enough for it, you are going to get it, and we could find just the same thing here in Pennsylvania as the Governor with his WPA group found in New Jersey, but Miss Helen R. McCormack, city welfare supervisor, a trained social worker who has direct charge of relief under the new system, said that she had sent members of her staff to the homes of relief recipients to explain that the city could not afford to give as much relief as when the State paid the bills, and that relief would have to be limited strictly to essentials and to such families as had no other means of support. "The response was surprising," she said. "Nearly all the people we had to drop took it philosophically. They seemed to take it for granted that the old system could not go on forever. They also appeared to feel that what the city could spend for relief should go to the really most destitute cases. There have been very few complaints," she said.

Recently the city of Dunkirk, N. Y., decided to handle its own relief affairs. It was costing the citizens too much to administer it under State and Federal regulations, and when the city of Dunkirk took this matter into its own hands, it is said that the administration expenses have dropped by fifty per cent. The number of families on relief has been reduced from 700 to 150, without serious hardship to anybody. Many able-bodied men have found jobs, which they feared to take while living on relief. And the Mayor of Dunkirk said that the city's welfare needs can be met at a maximum cost of $4,000 a month, though for the first five months of the year the figure was $20,000 a month.

That is all that I want to say, Mr. President, except that if we look this situation in the face, as we must, and quit jockeying for position in this political year, we will come to the conclusion that we should at this time decentralize the administration of relief and make the local communities responsible for the administration, and pass a bill to that effect now.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINMENT OF COMMITTEE TO DETERMINE AMOUNT NECESSARY FOR RELIEF.

Mr. REED (Washington) offered the following resolution which was twice read:

Whereas, for two months and upwards the important subject of relief has been actively before this Senate; and

Whereas, to date no definite program has been formulated and adopted by this Senate; and

Whereas, in order to prevent wide-spread suffering and distress it is the sense of this Senate that partisanship for the present be discarded and a proper relief program prepared and adopted;

Now Therefore, Be it Resolved that a committee, consisting of the following members of this Senate, namely, Andrew J. Sordoni, Benjamin H. Thompson, Frank J. Haris, William B. Rodgers and Herman E. Baumer, be appointed to at once consider the subject of relief and determine the minimum amount required to finance relief in Pennsylvania for the period ending January 31, 1937, and upon arriving at the sum required to outline and suggest a just and fair program of taxation to provide such necessary funds and report its findings to this Senate Monday evening, July 13, 1936.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which, requires concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the Resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I object to the immediate consideration.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I was going to ask the Senator from Dauphin to withdraw his objection. We do not have a very heavy calendar today and we have a serious proposition on our hands and here is a step that might simplify it, and it might not; but I see no harm in bringing it right out in the open here today and if it is not satisfactory vote it down. We have nothing else to do except to consider some step—and this is one step—and I would respectfully request the Senator from Dauphin to withdraw his objection and bring it out here on the floor.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, insist upon his objection?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I do.

The PRESIDENT. Under the rules there is no alternative but to refer the resolution to Committee. The Resolution is referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER RELIEF

Mr. WOODWARD offered the following resolution which was twice read and refered to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

In the Senate, July 10, 1936.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint each a committee of five so that there shall be five Democrats and five Republicans on this joint committee;

Resolved, That this joint committee shall report Monday evening, July 13th, a joint program of taxation to yield both a minimum figure for relief; also a maximum figure for relief;

Resolved, That such program be accepted by the House and the Senate up to the minimum amount, but the maximum amount provided in the above program will not be binding upon the House and upon the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, worth-while and permanent jobs we must admit do not come from politicians. Permanent jobs come from industry, from work on the farm and work in the shops. A few jobs, possibly good jobs, but of uncertain duration, can come through political pull or endeavor, but real worth-while and permanent jobs must come from industry; therefore, when we consider matters here in this Senate, it occurs to me that everyone here should consider in the first instance what is going to be the permanent and lasting effect of what we may do. Surely no one here wants to drive industry out of Pennsylvania. I know in our community we are endeavoring to bring business into the two counties, and I believe the same thing applies in every county in the State. We want to bring business, lasting jobs into Pennsylvania, therefore, members of the Senate, let us be sensible and let us not do anything to retard true recovery.

This relief situation can be solved, not by any one or two Senators, as we are all able to act for ourselves. We want to approach this matter in a plain and sensible manner, and we can speedily come to a solution of it. Personally, as long as I have a dollar, I do not feel too bad, because I do not have to have a thousand or more, but when I do not have that dollar, why I am certainly down in the dumps. Now, there are people in this State, many people who do not have a dollar. I am just as much opposed as any man in this Senate to the raiding of spec funds, but I cannot see any justification when people this state are without food, there is no fund that I wo not raid in order to provide food for the people in t state. It may well be that we should have come to a co clusion here long ago, and I believe that we could ha come to a satisfactory conclusion, had all of the bills th were introduced in the lower House been brought ov here so that we could impose taxes that applied it on wider basis, so that just a few taxables would not ha been singled out. I am not censuring anyone—hindsi is always better than foresight, but the fact remains th we have not accomplished what we are here for, and bespeak the other members of this House to the end th measures providing for a wider basis of taxation mig be brought into this Senate which we may consider.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, as long as the Sen does not want to adjourn, I want to say a word abo these special funds. We used to have thirty-three spec funds, and we worked for years to lessen this numb I do not know the exact number today. The worst o is the Firemen's Relief Fund. The Senator from Cent Mr. Thompson, who, I think, is a volunteer fireman, shou be the last to raid the Firemen's Relief Fund, but I s maintain it is the worst special fund that exists. T firemen have a lobby to come here and fix the premiu for fire insurance companies, and I do not see why t policemen have not the same right to organize and co here and raise some other fund for their benefit, it exactly the same thing. The situation then becom ironical for either body to refuse to use the money present in Pennsylvania for relief. The theory of t special fund is an insult to the intelligence of a legis tive body. Take the Game and Fish Fund, take any fu you like, the theory to build up its special fund is th fish and game interests will not trust the Legislature furnish adequate appropriation for their use. Should legislative body finance the game and fish needs of t State, or any other needs. The same thing applies to t bond issue of $42,000,000 for an institution. If we b lieve in ourselves and if the people believe in us, th would not ask for a bond issue of $42,000,000 for an i stitution. If they would come to us and trust in o intelligence and fairness to give the institution in t biennium a sufficient amount of money for their pr gramme. I submit, therefore, I am delighted to vote raid special funds at any time for any purpose.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE RELIEF

Mr. OWLETT offered the following resolution whi was twice read:

In the Senate, July 10, 1936

Whereas, On May 18, 1936, the Senate adopted a Res lution (known as Senate Resolution No. 1) authorizi the appointment of a Committee to make an investigati of the organization, administration and functioning of t Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Pursuant to said Resolution the President p tempore of the Senate on May 18th appointed a Co mittee of five members of the Senate, which organiz promptly and proceeded to perform its duties under sa Resolution; and

Whereas, On June 3, 1936, while said Committee w conducting a hearing and examining witnesses who d sired voluntarily to inform the Senate of certain abus in the administration of the Works Progress Administr tion in Pennsylvania, there was served upon the Co

mittee a Restraining Order issued by a judge of the District Court of the United States for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, enjoining the Committee from further proceeding in the performance of any of its duties under said Resolution; and

Whereas, After argument the District Court of the United States granted a temporary injunction further restraining the Committee from performing its duties under said Resolution; and

Whereas, The Committee is advised by its counsel, specially retained by it to represent it in the injunction proceedings, that counsel believe that the action of the District Court would be reversed upon appeal and the injunction vacated, but that an appeal would be futile because said Resolution requires the Committee to complete its duties and report to the present Special Session of the Senate, and the appeal could not be heard and disposed of prior to the adjournment of this Session; and

Whereas, The work of the Committee prior to the issuance of a Restraining Order as aforesaid had revealed gross abuses in the functioning of the Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania, and particularly an effort by those controlling the Works Progress Administration unlawfully and unconstitutionally to interfere with the freedom of the electors of Pennsylvania to register and vote as they please, and to impose upon persons in need of work relief, an unlawful and unconstitutional requirement that they register as members of a particular political party; and

Whereas, It is necessary in order that appropriate remedial legislation may be enacted, that the Senate obtain further information relating to these and other abuses now being perpetrated in Pennsylvania, in violation of the Constitution and laws of Pennsylvania, and in violation of the rights of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a sovereign State.

Resolved, That the President pro tempore of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint a Committee of five members of the Senate whose duty it shall be to conduct an investigation of the wide-spread reports that electoral freedom, guaranteed both by the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the Constitution of the United States, is being denied to the unemployed who require relief, and the further wide-spread reports that citizens of Pennsylvania are being compelled, in order to obtain relief or work-relief, to register as members of a particular political party, and that the elections of this Commonwealth are being corrupted by the granting of relief or work-relief to persons not in need thereof, as a consideration for partisan political activity;

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer any question touching matters properly being inquired into by the Committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Provided, That the Committee shall not have power to subpoena any Federal official or any records of the government of the United States. Such subpoenas may, except as herein otherwise provided, be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said Committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to testify before such Committee and to produce any papers, books or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the Laws of the Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That the Committee shall hold hearings in Philadelphia and in Pittsburgh, and if it deems it necessary, in other cities of the Commonwealth in which the aforesaid abuses are believed to be current;

Resolved, That said Committee shall make a report to the Senate at its next Regular Session and that the powers hereby conferred shall be exercised by the Committee during the recess of the Senate, as well as during the Sessions thereof;

Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said Committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the Senate shall be held by any Court to be unconstitutional, the said Committee shall nevertheless continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not ask for unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, in order to perhaps shorten the proceedings this morning, I wish to advise the Senate that these are the same amendments that were offered by me last night. The amendments restore the bill to the condition that it was in when it came from the House.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I was on the sub-committee of the Senate Finance Committee, with Senator Bean and Senator Huffman, in the consideration of the amendments which were inserted by the amendment of House Bill No. 27. The bill, as it originally passed the House, not only added three mills to the present personal property tax, making it payable to the State of Pennsylvania, but in addition removed the present exemption it now gives the holder of stock in Pennsylvania corporations.

Mr. President, since the passage of the original four mill tax law, stock in Pennsylvania corporations, held by individual residents in Pennsylvania, has not been liable to the four mill tax, nor to the additional State tax, which was passed at the last regular session. This is not, in a true sense, an exemption of this stock. It is, on the other hand, merely inserted in the law to prevent double taxation. If an individual in Pennsylvania invests ten thousand dollars in a business enterprise and incorporates that enterprise, immediately that corporation pays on the capital stock of that company the personal property tax to the State of Pennsylvania. The amendment put in this bill in the House requires him not only to pay,through the corporation, the tax, but he would be required to pay this in addition. That is double taxation, and I want to say merely for the benefit of the members of this Senate, it was recognized by all of the members of the Finance Committee and by all the members of the sub-committee, that the bill in the form as it passed the House of Representatives, could not be enacted in this Senate. The burden imposed by the three mill tax will place a burden on the investors in Pennsylvania too great for them to bear. The eight mill tax will impose an equivalent of twenty per cent income tax on a four per cent investment. This in addition to the five mill income tax, in many cases wipes out the income entirely.

Mr. President, in districts like mine, people with small means, who accumulated savings for their old age will find their income very materially reduced by this eight mill tax. People who saved ten or fifteen thousand dollars to live in their old age, it is practically all taken away from them.

Mr. President, I do not think there is anybody on either side of this Senate that does not recognize the iniquity of an eight mill personal property tax law. If these exemptions are removed, which have always existed in our personal property tax law, in many cases it wipes out the entire income from the savings of widows and orphans in Pennsylvania. Mr. President, I say this to the Senate for this reason: It has been stated so often that we have emasculated this three mill tax law. The committee changed the three mill tax law, put it in the shape where it would have a chance to pass. It was done with practically the unanimous consent of the Senate Finance Committee, both Republicans and Democrats. It was done in an honest endeavor to pass that three mill tax law, to get it in the form that it could pass, so that it would not work more hardship on the citizens of Pennsylvania and be impossible to pass it. It is the only bill that the Senate Finance Committee thought would bring in any revenue at all. We amended that bill in the hope that it could be passed, and for no other reason.

Mr. President, I do not think there is anybody on the Democratic side of this House who believes that this three mill tax law has one single chance of passing with the amendments taken out that the Senate put in it, not one chance, and I ask the members of this Senate to vote against the amendments, which remove the exemption that now exists in our personal property tax law.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I may say that I am convinced that this is a vicious tax and I will keep on voting against it, no matter what happens, whether I go home and have a picket around my house or not, I will still vote against this tax. It is a vicious tax. I thought it was dead and therefore I put in the scrap basket this letter—I would like to say that it is not from a widow or orphan either. "Understanding the Legislature will act on House Bill 27, I wish to enter my protest. I am sixty years old, have had forty-five years of savings, amounting to enough to yield about $700.00 income and my personal property tax on this will be increased and this will take twenty per cent of the income. It sounds to me like a federal raid on large incomes under war conditions."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not want to make a speech, I want to make a short statement. There is no chance of our arriving at any conclusion or doing anything on the question of relief if these two bills do not pass. There has been a great deal of talk this morning about a desire to do something. The purpose of the Democratic side of the House this morning was to restore both of these bills on the calendar to their original form, in an effort to arrive at some conclusion and agreement on the subject, and I think it is the duty of everybody in this Senate to vote to restore those bills to their original form, to enable us to solve this problem; without it you cannot do it.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. GRAFF and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15

Baumer,	Huffman,	Pytko,	Rodgers.
Cavalcante,	McCreesh,	Rankin,	Ruth,
Frey,	McGinnis,	Reed,	Shapiro,
Harris.	Miller,	(Washington)	Thompson, (Centre)

NAYS—15

Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. Under his prerogative the Chair votes in favor of the amendments.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 2. This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred fourteen) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment collection and lien of the same and the distribution of the proceeds thereof imposing duties on executors administrators registers of wills recorders of deeds prothonotaries and court clerks and on persons copartnerships associations banks national banks trust companies and other corporations receiving deposits of money and on certain corporations and limited partnerships conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments imposing penalties and making an appropriation" by increasing the rate of tax changing the listing date the date of filing reports and the date and manner of payment of the tax and making further provision with regard to penalties

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I move to amend page 2, line 1 of the title, by striking out the bold-faced brackets before the word "removing" and after the word "exemptions"; also page 2, line 3 of the title, by inserting at the end of the line after the word "tax" the following: "providing for duplicate returns by taxpayers and for the use thereof"

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want to say the members of the Democratic side of this house have now placed this bill in a position where it has not a chance to pass; and I want to say further, Mr. President, that they know that they now place the 3-mill personal property tax bill in a position where it cannot pass, and they know it.

Mr. President, I do not think it is improper to state, either, on the floor of this Senate, so that the public may know, that there was an agreement with the Democratic leaders of this Senate that there would be nothing controversial brought up. For this reason, when I introduced the resolution three minutes ago for an investigation, I did not ask for unanimous consent for the consideration of this resolution, but asked that it be refered to a committee under the rules.

Mr. President, I want to say that if the members of this Senate cannot have an understanding with reference to a matter such as this and that an agreement among members of this Senate is violated, as this agreement has been violated today—I do not say that all the members of the Democratic side of this Senate have violated the agreement, but I do say, Mr. President, that they know that they have placed this 3-mill property tax bill on a basis where it cannot pass this Senate, and they have ruined the chance of getting for the unemployables of Pennsylvania any considerable amount of money to take care of this relief business.

Mr. President, may I for the moment review the situation that has arisen in this Senate? As we all know, no tax bill can originate in this Senate. The Senate of Pennsylvania was definite in its efforts to find money for the needy of Pennsylvania, of taking bills that were in the Senate Finance Committee and Democratic bills, not Republican bills, and seeing what could be passed in this Senate to get relief. The only bill that would bring in any amount of money was the personal property tax bill. Everybody on both sides of this Senate recognizes it is a vicious piece of legislation, recognizes that it puts an unfair burden on a certain class of our people, recognizes that there were any number of arguments, as my good friend from Philadelphia said, against the 3-mill property tax, but in the interest on the part of Republicans and Democrats alike—Mr. President, I repeat, in the interest of Republicans and Democrats alike to get that bill in such shape that there would be enough votes in this Senate to pass it, the bill was amended, and the only way that it could pass, with the consent of the members of the Senate Finance Committee, we came into this Senate and yesterday it came up for second reading and a roll call was demanded. We were then faced with the danger of that bill being killed on second reading and a practice unknown in our short legislative experience, and for the purpose of keeping that bill on the calendar and for the purpose of getting it up for third reading and final passage this morning, the Republican members of this Senate united to pass that bill on second reading. Now it came up for third reading this morning, Mr. President, and what happened? Mr. President, mind you, this was a Democratic bill, this was one of the bills that was sent over to this Senate by the House to raise money for relief in Pennsylvania. It was the one bill that provided any considerable revenue, and what happened? The ten Republicans of this Senate held their noses and anybody must hold their nose to vote for a bill like this 3 mill property tax, but ten Republican members of this Senate voted for that bill, of course assuming that the Democratic members of the Senate, who have voted continuously and regularly for all Democratic measures, would support their own bill, and not one of them voted for it. The only votes that that bill had were the ten Republican votes, which would have been sufficient to pass that bill, if the Democratic members of this Senate had seen fit to vote for their own measure.

Mr. President, this talk that we have had about emasculating this 3 mill personal property tax bill is nothing more or less than political propaganda, made by my friends on the other side. It is a Democratic bill, and the amendments in it make it impossible to get it through and I say the members on the Democratic side of this Senate know that that is the truth.

Mr. President, I cannot let this opportunity go by, since I was on the sub-committee of the Finance Committee and helped to draft these amendments, to answer these vicious charges that this bill has been emasculated. It has not been emasculated. It was put in such shape that there was a possibility of getting it through if it had Democratic support, and not one Democrat dare stand up and oppose it. It is pretty nearly time that the people of Pennsylvania understood this situation. If we are going to have relief tax bills passing this Senate we must have bills that pass the Democratic House and sent over to this Senate, there is no argument about that, no dispute, there is no other way to get this revenue. Now then, there is nobody in Pennsylvania going to say that the Senate cannot exercise its judgment in considering these tax bills and try to get them in shape so that they can be passed, and that is what we have done. We have taken all the bills that were in the Senate Finance Committee and we have amended them in such shape that we thought it was possible to pass them and we have put our bills, we have said, "Here is $38,000,000 and it looks as though we can get it through this Senate in the time that we brought them out," and there is not a single Democrat voted for one of them, after all this talk for the last ten weeks about how we can get revenue.

I never knew of a more unique situation in any legislative body in the land and, Mr. President, we cannot longer sit here and be quiet and have it said that there was bad faith on the part of the Republican members of this Senate. Mr. President, I submit that we had the best good faith that could be shown in reporting out these bills and putting them in such shape that they could pass, and enough Republicans voted for them so that if the Democratic members of the Senate had voted for these bills they would have passed by 30 or 31 votes, and now after an agreement was made that nothing controversial should come up they bring out amendments and restore the bill to its original form, taking out all the amendments which were inserted in committee, and putting it in shape that it will never pass in the world, and I know there are any number of Democratic members in the Senate who will not vote for those bills, at least they would not vote for them if they thought they had any chance of passing.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, in reference to the comments made by the Senator from Tioga, I desire to say this: First, that the reason for voting against that bill yesterday was well explained then. I do want to address myself to this fact though, with respect to breaking faith with the Republican side as to what will be done this morning. I did speak to a number of Republicans yesterday and asked if the meeting this morning would be non-controversial. They were willing that that would be, but in a meeting of the Finance Committee last evening, at which Senator Owlett was present, knowing that he was the one man who perhaps would be inclined to raise something this morning, if it was here to be raised, I asked him to pledge himself that this session this morning would be non-controversial and he absolutely refused to pledge himself and when he refused to pledge himself in that committee meeting, we felt that any agreement with respect to not bringing up any controversial matters this morning was off.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I merely want to ask the Senator from Monroe if it is not a fact that I told him I thought we ought to have a definite understanding.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, really I cannot say that was the reply. I asked the Senator from Tioga directly over the table, whether, if we agreed to recess until 12 o'clock today, whether it would be agreed that no controversial matters would be taken up, and he said no.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Monroe whether after that meeting we did not have another conference, with Senator Roberts, in which that was the agreement, and pursuant to that agreement is it not a fact that there were a number of Senators went home.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I do not know anything about that, I was not a party to that.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not want to have the Senator from Monroe understand that I am in any way charging that he has violated any agreement that he made with me. I want to say that my experience with the Senator from Monroe has always been the most pleasant and he has never violated any agreement that he made with me. I do not think he will say that I have with him.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, no I will not say that, I do not think the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, has ever broken any agreement he has made with me.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want to say that the statement I made this morning was not on the basis of any conference I had with the Senator from Monroe, but I will say there was an agreement, but I will not say there was an agreement with the Senator fom Monroe.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not think that anyone had a right at a time like this to make any agreement that there should be no controversial subjects brought up this morning, when there is the most controversial subject that exists in the history of this Senate this morning. The question of relief has not been decided. I would not have come back here this morning if I had known that there were to be no controversial subjects. I do not want anybody to ask me to be in this Senate and then they take themselves home. I have been away from my home for a week, and I would like to get back; but I think we are here to perform a duty and we have got to do something and we cannot run away from this proposition. I am not asking to have these bills put back in their original form to take advantage of anybody, but in the situation in which we are today, unless these bills are restored to their original form there is no chance of arriving at a compromise.

I think, inadvertently, the Senator from Tioga made a misstatement. He said that all the bills that were in the Finance Committee were amended and brought out. I contend that that statement is not correct. I am sure it was made inadvertently. There are several bills that have been killed in the Finance Committee; there is one bill that we voted on last night, the Chain Store Tax, on which the vote was 24 to 23 in favor of discharging the committee, but because of a rule that it would require a constitutional majority to discharge the committee the bill could not be brought out. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, made the statement that this was a terrible tax and would fall on the consumer. I did not want to take the time last night but I want to state this morning that that is a good tax, and a good subject of compromise, because according to the reports of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company for the last three years made $60,000,000 profit, and they paid out $49,000,000 in dividends; and I think a company that makes that much money can well afford to absorb a tax of the small size that is imposed on the chain stores. In view of that fact and the fact that there are tax bills which may be brought out, which may be substituted for these, we are now restoring these to their original form, so that by some subsequent agreement we can amend them to do less harm and bring about an agreement here. I think the Republican members should join with the Democratic members in restoring these bills to their original form and then sit down and talk when they have something to compromise upon. As the situation is today there are no taxes that will produce any revenue and if these bills are allowed to stay in their present form we will get nowhere. I am sure on this proposition the Republicans will join with the Democrats to restore the bill.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President and members of the Senate, when the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, arose to explain this bill and the importance of the reconsideration of this bill he made a motion that the vote by which the bill had been defeated on final passage be reconsidered. When that motion was agreed to and the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, made a motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill had passed third reading, I seconded that motion. When the Senator made the motion that the vote by which this bill had passed second reading be reconsidered, I think it is a matter of record that I did not second that. I want to state my position frankly, so that there may be no misapprehension whatever as to my reason for seconding the first motion. I agreed with him that there was a possibility of compromise on this bill. I do not make assertions impugning the honesty of any Senator, but when I came here this morning, about an hour or more before we went into session, the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts, was present. The Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts, left and I was informed by another Senator, who talked to the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Roberts, though I did not talk to him myself, and I took from several conversations and understandings that there would be no controversial subjects brought up this morning. Therefore when I seconded those two motions I did not dream that the purpose was to re-insert into this bill by a record vote, amendments which, when it came from the Finance Committee, had been removed from that bill.

I am making this statement because I do not want it to be assumed by anybody, in any manner, that I was a party to bringing about a situation by which this bill should be amended. I agree with the statement of the Senator from Tioga that this was not a move in the interest of compromise. I say, on the other hand, it was a move made towards permanently defeating this bill. I naturally assumed when this bill got back on the second reading calendar that it would be left there so that amendments might be proposed in a session when there was no agreement or understanding that non-controversial subjects should be considered. I supposed that that courtesy would be shown to the Committee on Finance, which has the consideration of revenue measures, that the bill would be sent back there for consideration.

Therefore, Mr. President, I want this record to show, as emphatically as a record can show, that when I seconded those motions I did it in a spirit of harmony and compromise, to place this bill in a position where it might be amended in good faith, looking to its final passage and not be, as has been done, in a position which will make it utterly impossible of final passage.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that this Senate be now adjourned until Monday evening at nine o'clock.

Mr. President, I make that motion with this statement, which I would like to make, that there will be an effort made between now and Monday evening, by members of this Senate, to get together on a compromise program, and wind this thing up. It cannot be done by speeches here in the Senate, it cannot be done by continuing this kind of discussion, and I think we all recognize that there is nothing to be gained, Mr. President, by staying in session here any longer. The only thing for us to do, as I say, is to adjourn now until next Monday evening at nine o'clock. I understand the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, will second that motion.

RECESS

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion for the time being and ask that the Senate take a recess of five minutes.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

We have here our distinguished Mayor of Philadelphia, who has been working here night and day trying to provide funds immediately to stop starvation in Philadelphia, and I join with our distinguished Mayor in requesting that we will not leave this chamber until the Democrats in the House pass these two transfer bills.

And the question recurring,

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING HON. MARSHALL L. SHEPARD

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 10, 1936.

Whereas, Thirty-seven years ago today there was born in the Tar Heel State of North Carolina a young man who later became an outstanding citizen of the City of Brotherly Love; and

Whereas, During the past regular session and of this Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly this young man has guided Members of the House of Representatives on numerous and various occasions in invoking divine blessings; and

Whereas, At the present moment when the strength of the Members of the House and of this young man has evaporated, due to the arduous task on behalf of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, this young man had still left within him sufficient knowledge and intuition to again ask for strength from the Divine Master on this legislative day, without which strength our task would be in vain; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Honorable Marshal L. Shepard be congratulated on his thirty-seventh birthday; and, be it further

Resolved, That this young man be granted a special leave of absence so that he may attend to his pastorial duties in the City of Brotherly Love, more particularly in the Eighteenth Legislative District; and, be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Honorable Marshal L. Shepard by the Chief Clerk.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know it may not be wise at this time, since we have been here in session for so many days, to take the time to congratulate our brother member on this, his 37th birthday, but I would like the indulgence of the House just for about three or four minutes, so that you may know something of the history of him whose birthday we are celebrating to-day.

I recall just about twenty years ago when I was a student at a college in this country. There appeared on the campus a young man out of form in every respect. As I recall, his clothing was not the clothing of those on the college campus at that time, but his clothing was that of a man from the farm, and he was particularly singled out as being a human being from whom nothing good could come. He was considered somewhat as a joke on this particular campus. I say that for this reason, Mr. Speaker, that this young man has come a long distance, he has risen to the heights where he is considered not only as a leader of his people, but he is considered in the sacred duties of a clergyman as a leader of the clergymen in this country today, regardless of race, creed or color.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while it may not be good grace to pass encomiums of praise upon a person while he is alive and in being, for we do not know what he may do to-morrow, nevertheless, I feel that perhaps we should ask that Divine guidance be thrown around him. I personally have tried to keep him under the protection of my wings since we have been here together, so that he will not in the future possibly have to say that he has been unworthy of these statements.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to say in conclusion that this young man has had a remarkable career. It bespeaks the praise, it bespeaks the sentiment of those who are toiling to meet the obstacles with which we are confronted to-day, and notwithstanding these obstacles of race, of prejudice, of greed and of avarice, he has come through them all successfully, and stands to-day a a shining example of a young man who knows not defeat.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask you to salute him on this day, not as those who saluted the Roman gladiators in the days when they went out to die, but to salute him that he may have a long life in the service of mankind, and be an outstanding exemplar of what can happen to those who strive and those who serve in this, our Commonwealth.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this air cooling system has suddenly failed. I want to thank my colleague, Mr. Brown, and the members of the House for this very fine tribute. I know I am not worthy of it.

I was born thirty-seven years ago,—that's what they told me, down in North Carolina. My father was a slave, and yet, coming to Pennsylvania, I have been honored by the people of this State, both white and black, and by both parties, and I have endeavored at all times to maintain a measure of their respect. It comes as a tribute to the kind of democracy under which we live in America, and especially here in Pennsylvania, that the son of a slave should be elected to the House of Representatives in this Commonwalth, one of the greatest States in these whole United States.

I want to thank you for your kindness, your cheer and for the encouragement that you have so graciously given me. I shall continue to serve as best I can, as long as the people desire that I shall serve them. I had particularly enjoyed the association of my colleagues here in the House of all parties, and particularly the association and comradeship with the other two members from the 18th Legislative District, Representatives Ominsky and Finnerty.

I thank you for this time out, and I hope to be able to cool off.

STATEMENT BY MR. JOHN A. SMITH

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish I were prepared fittingly to pay the respect of the white members of this House to the gentleman whose birthday we are to-day celebrating.

I have sat here in the location of these two colored gentlemen, and I feel that it would be a neglect upon my part and the part of those who have sat in this part of the House, if we did not fittingly pay some tribute of respect to these gentlemen.

Not only has the gentleman from Philadelphia come up from slavery, but in his associations and deliberations in this House of Representatives, he has acquitted himself with all dignity, with all propriety, and he has graced the post of Chaplain of this House with all ability.

I cannot say much at this time because I have not prepared myself to go into the logical development of this tribute, but I do feel that we, the white members of this House, should voice an expression of confidence, of esteem and of respect for these two colored gentlemen, one of whom is having his birthday celebrated to-day, and the other who has so amply and fittingly paid a tribute of respect to a member of his race.

VOTE OF THANKS TO HON. MARSHALL L. SHEPARD

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is with some hesitancy and no little trepidation that I rise on my feet to augment what has already been said about the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Those of us who have been caught within the radius of the power of his splendid personality, can not let the occasion pass without giving consideration to our innermost feelings.

There are a lot of things we could say in praise of the gentleman from Philadelphia: his great sense of responsibility, seasoned with patience and good humor; his prayer before the assembly convenes, beseeching the blessing, as he does, of the Divine Master over the deliberations of this House; his great personality, charm, his capacity for making and holding friends. All of these attributes are true, but we overlook in him a certain quality that stands out, marks the man as thoroughly fitted for legislative duties. The Reverend Shepard has character. Man strives for wealth and fame and badges of distinction, but these are of little consequence in the scale of life, when a mans worth is being assayed. In the long years of history no man is remembered for his wealth, few men of genius have been remembered for their brilliancy, but myriads are remembered for their character, their unselfish devotion to their fellow men and to public duty. I am thoroughly convinced that I am expressing the sentiment rooted deeply in the hearts of all of us when I say that when Marshall Shepard leaves these legislative halls—and I hope, incidentally, that his career is a long one, that he will leave behind him a monument more enduring than granite, richer than gold, and that is the memory of a man who is conscious of his duties as a legislator.

This land is their's by right of birth,
This land is their's by right of toil,
They helped to spade the virgin earth,
Their sweat is in its fruitful soil.

Marshall Shepard is truly a representative of the colored race. He has by his conduct reflected great credit upon the members of this House, and I think that we ought to give a greater feeling of tribute here than the mere passing of a resolution.

Mr. Speaker, I make a motion at this time that we give a rising vote of thanks to a great personality, a remarkable individual, in the person of the Reverend Marshall Shepard.

The motion was unanimously agreed to by a rising vote.

RESOLUTION

Mr. CAPUTO offered a resolution which filed with the Clerk under the rules.

Mr. HOOPES asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and that it be read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 10, 1935.

Whereas, The House and Senate appear to be in a hopeless deadlock on the unemployment relief problem; and

Whereas, Most Members of the General Assembly have a very slight understanding of the human problems of those who are compelled to exist on present relief allowances; and

Whereas, It is generally agreed that experience is the best teacher; and

Whereas, The official figures issued by the SERA for the month of May 1936 show that the average allowance per person for necessary items was as follows:

Fuel	$ .20
Clothing	1.01
Rent	.48
Water and Light	.05
Medical and Dental care	.21
Food	5.50

or a total average grant per person per month of $7.45; and

Whereas, It would be impracticable and inhuman to require the Members of the Legislature and their families to be evicted from their present comfortable homes, and to compel them to live in the sub-standard dwellings occupied by many of the unemployed, on the grants for items other than food listed above; and

Whereas, While it would be quite difficult, it would be possible and most enlightening, for the aforesaid Members to exist for a limited length of time, on the food allowance of $5.50 per month or 18 cents per day; and

Whereas, Such actual experience by those responsible for the disgraceful legislative snarl, which has stopped all direct relief in this State for the last several days, would undoubtedly result in a speedy solution of the problem in a manner more satisfactory to victims than now appears possible; now therefore

Be is Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That until such time as unemployment relief shall be established upon an adequate basis through the appropriation of the necessary funds and the levying of adequate taxes to raise the same each Member of the General Assembly is hereby directed to spend no more than 18 cents per day for food; and

Be it Further Resolved, That any Member violating this resolution by partaking of food furnished by his family, friends, Legislative lobbyists, or in any manner other than through the expenditure of the aforesaid 18 cents per day in the open market, shall be deemed guilty of contempt of the General Assembly, and shall be brought before the bar of the House of which he or she is a member and compelled to cook said food on the fuel allowance of two-thirds of one cent per day.

The SPEAKER. This is not a privileged resolution and will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

STATEMENT BY MR. TRONZO

Mr. TRONZO asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with reference to the last resolution, presented by the Hon. Mr. Hoopes, I wish to add that if this session continues any longer, we won't need that resolution to go on those rations; we will have to do it and like it.

ANNOUNCEMENT

There will be a Republican caucus in the conference room immediately.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the Chair is about to declare a recess for fifteen minutes. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess for fifteen minutes.

AFTER RECESS

The time of reces having expired the House reconvened. The SPEAKER (ROY E. FURMAN) in the Chair.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. HARKINS, CAPUTO, EROE and TRONZO.

RESOLUTION No. 40.

In the House of Representatives, July 10, 1936.

The adoption of the unicameral system for legislative bodies in the State of Nebraska and in the Irish Free State indicates a trend away from the bicameral systems. Bills have also been introduced from time to time in the General Assembly of Pennsylvania proposing constitutional amendments to bring about a change to the unicameral system in this Commonwealth.

It is therefore fitting that the subject be carefully considered and studied so that this House may be well advised as to all of the benefits and detriments incident to a unicameral State legislature, before venturing to pass upon the adoption or rejection of so drastic a change in the legislative branch of the State Government; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint seven Members of this House to serve as a committee to study the unicameral system as applied to legislative bodies, and to report its findings and recommendations to the House of Representatives at its regular session in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. HOOPES.

STATEMENT BY MR. WICKERSHAM

Mr. WICKERSHAM asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I understand it, we are about to adjourn in a short time, and it must now be apparent to everyone that there is no break in the deadlock on the relief situation.

In the remarks that I am about to make, I shall not attempt to place the blame for that situation on either political party. The only thing I am concerned with is the issue which faces us now and immediately. You are all about to go home for the week end. Many of you may be asked what you are going to do about the immediate situation. Now, I say to you that whichever party is at fault on the permanent program that the issues have been clearly enough drawn, and which side is right can be decided in November, but we have a much different question before us now, and that is what are we going to do for the people right away. I submit that the only thing that we can do is to transfer some money.

The last time that I introduced a resolution it met with three chief objections. First, that the transfer was from the liquid fuel fund. I have attempted to meet that objection in a resolution providing for a transfer from the State Stores' fund instead. The second objection was that there would be no transfers unless we were assured of the funds being repaid. I have attempted to meet that objection by providing for tax anticipation notes directed against the tax bill on liquor, which it is estimated will provide a revenue of seven and a half million dollars, so that the money can be returned as soon as the notes are sold.

That leaves the third objection, which, as Mr. Cohen has so ably stated, namely, opposition to any transfers until a relief program has been hit upon. That being so, the issue is clearly enough drawn, and it is up to us to lay that aside, and be content to go to the polls in November, defending our position, whether it be Republican or Democratic, but in the meantime we have to do something for the people that are on relief, and for the last time I am going to make another effort to meet the immediate situation, and I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution and ask to have it read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the resolution to be read for the information of the House? Are there objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

RESOLUTION

TRANSFERRING STATE STORES FUND

In the House of Representatives, July 10, 1936.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly hereby authorizes the Governor and the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth to transfer to the General Fund from the State Stores Fund, the sum of $1,500,000 for the purpose of making the same available for expenditure by the State Emergency Relief Board for unemployment relief purposes.

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby pledges that it will pass at this session of the General Assembly appropriate legislation—(1) ratifying, valdating and confirming the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making the transfer authorized by this resolution; (2) appropriating to the State Emergency Relief Board for unemployment relief purposes the sum of $1,500,000; and (3) authorizing the State to issue and sell tax anticipation notes not in excess of the amount of the estimates of the uncollected tax imposed on liquors by the Act of June 9, 1936, Act No. 4, in order to make available moneys to repay the sum so transferred, said notes and the interest thereon to be redeemable from said tax when collected.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, is this resolution, without the sanction of the Senate, any good to us? Will it meet the emergency this week, if the Senate has already adjourned?

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that the Senate has adjourned. This is a concurrent resolution, and, therefore, could not be effective.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, if that is an established fact, and knowing full that the resolution itself can not do any good whatsoever other than to bring up a more or less political issue, I object to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection, and consent is not granted.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman from Westmoreland's only objection to this resolution is because the Senate has now adjourned, and if it passes and the Senate concurs, it will be Monday before the first funds are available?

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I would not say that my objection is based entirely upon the fact that the Senate had adjourned, or that I would vote either way on the resolution. That is not the question. The question is that the resolution is absolutely no good at the present time. It does nothing, will do nothing and can do nothing.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman realize that if it is the desire of this House to immediately transfer funds for the time being, that this resolution would do so, that this House, without the Senate, can do it by passing the Eberharter bill?

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, the Eberharter bill is not before the House at the present time.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know it can be brought before the House if the majority will take it off the table?

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, what authority has the gentleman to substantiate that statement, that we could do it by passing the Eberharter bill? Upon what is the gentleman basing that statement.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, on the Eberharter bill.

Mr. DENT. In what respect, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Who is interrogating whom, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, the only reason I did not answer the question directly was the fact that the Speaker of the House must sign the Eberharter bill, as well as the President Pro Tem. of the Senate.

REQUEST TO MAKE STATEMENT

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House to make a brief statement in reply to the suggestions that have been made.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman from Dauphin to make a statement? Are there objections?

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. I object, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection, and consent is not granted.

INTERROGATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WICKERSHAM. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, was the gentleman from Dauin aware of the fact that the Senate had adjourned nen he presented this resolution?

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I had been informed others, but I was not present when they adjourned.

STATEMENT BY MR. GATES

Mr. GATES asked and obtained unanimous consent to ake the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the night be- e last we had up for consideration the transfer of funds m the motor fund. I strenuously opposed that resolu- n, because I knew that the seventeen million dollars t are now due and payable to the Highway Department s crippling that department and was causing them to off men, and thus increasing the relief load in the te of Pennsylvania. I further opposed that resolution ause that money came back into the small country nties, and I represent one of those small country nties. That money was to be used for the building of all secondary roads, which would permit the farmers my county to take their produce and their milk to rket. I oppose any resolution that will cripple the lding of that particular class of roads, but I think we e come to a serious condition in the State of Penn- vania. I am generally opposed to the transfer of any ds, but I do believe at this time that we should pass s resolution of Mr. Wickersham. While it is true that Senate has gone home and left us here by ourselves, rertheless, if this resolution passes this House today, an be taken up with the Senate on Monday night, and ile losing a day and while the suffering will suffer t much longer, why continue their suffering? Let us s this resolution and put it up to the Senate and see he Senate of the State of Pennsylvania will not go ng with us in granting this relief until something per- nent can be done. I hope you will reconsider and pass s resolution and put it up to the Senate next Monday ht, so that immediate relief can be given to those who unfortunately suffering in this state at the present e.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Ir. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question parliamentary inquiry.

he SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question parliamentary inquiry.

Ir. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if on Monday night Senate placed upon its calendar and properly passed quate revenues so that before the end of the night's sion the news of that action came to this side of the se, would it then be possible that this resolution, or Eberharter bill, would adequately cover the time ele- nt, which is not covered by this resolution, and that effect of this resolution would be as potential as if passed it today?

he SPEAKER. The Senate has already adjourned. re is nothing that this House can do today.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

r. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a ques- of parliamentary inquiry.

ne SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question parliamentary inquiry.

r. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to s what is before the House at the present time.

The SPEAKER. There is nothing before the House except a motion to adjourn.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, July 13, 1936, at 9:00 P. M.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the noes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for one member voting in the affirmative, and one hundred and six members voting in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

INTERROGATION

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Allegheny think that the Constitution of the United States is one of the greatest documents that was ever framed?

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, do I which?

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe that the Constitution of the United States is one of the greatest documents that was ever framed?

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I do because it was written by a Democrat.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, then, as the gentleman and I agree that it is one of the greatest documents in our whole history, does the gentleman believe in its provisions?

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I surely do.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe in free speech?

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaer, I believe in free speech, and I also believe in sincere speeches, but not in ten weeks of Republic malingering, like we have had in this House.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, just a few moments ago the gentleman prohibited a member of this House, who was elected by the people of his district, from exercising the privilege of free speech which the Constitution of the United States gives him on this floor, when he wants to try to feed the hungry of this State.

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I do believe in free speech, but I have heard the gentleman from Luzerne and the gentleman from Dauphin stand on the floor of this House and defy those hungry people back home by not voting for taxation upon the corporate rich of this State. Therefore, you are not sincere in your statements, and you are not sincere in any action for the purpose of feeding the starving and hungry back home.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I yield the floor temporarily to the gentleman from Dauphin County, Mr. Wickersham.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, assuming that the gentleman from Allegheny referred to me as the gentleman from Dauphin, I consider that my integrity as a member of this House has been questioned, and therefore, I wish to state my position on the tax program and on the present relief question that is before this House.

As I have said before, I am against any new taxes until the Democratic party and the Republican party agree on the amount that is necessary, and when that is done I am willing to go along on the tax program that is submitted. You will find in the final analysis of the record of the tax bills that have been passed by this House that I have voted in favor of them.

All that I am trying to do is this, I know that the Senate has adjourned, but if we do pass this resolution, and if it were passed by the Senate Monday night, the Relief Board could have the checks ready Monday, and as soon as it was passed, they could have them in the mail Monday night, and the people in need would have their relief Tuesday morning, and we could have that assurance because the Senate has approved exactly what this resolution proposes to do, in their amendments to the Eberharter bill, and, therefore, we can be assured that the Senate will go along with this resolution, if the House sends it to them. We can then assure the people of this State that the relief will be in the mails Monday night and that they will have their checks Tuesday morning.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I rise in my seat to-day to protest against the taking away of my constitutional right of free speech. I have been a member, as I have said before, of this House ten years. For eight years, when it was in control of the Republican party, any member of this House could get up and he could call the other side all he wanted to call them and there was never any objection. That was his constitutional right. Now, men, right is right. We have members on this floor here who have got things to explain to their constituents back home and they would like to be heard. The Democratic majority brought the New Deal into this House, and the very first thing they did was to take away the right of free speech from us and gag us. Do you think that is right, members of the Democratic side, when the Constitution says that we shall have the right of free speech? Do you think it is right to take that right from us to talk, on what we feel we should talk? Now, I was over in the Senate and I find out over there, where the Republicans are in control, that they get up and they call one another just what they want, and nobody objects. I am not afraid, you can get up and call me anything you want to call me, because everything I am doing here, I want the people back home to know. I have voted for every single transfer. I have made two speeches about feeding the needy. I am going back this week and tell them I am not big enough for this job, because I made a speech that I thought would touch every man's heart, and yet it wasn't big enough to touch the Democratic side. As I told you before, Luzerne County is one of the worst counties we have in unemployment, and those women and those children back there are hungry, and yet you get up and talk about the New Deal. That isn't a New Deal, that is a raw deal. The gentleman from Allegheny got up there and when I asked him in all sincerity to try and clear up the situation, he starts out in a very blatant voice and starts that old time gag stuff, you know, trying to make a big impression. I will vote for anything, and I will tell you why I haven't voted for some of those tax bills, because I didn't think they were the proper taxes. The taxes I am going to vote for are the income tax measures because they will take care of the unemployed, because they will take care of the property owners who are in danger of losing their properties—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Luzerne arose on a question of personal privilege and he is now discussing legislation instead of sticking to the question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will not discuss any pending legislation before this House, but discuss only matters pertaining to himself.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House when I arose, that was all I intended to do, to say that the Democrats have taken away my right of free speech and have abridged my right to talk. I just want to point out that evidently they can't take it, and the things that they are doing they do not like to hear about. I am through, I thank you.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Luzerne has stated that I made some remarks during the interrogation on the Constitution of the United States. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have heard the minority party of this House for the past ten weeks give us a song and dance every Monday night—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny is not now speaking on a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will confine his remarks to matters pertaining to himself.

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, since the gentleman from Luzerne thinks that someone has taken away his right of free speech, I want to say to the gentleman from Luzerne that I have not been here for ten years as a member of this House, and I am not going to brag about what I have done in the last session or this session, but I will say that I have spent about fifteen years around these halls, and I know what the gentlemen on the other side have done with the gag rule previously, and the time when the Democrats came in this House and voided the rule of 105, and gave them that right, the more so than they did in the previous sessions covering some forty years in this state, during their regime.

STATEMENT BY MR. COHEN

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

I just wish to clarify the issue, as the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Wickersham, apparently attempted to do. The problem with which this House is confronted at the present time is the problem of relief. The lines have been clearly drawn between the two schools of thought on that very problem. We have steadfastly maintained since the last transfer of two million dollars that we, the majority, would not go along any further unless complementary tax measures were passed. Those measures have not been passed. We have waited diligently for the presentation of a tax program which would enable us to take care of the relief situation over a long term period. We are now waiting and have kept diligently in session this entire week in the hope that a tax program would be presented to this House for final enactment. At the present time we have no tax program, we have no revenue bills, we have nothing to take care of past transfers. The house is completely without the power to act, because every measure before this House which could effectuate a transfer either by the enactment of the Eberharter bill or by the consideration of the Wickersham resolution would be null and void at the present time due to the fact that the Senate has adjourned and their concurrence in the resolution, or the signature on the Eberharter bill before the entire Senate could not be accomplished.

In view of the fact that I have been reliably informed that the action of the Senate was to the effect that the tax measures which had been defeated by the Senate early this morning had been reconsidered and that there is a conference in progress which is to continue over the week end, at which time a tax program will be presented by the Senate for final enactment by this House; in view of the fact that that was the understanding upon which the Senate adjourned, and further in view of the fact in order not to embarrass any of the conferees or individuals who are attempting to get together in formulating that tax program which will enable this House, the Senate, the Administration, the tax payers and everybody concerned in the welfare of the Commonwealth to fulfill their obligations to the people of the Commonwealth, and in view of the fact that those deliberations are in progress, I move that this House do now adjourn.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, July 13, 1936, at 9:00 P. M.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The following members indicated their desire to be recorded as voting "no" had a recorded vote been taken: Messrs. Wickersham, Haluska, Gates, Mason, Jones, Roan, Hoopes, Hermansen and Shortz.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 3:00 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until Monday, July 13, 1936, at 9:00 o'clock. P. M.

SENATE

MONDAY, JULY 13, 1936

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Our Father and our God, a great teacher has declared that every man is a thought of God. If this be true, the chief duty of each of us is to give vital expression to the thought that was in Thy mind when we came into being.

In Thy word Thou hast described the Divine ideal of a real man. He does not walk in the counsel of the ungodly nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornful. He takes much delight in the law of the Lord that he meditates upon it by day and by night. Such careful living and serious thinking so transforms his life that he becomes like unto a tree planted by the rivers of water, bringing forth abundant fruit, with leaves ever green. Thou dost assure us that whatsoever such a man doeth shall prosper.

If we desire to live to a ripe old age and go down to our graves in honor, leaving behind us an oasis in the desert of life, which shall exude a fragance upon future generations, we must strive to measure up to this Thy standard of manhood. O God, inspire us so to do. We ask it in the name of the only perfect man known to man, who was both God and man. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HUFFMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. HARVEY asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Luzerne Mr. Sordoni.

COMMUNICATIONS RELATIVE TO IMMEDIATE ACTION ON RELIEF

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following telegrams:

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 11, 1936.

Senate of Pennsylvania:

To the Senate assembled in session in the name of 50,657 starving persons in Luzerne County we demand immediate passage of a bill to provide $55,000,000 as an absolute minimum. We are not satisfied with temporary measures from week to week but desire the security of an adequate sum covering an extended period of time. Private agencies and local political divisions have no funds for this emergency, only state action can relieve our intense distress.

Hazleton, Pa., July 13, 1936.

Senate of Pennsylvania:

Fifty thousand persons in Luzerne County and five thousand of the number in the lower end of the county are left destitute and starving because relief has been cut off and because of delay in passing needed relief appropriations at Harrisburg. We urge immediate passage of an appropriation of fifty-five million to care for the relief needs of the state to January 1, 1937, as recommended by State Emergency Relief Administrator Karl de Schweinitz. Only prompt action can relieve the distress which shutting off relief by the state is causing.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO IMMEDIATE ENACTMENT OF RELIEF LEGISLATION

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre) presented resolution from the Co-operative Legislative Board of the Four Transportation Brotherhoods of Pennsylvania urging immediate enactment of relief legislation, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
State Senate,
Capitol Building,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Honorable Members of the State Senate:

The Corporate Legislative Board of the four Transportation Brotherhoods of Pennsylvania have this day adopted the folowing Resolution and ordered it sent to the Senate of Pennsylvania to be read into the Record at the convening of the Senate Monday evening, July 13, 1936:

RESOLUTION

Whereas, A crisis now exists in the relief situation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania because of the failure to provide funds for the barest necessities of life needed by more than a half million citizens of this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The creators of this crisis are those who place pecuniary and property interests above human rights and the needs of humanity, and

Whereas, The present situation challenges the charitable attitude of every welfare and religious organization in this Commonwealth as well as the charitable instinct of each citizen.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the dilatory tactics inspired by blind partisanship can no longer be condoned by fair minded citizens of this Commonwealth when more than a half million of their friends and neighbors are made the innocent victims of an economic condition aggravated by a selfish emphasis on property rights as against human rights.

That the alleged balancing of a tax burden as against Relief Needs is the lowest form of political trickery and if undertaken in sincerity is an insult to the instincts of humanity common to the unselfish and right thinking citizens of the Commonwealth.

That those members of the Senate who question the appropriations necessary for relief as submitted by the Governor of Pennsylvania based upon a non-partisan estimate of the Director of the State Emergency Relief Board are guilty of heartless hypocrisy and political pretense.

That immediate action by the Senate is imperative to meet the existing crisis in relief in accordance with the recommendations by His Excellency, The Governor of this Commonwealth.

Dated this 13th day of July, A. D. 1936.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the Governor of Pennsylvania sent a telegram yesterday to Messrs. Pew, Grundy, Mellon and Weir in which he said in part:

"The Republican Senators are controlled by you, body and soul, because they know they cannot win the election this year without campaign funds you give them"

This paragraph would give the impression that all the Republican members of this body are controlled by these men.

I want to make my position clear.

I want to tell the Governor and I want to tell the people of Pennsylvania that I am not controlled by Pew, Grundy, Mellon or Weir, or by any other man or group of men.

My record in this Senate on questions of humane and social legislation is well-known to the older members of this body. They know I fought for this type of legislation in the days when it was not so popular.

My record is well-known to my constituents, and to the people of this State, and it should be known to the Governor of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, for 10 weeks the members of this body have been struggling with the problem of relief. From both Republican and Democratic members we have had much oratory and a mass of figures. The speeches have been at times intemperate and passionate. Charges and counter-charges have been made and the attacks on occasion have been vicious.

I do not speak now to criticize severely either of these two groups. Strong men will differ. Men who have the courage of their convictions should be perfectly willing to express them. But let us analyze what has happened and see just where we are now.

The Democratic group have fixed as their conception of the amount necessary for relief, 55 million dollars, claiming that this sum is absolutely necessary to take care of the relief situation until January 31st, and further claiming that they are prompted only by a real desire to assist suffering humanity.

On the other hand, the Republican group, fixing the amount at 38 million dollars, claim that this sum will adequately take care of the situation. They claim that to appropriate in excess of this amount would be a waste of the taxpayers' money, and that their opponents, the Democrats, want this additional money to use for political advantage. They claim it is their duty to protect the already overburdened taxpayer from any unnecessary expenditures.

Perhaps both parties are absolutely sincere in the stand they are taking, but regardless of who is at fault, the fact remains that there has been no definite accomplishment and the underprivileged are the sufferers.

I regret to say that unfortunately all the bickerings and all the charges and countercharges which have been made, have given the impression that both sides are prompted by a desire for political advantage.

I think that everybody here knows that I have refrained from attending caucuses of either party. (Only once, for a few minutes, I attended a Republican caucus.) By adopting this policy, I am satisfied that I have maintained a strict neutrality between these warring parties. I have at times voted with the Democratic party when I thought they were right, and against them when I thought they were wrong,—and I have adopted the same policy with my own party. I believe that relief is neither Democratic nor Republican. I have contended from the start that it should not be put on a political basis, and as an evidence of this I have voted my convictions on every piece of legislation that has been before us this Session.

I might say, with pardonable pride, that this has been my policy during my whole course as a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania and since 1927, when I first took the oath of office, and during all the 10 sessions, regular and special, I have placed myself on record for or against every bill presented.

Let us for a moment leave the eventual solution of this relief problem and discuss the immediate situation. The two parties now differ sharply on what has been termed "stop-gap" relief legislation, meaning of course, as we all know, the taking care of relief temporarily by transfers from other funds.

Several of these transfers were made by agreement between the two parties, although at times the amount was in dispute. After the last transfer of this sort was made, the Democratic party announced that they would vote for no further transfers of funds as a temporary relief appropriation. Last week, when we were faced with a complete breakdown of relief, the Republicans in the Senate amended a bill which had already passed the House, so that it would provide for a transfer of funds to take care of immediate relief needs. This bill passed the Senate on a strictly party vote, with the Democrats voting against the transfer, and proclaiming loudly that this method is wrong in principle and is delaying the final solution of the problem. The Democratic majority in the House, standing by their decision to vote no more transfers, refused to accept this provision for immediate relief needs. The defeat of this measure is responsible for the present tragic situation. Direct relief has stopped. No funds are available, and no checks are being sent out.

Can't we, for the sake of suffering men, women and children, come to an agreement and permit this transfer to pass? I voted for the transfer of these funds as I did for the others, and personally, I do not believe that if this transfer is made, it will delay the final solution of this problem.

I can fully understand that in the heat of passion and anger, men will make strong statements and take definite action, but I hope that now, since everyone has expressed himself fully, since every phase of the relief question has been discussed, since men have given vent to their feelings, that this week will bring the calm after the storm, and that we may be temperate in our remarks.

Charges have been made that outside influence on both parties has been the cause of our failure to agree. I feel confident that if there could be some arrangement whereby the members could sit down in conference together, without outside interference, that we could settle this matter.

Recently I said in a statement that I issued that I feared a deadlock would result, and I expressed the thought that the people should take a part in trying to solve this most important problem. I made an attempt to form a citizen's group, but failed, and it is most encouraging to see the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia, S. Davis Wilson, now come forward and offer his services in leading a Citizens' Committee in an attempt to bring order out of chaos.

The difference between the estimates of the two parties in so far as the appropriation for relief is concerned is about 17 million dollars. In arriving at a final amount, neither side can hope to fix accurately the amount that is required. If the amount appropriated is too low, the money will be exhausted before next January. Unfortunate as it might be, and expensive as it will be, it would certainly be necessary to call another session. If the amount appropriated is more than necessary, and if the Republican contention is true that this sum will be used for political purposes, can we not in some way, either by law or agreement, work out a plan to check this expenditure? Could not a group of public-spirited citizens with knowledge and experience in matters of relief, meet weekly with the Executive Director of Emergency Relief, assist in fixing policies, and keep constantly in touch with, and advise with the State Emergency Relief Board? In other words, citizens in whom everyone would have confidence, to act as the representatives of the people.

If, by law, we could give them certain powers, well and good; if not, nevertheless, they could disclose any waste of the taxpayers money; they could detect any inefficiency in administration; they could determine whether any of this money is being used for political purposes. Exposure of such conditions would cause the wrath of the people to descend upon the perpetrators of such crimes, and any political advantage they hoped to gain would act as a boomerang.

Mr. President, let it be definitely understood that I speak only for myself. As I stated before, I have maintained a neutral position. I have listened to the arguments from both sides of this Senate, and I have definitely fixed my course. Taxes are, of course, unpopular. No individual and no corporation likes to have taxes imposed on them. No Senator likes to vote for them. I would like to vote against the whole tax program. I would prefer to go before my constituents this fall and say, "I voted against the imposition of all new taxes," but that is impossible. There must be a tax program if there is to be a relief program. I have no patience with the man who declares for a relief program, but at the same time tries to dodge voting for the tax program. From my examination of the tax bills, I feel certain that no one affected by them will go hungry because these taxes are imposed. I am ready and willing to vote for a tax program that will fully, justly and adequately take care of the relief program.

Let us not be afraid of the political consequences. To my mind that is of the least importance. It is of outmost concern that when this session adjourns and we leave for our homes, that we leave with conscience satisfied that we have done our best to provide for those in distress.

As for myself, when I go home and look into the faces of my five children, cared for as best I know how to provide for them, and when I also look into the faces of other children less fortunate, my conscience will be satisfied that by no vote of mine have I deprived these unfortunates of a morsel of food or any of the other necessities of life.

If I am going to err in my vote, I am going to err on the human side, and whatever criticism may come, either from my colleagues in this body or from any intolerant reactionaries, I am willing to take it.

RECESS

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for thirty minutes.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 42.

In the House of Representatives, July 10, 1936.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly hereby authorizes the Governor and the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth to transfer to the General Fund from the State Stores Fund, the sum of $1,500,000 for the purposes of making the same available for expenditure by the State Emergency Relief Board for unemployment relief purposes.

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby pledges that it will pass at this session of the General Assembly appropriate legislation—(1) ratifying, validating and confirming the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making the transfer authorized by this resolution; (2) appropriating to the State Emergency Relief Board for unemployment relief purposes the sum of $1,500,000; and (3) authorizing the State to issue and sell tax anticipation notes not in excess of the amount of the estimates of the uncollected tax imposed on liquors by the Act of June 9, 1936, Act No. 4, in order to make available moneys to repay the sum so transferred, said notes and the interest thereon to be redeemable from said tax when collected.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 153, Printer's No. 176, entitled:

"An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief work relief and expenses defining the purposes for which such monies may be expended and prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Board and certain State Departments and ratifying confirming and validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making monies available for unemployment relief prior to the adoption of this act."

which was laid on the table July 9, 1936, be taken from the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the consent of the House to make a statement upon this motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, that a motion to take a bill from the table is not debatable.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, it is because of the fact that I am familiar with that rule, that I ask leave of the House, and may I suggest to the Speaker that if the House gives me permission, I may make the statement despite the rule, and I take it that I cannot make the statement if the House refuses to give me permission so to do.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman from Philadelphia to make a statement? Are there objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

Mr. WITKIN. May I first, Mr. Speaker, thank my Democratic friends for the privilege of making a statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know of no occasion during the many years I have spent in this House when I arose to make a statement which was of more serious import to the people of this Commonwealth than the one I am about to make now.

It is true that the House is composed mainly of two political parties, but tonight, as has existed for the past seven days, we have a situation in Pennsylvania where people are starving, where the bread lines have increased, where the hungry must go to the station houses, particularly in the City of Philadelphia, and seek help, and while it is true that in our city a most generous Mayor has seen to it that those people are fed, nevertheless even his resources are limited and the resources of private charity are likewise limited.

It is true and I know it full well that we are not in accord upon the question of the proper and necessary appropriation for relief in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but tonight that is not the question. The ultimate solution of the question of feeding the hungry and the starving is one that must be ironed out and it should be ironed out expeditiously, but for the purpose of political capital no one should dare open their mouths in opposition to feeding the hungry tomorrow. There is not a single way in which we can feed the hungry tomorrow and stop the starvation that has existed for the past seven days except by passing House Bills 153 and 154. True, some of you are opposed to the transfer of funds, and true some of us are opposed to the transfer of funds, but, members of the House, the situation is such that that opposition must be put into our pockets and concealed. We must not let people starve, we must feed those hungry, and there is no way of doing it even if the Senate and the House tonight were to reach an accord upon the whole question of relief until next year; the hungry cannot get their checks tomorrow. The only way of doing it is by passing these two bills, and I implore and beg of you, and I admit that I am a rabid Republican, and I admit that I am partisan, but of all the times in the world when I am willing to meet and discard that partisanship, it is tonight.

I have opposed transfer resolutions, and I have opposed them when I thought they were out of proportion for a particular period of time. I frankly admit it, and I frankly admit that I have disagreed with certain figures, but there is one thing that God Almighty and no power upon this earth can ever get me to do and no power, whether it is over there or elsewhere, can ever get me to vote against a bill or measure when I know that children are walking the streets hungry and when people are in dire distress. I am frank to say that it is for that reason and that reason alone that I beg of you, particularly my friends of the Democratic party, to vote to take this bill off the table.

I am not going to go back and criticize the failure to do this last week, because the seven days are gone. Some of the people on relief were able to get credit from their grocers in the hope that this Legislature tonight would see to it that the moneys which are owed to them would be given to them. I want to see tonight, before we close down our doors, moneys provided for the poor and the unemployed, and then let us go into battle again if we must and get a compromise promptly.

No one is perfect, no one has the right to set himself up as an omnipotent power and say, "My figure is the only figure I will take." There must be compromise and there must be a solution of the problem, but while we are endeavoring to solve it, vote from your conscience, vote from your heart, because those of you who have been hungry, and I am frank to say that I have, ought to know that the greatest curse in the world is hunger for themselves but more so for those dear to their hearts, and that is your home and your children. So, let us tonight forget all differences and take this bill off the table. A million dollars will be provided by tomorrow morning to stem the tide of starvation and the people who are hungry will be fed. No other means can feed them, and I ask you members, particularly of the Democratic party, to vote in favor of taking this bill from the table in order that we may pass it, and, Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

STATEMENT BY MR. COHEN

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I also thank the minority.

"No satisfactory settlement was provided in the scheme to drain $3,000,000 more out of special funds. Members of both parties know to what extent that practice has already hampered or crippled important State functions. Highway work, under the State and in the counties, is endangered; in some cases halted. Orderly payments by the Commonwealth, especially to institutions, have been dislocated. The proper, businesslike conduct of the State liquor stores has been interrupted.

"Drains upon the special funds cannot go on. Sums withdrawn should be swiftly replaced. That could have been done last week by the passage of sufficient tax legislation to cover the amounts taken and to permit relief to go on.

"The Senate majority had tax measures on its calendar up to the moment of passage that would have done this. Democratic tax bills had been amended downward from $45,000,000 to $30,000,000. If that meant further battling the struggle would not have involved hungry people.

"But having whipped the bills into the shape they wanted, a number of Republican Senators turned against them at the last minute. If it was personal pique at Mr. Earle it was not the time to act upon it. If it was, as alleged, due to jockeying efforts to get some Democratic Senators to go along on the reduced amounts, it was politics. Whatever was behind it, refusal of action was a grave error. The error must not be repeated."

Members of the House, those are not my words. Those are the words of the Republican "Evening Ledger" of Philadelphia. Those are the words of ——— in the Republican party admonishing this House, the Republican side of this House and the Democratic side of this House, not to resort to further transfers.

However, if they were my words, I would go a step further and I would say that in addition to the fact that the transfer of trustee funds is crippling the functions of the Commonwealth, the method of solving the relief problem by transfer of funds is unfair to those whom we seek to help, and I would say that by resorting to daily, weekly or monthly transfers we are not bringing to the unemployed the security that they want in their unemployment. I would say that the only way to meet the problem is not by resorting to past accumulations, but I would say that we, as elected representatives of the people, should stand upon our two feet, with the knowledge that we were sent here to perform a duty, a duty to raise the money necessary to take care of the unemployed, and that implies the duty of raising that money, not resorting to past accumulations, not resorting to the efficiencies of past taxes, not resorting to any other method except the method of passing taxation. When that taxation passed, when that program is presented to this House, when we know that the Republican Senate is honest and sincere in their efforts to aid the unemployed, then and only then will a stop gap program be resorted to, and only after an honest indication is made by the Senate to the effect that the unemployed will not be put upon starvation rations; only then will this Democratic House agree to those transfers.

REQUEST TO MAKE STATEMENT

Mr. LARUE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman from Berks to make a statement? Are there objections?

Mr. ANDREWS. I object to further discussion at this time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections and consent is not granted.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITKIN and Mr. NOTHNAGLE and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. CANNON filed the following reason for his vote:

My reason for voting yes is that money is still a medium of exchange and such therefore is for the needy.

Mr. HALUSKA filed the following reason for his vote:

Inasmuch as I do not believe in the diversion of special funds I vote yes on this measure because I realize that the hungry must be fed, and I cannot and will not play politics at the expense of human misery.

Mr. TAHL filed the following reasons for his vote:

I vote in favor of this motion because I feel even though there has been no final program for relief agreed to, the needy people in Pennsylvania must be fed now and immediately, regardless of the difference of opinion as to how much money should be appropriated for direct relief until the first of the year. The problem is pressing how to feed the people now.

The only way to do it is to appropriate right now immediate money. The taking off the table of this bill will give the needy money right now.

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my purpose in arising at this time is merely to state that it was my intention to follow the motion to take from the table House Bill No. 153 by a similar motion with respect to House Bill No. 154 which would have placed in operation the mechanics for carrying out the purposes of House Bill 153. The motion, however, having been defeated there is no purpose in moving to take House Bill 154 from the table, and for that reason I am not making the motion at this time.

STATEMENT BY MR. WICKERSHAM

Mr. WICKERSHAM asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the last three legislative days of last week, when it became apparent that this House was not going to take House Bills 153 and 154 from the table in order that the relief situation insofar as the immediate needs were concerned, could be met, on each of those days I introduced a resolution to appropriate $1,500,000 from the State Liquor Fund so that the relief situation could be met. On each of those days my resolution met with rejection from this House.

Now, I realize that there is a pressing relief problem and I realize that there is also a pressing tax problem. I recall the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, saying that his side of the House would approve of no more transfers until a tax program was passed. What the gentleman from York overlooks is that he should have said that there will be no relief until our tax program is adopted. They do not seem to realize that there is an honest difference of opinion among the people of Pennsylvania as to what the tax program should be.

I call the attention of this House to the fact that if we had done as the Governor of this Commonwealth asked us to do and had a short session and passed his program we would have put $30,000,000 of new taxes on the people of Pennsylvania. A few weeks after he gave us that message, he again sent us another message stating it was wrong, that under the circumstances that then existed that not $70,000,000 but approximately $55,000,000 was now needed.

The Democratic majority of this House seems to think that there can be no difference of opinion with that statement. I say to you, in all fairness, that there are many who differ with you and I am one of them. I believe that if the relief situation had been properly handled by the Democratic administration in Pennsylvania and in Washington that nowhere near $55,000,000 would be needed for relief today and every person in need of relief would be taken care of. I point out to you the statement made by Mr. Jones, head of the WPA in Pennsylvania, which was placed on our desks, it says, "Direct relief rolls in Pennsylvania can be substantially reduced and even cleared of all except the unemployables within a very short time if there was some State organization that would conscientiously cooperate with WPA." I also point out to you that the State organization is under the control of the Democratic Governor of this State who can hire or fire the head of that organization at will.

It is also remarkable to note that the Federal government appropriated for Pennsylvania for the period from the first of the year to July 1, a total of $320,000,000 to be used in WPA.

Hundreds, yes, thousands of people on relief needing WPA jobs, I would like the Democratic administration to explain why only $105,000,000, not $320,000,000 was used. I would like the Democratic administration to explain why Mr. F. H. Dryden, the Regional Director of WPA for the region in which Pennsylvania is a part, stated on June 15 that there were one thousand projects being held in reserve in Pennsylvania. Held in reserve for what? If the WPA had done its job, if as Mr. Jones has suggested, the State Emergency Relief Board had cooperated with WPA, he would not be faced with the unpleasant task of imposing forty, or fifty, or fifty-five million dollars of new taxes. But it is very obvious that such cooperation is not going to come, at least it is not going to come immediately.

Therefore, we get down to what I consider the relief problem, and it is my position and the position of many of my Republican friends that regardless of whether or not the Democratic Administration is going to put on WPA the people that they say, all those of us on this side of the House are going to see to it, if we can, that nobody in Pennsylvania goes hungry, and that is the reason why I suggest that since this deadlock exists and since you will not appropriate $3,000,000 that you should appropriate $1,500,000 for immediate needs.

So far as I am concerned, since there is almost $50,000,000 in the various funds of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, no fund is so sacred that we cannot transfer money from it to meet the needs of the unemployed, and for that reason I suggest to you that you reconsider your action on the $3,000,00.

After all, if you are right in the political position that you have taken, you have amply made your point and you will have plenty of chance to argue it in November, and we will be very happy to argue it on the other side, but I submit to you that apart from all of that, we must take care of now, today, tonight, the people of Pennsylvania that need relief.

RESOLUTION

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution and ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

Mr. MELCHIORRE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections, and consent is not granted.

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the resolution to be read for the information of the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. This is not a privileged resolution. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the resolution to be read for the information of the House? Are there objections?

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. WICKERSHAM. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rules 84 and 14 be suspended so that this House may immediately consider the resolution, and Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am asking you to vote for the suspension of a rule in order that this resolution may be read and considered at this time, the remarks that I made concerning the $3,000,000 appropriation govern, except that there is a reduction of one-half.

Members of the House, I ask you to vote to suspend this rule because like the gentleman from Dauphin, I disagree with the gentleman from York that any fund in the whole wide world can be so sacred and so holy that it can't be touched in order to feed the hungry—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. The gentleman from Philadelphia is not speaking on the motion.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is on the motion to suspend Rules 84 and 14. The gentleman from Philadelphia will confine his remarks to the motion before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, when one asks you to vote to suspend a rule, there ought to be a logical reason behind it. The logical reason that I have behind it is that I don't care where, how, when or why this money may be, in what particular part of the Commonwealth it may be concealed. There is but one paramount question, and that is that we use that money to stop starvation in Pennsylvania.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I renew my point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I am finished.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

STATEMENT BY MR. LaRUE

Mr. LaRUE asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, every member of this House knows that the State's resources are limited. Time after time the Democratic party have put through transfers in this House. Time after time they have come back from the Senate, each and every time cut down to the bone, with one thought in mind, the appeal to the average taxpayer that the Senate was trying to save money for them.

Now, we have reached a point where they are willing to transfer funds for the simple reason that they have had the last four weeks to consider a tax program which this House sent over there with a fair and decent majority. Anyone should consider the State's business the same as he would consider his own personal business. He must conduct it within his resources. Today th State's resources are lacking. They have been robbe every single fund has been robbed to the extent that w do not know just how long those special funds are goi to keep up. The Highway Department has had to curta work, the old age, the blind pension and our hospita have been wanting for appropriations. Our school di tricts are in a depressed condition. Ladies and gentl men, I am asking you just how long you are going to g along with a program of this kind. I have heard a l of information floating around the House in the last tw or three weeks asking one another, "Do you expect come back next fall?" Or, "How is your chance?" want to say right now, I do not care how my chanc are. I am here to legislate and to help my party. was born a Democrat and I am going to stay a Democra I am not going to revert to the policies of the Republica party, one time that I will sanction one thing and a other I will vote against it. Three or four weeks ag the gentlemen on the other side of the House oppose every transfer that we made. Today they are beggi us for transfers. I for one am going to stand again transfers because I believe it is absolutely wrong. It against the principles of conduct of fair and square bus ness. What would a bank do if you issued a check a you had no money in the bank? It would probably pr secute you for that procedure, and that is exactly wh every member of this House is going to do if we co tinue to transfer funds where there are no funds a break down our State agencies.

My own home county, Berks County, is caring for t unemployed in a very humble way. It may not be suf cient, but it is tiding those people over this crisis, and officially congratulate the Mayor of the city of Readin our County Commissioners and the various other welfa agencies who have devoted so much time and energ in going out and collecting funds for those who a hungry and needy.

If the Senate did not have a program, we would ha nothing to speak about, but we have sent over there program which this House passed, and legally passe If they have any program that is more favorable to t general public than this program, that they have in the minds, then let them come to the minority of the Hous on the other side, and produce that plan of theirs. If is a decent program, if it will provide enough funds meet the situation, I assure you that I as a Democr will go along with you, but until you produce somethi that is logical and has foundation, I am going to be o Democrat who is going to stand one hundred perce against any more transfers and robbing of funds th will break down the State treasury and the vario agencies of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

STATEMENT BY MR. HOLLAND

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous conse to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, In the crisis that Pennsylvania is n facing it might be well for the members of this Hous as well as the members of the Senate, to go back into t past especially eighteen years ago this very month. the month of July eighteen years ago hundreds of tho ands of the flower of manhood of Pennsylvania were ngaged in a bloody conflict on the battle fields of France o make the world safe for democracy. The high ideals f these boys to relieve suffering humanity were unquestionable. Their sincerity of purpose was not expressed in idle words for the benefit of the press and ublicity. They were there because they believed in their ellowman. They believed that their sacrifice would assure future generations that human rights would always e placed above property rights.

If tonight these heroic dead could leave their graves nd bring with them their white crosses that dot the raveyards of France and join with the march of the unmployed, what would they think and say? Have they ccomplished their purposes by giving up their very ives? Have they driven out avarice and the love of gold rom the hearts of men? No, their giving all has not attered to that select few of this State. That select ew who during the war amassed millions of dollars at he cost of American lives. That select few whose only esire is money, more money, even if it is blood money. hat select few who refuse to give up a few paltry dollars in taxes so that the hungry can be fed. That select ew who meet in secret conferences with elected members of the Senate and dictate the policies of the Senate f Pennsylvania. Oh, what a rude awakening for our ero dead to find that they have given up their lives in ain! To find that hunger, avarice and lust of gold still talk the streets of Pennsylvania. To find that the special interests merely scoff and laugh at their patriotism. o find that this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, hrough the Senate, is controlled by special interests. To nd that the people have nothing to say. To find that rundy, Mellon, Pew and that scab-herder Weir still rack the whip and their spineless puppets dance to the ine of their master's voice.

Are the ideals of democracy to be pushed aside and be eplaced with greed? Are we going to stand idly by nd see the unemployed of Pennsylvania go hungry hile hundreds of millions of dollars are controlled by he selected few of Pennsylvania? You all know the nswer to the story in history. Of the hungry clamoring the gates of King Louis XVI of France asking for read and the Queen merely laughed and said "Why on't they eat cake?" The hungry answered by overrowing the kingdom and beheading Louis XVI and the ueen.

For the benefit of those select few, let me tell you what appened to Louis XVI and the Queen. They overthrew he Kingdom and beheaded both the King and Queen.

It is not the unemployed's fault that they are without ork. Modern machinery has replaced man-power. If achinery is to replace the worker, then machinery will ive to pay to feed the unemployed. The ability to pay ould be the basis of all taxes and in the Senate at this me tax bills based on ability to pay are in the Republan controlled committees. The Chairman of these committees do not represent the people of Pennsylvania but epresent the special interests of Pennsylvania.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. The gentleman has no right to attack the integrity of the members of the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia is well taken. The gentleman will not make any remarks attacking the integrity of any member of the House or Senate in his remarks.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, on the walls of this House is a motto. I would like to have certain members of this House to look at this motto and read it: "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

As far as this House is concerned, I urge every member, regardless of party, to demand that these tax bills be passed, and passed immediately.

Let us again turn back the pages of time and again stir up that patriotism which won the World War. We need that patriotism today in the greatest war of all times,—the war on depression. Instead of drafting manhood, this time draft wealth and compel the wealth of this Commonwealth to pay its just share of the millions of dollars received by them through the sweat and blood of the laborers of Pennsylvania.

REQUEST TO MAKE STATEMENT

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask consent of the House to reply to the two gentlemen who have just spoken.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman from Philadelphia to make a statement? Are there objections?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I entered the Legislative Hall tonight I saw a gathering of people, and one of the men in that gathering said to me, "Why don't we get our relief checks so that we can eat. If you did your duty we could eat." I said, "That is a proper question, young man, and there is a proper place to answer it. You have insinuated that I am remiss in my duty, and if you come into the House tonight, I shall answer it to you."

I do not know whether the gentleman is here tonight, but I want to point out to him that I am not remiss in my duty. The gentleman who has just spoken said that the inscription on that wall read, "Ye shall know the truth; and the truth shall make you free." No nobler inscription was ever placed upon any wall of any Congress or Legislature. The truth is that tonight there lies in the Treasury of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in special funds $47,949,416.20,and I say to that young man, my duty, as I see it, is to take from those $47,000,000 of the people's money $3,000,000 or $1,500,000 to feed—— —

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, will state his point of order.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is speaking about a resolution that we had up a while ago, a bill to transfer funds, which I do not believe is a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will confine his remarks to matters pertaining to himself under his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I say to this gentleman in defense of myself, I want to take out of that $47,000,000—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The Speaker. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, will state his point of order.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I insist upon my point of order, and that the gentleman refer only to matters of personal privilege and not to the transfer of funds.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read House Rule No. 67, for the information of the gentleman from Philadelphia:

"Personal privilege. Any member may rise and explain a matter personal to himself by leave of the Speaker, but he shall not discuss any pending question in such explanation."

The gentleman will kindly confine his remarks to personal matters.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to also say to that gentleman that the reason you are not getting your relief checks tomorrow is because there is one man in this Commonwealth who has issued orders that you shall not get them. There is one man in this Commonwealth, and it is not me, who has said—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. The gentleman is not sticking to the question, and the one man he is talking of does not figure in the present discussion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes again to read the rule dealing with personal privilege:

"Personal privilege. Any member may rise and explain a matter personal to himself by leave of the Speaker, but he shall not discuss any pending question in such explanation."

The Chair wishes further to read the definition of personal privilege: "Personal privilege questions are, first, those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity and the integrity of its proceedings. Second, the rights, reputation and conduct of its members individually in their representative capacity only." (Legislative Journal, 1933, p. 1251; also January 23, 1933, p. 247.) "Personal privilege questions must be confined to the integrity of a member of either House." (Legislative Journal, May 20, 1931, p. 46, 177.)

The Chair will ask the gentleman to confine his remarks to matters pertaining to himself.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I refer to that portion of the rule wherein I have the right to discuss matters that refer to me as an individual representative of this Commonwealth, and I want to say that I am performing my duty, and if everyone performed his duty in this House in the same manner as I believe is right, we would have relief in Pennsylvania tomorrow morning. I say that it is not myself who is stopping relief, but it is the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who, while he goes about making politic speeches—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of orde

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, M Andrews, will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is no lon er speaking under a question of personal privilege. make the further point that the gentleman in speakin under a question of personal privilege must refer to so matter of record either in the proceedings of this Hou or in some other public record, wherein his integrity h been impugned.

The SPEAKER. The point of order of the gentlem from Cambria is well taken. The gentleman from Phil delphia will confine his remarks to matters pertaining on to himself.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of pa liamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Luzerne, M Jones, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, has the Democratic majori of this House the right to take away from us what t Constitution of the United States gives us, the right of fr speech on the floor of this House, when we are elected b the people to represent them? I would like to know they can do that, especially when we are trying to get r lief for the poor people who are starving today.

The SPEAKER. In reply to the question of parliame tary inquiry raised by the gentleman from Luzerne, M Jones, the Chair wishes to state that this House has ce tain definite rules governing its conduct and procedu Those rules are made or suspended by a majority of t House. Any member has the right to ask for unanimo consent to make a speech or a statement, and if object to he can ask the privilege of speaking on a question personal privilege, but there are certain rules governi this House that must be adhered to, whether the gentl man is speaking under unanimous consent or person privilege. It is with the consent of the House that a member is entitled to the privilege of the floor, and must confine himself to the rules when he is extended t privilege of the floor, especially when there is no questi before the House. Otherwise it would be impossible conduct the business of the House.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of pa liamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, M Witkin, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, when I have been giv the opportunity of speaking upon personal privilege, a whereupon a matter that I feel attacks my integrity, becomes necessary to answer that attack by reference other persons in a most respectful manner, do I not ha the right to make those references provided I make derogatory personal attacks upon the person to wh I allude?

Mr. SPEAKER. In answer to the parliamentary i quiry of the gentleman from Philadelphia, the Chair wish to state that the gentleman does have the right to menti any public official in his remarks, provided he does n sort to personal abuse. However, if the gentleman ishes to make a statement on some question of public terest, he should get the consent of the House to make a atement. When that is objected to, the recourse would e a suspension of the rules for the purpose of making a atement. Under the question of personal privilege re- arks are limited to the gentleman personally.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of par- amentary inquiry

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to repeat my ques- on of parliamentary inquiry. I am now under personal ivilege, and the Speaker has not made clear to me hether in defense of my integrity, which I believe has en attacked, I have the right under personal privilege allude respectfully to other public officers in this Com- onwealth? I do not want to violate the ruling of the peaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair intended to make that clear. he gentleman does have the right to refer to any public ficial. The Chair wishes to read the ruling: "Execu- ve officers, official acts may be criticized in debate, but rsonal abuse is not permitted." (Legislative Journal ebruary 4, 1933, Page 583.)

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, ank you.

CALL FOR ORDER OF THE DAY

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I call for the order of the ay.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield for just a oment? The Chair would like to be as liberal as possible a debate and would ask the indulgence of the gentle- an from Allegheny, until the gentleman from Philadel- ia has completed his remarks. He was granted the or under a question of personal privilege, and the Chair els that he should be permitted to continue.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, under Rule 66 of the ouse, when a member is permitted to speak under a rtain rule, he is not to transgress that right.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny is cor- ct, and the Chair has repeatedly asked the gentleman om Philadelphia to confine his remarks to matters per- ining to himself only.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of der.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Fayette will state s point of order.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Speaker, I would inquire if e gentleman is speaking on personal privilege when he ses that right to speak on personal privilege upon a fense of his integrity. He talked to this one man, un- own man, down here in front of the building. If he d never mentioned that to us none of us would have er known, and he would never have had to defend his tegrity. No one knowing it but himself, I can not see hy he brings it in here and brings it before a thousand people, when he would not have needed to do it. I see no reason for any defense.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the ruling has already been made upon the point of order raised by the gentleman from Fayette. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order that the gentleman from Philadelphia, in order to speak upon a question of personal privilege involving an attack upon his personal integrity must base his remarks upon a record that can be produced in this Hall.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the point of order is not well taken for the reason that a member might be assaulted or verbal attacks made upon him and he would have the right to arise to a question of personal privilege. However, there would be no chance of an attack or the verbal remarks to be made a matter of record.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, what makes me laugh in this serious time is that I was almost finished, I just had one more sentence to make about twenty-five minutes ago. What also makes me laugh is when a member gets up and says, "You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free," and then when you try to tell him the truth, he will try to stop you. The final remark that I want to make is this, I personally have done everything tonight that is humanly possible to do to get relief tomorrow, so that any imputation to the contrary is unfounded.

I moved to take House Bill 153 off the table, which would have provided relief. I moved to suspend the rules, and I joined in the movement to consider a resolution that would have provided relief. I merely want to say that it is not I who is stopping relief, but if one person in this Commonwealth, to-wit the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, instead of making political speeches against the Senators of Pennsylvania, would lift the order from this shackled Democratic House, and let them go through with the $3,000,000 or $1,500,000 worth of relief tonight, tomorrow morning the people would not go hungry.

I conclude by saying that every man, woman and child in the State of Pennsylvania who is either starving tonight or will starve tomorrow morning can thank His Excellency, the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, who wont let you men on that side of the House vote for immediate relief—

MOTION TO EXPUNGE REMARKS

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia referring to the Governor of this State and attacking the integrity of the members of this side of the House be stricken from the records.

The SPEAKER. The motion to expunge from the records must be in writing, in order to protect the record of the House, and, therefore, at this time the motion to expunge is out of order.

INTERROGATION

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in stating that it is the opinion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, speaking in behalf of himself and his Republican colleagues that the estimate of the State Emergency Relief Board of the amount necessary to feed the unemployed is entirely too high?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, first, I must ask the gentleman what he means by the word "entirely."

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I will change the question and I will omit the word "entirely,"—whether or not it is his opinion that the estimate of the State Emergency Relief Board, and it is also the opinion of his Republican colleagues, that the estimate is too high?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, my answer to that question is this, that when the Governor asked for $70,000,000 for unemployment relief, we thought it was more than was necessary for unemployment relief. We found out we were right, because the Governor admitted the error of his ways, and voluntarily came before the House and reduced it to $55,000,000. I say this, that if the Democratic Administration at Washington will attempt to properly administer all the WPA funds and instead of giving jobs to political hangers-on—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MELCHIORRE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. MELCHIORRE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia is not answering the interrogation, but is making a speech.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will answer the question of the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Melchiorre, that I am answering the question to the best of my intelligence and I am sorry that my intelligence does not meet with his approval.

However, my answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, is this that any figure is too high if a lesser figure, properly administered, is the correct one. For example, I say to you that if the Federal Government at Washington and if the Governor of Pennsylvania will cooperate and endeavor to bring about a system where the only people that get WPA jobs are those taken from the relief rolls, so that instead of giving the jobs of WPA to a political worker in a division who is single and does not need a job, and who is not in dire need, they will take that WPA job and give it to a recipient of relief who has a family and children, then I say that by cooperation with the Federal Government, we can properly administer the amount of direct relief in Pennsylvania. Just as the Governor reduced the $70,000,000 to $55,000,000 because we wouldn't give it to him, because we thought and so did Jones that direct relief was not cooperating with WPA, I say that more than 30,000 families can be taken off the direct relief rolls and placed upon the WPA rolls in jobs that are now held by Democratic politicians in order to build up a Democratic machine. I say that a figure of even $55,000,000 is too high, but if you abolish the WPA and if it was properly administered and it was properly done you would not need $55,000,000. The only reason you need $55,000,000 is because of the corrupt and debauched political machine that is endeavored to be built up on the taxpayers' money.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman care to answer categorically the question I previously propounded to him or does he prefer, for the purpose of the record, to evade that question.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not propose to evade any question. I never have—

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I haven't finished my answer. I will permit myself to be interrogated further when I have finished my first answer. I will not have the gentleman ask me a further question before I have finished my answer to the first question. I haven't finished my answer. Shall I proceed?

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from Allegheny satisfied with the answer of the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. EBERHARTER. I am satisfied with the answer as given.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I haven't finished my answer. The fact that he is satisfied does not make a particle of difference to me. I am going to finish my own answer to his question, he's not going to answer it for me.

My answer to the gentleman is this, I do not evade his question, I never have in my life and I have never refused to be interrogated. My answer to the gentleman is that the sum of $55,000,000 in my judgment at the present time is higher than it should be because of corruption and debauchery that exists by and with the consent of the Democratic chieftains of Pennsylvania, beginning at the bottom up to and including the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the administration of WPA funds. If you take the people off direct relief,—they don't want relief, they want jobs, they want to work, they want to work on WPA if they cannot get any other jobs. Then, if you do that, you do not need $55,000,000. If you don't do it you need $100,000,000.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Philadelphia arrived at an estimate of the amount of money necessary to take care of the needs of the unemployed for the period from May 1, 1936, to February 28 or 29, 1937.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I have, and with the gentleman's indulgence I will read him my answer.

My answer is, that Dr. deSchweinitz, the State Emergency Relief Director, appeared before the Committee on Finance in the Senate. He presented certain figures, and Dr. deSchweinitz admitted that the figures he presented were only subject to change provided that there as a possibility of 30,000 people being taken off the direct relief rolls and taken by WPA. These figures are based upon Dr. deSchweinitz's estimate, and according to Governor Earle's statement, showed 30,000 people could be taken off relief. Dr. deSchweinitz informed the Senate committee upon his estimates of it, and the figures he submitted to the General Assembly, that they contemplated a reduction of the personnel on the relief rolls to WPA from 173,000 for this month to an average of 140,000 for the month of September.

Now, for the enlightenment of the gentleman from Allegheny, when we take the figures for the week ending May 30, 1936, as a basis for computation, there were 174,209 cases on direct relief, but if you take 30,000 cases off, you deduct 17 percent of that particular figure. During the last week of May, 1936, there was expended upon direct relief in Pennsylvania $1,248,305. If you take the 17 percent off that was promised of the 30,000 jobs, or families, or cases, that has not yet been fulfilled, that gives you $212,211.85. This represents a reduction per week of 17 percent per week over to WPA rolls. If you deduct the $212,212 from the money expended during the last week in May, to wit, $1,248,305, it gives you a figure of $1,036,093 per week. If you multiply that figure by thirty and one-half weeks, which is from July 1 to January 31, which I take is the time the gentleman has in his computation, that would mean that the proper amount to be appropriated would be $31,600,687, not based upon the figures of the Republican Finance Committee of the Senate, but based solely upon Dr. deSchweinitz's figures to the Committee on Finance of the Senate,—based upon the actual records, the records that are available to us, and there aren't many that are available. It is further shown that five percent of the persons on relief are not eligible for relief. This is based upon the investigation made by the Department of the Auditor General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I want to correct that figure from five percent to eight percent. Of the air, but it is based upon names and addresses of This figure of eight percent is not a figure that comes out people on relief, and in every instance when any of these names,—practically every instance—when these names were called to the attention of the State Emergency Relief Board, these people were removed from the relief rolls. Therefore, if you deduct only five percent and not eight percent, you get a further reduction of $1,580,043, and if you deduct from the figure thirty one and a half times the amount of money appropriated in May, to wit, $31,000,000, it gives you the amount necessary, $30,020,824. Then you have got to add the overhead, add eight percent for that. We think that overhead is too high. The people ought to know that you are spending $900,000 a month for overhead. In other words, there are paid workers on the State Emergency Relief Board who get each month $900,000 just to administer the relief. We think that is too much money. We think that ought to go to feed the people instead of feeding the people that administer the funds. Adding that eight percent which I believe is fair, and I do not believe anybody will dispute it, Doctor deSchweinitz agreed it was a fair amount when he appeared before the Finance Committee, you add that, and that gives you the figure I have just mentioned, plus the amount already appropriated of $7,716,211 for the months of May and June, so that you have to add the $7,000,000 or almost $8,000,000 that we appropriated for the month of June, the amount of money you need from July 1st, that will give you a figure of $40,138,700. That is the figure that is necessary for relief. I am willing to go a step further. I am willing to say that instead of the $40,000,000 that you add a couple of million dollars in case more people get on relief, I am willing to say that my estimate for relief including the months of May and June would be about $42,000,000. That is based upon one assumption, and it may be the wrong assumption, because that is based upon the assumption that WPA will keep its promise, and it is based upon the assumption that the Governor's promise will be kept, that 30,000 cases will be taken off relief. I say to you we will have a surplus left out of that money, if WPA and the State Emergency Relief Board will cooperate, because, as you remember, Edward Jones, the Federal Emergency Relief Director, said that direct relief in Pennsylvania was being administered all wrong, that there was something probably wrong with our whole system because Dr. deSchweinitz refused to take people off direct relief and give them jobs. That indictment was never pressed because in a certain magical manner or the flashing of a wand, Director Jones subsequently said, "Let us forget all about it," and it was forgotten.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. O'Keefe, will state his point of order.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman answering the interrogation or making a statement?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Philadelphia willing to state that the estimate of $42,000,000 is the amount or the estimate that he arrives at on behalf of himself and his Republican colleagues? In other words the sum of $42,000,000 is the entire amount that they are willing to appropriate for unemployment relief purposes up to and including January 31st, 1937?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, no I did not say that. I said that when we reach a state in this House where the WPA will give us some information, when we can get some facts, when the Governor will ask the WPA to give the facts, I may increase my figure $20,000,000 or I may reduce it, but I cannot do it, I am doing the best job, I say, and the Republican Senate is doing the best job that they can out of the information that they have received. You people voted down every opportunity to give us the information. When you give us facts we can answer the question. The only reason—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Tronzo, will state his point of order.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker I do not call this an answer to an interrogation. This is a long winded discussion.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, assuming that the amount of $42,000,000 is the amount that the gentleman from Philadelphia and his colleagues are willing to appropriate for relief, assuming that it will be found that before the end of the period that that amount is insufficient, further assuming that there are only two alternatives, the first being to strike from the relief rolls those persons who are classed as unemployables, and the second alternative being to cut down the standard of relief, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia which of those alternatives he will favor.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is trying to give me two alternatives, and asking for a quick answer. I am against both, I am against taking the unemployables off relief and I am against cutting down the standard of relief. It is a trick question and you have got your answer. I say this, you do not have to cut down the standard of relief, you can increase the standard of relief if you will get an honest administration of the taxpayers' money that goes into the crooked WPA administration.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he has in any single instance been able to ascertain any crookedness of any kind in the administration of the State Emergency Relief Board in the direct relief funds, aside from the Works Progress Administration, but solely in the administration of the State Emergency Relief Board. I am only asking this question insofar as it concerns direct relief, which is the matter with which this State is confronted.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of the gentleman from Allegheny, if he had listened to my answer, he would have heard that the crookedness that I charged was in the WPA, that the WPA Federal Administrator charged crookedness and debauchery and charged maladministration of direct relief. That charge was never investigated. I stated on the floor of this House that I did not believe Mr. Jones. I stated on the floor of this House that any man who refused to give information has no right to charge an indictment, and I say for Dr. de Schweinitz and you can send it through the lengths and breadths of this Commonwealth, I do not charge him with crookeded administration of direct relief, —the Federal Administration at Washington of the Democratic party charged him with it. I did not. I think he is entitled to be heard. I do not charge him with that. I say that that charge was withdrawn in secrecy and because of political purposes and because they did not want the Federal Democratic Administrator fighting with the State Emergency Relief Administrator. I say there is something crooked in Denmark, when you preach the doctrine of "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free". If we would get the truth, we would have been able properly,—the Republican Senate would have been able,—to determine the proper amount of money that should be appropriated for direct relief, because I do not want, as true as there is a God above me, any man or woman or child in this Commonwealth to starve for a single day because I remember when I had no food.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman any tax program or has he voted upon any tax program?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, Can I at this time call for the order of the day?

RESOLUTION

UNIONZATION OF STEEL EMPLOYES

Mr. FITCH offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent that it be read.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 13, 1936.

Whereas, There has been launched a drive to unionize the steel employes of the United States; and

Whereas, Many steel employes are employed in the steel plants located within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The public of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have an interest in the safety and well being of all of its citizens including those employed in the steel industry; and

Whereas, Those in authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have declared that the civil rights, liberties and freedom of the employes will be as vigorously protected as has been property interests heretofore so that there shall be no undue advantages taken by one side over the other in the unionization plans; and

Whereas, Under the broad and sweeping liberties and freedom of America, it has always been regarded as elementary, that employers and employes possessed the right to form their own respective organization for their mutual and individual advantage; and

Whereas, The steel industry itself organized all the steel employers into the American Iron & Steel Institute and this was done for the employer's own advantage and without interference from the employes; and

Whereas, it is equally important to the employes of the steel industry to organize themselves into their own form of unionization without interference from the employers; and

Whereas, So that no one would have any further doubts on the right of employes to unionize, the Congress of the United States in 1935 passed the "National Labor Relations Act", sometimes referred to as the "Wagner Labor Act"; therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania request the directors and officers of the American Iron and Steel Institute and the officers of the individual corporations engaged in the steel industry in Pennsylvania to read sections seven and eight of the National Labor Relations Act, Public Law No. 198, 74th Congress; and, be it further

Resolved, That for the convenience of the aforesaid persons, sections seven and eight of the aforesaid act are as follows:

"Employes shall have the right to self-organization, to form, join, or assist labor organizations, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to engage in concerted activities, for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection.

"It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employer—

(1) To interfere with, restrain, or coerce employes in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in section 157 of this title.

(2) To dominate or interfere with the formation or administration of any labor organization or contribute financial or other support to it: Provided, That subject to rules and regulations made and published by the Board pursuant to section 156 of this title, an employer shall not be prohibited from permitting employes to confer with him during working hours without loss of time or pay.

(3) By discrimination in regard to hire or tenure of employment or any term or condition of employment to encourage or discourage membership in any labor organization: Provided, That nothing in this chapter, or in sections 701 to 712 of Title 15, or in any code or agreement approved or prescribed thereunder, or in any other statute of the United States, shall preclude an employer from making an agreement with a labor organization (not established, maintained, or assisted by any action defined in this chapter as an unfair labor practice) to require as a condition of employment membership therein, if such labor organization is the representative of the employes as provided in section 159 (a) of this title, in the appropriate collective bargaining unit covered by such agreement when made.

(4) To discharge or otherwise discriminate against an employe because he has filed charges or given testimony under this chapter.

(5) To refuse to bargain collectively with the representatives of his employes, subject to the provisions of section 159 (a) of this title."

(July 5, 1935, c. 372, Secs. 7 and 8, 49 Stat. 452.); and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to each of the officers of the American Iron & Steel Institute and to the president of each of the following corporations exercising the privilege of doing business in Pennsylvania: Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; Carnegie Steel Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; Republic Steel Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; Bethlehem Steel Co., Bethlehem, Pa.; Crucible Steel Co. of America, 405 Lexington Ave., New York City; Pressed Steel Car Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; McClintic Marshall Corp., Bethlehem, Pa.; Allegheny Steel Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.; National Tube Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

STATEMENT BY MR. HOOPES

Mr. HOOPES asked and obtained unanimous consent to made the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have been in session here now for nearly eleven weeks. I believe the great majority of the people of Pennsylvania are of the opinion that we have not accomplished what we should have, that the responsible leadership, not to say statesmanship on the part of the two major political parties have not accomplished any more in the eleven weeks than they should have accomplished in three weeks. We have been boondoggling for over ten weeks and the unemployed are now shouting at our door and demanding that we do something. During the past week a group on one side of this House has been shouting for a transfer of funds. During the period we have been here we have already made, I believe, four transfers. The first one covered the balance of the month of May. The second one extended a certain distance in June, the third one to finish June and a little bit more to go into July, but all of it was used up early last week. Each time we made a transfer we made it for a shorter period. Those who are now shouting in the name of humanity to save the starving, that we should transfer funds, voted against the transfer of larger amounts only about ten days ago. They have been cutting the period of the transfer each time, first, for a month, then down to two weeks, then down to one week, and it began to look as though we were getting it down to a portion of a day. For a while I was wondering whether we would not get it down to a cafeteria basis, where we would require the unemployed to come to Harrisburg, and state to each one of the 258 members of the House and the Senate that he or she was hungry and then we would hand out a sandwich and a cup of coffee, and tell them to come back again. I do not think that the people of Pennsylvania want to carry on with such a program. The Governor called a special session, as I understand it, of course I am not in position to say what his reasons were but as I understand it, for the purpose of solving the problem of relief for the balance of the biennium, which would be to the end of May 1937, which would give the next regular session a chance to consider the problem and to pass new tax legislation to take care of it by the time they needed it. As the program stands now, on the Democratic side, if I understand it, they propose to appropriate $55,000,000, that we should levy a tax program of $55,000,000, but the tax program is to be for a year, to extend into the end of the biennium, but the relief program is only to be to the end of January. So that we will spend in seven months all of the money that will be raised by taxes in a year. I do not believe that that is going to solve the problem, but it is merely postponing it and leaving it over for the next regular session of the Legislature, which has been the policy of every session of the Legislature since I have been a member.

It is awful peculiar that those members who shed the most tears tonight over the desire to save the unemployed have consistently voted against all tax measures which have been introduced to deal with the problem, and a number of them have stated that they will not vote for any tax measures at all. It seems to me under these circumstances we have got to have a showdown instead of merely postponing it from week to week and having it all over again. In the meantime prolonging the agony of the unemployed is not getting us anywhere. I believe that we should consider the position of the unemployed. Why should they be compelled every week to wonder whether or not they are going to get relief tomorrow or the next day or the next week? It is bad enough to accept relief and have to live on the standards that are provided by the very paltry grants which are allowed, without being uncertain as to whether you are going to get the relief the next week or tomorrow or the next day. I could understand the purpose of transferring the funds the first time or two to give the leaders of the two major groups time to get together, but certainly if they cannot get together in eleven weeks it certainly does not appear that there is much promise of their getting together at all.

During the period we have been here the spokesmen for this group which has spoken against taxes have said "Let us shift the relief back to the local communities." Well, you have got it back on the local communities now. How do you like it? You have got a complaint, I believe, from every county in Pennsylvania, from the community chest, and other relief agencies, from the poor boards, and from the city administrations and from the county commissioners of many of the counties, who have been telegraphing to this Legislature telling them what they certainly know, or what practically every member of this House should know, before it happened, namely, the local communities do not have the funds and are not in a position to take care of the relief situation. I hope that the question which has been raised in the course of these last eleven weeks has been sufficiently answered by the experience we have had during the past week. I hope that no substantial group of legislators desires to do as they have done in a neighboring state, of abolishing all such relief and shifting it back to the local communities, forcing the unemployed to be finger printed, forcing them to take a pauper's oath. Of course, they have to take a pauper's oath in Pennsylvania now, before they are permitted to accept relief allowances or relief grants.

I do not believe that you want to reach the point where on every relief order you will have, you are going to have to stamp the words, "I have declared myself a pauper." I do not believe that you want to make relief so disagreeable that every self-respecting person is going to refuse to take it, but that is what you are doing when you are postponing the solution of this problem.

As I understand the position of the minority leader in the House, he thinks that approximately $42,000,000 will be enough, if, if, if. The ifs are pretty large, among others, he says, if WPA is efficiently and properly administered. I think we can all agree that that is a pretty large if. I think that even my friends on the other side who have walked out will agree to that. We have already spent, as I understand it, nearly ten million of that $42,000,000. Nine million seven hundred and sixteen thousand dollars, I believe, is the figure, which leaves something over $32,000,000 to carry relief from last Tuesday to January 31st. They do not tell us how that can be done. Oh, yes; they go through a long rigamarole, to take off a certain percentage, take off so much percentage here, eight percent there, and expect the WPA to take off the unemployables. But there is no reason to think it will happen because they are asking more than WPA has promised. WPA has promised, according to the statement that has been made to us by the Governor and Dr. de Schweinitz, that they will take off 30,000. Mr. Jones says that it is going to take some time to do it, and the relief figure which stood practically still during June—there being as many cases on relief on July 4th as there were on June 6th, it appears that they are not accomplishing that very fast. Even if they do take off that 30,000, even if all the persons in Pennsylvania who have received casual employment during the past two months, even if they keep those jobs from now until next January, even under those conditions, allowing for everything favorable to lower expenditure; allowing for no possible increase, then there would be no possible increase in the relief grant.

Now, members of the House, thus far I have dealt with the same line of argument that has been used by the other members, talking in terms of millons of dollars. I submit that those figures do not mean anything to us. The only way that you can really understand what it means to the people on relief is to get down to the grant to each family for the various items of relief, and when you get down to those figures, then I do not believe that any member of this House is going to have the gall to stand up here and tell them that these people on relief can get along on less.

I have before me a letter dated June 30, 1936, from the director of research and statistics of the State Emergency Relief Board, which contains figures showing the number of persons on relief in Pennsylvania, outside of Allegheny and Philadelphia, where the grants are in cash, and which shows the average grants for each of the necessary items to those families during the month of May, 1936. I have given these figures to the House before, but I feel that they are so important that they are worth repeating, and I propose to give them to you again in an effort to impress upon you what these figures mean to the people.

The average grant for fuel in Pennsylvania for the month of May to a family on relief, a family on nearly four persons, was seventy-six cents, or an average of twenty cents per person, per month, for fuel. I ask, members of the House, how many of you can cook your meals for your family upon the basis of seventy-six cents worth of gas or electricity or even coal oil. You know it cannot be done.

For clothing and shoes, they allow for a family of only four persons the sum of $3.76, or $1.01 per person per month.

For water and light they allow twenty cents per family. or five cents per person per month.

For medical care, and I submit that those who live on such standards, who will have to live in the kind of houses that the unemployed are compelled to live in on the rent allowances which I have given, are found to have more than the average amount of sickness, and yet the medical grant is only seventy-nine cents per month per family, or twenty-one cents per person.

Mr. Speaker, there are some things that I do not like to call attention to, but I think it is well for the unemployed who are here tonight to observe the attention that is being paid to a statement of facts of the relief setups. Apparently some members of the House are not interested, and their actions would indicate that was a fact.

The average grant for rent during the month of May $1.77 per family. Then, they wonder why the landlords are evicting the unemployed. How can they pay their taxes or any kind of an upkeep of their houses on a grant of $1.77 per month? You know it can not be done.

Then, when it comes to that item which is considered the most important, the grant for food per family was $20.45 for a month of 31 days, or $5.50 per person. If you divide that into 31 days you get less than eighteen cents. In the face of those figures, I submit to the majority of this House that if they want to bring a speedy solution of this relief problem, it might be well to pass and enforce the resolution that I introduced here last week, suggesting and directing that the members of this House, pending the time that an agreement is reached on this relief problem, that they live upon food which can be purchased at the rate of eighteen cents a day. It is my humble opinion that if each and every member of this Legislature had to live upon eighteen cents per day for food, that it wouldn't have taken eleven weeks to reach an agreement upon the relief problem.

I realize that that would be pretty strong medicine, but in view of the length of time that we have been here, and the amount that we have accomplished, perhaps we need strong medicine. Having been here all this time, we are still listening to the people who say, "Let us cut down on the appropriation." Now, I do believe we do not want to waste any money, but I havent't heard anyone seriously charge that the SERB was not being administered efficiently, at least as efficiently as can be expected dealing with a problem such as this does. If that is so, if it is being administered properly, and the amounts granted are as meager as these official figures which I have submitted shows that they are, then I submit that anyone who proposes to cut down those grants should show us definitely how it can be done. It is not sufficient that the charge that if this, that, or the other thing was done, then we could do so. It is very easy for the press to call the kettle black. It is very easy to play up to politics and to try to gain advantage for the presidential campaign that is coming on, for one side or the other, but I think we have been here long enough, and I think it is time for us to consider solely the problem of how much relief we are going to grant and how we are going to get the money, and we must consider those questions seriously and continuously until we have solved the problem. I do not believe that anyone wants to stay here until election time. If we do, I am pretty sure that we won't come back again, because the people by that time will be so thoroughly disgusted with us that we will all be defeated, and perhaps that might not be such a bad event after all. I appeal, Mr. Speaker, to the members of this House to stop talking about millions, and hundreds of thousands of dollars, to get down to what it means to the average person, and then if you can bring it within the bounds of your conscience, to vote for reduced rations and reduced grants, it is up to you to be responsible for that. Personally I am convinced that not only is $42,000,000 inadequate, but that $55,000,000 is wholly inadequate. I believe it is absolutely necessary, if the unemployed in Pennsylvania are to be treated anything like decently during the coming seven months that the appropriation should be at least $100,000,000. Mr. Speaker, I say that for a number of reasons which I want to state briefly.

In the first place I do not believe that the WPA is going to take 30,000 people off the direct relief of Pennsylvania, in addition to ones it already has. I hope they will but I submit that this Legislature cannot take a chance on it. We have already had five special sessions in the past five years. I do not believe it desirable to have another one before our terms are up. We had much better use that one-half million dollars for relief, and then if we are going to take a chance on WPA fulfilling its promise and then it does not,—and the figures for the past month show that they have not increased any yet, and if they do not, you are going to be short right there.

Relief figures are at the lowest right now,—that is direct relief figures,—that they have been in many months. Every year has shown an increase during the Fall and Winter, the only exception being last Winter when WPA increased starting with nothing in the Fall and increasing gradually through the Winter. Many of the projects which are now going full speed on WPA cannot be operated in the Winter months. As soon as we have snow they will have to be closed down, and when that happens a lot of people who are on WPA will be back on direct relief, and that will increase the number.

In addition the number of persons employed in private industry, many of them at casual employment which will last only a few weeks, has not increased very much in the last few months. That number is certain to be increased during the Summer and the Fall and still more in the Winter time, and that will mean that the number on relief because of not going into private industry is certain to increase the direct relief rolls. With that increase you are going to find that the number of cases on direct relief, instead of being 172,000 now and dropping down to 140,000, as our optimistic Director of SERB has suggested it is possible, in order to meet the requirements of the Democratic Administration to cut it as low as he could, and the Republican minority to cut it even lower, that if that doesn't work out, your average is going to go up to over 200,000 and your appropriation is going to prove entirely insufficient.

A further point which I wish to raise on this subject is this, I haven't heard a direct statement from either group of this House,—and this is an important point, I believe, Mr. Speaker,—I haven't heard a direct statement either from the minority or the majority as to whether or not the appropriation which each one presents is to be tied up in such a way that it can only be expended at that average amount each month until next January, or whether it is merely to be a flat appropriation, with the Relief Board given the power to expend it as needed. Now, if it is to be the former, if the Relief Board is going to be tied down to an expenditure of so many millions per month and that amount is substantially less than the amount which they were spending up until the time relief was stopped entirely last week, then we are going to have to slash a lot of people arbitrarily off relief. I do not know how it is going to be done, whether you are going to start with the a's and go down the alphabet or whether you are going to pick them out according to their political affiliation or how you are going to do it, but you will have to cut a lot of people off relief for no reason except you wont have any money to keep them, and that is to be done in the name of saving money for the taxpayers. Saving money for what taxpayers? If they the people are cut off of direct relief, where are they going? You have had a pretty good example of where they are going during the past week. They are going right back on your poor boards, on your home relief agencies, which get their support from taxation on real estate, upon the small home owner and the small business man, and if you are going to shift that burden back to them, then you are going to violate every pledge that you made in the last election, and that includes both the majority and the minority parties in this House, which was to reduce the burden of taxation on the small home owner. You cannot do that by cutting the people off direct relief, where the funds would be raised by a tax upon those who have rather than by direct real estate taxes upon the little fellow at home. So, I submit, Mr. Speaker, that if the majority or the minority of this Legislature, one being in the majority in each House, really want to solve this problem, the time is now for them to get down and consider these matters, which have to deal with the human problem of the unemployed, and your burden upon your local real estate taxpayers, and unless we consider those problems and stop talking in terms of millions of dollars which mean very little to the average citizen we are not going to get anywhere.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I hope that we will get down to that consideration and devote our time to this problem. I do not believe that any member of this House, if he is confronted concerned with the problem in terms that he cannot misunderstand is going to openly vote to cut relief out entirely, or to reduce those meager standards of which we have received the figures from the Relief Board. I believe if we go about it in that manner we will soon reach a solution and I think that is something that we all want to do.

In closing, I appeal to every member of the House to try to put himself in the place of those who have to live on relief, and to stop for a moment considering everything else but that, and when you consider that, then I believe you will agree with me that the problem for this Assembly is to raise those funds. If the minority say that the particular tax measures which have been presented and passed by this House are not satisfactory, let them come up with tax measures that will do it, and then let us consider those, but let us stop this dilly dallying and boondoggling. Let us get down to work and solve this problem. Let us be able to go back home and look our constituents in the face, which is more than some of us feel like doing with the situation as it is at the present time. I thank you.

STATEMENT BY MR. AUKERMAN

Mr. AUKERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have taken it upon myself to answer the statements which were made by my colleague, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, in his point of personal privilege a while ago, and the subsequent interrogation thereupon.

In the first place, Mr. Witkin has stated on the floor of this House that his estimate on the necessary relief funds to carry on the State emergency relief program for the rest of this year and January of next year is $42,000,000. I want to call attention to the fact that the unemployed, when they spoke to us at the beginning of this session, stated that their estimate of the necessary relief funds was $120,000,000. This would provide about six dollars a week for each person on relief. I also want to call your attention to the fact that the Governor's original program called for $70,000,000, which more nearly approximated the figure of $120,000,000 which the unemployed spokesmen stated in this House was necessary. Due to subsequent events this amount has been reduced to $55,000,000, but I would like to call your attention to the fact that in both cases the funds provided would go to carry on relief that is necessary or such portion thereof as was necessary would go to carry on relief in the Commonwealth, not stating that we had to spend $70,000,000, not stating that $70,000,000 was the correct amount, but assuming that that was somewhere near the correct amount, then the rest was to be left to the discretion of the State Emergency Relief Board.

I want to call your attention to what I believe is a fallacy in Mr. Witkin's remarks. He said that he was determined that no one in this Commonwealth would starve. I say to him and I say to his Republican colleagues that if he is sincere and if you are sincere in this belief, why then do you not prevail upon your Republican colleagues in the Senate to pass this $42,000,000 which he deems necessary to carry on relief, and let them carry it on as long as it is possible to be carried on in that amount. Why accept any situation whereby anyone may starve in the interim while we are dickering or while we are dealing with the estimate of the funds necessary. I believe that we ought to place the blame entirely on the Senate, because this House has gone along, the Democratic majority has gone along and I want to call your attention to the fact that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, has voted against every major tax measure that was proposed in this House, such as the Chain Store Tax, Personal Property Tax, the Fuel Oil Tax, the Corporate Net Income Tax. Where then does he propose to raise these funds? These taxes will be imposed certainly upon those best able to pay. They are not a tax upon the poor.

I would like to call attention to the fact that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, has offered no counter proposal. He has torn apart the Governor's program, he has voted against it. The Republican Senate has refused to report these measures out of the Senate committees, and the ones that they have reported out have been so emasculated that they are practically worth nothing, yet they refused to pass any legislation even towards the $42,000,000 which they estimate is necessary. I, therefore, feel that we should, as members of this House, prevail upon everyone in the Senate, whether they be Republicans or Democrats to appropriate funds, to pass tax measures, which will appropriate funds which will approximate $42,000,000 at least, which Mr. Witkin has estimated.

STATEMENT BY MR. SHEPARD

Mr. SHEPARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the last regular session of the Legislature I introduced in this House a bill to prevent lynchings and mob violence. That bill passed the House of Representatives, but of course it died in the Senate committee. The need for such legislation has become especially apparent at this time when we find that a judge of the County of Lancaster advocates such mob action.

I want to read in your hearing this article that appeared in one of our daily papers:

"PENNSYLVANI'S JUDGE LYNCH"

Is lynching a product of 'mob hysteria?' Is it a sudden and inexplicable thing that seizes only the most ignorant and embittered members of the most backward communities?

It is not. If it were, it would be easier to combat.

The worst aspect of lyching is that it is privately—and sometimes publicly—condemned and tolerated by many community leaders in every part of the country.

The nation will not soon forget that the late Governor Rolfe of California publicly approved a particularly brutal lynching.

And just the other day, herein Pennsylvania, in the prosperous and enlightened town of Lancaster, Judge B. C. Atlee said to a negro prisoner standing before him:

'This is one of the most despicable offenses ever brought before the local court. It is no credit to the people of Columbia that they allowed you to be here in court today.

Had they lynched you they would have been justified. I say that although I am sitting here to administer justice. It is most fortunate for you that this offense occurred North of the Mason and Dixon line. No court has to bother with cases of your kind South of that line.'

We know of no instance in this State where a Judge has gone so far to undermine law and order and decent government as Judge Atlee has in that statement.

When the people of a community are told by a Judge that they should have taken the law into their own hands, the inference is clear. The Judge appears to mean that the next time they get a similar case (or one a mob imagines is similar) they should administer lynch law and that his court will not punish them.

Because courts in this part of the country 'bother' with cases which Judge Atlee would turn over to lynchers, the lawabiding citizens hereabouts are considerably more secure than in those sections where lynch law has a firmer grip.

Ordinary persons who are misguided enough to condone lynching sometimes do not realize that there is more to a lynching than the issue between the mob and an individual victim. Every lynching degrades its participants and lowers the morals of the whole community.

It usually leads to further lawlessness in which the most innocent and respectable citizens may suffer. A layman may be forgiven for not knowing this. A Judge should not be forgiven.

The Record does not believe a man who made the remarks Judge Atlee made should be allowed to remain on the bench of this or any other state.

If incitement to lynching is not an impeachable offense in a judicial officer sworn to uphold the State Constitution, then what is impeachable?

Pennsylvania in recent years has been free from lynching. The proper authorities should see that the bench—of all institutions—does not encourage mob rule."

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, in the interest of law and order in this Commonwealth, and in order to inspire a larger amount of faith in the essential soundness of our judicial system, I offer the following petition. May I ask unanimous consent to have it read for the information of the House?

PETITION

INVESTIGATION OF OFFICIAL CONDUCT OF JUDGE B. C. ATLEE

Mr. SHEPARD offered a petition and asked and obtained unanimous consent that it be read for the information of House.

The petition was read by the Clerk as follows:

To the Honorable, The Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

The Petition of Marshall L. Shepard and Homer S. Brown respectfully represents:

That your petitioners as citizens, residents and taxpayers of the Cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny respectively and State of Pennsylvania:

That Benjamin Champneys Atlee is a judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the Second Judicial District, composed of the County of Lancaster, having been appointed to said office November 6th, 1930, and elected to a full term of ten years at the municipal election in the year 1931, his elected term having commenced on the first Monday of January, 1932.

That while serving as a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the Second Judicial District the said Benjamin Champneys Atlee did knowingly and wilfully commit and was guilty of misdemeanor in office, to wit:

That on or about July 10, 1936, it is alleged the said Benjamin Champneys Atlee while acting in his capacity as Judge of said District made the following remarks in passing sentence on a prisoner in his Court:

"This is one of the most despicable offenses ever brought before the local court. It is no credit to the people of Columbia that they allowed you to be here in court today.

Had they lynched you they would have been justified. I say that although I am sitting here to administer justice. It is most fortunate for you that this offense occurred North of the Mason Dixon line. No court has to bother with cases of your kind South of that line."

That said remarks were in violation of the prisoners constitutional rights and outside of the scope of the judicial duties of said Judge. That said remarks are in direct disregard of the laws of this Commonwealth, the same being well known to said Judge.

Wheretofore your petitioner prays your honorable body to authorize a proper committee to inquire into and concerning the official conduct of the said Benjamin Champneys Atlee and touching his conduct in respect to the matters and things in the foregoing petition set forth, and especially to inquire whether the said Benjamin Champneys Atlee has been guilty of an impeachable offense, and to report to the House of Representatives the conclusion of the committee in respect thereto, with appropriate recommendations.

The SPEAKER. The petition will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

INTERROGATION

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, say that in this extraordinary session the Democratic majority in this House has ever tried to pare down the appropriations which we considered adequate to administer direct relief in Pennsylvania?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I would say that so far as I have been able to discover, the Democratic majority of this House have not gone into the question of the necessary increases to make relief adequate, they have not studied the question of the grants for each necessary relief item to maintain an American standard of living, and until they have done that and until they recommend appropriations somewhere near enough to do that—we have had presented to us at the very beginning of this session by a delegation of the unemployed what they considered necessary; they gave as facts and figures. Certainly the Democratic majority of this House have torn down those figures tremendously and the appropriation which they propose is only about half of the amount that the unemployed delegates stated was necessary.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, not admit that this is the fact: that the Democratic majority in this House have supported tax measures which are generally considered adequate to administer relief on past standards?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I will say that the Democratic majority of this House have supported tax measures which they proposed and which are designed, they said, to be adequate for relief, but as I said. in answer to the first question, I submit that the measures which they proposed and the appropriations which they passed are inadequate as shown by the facts and figures presented to us by those who know the facts of the problem—the delegates of the unemployed themselves.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, admit that the program supported by the Democratic majority of this House would at least not have lowered the standards of relief as administered in the past in Pennsylvania?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I will not admit that for the reason that the program which they propose depends upon, first, the taking of thirty thousand off of direct relief and putting them on WPA and it depends upon, second, no decrease in the number employed in private industry and, therefore, there may be an increase from either or both of these sources of the number upon the relief rolls and such an increase would necessarily mean a reduction in relief standards if their appropriation is to last for the period for which it is supposed to provide. Also, they do not provide for any increase in the cost of living, whereas the figures submitted by the State Emergency Relief Board show that the cost of living has increased seventeen per cent during the last year and, naturally, that involves the fact that relief standards have decreased seventeen per cent during that time because they have not increasd.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that Senate Bill No. 17 covers the same subject in a certain manner—covers in part, I should say, the same subject covered in House Bill No. 27, the personal property tax bill which I introduced in this House and which is now in the Senate, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar. The bill was reported out of committee for the purpose and with the understanding that it be held over until the receipt of advice of the disposition of the bill in the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all penalties and interest imposed on delinquent taxes in cities of the first class and school districts of the first class for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate are hereby abated without the necessity of further action by the authority levying the tax if said delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided

Section 8 In order to enable the taxpayer to receive the full benefits of this act no real property shall be sold for non-payment of taxes before November first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and any tax sale shall be adjourned or readjourned as often as may be necessary for this purpose If any tax sale is adjourned or readjourned after advertisement no additional advertisement or notice shall be necessary for the adjourned or readjourned sale No such adjournment or readjournment failure to advertise or hold any such tax sale shall invalidate the lien of any tax due and unpaid by the lien of all such taxes shall be fully preserved during the entire installment period herein provided for if the taxpayer avails himself of the privileges or benefits of this Act provided however that in every case where a tax payer avails himself of the privileges or benefits of this Act the period during which payment of the said delinquent taxes are postponed or continued under this Act shall not be included in computing and determining whether or not anv right of the tax assessing and levying authority has been barred or lost by reason of the provisions of any statute or statutes now existing or hereafter enacted limiting the right of the said tax levying and assessing authorities to file preserve or maintain the lien of the said taxes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 161, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Water and Power Resources Board for payment into the Flood Control Fund for flood control purposes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill, I believe is the one that was introduced by the gentleman from Allegheny to take the place of the amount appropriated under his original bill, either No. 70 or 71—I have forgotten the number—which went to the Senate, and at the request of the Senate the amount appropriated in the bill, two million dollars, was taken out and the gentleman from Allegheny was requested to file a new bill with an appropriation in it, so that the two matters might be settled.

I argued at length on this question on two different occasions in the House. I do not intend to take the time of the House any further tonight than I can possibly do so, but I believe that the appropriation of two million dollars if it is passed at this time under the conditions is an improper appropriation.

I think that we are all interested in this great question of water supply, in the question of flood control, in conservation, in reforestation, in soil erosion and the many allied questions that are tied into this matter. As proof of my personal interest, I am serving at the present time on a joint commission between the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland on the Delaware River, with which this question is intimately allied. In the course of my work on that commission I have been in contact with the National Resources Board, which has been set up by the President under the Department of the Interior in Washington, and I know that it is the plan of that board at the present time to complete a survey for the President by December of this year. To appropriate money in this special session for this purpose when the plan is not developed, when the report of the board has not been made to the President, and when we are but a few months away from a regular session in which this question can be properly approached, seems to me to be highly improper, because it means an increase in the amount that we will have to raise by taxation because there are no further funds in the Treasury from which this amount can be taken, and I, therefore, ask you to vote "no" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN.

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have just been advised by the Senate as follows:

"The Finance Committee of the Senate has reported to the Senate revenue raising measures approximately $36,000,000. It has been agreed in Committee that other revenue bills will be recommended providing revenue in the additional amount of $9,000,000, making a total of $45,000,000 for the purposes of relief. This amount includes the previous appropriations made by this Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly. The balance of this sum will be appropriated to the State Emergency Relief Board by it to be allocated month by month over the period ending February 1, 1937. This amount of $45,000,000 has been agreed upon by the Republican and Democratic members of the Senate as a compromise figure."

MOTION TO TAKE BILL FROM TABLE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 153, Printer's No. 176, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief work relief and expenses defining the purposes for which such moneys may be expended and prescribing the powers and duties of the State Emergency Relief Boardd and certain State Departments and ratifying confirming and validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making monies available for unemployment relief prior to the adoption of this act which was laid on the table be taken from the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, there was a motion made previously to take this bill from the table and the motion was defeated? Is it not necessary to reconsider the motion that was defeated?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the parliamentary inquiry of the gentleman from Philadelphia, it is entirely within the power of the House to take any measure from the table at any time. The Chair must inform the House, however, that this motion is not a debatable motion.

INTERROGATION

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission of the House, in an effort to clarify the situation, to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York asks unanimous consent of the House to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia. Are there objections? The Chair hears none.

Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COHEN. May I inquire of the gentleman from Philadelphia whether he knows that the Senate has adjourned?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know of my own knowledge, but I have been informed that they have adjourned. I may not be correct.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the Senate has adjourned, any action that this House may take on those bills can not be finally effectuated until the presentation of those bills to the Senate for signature by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate; is that not correct?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, that is correct, except that I may add that if we perform our duty, the very first thing in the morning the President of the Senate can sign the bill.

Mr. COHEN. Then, Mr. Speaker, any action on the part of this House at the present time would not be effective?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, any action on the part of this House most certainly would be effective as a step toward enacting it into law and giving the people on relief three million dollars tomorrow morning. I might also add, if the gentleman will pardon me, that if we had done that earlier in the evening, we could have had the bill signed by both the House and the Senate and the three million dollars would have been on its way to the people tomorrow morning.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the first opportunity that we on this side of the House have had to examine this particular paper.

There is a definite position that the Democratic side of the House has taken, to which they have decided to adhere. We do now know that the amount which they will appropriate will be appropriated in a lump sum, we do not know that those moneys will be allocated from month to month, we do not know that the Senate, even though they have reported the bills out, will necessarily pass those bills, because we already have had the experience where some of those very same bills have been on the Senate calendar and have been defeated, and in view of the fact that anything we may do tonight will not in any manner clarify the situation, I ask the membership of this House to be consistent in the position they have taken and demand a full and complete program prior to resorting to any other transfers. If by tomorrow morning or tomorrow by twelve o'clock, we definitely ascertain the figures that go to make up this appropriation, if we ascertain the method by which the appropriation is to be made, if we definitely ascertain the type of measures that are going to be utilized, in order to effectuate that program —in the morning, after having ascertained those facts, we will then be in a position at or around noon time to take the bill off the table and give it the final action of this House.

Mr. HOOPES asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether I correctly understood his statement to be that the forty-five million dollars if appropriated would be allocated month by month to the SERB on the basis of making it last until January 31st of 1937 regardless of any changes that may take place either up or down in the number of persons upon relief?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that question in the affirmative.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITKIN and Mr. PETERS and were as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, July 14, 1936. No. 34.

SENATE

TUESDAY, JULY 14, 1936

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, the world's Master Teacher, as he was about to leave his pupils, left with them the injunction "A new commandment give I unto you, that ye love one another." With great difficulty these pupils learned that startling lesson; and it is with great difficulty that we learn this same lesson today. How strong is the ego in the lives of us all! How easy it is to repeat the creed of humanitarianism; how difficult to practice it! We may glibly quote the Master Teacher's command, then make of it a platitude, devoid of power, by failing to apply it to our daily actions. We may ever use this wonderful theory of true living as a shield behind which to hide selfishness and greed. Give us ears to hear this command, faith to believe it, and fortitude to obey it. It is out of tune with the world; but, if honestly followed, it will revolutionize the world and answer the oft repeated prayer "Thy kingdom come."

Come into our midst, O God, and proclaim anew Thy message of brotherly love. We ask it in the name of Him who was and is the expression of that love. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

EDITORIAL FROM THE OIL CITY DERRICK

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that an editorial from the Oil City Derrick of July 13, 1936, be made a matter of record.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

CALLING MR. EARLE

Resisting all the pressure of the Earle administration resisting all the pressure that even the Roosevelt adminstration can apply—the Republican majority in the Senate has stood adamant for the interests of the taxpayers. The Senate merits the thanks of every taxpayer in the State.

Governor Earle called this Special Session to provide funds for carrying on State relief until the regular session next January.

According to the state's own figures there are 173,000 families on relief. Why there should be any families on relief in view of the claims of the New Dealers that "happy days are here again" is something else, but we have no desire to press this point.

At the rate of $30 per family per month—and this is generous according to the existing standards—this would mean $5,190,000 per month to take care of these 173,000 families. For the months of July, August, September, October, November, December and January—seven months—this would mean a total of $36,330,000.

This agrees with the state's own figures. Direct relief payments have been running an average of $1,200,000 a week. The last week for which we have the exact figures is that of June 27, and the amount was $1,220,029.21.

The Republican Senate has agreed to an allowance of $35,000,000 for the seven months until the legislature meets in January. It has agreed to meet all the relief demands at the state's own figures. But it is not willing to place in the hands of the state relief administration, dominated by Governor Earle, upward of $20,000,000 more than the amount absolutely required. With business improving and employment gaining there is every reason to believe that the relief demands will decrease during the remainder of the year. The Senate thinks it is time to give the taxpayers a break.

When Governor Earle called the Special Session he demanded $80,000,000. Under the pressure of the Republican Senate he has reduced this demand to $55,000,000.

What did Governor Earle propose to do with the excess of $45,000,000 which he demanded when he called the legislature into special session, or what does he propose to do with the excess of $20,000,000 which he is demanding now? There is only one conjecture. The Democratic machine in this state wants to play Santa Claus for the duration of this campaign.

The Republican Senate has no millions of public funds with which to hire high-power press agents and ghost writers. With the aid of carefully cultivated mouthpieces Governor Earle is afforded the opportunity of making daily broadcasts through Republican newspapers which should know better. Here is a typical excerpt from an item sent out by one of the press associations on Saturday:

> Shenandoah, Pa.—With state relief funds for Pennsylvania's 600,000 needy completely shut-off, Governor George H. Earle today holds the Republican Senate responsible for the Commonwealth standing "idisgraced before civilized people."
> Carrying his battle against the Senate's "relief blockade" into the hard coal country, the chief executive in an address before several thousand declared: "Pennsylvania has gone back to stark, primitive barbarism. Public health is endangered; public confidence in government is shaken; public security is threatened; public opinion is outraged.
> "Responsibility for this frightful state of affairs rests squarely upon the shoulders of the Republican majority in the State Senate. They have given lip service to relief, and at the same time they have been crucifying the needy unemployed by refusing to vote for relief taxes."

Responsibility for "this frightful state of affairs" (if there be any such state of affairs) rests squarely on the shoulders of Governor Earle himself. Let him scale his demands down to the actual needs. Let him have some regard for those taxpayers whose incomes are not in tax-exempt bonds. Let him stop playing the role of the demagogue.

The issue here is not between the Senate and the needy, as the Governor would have us believe, but between the Governor and the taxpayers. But the Senate and the taxpayers need no defense from the assaults of Pennsylvania's No. 1 political blatherskite.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 28 (House Bill No. 19), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section two and three of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws, two hundred eight), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax, for a limted period of time, on the net income of certain corporations, joint-stock associations, and lmited partnerships; providing for the assessment and collection of the tax, and appeals to courts; conferring powers, and imposing duties on certain persons, corporations, joint-stock associations, limited partnerships, State, and county officers, boards, and departments; making an appropriation, and providing penalties," by further defining net income and increasing the rate of tax for a limited period of time.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 30 (House Bill No 27, on third reading, entitled:

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as I follow this amendment, it is apparently to change the wording and phraseology in connection with the allowance of credits for dividends received by corporations making the returns, and in order to remove the question of constitutionality; and I would ask the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, whether I am correct in my understanding.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is correct.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 153, Printer's No. 176, which was laid upon the table be taken from the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

STATEMENT BY MR. COHEN

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, since adjournment last night, I have ascertained definitely that the Senate has solidly agreed to pass a tax program in the sum of $45,000,000. I have further ascertained that this $45,000,000 for relief will be a lump sum appropriation, unrestricted by any monthly allocations, that the allocations will be made as they have been made over the past three or four years by the State Emergency Relief Board. Since last night I have ascertained that the interpretation as given to the membership of this House by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, was incorrect. I have ascertained that he had no knowledge of the negotiations except what were contained in the statement which he read, and due to the ambiguity that had existed in that statement, I feel sure, without any desire to mislead the House, he misinterpreted the facts in that statement. Nevertheless and however, knowing that this is a lump sum appropriation for relief, beginning from the first of May and extending as long as the moneys will last, and feeling that there is no restricting clause in the appropriation bill, making an appropriation of $45,000,000 for relief, I therefore move you, Mr. Speaker, that House Bill No. 153 be taken from the table.

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in asking my Republican colleagues to vote in favor of this motion, I merely want the record to contain the fact that last evening the statement that was made upon the floor of this House was the statement that was given to me from the Senate, and I gave the information to the House as it was contained in the statement. I believe that I answered the questions of the gentleman from York in accordance with the information that had been given to me.

I am glad to see my Democratic friends on the other side of the House move to take this bill from the table. We on the Republican side of the House have been trying to take it from the table for the past five or six days. Had the Democrats taken it from the table when we wanted it taken from the table, there would not have been any starvation in the State of Pennsylvania during the past eight days. However, starvation will end with the passage of these two bills, and I therefore join with the request of the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, and I ask the membership to end the starvation, even though they are eight days late in doing so.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye" with the understanding that I am not committing myself in favor of an appropriation for a definite period which will limit the State Emergency Relief Board to a maximum amount each month regardless of any increase that may take place in the numbers upon the relief rolls.

BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the same reasons that I have given relative to the taking of House Bill 153 from the table, and final approval, and the concurrence by the House in the amendments made by the Senate, apply to House Bill 154. I do this again with the understanding that these moneys are to be appropriated in a lump sum of forty-five million dollars for relief; in a lump sum, with no special monthly allocations; that the same standard of relief that has applied for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the past few years will be maintained undiminished. I, therefore, move you, Mr. Speaker, that House Bill No. 154, Printer's Number 177, be taken from the table.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for the same reasons that were advanced early last night and late last night, and for the same reasons that were advanced by the Republican minority for the past five or six legislative days, I urge my colleagues on the Republican side to vote in favor of taking House Bill 154 from the table. I reiterate again that we are eight days late, but nevertheless we are on time to save any further starvation in Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. GATES filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting for House Bill No. 154, Printer's No. 177, for the following reasons:

First, a solemn promise that the $45,000,000 is to be given as a lump sum, therefore assuring that in case we run short of money to take care of the unemployed over the long cold winter months we will meet again to raise enough money to see that no man, woman or child suffers from cold or hunger.

Secondly, that a direct pledge is given that this money now taken will be repaid out of the taxes now in process of being collected.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MR. COHEN

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following announcement:

Mr. Speaker, I desire to make an announcement for the information of both the members of the House and the visitors. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have been informed that Governor Earle is flying back to Harrisburg and will be here at 4:00 o'clock. The procedure necessary to effectuate the program of relief checks is as follows: The bills which have been concurred in by the House will now be by messenger sent to the Senate. When the Senate meets they will be informed of our concurrence in the bills, and the President Pro Tempore at three o'clock, when the Senate reconvenes, will sign the bills in the presence of the Senate. They will then be signed by the Speaker, and at four o'clock, at the return of Governor Earle, the bills effectuating the transfer of three million dollars will be approved by the Governor. The procedure thereafter is to get the State Emergency Relief Board to forward the checks for relief. I am informed that they are already working on the forwarding of those checks and the checks will be in the mail this evening, and they will be at the homes of the relief recipients by tomorrow morning in the first mail.

I make that statement in view of the desire on my part, and knowing the members of the House, to clarify the situation as it now presently exists, and I again reiterate that those who are entitled to receive checks will receive their relief checks tomorrow morning at the first mail.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following announcement:

Mr. Speaker, I desire with the consent of the House, to make an announcement to the members of the House and to the visitors here. I merely want to say to the members of the House and to the visitors that it is very courteous of the gentleman from York to explain to us that the Governor will be back at four o'clock. I want to inform the membership of this House as well as the visitors, that it is my judgment that the Governor should have been here yesterday and today and not going around making political speeches—

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is this not a deliberate parliamentary assembly, and if so should not order be maintained in the hall of the House and in the gallery?

Mr. SPEAKER. In reply to the parliamentary inquiry of the gentleman from Cambria, the Chair wishes to state that this is a parliamentary body. We are now in executive session, and the rules require that we preserve order at all times, and the Chair respectfully asks the members and visitors alike to preserve and maintain order during the conduct of this session. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I also want to say to the membership of this House that last week, when the relief was stopped, the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania was likewise absent from Harrisburg, making a political speech in Philadelphia, and while he was making a political speech in Philadelphia this House refused, under his orders to pass the $3,000,000 loan that we are passing today. The result has been that the absence of the Governor of Pennsylvania has caused starvation in Pennsylvania for eight days. Those of you who receive your checks tomorrow should have received them eight days ago, because we on this side of the House wanted to get this $3,000,000 over to you eight days ago so that there would be no starvation in the State of Pennsylvania, and that you would get your checks that were due last week at that time. We did everything we possibly could, but the Governor of Pennsylvania went flying about the State of Pennsylvania making a political hero of himself, and while he was doing so, as he thinks, you have starved.

STATEMENT BY MR. WEISS

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is certainly foolish on the part of the minority leader of this House to make a speech on how the Republicans tried to help the starving unemployed of this Commonwealth. He blames the Governor for making political speeches. Where was the minority floor leader last Wednesday? Where was the minority floor leader last Thursday when this emergency existed? Where was he last Friday? He not only was not on the floor of the House but he had gone to Philadelphia to attend to more important business. We stayed here in Harrisburg in this very sweltering weather all last week, trying to solve this problem. I hate to see men getting up criticizing the Governor for going out trying to have the political puppets on the other side of the House, from trying to serve Pew, and Joe Grundy, and trying to serve the interests of special privilege. I say to the minority floor leader when he wants to criticize the Governor let him at least be on the floor of the House, when important measures come up about serving the unemployed of this Commonwealth.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss, I will place my record for attendance in this House during the past eleven years and the number of sessions that I have missed against any Democratic member of this House. Will you men kindly be gentlemen, if you know how? You are supposed to have intelligence and I will ask you to be gentleman; if it is an effort, try.

Mr. Speaker, I do not mind their disagreeing with me, but I expect courteous treatment and I am going to get it from them. I want to say to the membership of this House that last week by reason of my holding a position in the City of Philadelphia as County Commissioner, it was necessary for me to be in Philadelphia. I, when elected as a County Commissioner, continued to serve in this Legislature and am serving my last term in this Legislature. I did not resign because I did not want to have a special election in my district. The importance of the affairs of two million people rested with me in Philadelphia during the past week. There were matters of grave importance that had to be taken up. I want to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss, that while he criticized my actions on three days last week, I was holding conferences with the officials in the City of Philadelphia, with the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia, in an endeavor—

I know he was here, but I want to say to you that I was still in conference with the Mayor of Philadelphia, I was in conference with officials who were acting on his behalf, in an endeavor to see what could be done by the Philadelphia authorities.

I also want to say to the membership of this House that I realize that being up here would not have done a particle of good because I knew that you were acting under the lash, under the whip of the Democratic whip of Governor Earle. I knew that you were going to oppose the $3,000,000 transfer for relief, I knew that you had opposed it. I am not the only member on the Republican side of the House that is able to answer questions on behalf of the Republican party, and despite my absence every effort was made by the Republican minority on this side of the House to you to provide for unemployment relief for last week. You have failed to do it, and if the people of Pennsylvania who are recipients of relief.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking under a question of personal privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. I am, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to matters pertaining to himself and not discuss pending questions before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. I also want to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that nobody has argued—and I refer to the Legislative record—for stopping starvation in the State of Pennsylvania more than did the Republican minority of this House, and the gentleman from Allegheny need but refer to the record to find out that we have been for the abolishment of the improper and maladministration of relief and WPA in Pennsylvania.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I renew my previous point of order. The gentleman is not talking under a question of personal privilege, and I ask the Chair to rule on the point of order.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman shall discuss only matters pertaining to himself and not discuss the administration of relief under a question of personal privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I also want to say to the gentleman from Allegheny that his endeavor to excuse starvation in the State of Pennsylvania by attacking my being absent three days last week, that his endeavor to say that that is a justification for stopping relief in the State of Pennsylvania during the past week and this week—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Patterson, will state his point of order.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSCN. Mr. Speaker, I renew my point or order, and I ask the Chair to use its discretionary power to stop the gentleman from Philadelphia when he strays away from his question of personal privilege. I do not intend to interrupt him at every sentence.

The SPEAKER. If the gentleman wishes to continue under the question of personal privilege on this floor he must confine his remarks to matters pertaining to himself and not discuss pending questions, otherwise it will be necessary for the Chair not to grant him the right of personal privilege.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I not have the right under the question of personal privilege, in answering an attack upon me to allude to others, particularly another member of this House, who has attacked by integrity?

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the gentleman does have the right, when he has been attacked on the floor of this House, to defend himself, but under a question of personal privilege he cannot discuss matters before this House and make general statements.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I not have the right to allude to the motive that prompted and motivated the person who made the attack, particularly if he be a member of the House? Do I have the right to allude to him or do I not?

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the gentleman does have that privilege.

Mr. WITKIN. Then I will do it. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss, that his endeavor to defend the action of this House, and particularly the Democratic majority of this House, from causing a stoppage of relief during the past week and a half, by making an excuse and a feeble excuse, by saying that the Republican minority floor leader was absent three days last week is a vain and foolish attempt so to do. It is not made in sincerity, but it is merely made in an attempt to indicate to the House that that is a justification for the action of the Democratic majority. I say that if every member of the Republican party were absent it would be no excuse for the Democratic majority who have control of this House, to have caused starvation in Pennsylvania during the past week and a half.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I renew my point of order. I feel that the gentleman is abusing the privilege that he has in speaking on a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman has finished his remarks

STATEMENT BY MR. ANDREWS

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a five word statement. We accept the gentleman's apology.

STATEMENT BY MR. DENT

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we are very much like a small football team, where they have a National hero in one of the back yards. After the rest of us have carried the ball all the way up to the goal line, we find someone who wants to punch it over for the glory. It seems to me that common sense ought to indicate the feelings in this particular crisis. In order to pay relief you must have money, in order to have money you must raise taxes. I defend my position, as well as that of my Democratic colleagues, because they all did have the courage to place the taxes where they thought they could be paid in order that the people of Pennsylvania could feed. We also delayed for a week in order that the State Senate could see that they too must take a stand and pass taxes, otherwise we have been here another three or four months, listening to a fight every Monday night on some resolution to transfer funds. Last night we heard one of the members refer to an inscription on the wall, which said, "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall set you free." While that is a very appropriate inscription, I think that if the Good Lord above us would look in upon this Assembly and was listening to the speakers that I have been listening to, the only inscription that I could quote as to the way I feel about it, and I think the good Lord would feel the same, would be, "Jesus wept."

The Chairman of the Appropriations Committee wishes to have announced that a meeting of the Appropriations Committee will be held immediately after this House recesses, and asks the House for the use of this hall. INFORMAL SESSION

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to state that the representatives of the unemployed have asked that the hearing be held before the House as a whole and the Senate. I understand that there are technical reasons why the House does not wish to set a precedent in having a hearing before the entire House. However, that procedure has been followed on a number of occasions in this House, and as it is urgently requested by the representatives of the unemployed that the hearing be held before the entire House rather than before a committee of the House, I therefore move that this House now hold an informal session for a period of thirty minutes for the purpose of hearing three representatives of the unemployed.

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask my Republican colleagues to vote in favor of the motion.

HOUSE BILL No. 109.

An Act to authorize and empower municipalities and townships separately or jointly to provide for protection against floods by erecting and constructing certain works and improvements located within or without their territorial limits and within or without the county in which situate and to expend moneys and incur indebtedness to assess benefits against property benefited to issue improvement bonds imposing no municipal liability and to acquire take injure or destroy property for such purposes

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in amendments the Senate has concurred.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained the unanimous consent of the House to introduce a bill the title of which was read as follows:

An Act to amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred forty-three), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth, and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," as amended, by making further provision relative to the settlement, resettlement and collection of certain taxes, and further defining the powers and duties of the Department of Revenue with relation thereto.

The SPEAKER. The bill will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 155 (Senate Bill No. 8), entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one article eighteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. PIOLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1 (a) on Page 2, in line 9, by inserting before the word "and," the following: "and in the more populous counties in such additional newspapers as the General Assembly by statute may require"

Amend Section 1 (b) on Page 3, in line 2, by inserting after the syllable "lished," the following: "and in the more populous counties in such additional newspapers as the General Assembly by statute may require"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Piole.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PIOLE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the sense of the amendments offered by the gentleman would change the law so as to give the General Assembly the right to designate in which newspapers the publication should be had of this question of constitutional amendment?

Mr. PIOLE. It does, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while I did not have the opportunity to get clearly every word that was offered in these amendments, I am of the opinion that such amendments would constitute so much confusion that we would never be able to agree on newspapers.

As I understand the law, these amendments would be published in newspapers of general circulation. It seems to me that it would be impossible for us here in the General Assembly to be able to designate which newspapers in Luzerne County or in Carbon County or in Allegheny County should carry this particular piece of legislation. I feel further that if these amendments pass, it would certainly be unconstitutional for this General Assembly, in my opinion, could not designate one newspaper to the exclusion of another. For that reason I ask the membership to vote against these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 20, by inserting after the word 'thereafter' the following: "but no amendment or amendments shall be submitted oftener than once in five years"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and unanimous consent is not granted.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to transcribe the bill for third reading be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Speaker declared the "ayes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and ninety-one members voting in the affirmative and seventeen in the negative the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed second reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to the title be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the various sections were agreed to be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That section one article eighteen of the Constitution of Pennsylvania is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 (a) Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or House of Representatives and if the same shall be agreed to by at least two-thirds of the members elected to each House such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays taken thereon and the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same to be published three months before the next general or municipal election in at least two newspapers in every county in which such newspapers shall be published and such proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State in such manner and at such time at least three months after being so agreed to by the two Houses as the General Assembly shall prescribe and if such amendment or amendments shall be approved by at least a majority of those voting thereon such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the Constitution

(Editorial from the "Oil City Derrick," issue of July 13, 1936)

"Resisting all the pressure of the Earle Administration—resisting all the pressure that even the Roosevelt Administration can supply—the Republican majority in the Senate has stood adamant for the interests of the taxpayers. The Senate merits the thanks of every taxpayer in the State.

"Governor Earle called this Special Session to provide funds for carrying on State relief until the Regular Session next January.

"According to the State's own figures there are 173,000 families on relief. Why there should be any families on relief in view of the claims of the New Dealers that "Happy Days Are Here Again" is something else, but we have no desire to press this point.

"At the rate of $30 per family per month—and this is generous according to the existing standards—this would mean $5,190,000 per month to take care of these 173,000 families. For the months of July, August, September. October, November, December and January—seven months—this would mean a total of $36,330,000.

"This agrees with the State's own figures. Direct relief payments have been running an average of $1,200,000 a week. The last week for which we have the exact figures is that of June 27th, and the amount was $1,220,029.21.

"The Republican Senate has agreed to an allowance of $35,000,000 for the seven months until the Legislature meets in January. It has agreed to meet all the relief demands at the State's own figures. But it is not willing to place in the hands of the State Relief Administration, dominated by Governor Earle, upward of $20,000,000 more than the amount absolutely required. With business improving and employment gaining there is every reason to believe that the relief demands will decrease during the remainder of the year. The Senate thinks it is time to give the taxpayers a break.

"When Governor Earle called the special session he demanded $80,000,000. Under pressure of the Republican Senate he has reduced this demand to $55,000,000.

"What did Governor Earle propose to do with the excess of $45,000,000 which he demanded when he called the Legislature into Special Session, or what does he propose to do with the excess of $20,000,000 which he is demanding now? There is only one conjecture. The Democratic machine in this State wants to play Santa Claus for the duration of this campaign.

"The Republican Senate has no millions of public funds with which to hire high-power press agents and ghost writers. With the aid of carefully cultivated mouthpieces Governor Earle is afforded the opportunity of making daily broadcasts through Republican newspapers which should know better. Here is a typical excerpt from an item sent out by one of the press associations on Saturday:

> Shenandoah, Pa.—With State relief funds for Pennsylvania's 600,000 needy completely shut off, Gov. George H. Earle today holds the Republican Senate responsible for the Commonwealth standing 'disgraced before civilized people.'
> Carrying his battle against the Senate's "relief blockade" into the hard coal country, the chief-executive in an address before several thousand declared: "Pennsylvania has gone back to stark, primitive barbarism. Public health is endangered; public confidence in government is shaken; public security is threatened; public opinion is outraged.
> "Responsibility for this frightful state of affairs rests squarely upon the shoulders of the Republican majority in the State Senate. They have given lip service to relief, and at the same time they have been crucifying the needy unemployed by refusing to vote for relief taxes."

"Responsibility for 'this frightful state of affairs' (if there be any such state of affairs) rests squarely on the shoulders of Governor Earle himself. Let him scale his demands down to the actual needs. Let him have some regard for those taxpayers whose incomes are not in tax-exempt bonds. Let him stop playing the role of the demagogue.

"The issue here is not between the Senate and the needy, as the Governor would have us believe, but between the Governor and the taxpayers. But the Senate and the taxpayers need no defense from the assaults of Pennsylvania's No. 1 political blatherskite."

The SPEAKER. The statement of the gentleman will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. CANNON

Mr. CANNON asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of this Honorable Body, we may say of laws, as we do say of books, that of their number there is no end to the countless laws that nations, states, political sub-divisions and numberless organizations have made in mankind's history. "The result is no one knows the laws. There are too many laws, too many false Gods, too much greed."

The foregoing twenty words just spoken were delivered at a commencement address before the graduates of a university, at which time the same orator stated that Congress and the State Legislatures enact about one-fourth of the legislation proposed into law. While such has been noted, may I add that there were no remarks to the effect that much of this legislation is in the form of appropriation bills by which universities seek State aid. Amidst such legislation we can find requests for vast sums of moneys, running into millions of dollars, right here in this Commonwealth made by the same university which this orator represents in the capacity of president.

Ladies and gentlemen of this General Assembly, in the past few years it has been noticeable that the administration of governmental affairs has been under the dominance of men whose ideas have built up new instruments of public power, and we have observed, at the same time, thousands of ambitious men and women reduced to poverty, suffering, and hardships.

Amidst sham battles the needy prevail in a picture so sympathetically presented by the modern educated person who masters such problems of legislation which they profess in terms of security, emergency relief, adding social features as a remedy and panacea for the ills that have become chronic under the conditions.

While we members are now getting into another week, what has been accomplished for the aged, the handicapped, and the unemployed Pennsylvanians who are willing to work were they afforded the opportunity? Under hunmanitarian principles they rightfully deserve an American standard of living to insure domestic happiness.

As a matter of fact whom do we deceive by such activities? None but those who are less fortunate, spoken of as the needy, who seek that aid which only justice can provide.

As a law-making body, having the authority, we can no longer pass up the opportunity granted any General Assembly of Representatives, as the Constitution so provides. That is why we are here, and the responsibility rests upon us for the form of government we are now living under, brought about to no small extent as the result of the activities and methods pursued by certain graduates of colleges, universities, etc., and by some rich men, their wives, sons or daughters who cultivate, foster and encourage social ideas and social programs and seek the enactment of social legislation. Subsequently they secure positions as set up by the bureaucracy taking advantage of any and all opportunity in the functioning of our governmental affairs for their own selfish interests which acts as a detriment to the poor of any Commonwealth, and causing further hardships from the effect of these social features contained in legislation sponsored by modern educated persons whose compensation, by employment, provides wages or salaries under the prevailing conditions.

Ladies and gentlemen, to use a quotation, money as a medium of exchange and the right use of money is necessary to sustain human life and to carry on the same. Furthermore, employment is just as essential for all, for the higher self-development of the wage earner as well as political drones and the wealthy with their so-called social problems urged as necessary legislation.

We are here to aid the poor and the needy in their distress. Justice, therefore, demands that we develop that part which the State should play in their behalf so that existence may be less difficult and more endurable for the poor.

By no means, the fact that persons on relief may have loans from finance corporations should not be used as an argument by employes of any relief or welfare agency against the granting of relief to them. The fact that persons on relief had insurance policies covering burial expenses should likewise not be used as an argument against granting them relief.

God having granted the fruits of the universe to mankind in general, each person, therefore, is entitled to his daily supply, which should never fail in accordance with his needs. Moreover, this Commonwealth, as a part of the earth, though divided among private owners, must not, therefore, cease to administer to the needs of all. Therefore should we resolve that no one shall die for lack of that to which he is entitled, and having received today, so should be receive tomorrow.

We must accept as the first duty of the State the obligation to make laws such as shall provide for the public well being rather than political advantage. This is the proper office of wise statesmanship, especially in a representative form of government such as ours. The greater the consideration that is given by legislation to the needs of the working population, the less will be the need for charity and relief. Following such a course consistently will prevent hardship, turmoil and distress. Realizing the momentous seriousness of the present condition, we as wise men should solve this problem. There is nothing that has a deeper hold on the attention of the public, and the voter who seeks a better form of government demands proper and wise legislation to this end, instead of sham battles, which ignore the human misery involved, such as prevail under Brain Trust ideas.

So now, members of the General Assembly, you have now arrived at the bridge in this crisis, where the two branches of the legislature must meet the situation and prevent such a catastrophy as seems very likely to occur. Therefore, as a duty, this administration must function by methods that will avoid such deplorable conditions as now exist. Humanity comes first, not the political drone.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

A meeting of the Judiciary General Committee will be held at 10:45 A. M. tomorrow in Room 325.

There will be a Democratic caucus at 11:00 A. M. tomorrow in the House caucus room.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. COAKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until 12:00 noon tomorrow.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, not being facetious, if the Democratic party is going to caucus at 11:00 o'clock, does the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, think they are going to be through at 12:00 o'clock. Knowing the topics that are going to be taken up by them, it is my honest belief there is no sense of our again coming here at 12 o'clock and not going into session until 1:00. I bow to the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, as to when the time for convening tomorrow should be fixed.

Mr. COHEN. I feel that the Democratic caucus will be able to handle the matters presented before it expeditiously, and that 12:00 o'clock will be plenty of time for us in which to convene the House.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:58 P. M.) the House adjourned until Wednesday, July 14, 1936, at 12:00 o'clock noon.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 15, 1936. No. 35.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, July 15, 1936

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Experience teaches us, our Father, that to achieve any measure of success in life we must set before us some high ideal. Some hand must beckon us forward and point the upward way to better things. The model prayer of the Man of Galilee, if analyzed and followed, will inspire us to nobler living and better service. This prayer leads us to confess Thee as our Father and to make hallowed Thy name. It leads us to pray and labor for the coming of Thy kingdom and the doing of Thy will on earth as in Heaven. It teaches us that our daily bread comes as a gift from Thy bounty. It confronts us with the fact that Thou canst forgive our debts to Thee only in so far as we forgive the debts of others to us. It fills us with fear of temptation and causes us to fly to Thy side for deliverance from evil. It inspires us to ascribe all power, all glory and all honor in the kingdoms of this world and the world to come to Thee.

This prayer, adopted and applied, will lift us from the sordid low-lands of sin to the high-lands of Christian character. It will bring to speedy settlement the vexing problems confronting the lawmakers of our Commonwealth. Help them and help us all to follow whithersoever this prayer leads. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HOMSHER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, as sponsor of the resolution asking for this information, I desire to say that I do not question the honesty of the report, but I do question the accuracy of the report; and I desire to give notice now that I intend to present a resolution tomorrow asking the Senate to appoint a committee to reconcile the figures that I presented with those that are shown here by the Department of Welfare. I desire to say also that the report lacks information that the Senate desires, and that I hope will be given this Committee.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, last Thursday night, His Excellency, Governor Earle, attacked me and the other Republican Senators from Philadelphia in a vile and vi cious manner, unbecoming his present station in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I shall not repeat for the sake of decency the many charges he hurled at me because my constituents know them to be false and unfounded.

A mere glance at my record substantiates this. Last week at the very moment that relief stopped and starvation began, where was the Governor? He was at the Bellevue-Stratford feeding on the fat of the land, and where was I. I was right here at my desk voting for $3,000,000 for immediate transfer, so the poor could be fed. I voted for the 10% net corporate Income Tax that would raise $10,000,000 for relief. I voted for the 3 mill tax increase on personal income which would produce $24,000,000 for relief and I stand ready to vote for additional taxes so that every man, woman and child may obtain full and adequate relief.

But that record does not please the Governor because I will not yield to his demands to tax the people of my district so as to provide a political slush fund for the November election. It is not relief money he is after. He has all that is needed but he wants to use the taxpayer's money to provide jobs for the Democrats. I will not be a party to that scheme. The Governor at first demanded $71,000,000 but the Republican Senate reduced that figure to $45,000,000 and it is now agreed by all that $45,000,000 is ample. I would rather see the $26,000,000 in the pockets of our taxpayers than give it to the Governor to build up a huge political machine.

My duty in this Senate is plain. I must keep the taxes down and I must provide adequate relief. That is the keynote of performance during this Extraordinary Session. There is no politics in this. When people are unemployed and hungry I don't ask them whether they are Republican or Democratic before I give them aid and so, while taxing the people you can't tax the Republicans any different than you tax the Democrats. Every man and woman alike must pay their taxes, no matter what party he belongs to. Again I say there is no politics in the selection of taxes to be levied.

Therefore the question recurs, how much money is needed and will the money be used solely for relief. If I permitted this Democratic Administration to tax my constituents and to spend that money for political henchmen, then I would be betraying my people.

Unfortunately the Administration has not met its responsibility. It has failed to provide us with sufficient information for a basis. Four weeks ago I was one of the signers of a letter addressed to His Excellency the Governor asking for information concerning relief. He did not reply. We tried to get information from WPA and we were stopped in Court.

Let it be understood that I stand for simple justice. We are the trustees of all the people of this Commonwealth, ten million souls. We tax the people, we spend their money, and in spending other people's money, we should be more careful than were we spending our own. The taxpayers of Pennsylvania are entitled to that protection. We must know what we are doing in handing out taxpayers money. I am not protecting the rich. I am not neglecting the poor. To me every man is free and equal, be he rich or poor.

At the same time we cannot, we dare not shirk a duty to our neighbor who through no fault of his, is unemployed, has no money and must be provided for. For that person and his family I will sell my last shirt, I will levy taxes from all and any source so as to provide him with full and ample relief.

No man, including Governor Earle, can decry my attitude on this question. The people of my district know it and as long as they continue to trust me, I have no fear from any man.

HOUSE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL NO. 8 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 8 entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article eighteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

with the information that the House has passed same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, by striking out at the beginning of line 11 the words "a majority" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "at least two-thirds"; also line 15 by inserting after the word "next" the following: "general or municipal"; also page 2, line 1, by striking out after the word "published" the following: "and if in the General Assembly next afterwards chosen such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same again to be published in the manner aforesaid"; also line 11 by inserting after word 'by" the words "at least"; also line 13 by striking out after the word "Constitution" the following: "An amendment or amendments may be submitted at any general or municipal election but no amendment which has been submitted and has failed of approval shall be again submitted within a period of five years thereafter When two or more amendments shall be submitted they shall be voted upon separately"; also by inserting the following after line 19:

"(b) Any amendment or amendments that shall be agreed to by less than two-thirds but by at least a majority of the members elected to each house shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays taken thereon and the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same to be published three months before the next general or municipal election in at least two newspapers in every county in which such newspapers shall be published and if in the next session of the General Assembly such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by at least a majority of the members elected to each house the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same again to be published in the manner aforesaid and such proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State in such manner and at such time at least three months after being so agreed to by the two houses as the General Assembly shall prescribe and if such amendment or amendments shall be approved by at least a majority of those voting thereon such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the Constitution

(c) When two or more amendments shall be submitted they shall be voted upon separately"

On the question,

Will the Seante concur in the amendments?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I ask that the Senate non-concur in the amendments made by the House.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, may the Senate be informed as to the nature of the amendments?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Philadelphia, and of the Senate, the primary change wrought in the proposed constitutional amendment, which relates, as I think you all know, to future amendments, is that when any proposed constitutional amendment shall have been passed by the Senate and the House, by the constitutional majority of two-thirds or more votes, it shall go immediately to the people without action of any subsequent Legislature.

As I read it, they have also restored the provision which the bill, as it passed the Senate, sought to take out, which would speed up amendments under the five-year limitation as prescribed by the Supreme Court.

I would say that the proposed changes defeat entirely the purpose of the bill as it was passed by the Senate, and that the House has inserted amendments to the bill which were rejected by the Committee on Constitutional Changes. Therefore, I ask that the Senate do not concur in the House amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WEISS asked and obtained permission of the House for the Committee on Ways and Means to meet during the Session of the House.

STATEMENT BY MR. JONES

Mr. JONES asked and obtained unanimous consent of the House to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we are all here today like a big, happy family, and I would like to verify one of the things that I mentioned in my speech last week when I was appealing for relief. I just received a letter postmarked July 13th, from my brother back home that I was telling you has seven children, and who was on relief, and this is what he says:—he heads it, "Hello Ben: Can't you speed up that relief problem a little bit? It is two weeks tomorrow since I got my relief, and you know pop water is not very strengthening for children, and there are thousands of others just as bad." Signed "Bill."

Now, I have been mentioning to my people back home and the fellows on the WPA,—and if you noticed was a committee of eight over here yesterday, and I told them I would endeavor down here during this session to try if we couldn't get an increase in pay on WPA, because, men, the money that they are getting up there on relief in Luzerne County is not enough for them to eat, and clothe, and dress like they should. I know families of eight or nine people that there is only one working and getting $60 per month.

I have a son, as I said before, who is a doctor, and who tells me that conditions up there are terrible, and in many of those families he found children that are undernourished, and it is just because they are not getting enough food, the right kind of food. I said I would try to make a gesture of trying to do something down here to increase their pay on WPA, so that they can feed those children so that they at least won't be undernourished.

I have a resolution, and before I even introduce it I would like you to know what it is, and then if you think it is all right I will introduce it; if you don't think it is all right, if you object, I won't introduce it.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of information.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman have the floor with the consent of the House to make a statement?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman does have the floor for the purpose of making a statement.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the resolution is as follows:

Whereas, The Federal Government is employing thousands of workers on WPA projects at a wage which is wholly insufficient to provide the necessities of life for a family, to provide suitable clothing and to enable these workers to pay the bills owing to doctors, dentists, merchants and others; and

Whereas, These workers have no incentive to produce tangible results for the amount of wage paid since it is below the American standard of living and commits men, women and children to a state of undernourishment and a lack of proper clothing, and to an intolerable condition of physical and moral degradation, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby most vehemently protests against the continued toleration of the deplorable circumstances of these people who, through no fault of their own, have been compelled to earn their daily bread from, and give their honest toil to, public works conducted for the purpose of furnishing unemployment relief. It is hereby declared that such labor should be adequately compensated, and every condition of abject poverty wiped out from the land; and be it further

Resolved, That this General Assembly hereby calls to the attention of His Excellency, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States, and of the Honorable Harry L. Hopkins, Administrator of the Works Progress Administration, the condition of the men and women, and their families employed on PWA projects and most solemnly exhort them to take immediate steps to pay such workers a minimum wage of $100 a month, so that they may enjoy, at least, the barest necessities of life; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be forthwith forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, to His Excellency, the President of the United States, and to the Honorable Administrator of the Works Progress Administration.

Now, members of the House, you know as well as I do that no family can live on $60 a month, I mean a family containing four, five or six children. When that order came out, it was not $60 or over, it was to employ 3,500,000 people at rates from $19 to $89 a month, but about 3,000,000 of those people are getting wages of $19 to $60—about three million of them. They call it a security wage, but is not a security wage, it is a starvation wage. I am asking the men on the other side, a lot of you fellows are laboring men like I am, and you wouldn't want to work for that money, and I though I would pull this this morning as a surprise, you have no orders to vote against it, you have a darn good excuse, if you thought it was all right if you would vote for it, and I am going to ask unanimous consent to introduce the resolution at this time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the introduction of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I accept his objection. I will introduce it when the resolution comes up.

STATEMENT BY MR. ANDREWS

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have always watched the crocodile tears coursing down the cheeks of my friend on the other side of the House whenever relief issues have been resolved, but I have noted that a great many of those who weep and sigh for the forlorn and the hungry do so after appropriation policies have been determined. It is very unusual to hear somebody say that $60 a month is not enough for a family after realizing that that individual has been a member of a group that contends that thirty-one cents a day an individual is too much. There has been no controversy concerning WPA wages, we haven't got down to that yet. There has been considerable controversy concerning the level of relief, and judging by the gentleman's statement, the gentleman who has just spoken, he is another one of those whose apology we can accept. Judging by his line of reasoning he deserves at least a temporary place on probation on this side of the House, and I am glad to see that he and others are sorry that they have decided to cut relief to such a low level, and realizing what they have done, they try to get an exit by making a place on the WPA.

STATEMENT BY MR. SHEPARD

Mr. SHEPARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we all get mail. The people in my district want relief, but from the tone of their communications, they seem to want relief based on an adequate tax program, and to witness that I would like to read this communication that I received from Philadelphia:

"We want relief. People are paying their taxes and the majority are willing that it go for relief to help out those whom 'economic royalists' would oppress even further.. Sincerely, Alice Healey."

This is written under date of July 13, 1936.

It is very interesting to note that the people who are interested in relief also in our district want relief based on a tax program that some of our friends on the other side so vigorously opposed.

STATEMENT BY MR. JOHN A. SMITH

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have considerable of a vehement appeal from the gentleman from Luzerne about the benefits to relief recipients. When it comes to vocal efforts and resolutions I should say that the gentleman and his associates have a perfect score, but resolutions and words do not feed the people. It requires money. The gentleman and his associates do not have a perfect record in providing those funds. The tapping of funds has very serious consequences. I am telling an incident in my own county because it is typical. A gentleman whom I know very well was tied down with typhoid fever for an entire summer, and the following summer he lost a daughter. After weeks and weeks in the hospital he had his farm wiped out from under him. Prostrate he went to town and got a job on the highway. Last Saturday night a week ago he said to me, "What are we going to do, If you keep on robbing the Highway funds, because now I am getting two days a week at about $3.50 a day, which is seven dollars a week, how can I sustain my family if you are going to continue to rob the funds where we are getting our sustenance."

So, Mr. Speaker, in spite of the vocal efforts and the resolutions from the other side of the House, I feel that there can be no clear case until the gentlemen have shown that they have made a more substantial contribution to the real funds that are back of the revenues necessary to carry on a relief program.

STATEMENT BY MR. MCCREARY

Mr. McCREARY asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not going to take up very much of your time. An article in a Philadelphia newspaper called by attention last evening to a matter that I have been thinking about for some time and perhaps you gentlemen have too. It has reference to the legal rate of interest in this State. I am not going to take the time to read the article, just excerpts from it. It states that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation have made a drastic reduction in the interest rate that it is charging all institutions, banks, and so forth that are calling on it for capital. They have reduced the interest rate in each case according to the institution asking for it. Banks seem to be the most favored, and they have reduced that rate from four per cent to three. We all know that the government this year or the last two or three years, we will say, has been making credit possible for more people on an easier or lesser amount of security than has ever happened before. Whether that is wise or foolish, it has been the case.

Most of you know that the legal rate of interest in this State has been six per cent for seventy-seven years. Previous to that time it had been eight per cent for a period of one hundred and thirty-five years. Now, seventy-seven years is a long time, many changes have come over this State in seventy-seven years, and it seems to me now that it is only fair if the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, a Federal institution, sees fit to reduce the legal rate of interest to all of these large institutions, that the common man that we hear so much about, the forgotten man if you will, should also be considered when that subject is considered. I do not claim for a moment to be an expert financier. I do not claim to be anything only a very common individual, one of the common people that Lincoln said that God must have loved because he made so many of them, but I do feel that it is time for a reduction in the legal rate of interest in this State. It would be difficult for me to describe what the consequences would be but I am just wondering whether it wouldn't be something like what happened to the railroads when they were forced to reduce their fares from three and one-half cents a mile down to two cents a mile, and they now claim an increased income of thirty-seven and one-half per cent because of that fact. You know and I do, if you talk to any of your bankers at home, that the banks are supposed to be and are at the present time full of capital that they cannot find a safe investment for. A director in a bank in my home town told me they had $300,000 in their bank that they would like to loan if they could but they could find no place to put it.

They still charge you six per cent and require you to make a payment of your interest every thirty or sixty days and sometimes ninety days, if you are one of those who are specially favored. They have got all of this money stored up and there are thousands of men throughout this State who would be glad to use this capital if they could get it. It is my honest conviction, members of the House, that you could not do a wiser thing than pass a bill reducing the legal rate of interest in this State from six to four per cent. In talking with different people in the Legislature who understand such matters they tell me that that does not require an amendment to the Constitution, that that legal rate was established by a simple law, and therefore, it can be repealed and changed by simple law, provided it is thought wise to do so.

Therefore, I hunted up in this law book, Pennsylvania Pamphlet Laws of 1858, seventy-seven years ago, and this is the way the law reads:

"That the lawful rate of interest for the loan or use of money, in all cases where no express contract shall have been made for a less rate, shall be six per cent per annum; and the first and second sections of the act passed second March, one thousand seven hundred and twenty-three, entitled 'An Act to reduce the interest of money from eight to six per cent per annum,' be and the same is hereby repealed.

"That when a rate of interest for the loan or use of money, exceeding that established by law, shall have been reserved or contracted for, the borrower or debtor shall not be required to pay to the creditor the excess over the legal rate; and it shall be lawful for such borrower or debtor, at his option, to retain and deduct such excess from the amount of any such debt; and in all cases where any borrower or debtor shall heretofore, or hereafter, have voluntarily paid the whole debt or sum loaned, together with interest exceeding the lawful rate, no action to recover back any such excess shall be sustained in any court of this commonwealth, unless the same shall have been commenced within six months from and after the time of such payment: Providing always, That nothing in this act shall affect the holders of negotiable paper, taken bona fide in the usual course of business."

That, members of the House, is the total contents of that law, but it established six per cent as the legal rate of interest in this State, and all business has been conducted on that basis for the last seventy-seven years. I would like now to ask whether it is not time, under the changed conditions and because of the restricted capital that can be obtained on this legal rate, if the time has not come, in the wisdom of this House, when some rule may be made to change and reduce this rate of interest. I understand, and so do you, that it can not be done at this special session, but the first move that can be made, if you are so inclined, is to have a committee appointed to look this thing over, investigate it, if you so feel, and have them report at the next regular session, when such matters as this can come properly before the House.

I am asking the permission to make this statement, members of the House, simply to pave the way for the introduction of such a resolution as this. I have talked to our Legislative Reference Bureau Chief and he has drawn up such a resolution, asking the Chair to appoint a committee of five to investigate this matter, to get all the information they can from other states, and if in their wisdom they see fit to make a report favorable to the reduction from six per cent to a lower rate, then in the wisdom of this House they can change that rate, if they so see fit.

ORDER OF THE DAY

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I call for the order of the day.

The SPEAKER. The order of the day is resolutions.

RESOLUTION

Mr. JONES offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections? The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

The resolution was filed with the Clerk under the rules.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House to make a very brief statement.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman from Delaware to make a statement? Are there objections?

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman how brief it is.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, about ten lines long.

Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON. I have no objection, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the statement made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, as to the viewpoint of some of his constituents, I would like to say that the only letter

I have received, the only communication I have received, either verbal or written, from any of my constituents, is contained in this letter, "it seems pretty clear to me it (the relief situation) will never grow less as long as it is run as a State political racket, as it is at present. The whole thing must be turned back to Counties or local communities, with some State help. Look what happened in New Jersey, with thirty to sixty per cent of the cases eliminated in less than thirty days. The same has happened in other states. Hold down the tax bills, and thereby reduce the size of the Governor's slush fund."

RESOLUTION

Mr. McCREARY offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections? The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

STATEMENT BY MR. GATES

Mr. GATES asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, every man elected to this House made certain pledges and certain promises to the people in the county from which he came, and I presume that each and every one of you have tried to carry out those pledges, but that is a thing of the past. Your promise will avail you nothing. You have written into the record of the Legislative Journal of the State of Pennsylvania by the votes that you have cast on the various bills the record that you must face when you go back home. We are coming to the closing days of this Special Session, and I hope that we can have a gentleman's agreement that from now on these lip service resolutions, these political speeches which clutter up the Legislative Journal, on both sides of the House will stop, and that we get down to the business of the State and put the things through in this House for the benefit of the people of the State of Pennsylvania.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. JONES. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 45.

In the House of Representatives, July 15, 1936.

Whereas, The Federal Government is employing thousands of workers on WPA projects at a wage which is wholly insufficient to provide the necessities of life for a family, to provide suitable clothing and to enable these workers to pay the bills owing to doctors, dentists, merchants and others; and

Whereas, These workers have no incentive to produce tangible results for the amount of wage paid since it is below the American standard of living and commits men, women and children to a state of undernourishment and a lack of proper clothing, and to an intolerable condition of physical and moral degradation, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby most vehemently protests against the continued toleration of the deplorable circumstances of these people who, through no fault of their own, have been compelled to earn their daily bread from, and give their honest toil to, public works conducted for the purpose of furnishing unemployment relief. It is hereby declared that such labor should be adequately compensated, and every condition of abject poverty wiped out from the land; and be it further

Resolved, That this General Assembly hereby calls to the attention of His Excellency, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States, and of the Honorable Harry L. Hopkins, Administrator of the Works Progress Administration, the condition of the men and women, and their families, employed on WPA projects, and most solemnly exhort them to take immediate steps to pay such workers a minimum wage of $100 a month, so that they may enjoy, at least, the barest necessities of life; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be forthwith forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to His Excellency, the President of the United States, and to the Honorable Administrator of the Works Progress Administration.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. McCREARY. RESOLUTION No. 46.

In the House of Representatives, July 15, 1936.

Whereas, The Reconstruction Finance Corporation has announced reductions in interest rates to various classes of boroughs ranging from 5% to 4% on industrial loans, 4% to 3½% for insurance company loans, and 4% to 3% for closed banks; and

Whereas, The legal interest rate in this State is 6%, a rate which has prevailed since 1858 prior to which a rate of 8% prevailed for a period of 135 years; and

Whereas, Large business concerns are, through the policy of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and because of their credit, enabled at this time to borrow money at rates well below the established legal rate; and

Whereas, The small individual business man, the farmer and the home owner is in most cases still required to pay the legal rate of interest when forced to the necessity of borrowing money from banks and other financial institutions; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives be authorized to appoint a committee of five members of the House whose duty it shall be to make a study of the existing rates of interest and the trend, if any, towards lower rates of legal interest in order to ascertain whether or not it is feasible and timely that legislation be adopted reducing the legal rate of interest in this Commonwealth from 6% to 4% of some other rate;

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report to the next regular Session of the Legislature with its recommendations.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

Extraordinary Session of 1936.

Vol. 19. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1936. No. 36.

SENATE

THURSDAY, JULY 16, 1936

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Since Thou dost know all things, O God, Thou dost assuredly know the spirit of discord and discontent prevailing among Thy people, creating dissensions and divisions in the world. This is not in accord with Thy will, for Thou dost love all men with equal passion and dost desire them to live in harmony with Thee and with one another. We pray for our world, Oh God, beseeching Thee that the peace of God which passeth understanding may rule all hearts and all nations.

In our own Commonwealth may there be a distinct and speedy return to Thee and to the faith which our forefathers reposed in Thee. May all who are in authority, all leaders of thought in church, in State and in society be made subservient to the will of God. Grant us sufficient humility to realize that after all we are human and prone to err. Thou art divine and cannot err. So may we seek and find the true way out of the confusing maze which bewilders us by honestly striving to know and to do Thy will, and may we never forget that "righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people." Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President and members of the Senate, I have received a petition dated July 13th, which was mailed at the post office on July 15th, which I received this morning, and which petition I not only desire to present to the Senate but to have read into the record. The petition is as follows:

PETITION

TO THE SENATE OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

"July 13, 1936.

The organized unemployed workers of Harrisburg view the present relief stoppage as totally unnecessary, being the result of unscrupulous politics. We call upon the Senate to:

1. Pass immediately an appropriation of $100,000,000 for state relief purposes.

2. To investigate the possibilities of securing sums of money said to be owed to the State by the Federal Government.

3. To apply any such recovered money as additional appropriations especially for the much needed rent relief.

UNITED WORKERS PROTECTIVE LEAGUE
Affiliated to Workers Alliance of America
224 Chestnut St. Harrisburg."

Signed by "John Morrissey, Secretary JOHN MORRISSEY"

and "John Justin, Chairman JOHN JUSTIN"

I feel, Mr. President, that this petition not only should be presented to the Senate but that the Senator from Dauphin County should give a full, complete and candid public expression of his opinions as to the matters therein contained. The first prayer is that the Senate pass immediately an appropriation of $100,000,000 for State relief purposes. I have repeatedly stated upon the floor of the Senate that I do not know what the required amount for unemployment relief is, and I repeat that statement today. Since this Senate has been in session the Senate has been repeatedly attempting to ascertain facts and data so that the actual amount required for relief could be determined. Up to the present time we have not received that information.

The second request is, to investigate the possibilities of securing sums of money said to be owed to the State by the Federal Government. On this point also I have repeatedly addressed this Senate approximately one month ago a committee of the Republican members of the Senate of Pennsylvania addressed a communication to the Governor of this State, in order that facts which are in possession of the Governor might be given to this Senate; and up to the present time we have received no reply. Among those six questions requesting facts from the Governor we did request specific information with regard to funds which it is alleged are owing by the Federal Government to Pennsylvania. One of those items is the sum of $15,000,000, being the balance due and owing by the Government at Washington to the State Emergency Relief Board under the agreement made during April of 1935 between Mr. Hopkins and the Governor of Pennsylvania and the Senate of Pennsylvania. We have repeatedly requested the Governor to give information as to what he proposes to do with regard to recovering that large sum of money; and, also, we have repeatedly asked him as to what, if any, efforts he proposes to make to secure the sum of $10,000,000 which it has been repeatedly alleged, and never denied, constitutes the sum which was advanced by the State Emergency Relief Board to W. P. A. to pay workers who had been taken off relief. My constituents have asked what investigation will be made. I do not propose an investigation, for the reason that it is my opinion that the Governor of Pennsylvania cannot be forced to answer. He can only be forced to answer by the pressure of public opinion.

The third request is, to apply any such recovered money as additional appropriations, especially for the much needed rent relief. On this proposition I have very great sympathy for the unemployed of Dauphin County. There are today numerous cases of eviction threatened, and some pending, in Dauphin County—cases of eviction of men who are unable to secure employment, men with families, who are being threatened that they will be dispossessed of their property. On that point I wish to assert on the floor of this Senate that I have during previous sessions of this Legislature sponsored anti-eviction bills, so that it might be possible to secure relief for the benefit of those who, through no fault of their own, are, with their dependents, threatened with eviction; but I desire to say that since receiving this petition I have investigated—I have made inquiry of the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and he has authorized me to say, as his opinion—and his opinion corresponds with mine—that under the call of the Governor we are, during this Special Session of the Legislature, powerless to introduce or to procure any legislation of that kind. I want to say to my constituents in Dauphin County that I will personally make every effort in my power, with the State Emergency Relief Board, to see to it that these evictions shall not continue; but I also state positively, and after an investigation, that I believe that under the call of the Governor the only thing which this Legislature can do is to appropriate money to the State Emergency Relief Board; and for that reason, much as I regret it, I am powerless to carry out this third request in this petition, with which request I am in profound sympathy.

NOMINATION BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

The Clerk of the House of Representatives, being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House insists upon its amendments, nonconcurred in by the Senate, to Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section one, article eighteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION—HOW MADE AND WHEN SUBMITTED and has appointed Messrs. Brown (Allegheny), Ominsky (Philadelphia) and Woodside (Dauphin) as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. REED (Dauphin)), from the Committee on State Government re-reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 90 (House Bill No. 98), entitled:

An Act to create a State Planning Board prescribing its powers and duties upon political subdivisions and making an appropriation.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF WELFARE ON MOTHERS' ASSISTANCE TRUSTEES

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, July 16, 1936.

Whereas, By Senate Resolution, Serial No. 33, a report was requested from the Department of Welfare asking certain information with respect to the resignation and dismissal of members of the Board of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund; and

Whereas, A report has been submitted by said Department, which is not responsive to the resolution, and from which a clear understanding of the facts cannot readily be gathered; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of five Senators whose duty it shall be;

(a) To analyze the said report of the Department of Welfare filed pursuant to Resolution, Serial No. 33;

(b) To ascertain the accuracy of the statements made in said report;

(c) To gather and supply the information requested which said report failed to disclose; and

(d) To examine the records of the Department of Welfare for the purpose of supplying the information required to make said report in accurate form;

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report

the Senate as early as possible, and in the event that id report cannot be completed prior to the adjournent of this Session of the General Assembly, then to eport to the Senate when next in session.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous conent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be reerred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and at the Senate do now proceed to the immediate conderation of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate e Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, r. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I shall be pleased to.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, does the Senator from llegheny, Mr. Harris, intimate that any information sked from the Department of Welfare has not been iven?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I said yesterday that I id not question the honesty of the report, but I did uestion its accuracy; and the report itself indicates ery plainly that they did not answer the questions. The eport so states.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in what respect?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, certain information was sked as to the number of trustees whose resignations ere requested by the Governor. The report says, "We o not have that information."

In another instance they say, "We do not have the nformation on whether or not, after the trustees were sked to resign, they complied with the request."

And through the report, in two or three places, they ay, "We do not have this information."

I am at a loss to understand why the Department of Welfare, or some other department under the State Adinistration, cannot supply this information.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, for what purpose is he information desired?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the information that I urnished the Senate a few weeks ago, I claim, is reable and accurate. It is not agreed to by the Departent of Welfare; and the purpose of the Committee, to e appointed under the resolution I just offered, is to ry to reconcile these two sets of figures.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, to what two sets of gures is the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, reerring?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the set of figures I preented here a few weeks ago and the set of figures preented by the Department of Welfare in its report.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, will the Senator from llegheny, Mr. Harris, advise us where he got his figures?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will not divulge the ame of the person from whom I got the figures, unless receive permission to do so from that person. They re perfectly reliable, and I shall be glad to state their ource if I receive such permission.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I shall be very pleased to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, is it not a fact that if the resignations were demanded by the Governor the Department of Welfare would not have that information in its possession?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is a possibility; that is probably correct.

The PRESIDENT. As a matter of information, the Chair suggests that the information is probably the property of the Governor's office.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO PRINT RESOLUTION

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just presented be printed for the benefit of the members.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for 15 minutes.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO PREPARE A PLAN OF PERMANENT ADMINISTRATION OF UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

In the Senate, May 12, 1936.

Whereas, the present constituted agencies for the care of the indigent throughout the Commonwealth are inadequate at the present time to assume the burden of the distribution of funds provided for unemployment relief, and

Whereas, private industry is failing to keep re-employment abreast of industrial and commercial recovery, and

Whereas, it appears to be the duty of the Commonwealth for some period in the future to provide against the social consequences of unemployment

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House of Representatives to serve as a committee whose duty it shall be to prepare a plan of permanent administration of unemployment relief, which plan shall co-ordinate the activities of the Commonwealth and its municipal subdivisions, and to draft legislation which incorporates such plan, or plans and to report the same to the regular session of the Legislature in 1937.

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoena may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall willfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

Resolved, That the Senate and the House of Representatives will appropriate the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5000.00) to pay the expenses of the Committee in prosecuting its study of such legislation, the summoning of witnesses, postage, secretarial and clerical hire, the attendance of members at meetings and other expenses.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM, read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 115, entitled:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to state the reason for my vote on this bill. At the last session of the General Assembly I strenuously opposed the one-mill personal property tax. This bill adds three more mills and makes it four mills. I think it is a vicious and unsound tax, and I feel as much as I ever did feel, that it is not a sound form of taxation. The Senate was faced with the necessity of either taking the bills submitted by the Democratic House, or having relief fail. Rather than have the people of Pennsylvania go hungry, and faced with no other alternative than to vote for this bill, I cast my vote for this bill.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 34 (House Bill No. 39), as follows:

An Act to provide for the participation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in a National Celebration of the One Hundred Fiftieth Anniversary of the Framing the Signing the Ratification by Pennsylvania and the Final Adoption and Promulgation of the Constitution of the United States to be held at Philadelphia and elsewhere on the fifteenth sixteenth and seventeenth days of September one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven and subsequent anniversary dates in connection therewith and making an appropriation

Whereas The Congress of the United States has created the United States Constitution Sesquicentennial Commission to provide for a suitable commemoration on behalf of the Nation of the One Hundred Fiftieth Anniversary of the Framing Signing Ratification Adoption and Promulgation of our Federal Constitution to be held at Philadelphia and elsewhere on the fifteenth sixteenth and seventeenth days of September one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven and on the subsequent appropriate anniversary dates and

Whereas Pennsylvania is more deeply concerned in the public commemoration of those exalted events than any other State not alone by reason of the services of her eight distinguished sons in the original Constitutional Convention but as well because she provided her Capitol the old State House of Pennsylvania now known as the Hall of Independence as the scene for those epoch-making actions extending her hospitality therefor to the Governors and peoples of the then confederated United States and

Whereas It is desired to make of said celebrations memorable occasions of national reunion and

Whereas To commemorate these momentous events Pennsylvania again should offer to the Government of the United States and to the entire Nation invitations to the same inviting the entire Nation to rejoice where the Constitution was born and should herself as the Keystone State commemorate the birth of our Government under law on the soil of this Commonwealth and

Whereas Fifty years ago on the occasion of the Centennial Celebration of the Constitution Pennsylvania by the act approved the third day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred thirty-eight) provided a suitable commemoration for the Commonwealth and extended its hospitality to the Government of the United States to the Governors and peoples of the other States of the Union and of foreign governments providing a suitable appropriation therefor and

Whereas the General Assembly by earlier acts has created the Pennsylvania Historical Commission to represent the Commonwealth in such matters

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Department of Public Instruction through the Pennsylvania Historical Commission is hereby authorized and directed for and on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to arrange for tre participation of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in any national celebration of the aforementioned historical events

In performing its duties under this act the Department of Public Instruction through the Pennsylvania Historical Commission shall appoint such committee or committees of representative citizens as it may find desirable the same however to include the Governor the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court the Lieutenant Governor the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House and shall cooperate with the United States Constitution Sesquicentennial Commission and county municipal or other authorized committees or commissions including the Pennsylvania Federation of Historical Societies and other historical associations

Section 2 The sum of twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for the use of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission in carrying out the purposes of this act

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 43 (House Bill No. 26), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred seven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred forty) entitled "An act to provide revenue by levying a tax upon the shares of stock of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporatins' apprved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and the supplements thereto for the insurance of owners of real estate mortgages and others interested in real estate from loss by reason of defective titles liens and encumbrances and of companies entitled to the benefits of and of companies having any of the powers of companies entitled to the benefits of an act entitled 'An act conferring upon certain fidelity insurance safety deposit trust and savings companies the powers and privileges of companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" approved April twenty-ninth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four and of thesupplements thereto' approved June twenty-seventh one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five commonly known as title insurance or trust companies" by increasing the rate of tax for a limited period of time and by further modifying the method of computing the tax.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 44 (House Bill No. 28), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the fifteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws two hundred ninety-two) entitled "An act to provide revenue by taxation" by increasing the rate of tax.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I can see the reason for having Senate Bill No. 43 go over in order, because it might be affected by the same amendments as the amendments discussed by Senator Woodward, but as to Senate Bill No. 44, which is a mill's tax on savings institutions, I do not think they are in any way companion bills, they are bills with the same kind of tax, but with two different kinds of taxpayers; one of them does not depend upon the other.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, that may be true, but I look upon them as bills that go together, and inasmuch as one went over in order, I thought it would be proper for the other to go over in order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I cannot see the reason for putting it over in its order. It was one of the agreed tax measures, and I cannot see the reason why it should not be passed. I cannot see the real reason for it going over in order.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, This is one of two companion bills to Senate Bill No. 27; Nos. 26 and 28 are the two in question. This one should go over in order because it needs amendments—there are amendments to be offered, and since they affect different types of banking institutions, it is my judgment that they can be both passed on Monday, or whenever we need them.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I see the force of it and I withdraw my objection.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to this bill going over in its order? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, at the request of His Honor, the Mayor of Philadelphia, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 46, on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to proceedings for the forfeiture of rights, privileges or franchises of corporations making claim against street railway traction or motor power companies in certain cases and providing for the disposition of rights privileges or franchises forfeited and for contracts relating thereto.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

An Act to provide for the commemoration by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of the Three Hundredth Anniversary of the Earliest Settlement the First Courts of Law and the First Capital within what is now Pennsylvania and making an appropriation

Whereas The landing of the ships Kalmar Nyckel and Fogel Grip on the Delaware in March one thousand six hundred thirty-eight thereby establishing the Colony of New Sweden on land water included in the Royal Grant to William Penn vests this Tercentenary of the first white permanent settlement within the bounds of Pennsylvania with a peculiar relation to the Commonwealth and

Whereas Pennsylvania's state sovereignty in reality began with Johan Printz who under plenary power reposed in him by the Swedish Crown planted her first capital under permanent government on Tinicum Island (now in Delaware County) and was himself her first Chief Executive or Governor here were her first law courts and here three years later was consecrated to the Glory of God and the practice of Sweden's historic Church the first building of any branch of the Church universal within Pennsylvania's bounds and

Whereas Through varying vicissitudes this settlement was continued under English rule the founding Swedes were held in high esteem and during the Duke of York's government on the Delaware three of his six councilors were native Swedes while all the justices of the earliest English tribunal on the soil of Pennsylvania the Upland Court were Swedes save one and

Whereas The establishment of Penn's government under Colonel William Markham at Upland now Chester on August third one thousand six hundred eighty-one was followed by the coming of the great Quaker himself in October one thousand six hundred eighty-two and upon his arrival there began a coalition in government unique in the annals of colonization and New Sweden merged into his Holy Experiment of a hoped-for perfect democracy in the province of Pennsylvania and the counties of New Castle Kent and Susser-on-Delaware which counties later became the sister State of Delaware and

Whereas Under the tolerant religious and civil principles bodied forth in the Proprietary's Bill of Rights New Sweden and Pennsylvania lived on under the latter's name and although Penn's English Irish Welsh and German colonists were among the last great group to settle in the thirteen original states such was the character or quality of our forefathers and so beneficent their government that both New Sweden and its successor Pennsylvania were the only colonies that not only lived at peace with the Indians and with neighboring colonies but developed quickly into the greatest richest and most populous province among the original thirteen colonies and Philadelphia early became the greatest city of this young America and Pennsylvania soon was recognized as truly the keystone in the great arch of states and

Whereas This General Assembly is mindful both of this goodly heritage of faith of character and of the achievements of our forefathers in founding the civilization upon which our Commonwealth is based and the honorable pride of our citizens therein and

Whereas the General Assembly by earlier acts and The Administrative Code of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine has created the Pennsylvania Historical Commission to represent the Commonwealth in such matters

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Department of Public Instruction is hereby authorized and directed to act for and on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in arranging a suitable commemoration of the aforementioned inspiring events

In performing its duties under this act the Department of Public Instruction through the Pennsylvania Historical Commission shall have power to appoint such committee or committees of representatives citizens as it may find desirable the same however to include the Governor the Lieutenant Governor the President Pro Tempore of the Senate the Speaker of the House and the President and Secretary of the Pennsylvania Federation of Historical Societies and shall cooperate with similar commissions of the States of Delaware New Jersey or Maryland and with the Pennsylvania Federation of Historical Societies and other historical associations including the Swedish Colonial Society the Swedish Tercentenary Commission and with the respective Governments of the United States Sweden and Finland

Section 2 The sum of twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for the use of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission in carrying out the purpose of this act

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

REQUEST TO PUT BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 41 (House Bill No. 55), on second reading, entitled:

An Act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by a newly created independent administrative commission of five members appointed by the Governor President Pro Tempore of the Senate the Speaker of the House of Representatives the Auditor General and the State Treasurer establishing a civil service system for employes of the commission transferring the existing system of free public employment offices from the Department of Labor and Industry to the commission requiring employes to pay certain contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, what is the purpose of having this bill go over in order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it is for the purpose of offering an amendment to make the Act comply with the Federal Act insofar as it applies to the number of employees that an employer must have to be brought within the Federal Act. Mr. President, the Federal Act exempts all employers having eight or less employees, while the Moomaw bill brings in every employer, even if he has just one employee, and compels him to pay this tax. It brings in a large number of people who are not subject to the tax under this Act, and I desire to offer an amendment and am having an amendment prepared taking out the provision with eight or less employees, so that it will exempt small business-men and the small merchant.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I would like to ask the Senator from Tioga if he is aware that Senate Bill No. 106, which has just been reported out by the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, contains the very provision he talks about, which complies with the Federal law so far as the number of employees is concerned, and in all other respects these two bills are practically the same.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as I understand it, this is what is known as a Democratic Administration bill, and I know nothing about any other bill. This bill brings in every employer, even if he has only one employee, and I desire to offer an amendment to this bill, and I ask that it go over in its order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to object to that request: First, I desire to offer some amendments to this bill at this time, and, second, because the time is too short to pass another bill on such an important piece of legislation.

I want to call attention to the fact that this bill is now reported from committee as amended, and as now amended there are only two distinct differences between it and Senate Bill No. 106; one of the differences is the one amendment by the Senator from Tioga, and the other a difference in the method of administration, whether it shall be one "pool" fund or a "reserve" fund and the Administration bill has a "pool fund" and the No. 106 bill has a "semi-reserve" fund. Senate No. 106 also differs in that it requires a contribution by employees, which this bill does not require. If there are any other amendments to be offered, that is one thing, but if not, this matter is to be delayed again, and I desire at this time to offer amendments to House Bill 55 (Senate Bill No. 41), and, therefore, I object to its going over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, objection having been made to the bill going over in its order. I move that further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Aron,	Gelder,	Owlett,	Thompson,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Pierson,	(Westmoreland)

So the question was determined in the negative.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 41, (House Bill No. 55), entitled:

An Act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by a newly created independent administrative commission of five members appointed by the Governor President Pro Tempore of the Senate the Speaker of the House of Representatives the Auditor General and the State Treasurer establishing a civil service system for employes of the commission transferring the existing system of free public employment offices from the Department of Labor and Industry to the commission requiring employers to pay certain contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties.

(d) The secretary shall by rules and regulations establish classes of employment composed of all of the various positions to be created for the purpose of administering this act and shall divide such classes into a reasonable number of grades and shall specify a salary range for each grade. All appointments shall be made

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think I am about as tired as the rest of the members of the Senate, and I am very reluctant to burden them with a statement, and I venture to suggest that the only reason for my statement will be the importance of this bill. In offering these amendments, I think it is imperative to explain what they are and what their effect will be. In the first place, the amendments relate to corrections to amendments made necessary by a conference with the Federal Government as to House Bill No. 55 in its original form when it came from the House. Secondly, it relates to the civil service procedure amendment prepared by the Democratic Administration and submitted to the committee. In connection with those amendments, I think I was borne out by the acting chairman of the Insurance Committee, and those members of the committee who were present when this bill was discussed, that the action of the committee was that the bill be reported out with amendments suggested by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, relating to the method of administration, and with the civil service amendment presented to the committee by the administration. Inadvertently, I assume, the civil service provisions attached to this bill when it came from the committee are not the civil service provisions prepared by the Administration, but are those civil service provisions which are contained in Senate Bill No. 106. The difference between the two provisions is, first, that insofar as the administration provisions are concerned, they permit a choice from those who pass the examination among the first three. Senate Bill No. 106 permits no choice, and compels the Board to accept No. 1. In the second and more important situation, the administration amendments provide that no one may be removed except by the presentation or preferring of charges, and that those charges be heard by persons other than those who prefer them, and from those charges appeals lie in various stages, up to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania. That brings in the third objection, which now becomes obvious, that it throws the administration of this important matter into the political arena, and that is one of he things that should not be in this bill. It pays a salary of some $7,500.00, I think it is, but I am not certain of that, I know it is a large salary, amounting to some several thousand dollars, to each one of the members. It puts us in the anomolous position of establishing a new method of appointment, which has never, so far as I can find, existed. It was attempted in the Administrative Code of 1929, when it was suggested that there should be appointments made, but that did not carry, and now, when there is such an important matter before the Senate, when there is such an important experiment to be made, we throw this experiment beyond any hope of giving to it a proper chance to begin in its infancy, and what in any event is going to be a very difficult period, of placing this whole board under the control of five people who must, of necessity, be politically minded. It is because of that fact, I suggest to the members of this Senate that this should not be, and I present these amendments.

In the provisions of Senate Bill No. 106, anyone may be removed for some fifteen reasons, among which are profanity and a failure to be courteous with people coming in contact with the Administration; and they may be removed by the Board which is created under the Act as it now stands; and the charges are heard by the Board who preferred the charges, and there is no appeal. We feel that the civil service provisions presented by the Administration are infinitely more favorable to the employe and make a more workable condition.

In the third respect for which these amendments are offered, they deal with a major and important part of the bill. There is some difference, among those who have made some study on this matter, as to whether or not the Act shall be administered by the Board or by the Department of Labor and Industry, or any Welfare Board of any State having such an Act. The Administration Act is administered through a Department of Welfare agency or such other employment agency which works in cooperation with the Federal Government. Under the amendment suggested by Senator Coyne, which takes bodily from Senate Bill No. 106, the McClure bill, the provisions relating to its administration, the Act is administered by a board of five, appointed: one by the Governor, one by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, one by the Speaker of the House, one by the Auditor General, one by the Treasurer. Aside from the fact that it will be difficult to point to any precedent of such an appointment, or method of appointment of a body of this sort, or any administrative body, I point out also that the amendment makes the term of these persons who are appointed co-extensive with the term of office of the appointor. In other words, the Auditor General appoints one man, and that man's term of office expires with the expiration of the term of office of the Auditor General, and so on with the rest of the five appointees. I think it would mean that while this commission is in the midst of preparing for the administration of this Act, and before it even has time to adjust itself to the new condition, four if its five members would be automatically removed from office and four men would have to be appointed again.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Philadelphia who will have control of this matter should these amendments prevail.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if these amendments prevail, the appointments will be made by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, the same as the Public Service Commission appointments and others of similar character.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, do I understand that the control of the Board, and the administration, will entirely pass into the hands of the Secretary of Labor?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I say the administrative control—the Senator from Dauphin must remember—I don't know whether he has read this bill, but there are two functions of the Secretary of Labor under it—first, control of the appointment of employes who will begin to administer the Act; and, second, the administration of the Act with regard to the dispensing of compensation; and with regard to suggesting improvements in the carrying out of the provisions of the Act, in relation to the provisions of the Federal Government Act, that is in the hands of three people appointed by and with the consent of the Governor, and over that the Secretary of Labor has no control.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia inform the Senate approximately how many political appointments will fall into the hands of the Governor if his amendments prevail?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, none; because under the amendment presented by me every appointment, even by the Secretary of Labor, must be made under a civil service examination held by disinterested people, and the appointments made by disinterested people as a result of such examinations.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Then, Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator, if there are no political appointments, and it is entirely a matter of administration, what is the objection to having a board of five administer this?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, first, because the board of five will, themselves, be political appointments. Second, because under the present bill the board of five will have absolute control over the appointment and the removal of all persons even though there is a civil service, or provision for a civil service examination.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, does the Senator believe that the board of five would be less political than the Governor of Pennsylvania?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I believe the board of five would be more politcal than the Governor of Pennsylvania, because the appointment of the board of three would be subject to the consent of the Senate; and I have seen the Senate confirm many Governor's appointments. As a matter of fact, there are a number of the Governor's appointments not yet confirmed.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object to the amendments, and I desire to say merely this: As I understand the provision of this act with regard to appointments—and I am not exceedingly familiar with it—the entire appointive power will be under the Governor. We are told now there is a civil service provision, but it has been prepared by the Administration. In the State of New York I am told there are 6,000 employes to administer this Act; and it seems to me that the time has come when this Senate should see to it that a non-partisan board, such as is provided for in the Senate amendments, administer the Act.

The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has stated this was never done before in Pennsylvania. I would like to call the Senate's attention to the State board that was created last year—the State Authority, rather, that was created last year, in the regular session of this Senate. The Authority in that case was made up as follows: One appointed by the Auditor General, one appointed by the State Treasurer, one appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, one by the Governor, one by the Lieutenant Governor and one by the Secretary of Internal Affairs. As far as the administration is concerned, this Committee has considered well this bill, and this Senate should sustain the amendments inserted by this Committee; the Senate should vote "no" on these amendments before us.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if it was the bill to which I think the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, refers, it was declared unconstitutional; and whether it was passed or not, it was still declared unconstitutional. I say there is no law on the statute books under which such a board is appointed by such a commission; and I want to point out—I am not saying this for the purpose of bragging—I have heard a good deal of talk about this bill and have come to believe and say that I am familiar with the bill, I studied two and a half years on this bill, and I have a bill in the Senate—I do not want to bring it out, I do not think there is time to pass it; but I wish there would be some non-political bill passed, and I am willing to forego my pride of authorship in any bill.

It is idle for the Senator from Tioga to say this is a non-partisan commission. It is bound to be partisan. If the men elected are Republicans, and they make the appointments, it will be a Republican Administration; and I wish to call the Senators' attention to the fact that if he looks at the social security law, he will find what they ask and aim for is a non-partisan board.

I wish also to call the Senate's attention to this fact that appointments in the original act are as follows: The Governor must appoint one man who represents labor; the Governor must appoint one man who represents industry; the Governor must appoint one man who represents the public. So that, you have a non-partisan board. No matter what you may think about the other boards, in this one instance it represents all of the three people who are vitally interested in this act, and in the administration of it; whereas, in the plan suggested by you you have one man who may represent the Democratic Party and one man who may represent the Republican Party, or he may merely represent the Auditor General or the State Treasurer. But the unfairness, and the rediculousness of this proposition is that the Governor has no appointment under the suggested amendment, because the one appointment he is supposed to make must be made by and with the consent of the Senate; and the Senate therefore has two appointments, one through its President Pro Tempore and one through its action and approval, or disapproval, of the appointment made by the Governor, and whether he be a Republican Governor or a Democratic Governor, or whether it be a Republican Senate or a Democratic Senate, it will require its consent—and that is the thing we are trying to avoid.

I am not here to carry the flag of the Democratic Party so far as this bill is concerned, but I am here to say that we cannot get a bill in a matter of such importance, that will be out of the control of politics as far as it is possible under our present state of government.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, this is the first time I have had the opportunity, but, for a question of information, I would ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, this question:—he has studied the bill for two and a half years—am I correctly informed, that if a man be in the employ of a concern for three, four, five or ten years and he is laid off, that at the end of the time, when he is laid off, he gets thirteen weeks' compensation and this is the end of his troubles?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is not necessarily the end of his troubles; that may be the beginning of them,—after he is laid off. Under this Act there is a fund created, by which every person involuntarily separated from his employment is entitled to a certain amount of compensation, for a certain definite time. During that period of time he has the right to register with the employment agency, and the employment agency will make an effort to secure further employment for him.

I want to say, in answer to the question of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, that the number of unemployment insurance payments is limited, of course; but this is just a beginning, and nobody would dare to make the period longer if they cared to keep the fund solvent. That will have to be developed by experience—as we go along. This is an attempt to correct panics in unprecedented period of unemployment; it is merely to act as a stop-gap. We will have numbers of people from regular business off the relief rolls.

Mr. TRAINER. In other words, Mr. President, at the present time he gets thirteen weeks' compensation and then he is out?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, no, he gets thirteen weeks' during the period of one year, and if he has obtained employment during the next year, at any time, he gets thirteen weeks again the next year.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. President, thirteen weeks in a year?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes, Mr. President, that is the limit.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the only reason I rise to speak is because the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, made a remark about the civil service feature—that he thought it was a very inefficient civil service feature, and I am under the impression that that civil service feature was furnished by myself to the Committee. It is a model, standard form which has been adopted in some other bills. I simply want to stand up and say that I think my civil service is just as good as the Senator's civil service, that is all.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, may I suggest to the Senator from Philadelphia, if I may, that I do not believe the civil service feature he refers to is his civil service feature; I think the civil service feature is the one drawn from bill No. 106, which I believe was prepared by Mr. Franklin Spencer Edmonds; and I think this civil service feature was taken bodily from Senate Bill No. 106.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I move to amend section 903, page 55, line 23, by striking out the words "immediately upon its final enactment" and insert in lieu thereof "upon the fifteenth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven"

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I would like to state briefly the purpose of the amendment. Personally, I believe—and I think almost everyone believes—that the Federal Act is unconstitutional. If there is any chance of passing an unemployment insurance act which will stand the test of the courts, I believe that the majority in this Senate would like to do, and I am one of that number, because I believe in the principle of unemployment insurance.

The purpose of this amendment is to make the effective date of this Act just as late as possible—January 15, 1937; because I believe that by that time, if there is a possibility of the Act's constitutionality being decided by the courts, it will be declared unconstitutional. However, we must recognize the fact that if the Act is passed in this form, or with this amendment, the corporations of Pennsylvania will have notice of this Act. January 30, 1937 is the date upon which they must, under the social security law of Washington, ask for credits. I therefore express the purpose of this amendment,—to have the effective date of this Act as late as possible; and, also, in view of the fact that on that date the next Legislature of Pennsylvania will be in session and able to consider this question.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, instead of offering this amendment, if the Senator from Dauphin suggested that this Act be postponed until January, 1937, it would accomplish the same purpose. What he is doing is making it impossible for any one who has paid into the Federal Government, by 1937, taxes under the Social Security Act, which amount to $25,000,000, to get any credit if the Act should be declared unconstitutional. I call the Senator's attention to Section 902 of the Federal Act, which reads as follows:

"The taxpayer may be credited against the tax imposed by Section 901, 'the amount of contribution, with respect to employment during the taxable year, paid by him (before the date of filing his return for the taxable year) into an unemployment fund under a State law. The total credit allowed to a taxpayer under this Section for all contributions paid into unemployment funds with respect to employment during such taxable year shall not exceed 90 per centum of the tax against which it is credited, and credit shall be allowed only for contributions made under the laws of States certified for the taxable year, as provided in Section 901.'"

His return is due in January. He will never be able to pay it,—there will be nobody to receive it by January, and he will never get any credit.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. REED (Dauphin) and Mr. GRAFF and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—10

Batchelor,	Gelder,	Homsher,	Pierson,
Bean,	Graff,	Owlett,	Reed,
Ealy,	Harvey,		(Dauphin)

NAYS—31

Harris,	Miller,	Salus,	Trainer,
Huffman,	Prince,	Scott,	Woodward,
Kahle,	Pytko,	Shapiro,	Ziesenheim,
Lanius,	Reed,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An Act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by a newly created independent administrative commission of five members appointed by the Governor President Pro Tempore of the Senate the Speaker of the House of Representatives the Auditor General and the State Treasurer establishing a civil system for employes of the commission transferring the existing system of free public employment offices from the Department of Labor and Industry to the commission requiring employers to pay certain contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move to amend page 1, line 2 of the title, by striking out the bold-faced bracket before the word "the"; amend page 1, line 3 of the title, by striking out at the end of the line after the word "agencies" the following: "[ ] a]"; amend page 1 by striking out lines 4 to 10, inclusive, of the title; amend page 1, line 11 of the title, by striking out at the beginning of the line before "re-" the following: "[partment of Labor and Industry to the commission]" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "with personnel selected on a civil service basis"; amend page 1, line 12 of the title, by inserting after the word "employers" and before the word "to" the folowing: "to keep records and make reports and certain employers"; amend page 1, line 12 of the title, by striking out after the word "pay" and before the word "contributions" the word: "[certain]"

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

It was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, a motion to adjourn at this time is of great importance. We all must realize that the money provided for relief will be all spent by Monday. Would it not be wise for the members of this body to discuss for at least a little while the possibility of supplying some money, in some way, for relief next Tuesday? Frankly, I say to you I have no plan, but we can well spend our time in discussing this matter for a few minutes.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, withdraw his motion to adjourn?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I think the question has already been discussed, and I do not see any reason why it should be further discussed at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is not withdrawn.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:58 P. M. until 9 o'clock Monday evening, July 20, 1936.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. EBERHARTER, from the Committee on Rules, reported as amended, House Resolution No. 34.

RESOLUTIONS

CONGRATULATING HON. ARNOLD M. BLUMBERG

Mr. BURKE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 16, 1936.

To each man in each year there comes a birthday. To the members of this House it is a particular occasion when that day falls during a period when the Legislature is in session. We seldom have the opportunity during midsummer to celebrate with any of our colleagues, his natal day.

On July 15th during the early "gay nineties," there was born in the City of Philadelphia a babe, who, in conjunction with his family name of Blumberg, was called Arnold Maurice. He grew in stature, knowledge, experience and ability, until today, at the age of forty-three, he is among us as a most capable veteran legislator, having served for sixteen years through the vicissitudes and strife of five different administrations of the State Government; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby congratulates the Honorable Arnold M. Blumberg upon the attainment of his forty-third year of a healthy, prosperous and useful life, and wishes him a great many more years of even greater health, prosperity and service; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, conveying the well-wishes of his fellow-members be transmitted to Mr. Blumberg by the Chief Clerk of this House.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 16, 1936.

Whereas, On July 16, 1893 there was born in Philadelphia a baby boy, who was educated in the public schools, graduated from Southern High School in 1910, and awarded a scholarship to the University of Pennsylvania by the City of Philadelphia, where he graduated from the Law Department with the degree of L.L.D.; and

Whereas, The City of Philadelphia recognizing his ability has on eight consecutive times sent him to represent them in the Hall of the Legislature, realizing that each time he was sent he made good; and

Whereas, By his kindly and gentlemanly disposition he has endeared himself to all that know him or come in contact with him, and it is with great pleasure that his colleagues have

Resolved, To tender their best wishes for a happy birthday to Honorable Arnold M. Blumberg, and while his duties keep him in this Hall away from his family on this joyous occasion, may many more happy birthdays be meted out to him to enjoy the pleasure of the occasion with his family; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mr. Blumberg in token of the esteem in which he is held by the Members of this House.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am rather pleased that even on so slight an excuse in these late days of the session we have finally gotten a non-partisan measure.

I appreciate very much the well wishes of the members of the House. During my long term of service,—I am beginning to feel like a veteran,—this is the first time that the House has been in session at this late stage of the summer. I am glad, however, that it has accorded my Democratic colleague from Philadelphia pleasure in introducing this resolution because since he has become Assistant Controller of Philadelphia, he can keep very close watch. I am glad that he observed my birthday and I appreciate very much his sentiment and the sentiments of both my Republican and Democratic colleagues.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. BURKE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, since the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, was so gracious in offering this resolution, would not the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, make a few remarks on the subject of the resolution which he introduced, on the occasion of the birthday of our good friend Arnold Blumberg.

Mr. BURKE. I will be very glad to, Mr. Speaker. I am sorry that I did not have the graciousness to do it of my own accord rather than having been apparently compelled to do so by my friend, Mr. Turner.

I wish to extend my congratulations to Mr. Blumberg because I have the highest regard for his legislative ability, although during this special session he has not been very articulate, but I can see him steering all of the maneuvers on the minority side, making sure that the spokesman for the minority is always on his feet and has his feet on the ground when he says something. I regret that a little incident that happened in the last few weeks put a wall between Mr. Blumberg and myself, but I really believe that he has worked so hard here, that he has so exhausted himself physically and intellectually that I cannot possibly see how he could earn any salary on any other job while the special session is on.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had no intention of embarrassing the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, nor was it in any way an effort on my part to prod him into doing anything. I did that because I knew in the last few weeks the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, had become sort of a shrinking violet and had become so modest that he kept entirely off the floor and has refrained from making any remarks. I felt that there was some occasion for that. I felt on this occasion he would feel the responsibility as much as anyone, and in his generous spirit would make some remarks concerning the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, were it not for this policy that he has pursued during the past few weeks. The reason why I wanted to ask him to do it was, not only to give him an opportunity to overcome his innate modesty or his growing modesty, which has all of a sudden come upon him, but because I felt that since a few weeks ago, or a few days ago, he departed from bachelorhood and entered into the realms of matrimony by taking unto himself a beautiful bride, I felt that those old hands of us who know something about this game and have been in it for twenty-five or thirty years,—I mean the matrimonial game,—we did not want him to get into the habit of becoming speechless in the presence of his charming wife. It is a bad way to start out on your marital life. Because I noticed a very charming lady sitting on that side of the House, I felt that was keeping our good friend from Philadelphia from saying anything. Therefore, I wanted to bring this occasion to his mind and indelibly stamp upon his mind that as he goes along in the future years he must start out and assert his rights and must be willing to speak, and also assume after the days have gone by and after the years have rolled on he will learn what some of us have already learned, and become speechless eventually.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, from the active part that the gentleman from Delaware plays on the floor of this House, I assume he does no talking at home.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, since this discussion has pointed a little bit towards the festive occasion that has surrounded me during the last few weeks, I wonder if the occasion has not somewhat dimmed Mr. Blumberg, and I feel, Mr. Speaker, that I should the honor that is due the gentleman from Philadelphia, make a motion that the remarks of myself and of the gentleman from Delaware should be expunged from the record.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, by reason of the fact that there have been a number of inquiries made of me concerning this bill, because there seems to be some misunderstanding on the part of many of the members of the House, extending the borrowing capacity of municipalities, I would ask your indulgence while I make just a very brief statement of the situation.

House Bill No. 74, of Mr. Holstrum's, was introduced for the same purpose as this House Bill No. 51, to enable municipalties to build sewage disposal plants, increasing the borrowing capacity where they were self-liquidating propositions. House Bill No. 74 was introduced at the instance of Mr. Ladner in the Attorney General's office, who is very much interested in stream pollution as I am. House Bill No. 51 was introduced after a consultation between Mr. Fertig, Mr. Ladner and myself as to what was the proper bill, and it was deemed advisable that both bills should be introduced, we felt that both these bills should be passed. Mr. Holstrum's bill, however, was out of committee and had gone to the Senate, and it has only been this week that we have been able to get this bill out of committee. It has the backing of Mr. Ladner of the Attorney General's office, who, as I say, is very much interested in a stream pollution program, or the elimination of stream pollution program, and it will be of tremendous benefit to many municipalities in this state.

I brought this matter up at the convention of Boroughs in Shamokin a few weeks ago, and a number of boroughs that are interested are already writing in to know what was being done. With that explanation I would ask that you pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess for one hour. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess for one hour.

AFTER RECESS

The SPEAKER (Roy A. Furman) in the Chair.

The time of recess having expired the House will be in order.

STATEMENT BY MR. COHEN

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just this moment returned from a conference over in the Senate, attended by representatives of both parties, and from that conference they asked me to convey a message to the House requesting that the House remain in session pending a communication from the Senate. There is every indication that a communication will be forwarded from the Senate forthwith, and they indicated that they were just on the point of arriving at the conclusion necessary to present to this House a communication for action.

Under those circumstances I felt it was advisable to convey that information to the House in order that the House may be kept in session pending that communication.

Prior to making a motion to recess until 4:00 o'clock, however, I wish to ask permission of the House to introduce a recall resolution.

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 63 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. COHEN offered the following resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 16, 1936.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 63, Printer's No. 151, entitled "An act to amend section five hundred and one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and five) entitled 'An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds' by requiring extra fees for the assignment of special registration plates," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, on the matter of the motion to recall this bill, I wish to state the following reasons why I ask you to vote "no."

I am asking you to vote "no" on this resolution that means the death of this disabled veterans revenue raising bill.

I want to give you the reasons why I am asking you to vote "no."

When His Excellency, the Governor issued a call for this special session, the number one item on his list was relief for disabled veterans and their dependants. You will recall too, that when he addressed the legislative body that he said if we did not agree with all his plans for raising revenue that we were to suggest some other sources, based on the ability to pay, that would work no hardship upon the poor. It was for the purpose of helping the Governor, helping the disabled veteran and helping the already overburdened taxpayers that I had this bill drawn up and presented. This bill has been carefully drawn and submitted to the Motor Tag Division of the Department of Revenue for their approval and after several amendments I met the Department's suggestions. The bill was recognized by that Department as a bill that would in all probability net as much as $250,000 annually without working any hardships upon anyone, as the additional fee is purely optional.

It is clearly understood there is no contemplated increase in the cost of obtaining a motor vehicle license. Mr. Dent, Chairman of the Highway Committee and many others commended me of the way I worked with the Highway Department in having this bill meet all their requirements. This bill was reported from the Highway Committee by my colleague, Mr. Diehl, and had the unanimous vote of that committee. This bill passed this House on final vote 197 to 1. Passed the Senate 39 to 6.

Now, the small minority of a few Republicans and a handful of Democrats who were opposed to the bill are trying to find some excuse to kill the bill and have invited the 197 friends of the bill over here and the 39 friends of the disabled veterans over there to help them with the execution.

There can be no doubt about the constitutionality of this bill. This bill was drawn after the manner of the Motor Vehicle Law of 1913. The constitutionality of which was questioned and was carried to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, where in the case of Bell versus Powell, 249 Pa. 144—152 the Court said the statute would have been incomplete had it not provided for disposition of the revenue so raised. Following the ruling of the Supreme Court in the above decided case the following acts of the Assembly enacted at the last general session were drafted after the same manner employed in drafting of the Motor Vehicle Law of 1913 and the act in question. I refer to a few of these acts as Act, 86, 88, 88, 91, of the 1935 regular session.

With me there is no politics in this bill. I am not a candidate for re-election. I prefer to go back to the farm. However, I haven't any notion of giving up my interest in the disabled veterans' or taxpayers' cause. I want to give you something to think about and keep on thinking about. This bill as it now stands has a lot of political dynamite back of it. Every disabled veteran post in this state knows of this contemplated move to kill this bill.

In the preparation and progress of this bill, I have had fine co-operation from veterans' organizations. Hundreds of copies of this bill are in local posts. The veterans, especially the disabled veterans have become very much pleased with the progress of this bill and with the prospects that their wants would be met without additional taxes being added to the new overburdened taxpayers.

The taxpayers too are interested in this bill—why shouldn't they be? This bill shows a way to get an estimated quarter million annual revenue from those able and willing to pay, and if we do not take advantage of this bill, just tell the folks back home you voted more taxes.

The disabled veterans have to be cared for. There is right now nothing in the disabled veterans commission treasury, and in every locality we can find the disabled veterans or their dependents right now sadly in need of aid. Before you vote "yes", have you a suggestion as to how we might raise such a vast sum for such a worthy cause without added taxes somewhere? Well then, what are you going to tell the disabled veteran and Mr. Taxpayer back home why you voted more taxes on the overburdened taxpayers for revenues that could have been derived without taxation?

I am asking you again to vote "no." Don't deprive the Governor of this easy source of revenue. Give it a "no" vote as a tribute to the heroes that gave their health and happiness for the flag.

I ask you to give it a "no" vote and, Mr. Speaker I ask for a roll call.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I just wish to make a few remarks on this particular bill. Up to the present time the funds allocated for veterans' relief in this Commonwealth have been allocated from sources that were not particularly identified for veterans' purposes. I am informed that the leaders and commanders of the various veterans' organizations in this Commonwealth are not particularly desirous that the funds that are appropriated for veterans' relief should be even earmarked as appropriated for any particular purpose. The fact that this particular bill as it has been drawn is of questionable constitutionality, and from the further fact that as drawn it identifies sources of money that should be applied for veterans' purposes, and from the still further fact that the leaders of the various veterans' organizations, have no brief whatever for this particular type of legislation, I ask the membership of this House to vote in accord with this recall resolution.

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from York, I heard him state that the veterans' leaders have not approved it. They have not disapproved it. You consult the individual veteran and let us see what he says about it. I have had hundreds of notes from veterans, especially disabled veterans who are going to be benefited here.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. PARKS and Mr. SIMPSON.

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as this bill passed the House it removed certain exemptions as to Pennsylvania securities which were in the original act. Have those amendments to the original act removed the exemptions of Pennsylvania securities as made by the Senate. In other words, does this bill now exempt Pennsylvania securities?

Mr. COHEN. With profound regret, Mr. Speaker, I must say that it does.

Mr. TURNER. Does this bill now include shares of Building and Loan Associations?

Mr. COHEN. It does not from my understanding of reading the bill.

Mr. TURNER. In other words, shares of Building and Loan Associations are still exempt under this bill.

Mr. COHEN. The shares of Building and Loan Associations since 1897 have been taxed by the Act of 1897. The shares of Building and Loan Associations under the act are taxed at the same rate as money capital.

Mr. TURNER. Does that also apply to matured shares?

Mr. COHEN. The Act of 1897 only applies to matured shares, full paid shares.

Mr. TURNER. I notice also in the reading of the strikeouts by the Senate what I took to be a strikeout of the provision that included the shares of banks and trust companies.

Mr. COHEN. I think that is correct. They are taxed under the two companion bills, and form part of this program and are not contained in this particular act.

Mr. TURNER. That is, the shares of banks and trust companies are not included in the four mill tax.

Mr. COHEN. That is correct.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. KANE filed the following reasons for his vote:

I vote to concur in the Senate amendments to Ho Bill No. 27. The Republican party has a majority in Senate and they have inserted amendments exempt among other things stocks of Pennsylvania corporati from this tax. The tax as it passed the Democratic c trolled House was more extensive and the Senate co had they wished, have passed the House Bill as it ca over. This vote does not pass the act, but it does the question, makes the money available to settle a la part of our relief needs. It also makes the Senate ame ments part of the law. These amendments will save constituents many thousand dollars which were ta by the bill as it first passed the House.

Mr. McCREARY filed the following reason for his vo

Because it appears to be the best compromise that be obtained, and save further disgraceful political de lock.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING HON. LLOYD W. WELLIVER

Mr. ZAPPALA asked and obtained unanimous consent o offer the following resolution which was twice read onsidered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 16, 1936.

Seated in Seat No. 7 of this House during this Session, s a Member who occupied the same seat number in this House forty years ago.

After an absence of these many years which were narked with success in other lines of endeavor, including he political field in his home community, he has returned o his early scene of trimuph where he has again earned he friendship and good will of the membership of this House.

"The War Horse," "The Seasoned Campaigner" and "The Fighting Judge," titles by which he is familiary known hroughout the State, evidence the affection with which he is regarded by the members of the political party of his early choice, by his friends regardless of political party, nd by his community to which he has given such loyal ervice; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Repreentatives recognizing the sterling qualities of the Orator rom the sun-kissed hills of Montour County, the Honorble Lloyd W. Welliver, and the unique distinction resting n any person who has served in this House in two essions, separated by a period of forty years, extend to him on this occasion their best wishes for many more ears of success and useful service;

Reolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted o the Honorable Lloyd W. Welliver by the Chief Clerk f this House.

Mr. WELLIVER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a great surprise. I have been hit hard many imes during my battles, but this hits me in a tender spot oday. I want to thank you for throwing out your flowers nd your good sayings while I am living. I don't want hem after I am dead, I can assure you. I want to thank you one and all for these kind sayings in my behalf. They say that life begins at forty years. I came here fter forty years and am starting over again. I would say that if I had a son, I would say 'Son, don't be a politician, don't be a lawyer, don't be a doctor, be a preacher." The reason I use the word preacher,—I am going to change the word before I get through, I get on a train every morning to go to my lumber camp from Philadelphia to West Chester. There are a number of boys and girls on the train who go to the State Normal School, and they all thought because I was a judge at one time and am a member of the Legislature that I am a walking dictionary. Many of the questions they asked of me were wonderful. Among those there was a little colored boy who would every day say, "Good morning, Judge." I took a great interest in that little fellow and I asked him what he was going to be. He said, "I am going to a preacher." I said, "Why are you going to be a preacher?" He said, "My dad works at a place where they have one hundred cows and he comes home every evening with his hands stinking and a preacher does not have stinking hands." I have a preached who is my opponent. I will pull him off the rail and I am going to get rid of him somehow. I have the good fortune in the last twenty years to have three wonderful colored preachers on my job. They were very nice fellows. One of them called himself "George Washington," but when I would make out a check in the sum of $100 or more and put down the word "George Washington" he would not accept it. He would always want to have the word "Deacon" put along side it,—preacher, you know. I always did it. We had him with us for years and years. He was accused of stealing chickens at one time and he was arrested and bound over to court. I bailed him out. The closer it came to court time the scarcer the colored preacher became and he skipped the country. The Sheriff of Delaware County found out where he was and he got after him. Preaching in a neighborhood city, he looked over the crowd and spied the Sheriff present. He said, "Brothers, I was going to preach to you about the resurrection, but I have changed my mind, and I will read to you from the fourth chapter of Malachias, twentieth verse, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee if thou thinkest thou knowest me say nothing for verily I will see thee later." I am going to see you people all later, especially at the next session if I am living. I thank you all.

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee, our Father, that Thou hast guided us through another week-end and hast again brought these, Thy servants, together as a lawfully constituted body of legislators. Grant unto them a realization that they are Thy servants—that Thou dost desire to speak unto the people of this great State through them—that Thou dost desire to serve the men and women of Pennsylvania by means of the enactments they shall promulgate.

To this end draw near to them and impel them to draw near to Thee. Quicken their ears to hear Thy voice and strengthen their hands to do Thy will. Grave problems confront them. They must make serious decisions affecting the welfare of multitudes of our fellow-citizens. When they shall have determined their actions upon these vital issues may they have been so led by Thy Spirit that they may be able to declare, "Thus saith the Lord." And may all the people be so convinced of the justice of what has been done that they may exclaim, "Speak, Lord, for Thy servants hear." Promote peace and harmony within our borders and lead us in the way of eternal life. Amen.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I think that every member of this body is aware of the fact that at midnight tomorrow relief will cease. The money for this purpose has been entirely exhausted. I know that there are many members of this body who object strenuously to any further transfers of money. We will not discuss tonight the merit of this argument, but I believe I can suggest a plan whereby this most important matter can be taken care of in a business-like manner.

There are several funds, and among them the State Teachers' Retirement Fund, the State Fund of Workmen's Compensation and the State Employes' Fund. These funds are controlled by different boards, which are empowered by law to invest this money in safe investments. We can provide money for relief by borrowing from these funds, and giving as collateral the taxes that have already been passed.

Now, some have raised the question about borrowing on tax anticipation notes, as part of our program; but I have it, on the best legal authority, and from the older members here, that we cannot borrow until the whole program is passed, namely, the $45,000,000 that has been agreed upon—or thereabouts. In addition to that, the machinery—the law requires several things to be done, that will take almost three weeks; but by this plan that I am about to suggest, if the proper arrangements can be made—and I have been assured they can be—we can have money for relief tomorrow.

Now, I want to stress very strongly that this is not a transfer. I would be the last one in the world to take a penny from the Teachers' Retirement Fund, particularly, by transfer; but these boards are anxious for good investments, and I do not know of any better investment than the taxes of the State of Pennsylvania.

Time will not permit, tonight, my going into details on this plan, and, therefore, in order to carry out the plan I offer a resolution. I sincerely hope there will not be a single objection to this resolution, because all it does, as you will learn if you will listen to it carefully when it is read, is to ask the Committee on Finance to meet with these boards in order to make arrangements to borrow these funds. It means nothing else.

I know a single objection will hold this over for a day, and I want to say that anyone who objects to this resolution, even for a day, takes a great responsibility. When you hear it read you will see that all it does is this: It asks the Committee on Finance to meet with the different boards, learn how much money they have to lend, and, knowing how much will be needed for relief, ask to borrow it immediately, and for that purpose, Mr. President, I offer this Resolution.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO BORROWING MONEY FROM VARIOUS BOARDS OF THE COMMONWEALTH FOR RELIEF PURPOSES

Mr. HARRIS offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, July 20, 1936.

Whereas, Moneys heretofore appropriated by this Session of the Legislature for unemployment relief will be again exhausted within a few days and further provision must be at once made to make available additional moneys for said purposes; and

Whereas, objections to the further transfer of moneys from special funds has been made and it seems appropriate to ascertain whether other resources can be found; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance is hereby authorized to immediately ascertain whether tax anticipation notes may be legally authorized against the new taxes already imposed by this Session of the Legislature; and to contact the various boards of the Commonwealth, having moneys to invest, to ascertain what amount of moneys said boards may have available for investment; whether such boards will agree to advance moneys to the Commonwealth for unemployment relief pending the authorization and issue of tax anticipation notes and the rate of interest at which said boards will agree to invest said moneys;

Resolved, That said committee shall report the result of its investigaton to the Senate as early as possible.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Finance.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Beaver will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, last Monday evening, July 13th, the Governor of this Commonwealth made use of a public high school in the town of Rochester in my district, as the rostrum for a cheap and defamatory political speech. That speech was almost wholly an attack upon me and my record as a member of this body, and in its entirety constituted what I believe most of the members of this chamber will agree was about the foulest combination of vulgarity and falsehood that an unprincipled mind could put into words.

I recognize, of course, that I am but one of several members of this Senate whom the Governor of Pennsylvania, in pursuit of an indefensible political purpose, has attempted to blacken with a gutter variety of public defamation that has had no parallel in the history of this State.

I recognize, too, that throughout this Special Session, and throughout the Regular Session of last year, the instruments of his efforts to appropriate to himself the legislative powers of this body have been the bludgeon and the blackjack; that he has been as ruthless in the abuse and mis-use of the powers of his office for partisan purposes, as he has been dishonest in his attempts to defame and destroy for the same ends; that so persistently has he sought to deceive the public upon the facts of this relief situation, that his deliberate course cannot possibly be attributed wholly to ignorance and error.

I say that he is not entitled to the alibi of ignorance and error, even though we know that he is but the parroting marionette of the sinister forces behind the scenes which pull the strings by which he moves, speaks and gives the outward evidences of thinking.

I say that an answerable responsibility rests upon the Governor of this Commonwealth for his words and actions, even when we take into account, for example, the open boast that was made to a committee of this Senate last week. That boast was a kick in the face for the self-sufficient gentleman who sits in the other end of this building, and it was made by an Earle-appointed judge of a Philadelphia court.

He boasted, did this Earle-appointed Philadelphia judge, that it was he and not Governor Earle—that it was he and not any member of the Earle Cabinet or Administration—who had written all of the tax bills which the Governor has been attempting to force through this Assembly, and which the Governor himself has referred to at all times as his own tax measures and his own fiscal program.

This Philadelphia judge went further than that and boldly informed that Senate committee that he, and not the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue which is charged with that responsibility by law, could best determine the prospective revenue from these proposed or enacted tax measures, for purposes of certification for the issue of Tax Anticipation Notes.

I leave it to any member of that committee to further enlighten the membership of this body upon that incident, in all its detail and in all its significant implications.

What I wish to discuss here is the political speech that was made last Monday night in the high school of the town of Rochester, in the Senatorial District which I have the honor to represent. When the Governor of Pennsylvania made that speech, all semblance of self-control was abandoned, every decent restraint was cast aside, every dictate of common honesty went by the board. I speak with moderation when I say that unscrupulous demagoguery was given full rein. The result was that the Governor eclipsed his own previous record and descended to a new low.

Mr. President, I stand here tonight to make answer to the slanderous, indecent, irresponsible and utterly false statements which the Governor of this Commonwealth there directed against me as a member of this Senate, and, incidentally, against my Republican colleagues collectively in this body.

Candor compels me to confess that, practically from the time he entered office, I have had nothing but contempt for the man whose occupancy of the Governorship of this State is a receipt in full for something like $200,000 handed by him to the Democratic bosses of Pennsylvania, out of an inherited fortune not one dollar of which he earned with his own head or hands.

I will confess that disgust has been added to contempt as I have seen the repeated evidences of his utter disregard for the truth, and have witnessed the calculated misuse of the powers of his high office in brazen attempts to create class hatreds and even bring about public uprisings and disorders within this State.

Feeling about him and his methods and his precepts as I do, Mr. President, I can say that even at the risk of not being comprehended by the Governor himself, it is not my purpose to try to get down to his level.

But, Mr. President, wholly within my rights as a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania who has been publicly attacked in that capacity, I denounce as a chest-thumping hypocrite and a conscienceless demagogue, the man who, last Monday night in the high school of Rochester in my Senatorial District, said of me: "Batchelor is a public enemy. He has already caused more suffering and distress than any criminal who ever plied his trade in Pennsylvania."

Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, my daughter—the little red-headed, curly-haired girl that many of you have seen in this chamber—heard those words uttered by a man who publicly prates of moral obligations and responsibilities, and whose reputation is testimony that he possesses neither moral code nor concept.

I have waited a week, and in vain, for the public apology for that remark, which common decency would have prompted in any honest man. Neither in this chamber, nor in my own district, nor in any part of Pennsylvania or elsewhere where I am known, do I have to defend myself from that criminal libel by the man who occupies the Executive office of this State by virtue of the gold left to him by his sires.

But here and now I say to the Governor of Pennsylvania that, with honesty and complete candor, I can reveal my private life, my personal life, my political life, to that child who heard him utter that villainous lie.

I would like to ask the Governor of Pennsylvania whether, with the same honesty and the same complete candor, he would dare to reveal his private life, his personal life, his political life, to his children? Or to the honest, clean-living, God-fearing people of this State?

Mr. President, it takes a callous conscience, an utter lack of self-respect and that thing called sportsmanship, together with a kind of intellectual dishonesty which the people of this country have rarely seen in high administrative offices until the last two or three years, for one to become the spearhead of a deliberate conspiracy to wreck unemployment relief, and then, by mis-using the powers of high office to abuse public confidence, attempt to gain a despicable partisan benefit by blaming the resultant suffering and hunger of innocent and dependent people, upon those who could not circumvent that carefully-planned conspiracy.

With a full realization of the responsibilities resting upon me, I here and now publicly charge the Governor of this Commonwealth with being guilty of that criminal procedure.

Daily, the staggering and almost unbelievable evidences are piling up as a damning indictment of the desparate efforts of this Governor and his colleagues to use the money of the people of this State to bribe or bludgeon the unfortunate unemployed of Pennsylvania into supporting New Deal candidates in the approaching November election.

But from the reactions I have received as a consequence of the villifying speech made by Governor Earle against me in my District last Monday night, I am convinced that none have a keener insight into the perfidy of this man and his associates than the unemployed of this State, and none a deeper resentment against the cold-blooded heartlessness with which he has attempted to use them and their plight to pry millions from the whole public of Pennsylvania—not for Relief, but to buy votes for candidates who know they cannot hope to win upon the record of their party in the nation and in this State.

As for this subject in my own District, I can assure the Governor and all who have hoped to profit politically or otherwise from his unscrupulous manipulations, that every detail of it will be made abundantly clear to every voter between now and November. I will go to those voters with justifiable satisfaction in the fact that I was one of those Republican Senators who saved the people of this Commonwealth $25,000,000 by bringing Governor Earle's original demand for $70,000,000 down to a subsequently accepted $45,000,000; and with irrefutable facts I will make it clear to each and every one of them that neither I nor my Republican colleagues could force the Governor of Pennsylvania to accept either of two alternatives by which uninterrupted Relief would have continued over recent weeks—but the adoption of either of which alternatives would have been contrary to the Governor's deliberate purpose to stall and stop relief in this Commonwealth, solely for partisan political aims.

Mr. President, at the very time that the Governor of this State was in my District, directing his vile and unwarranted attack against me, there rested on his desk the legislation which, had he been attending to his own business and here to sign it, would have prevented the suspension of relief which his absence caused. But he was out playing despicable politics in my District, instead.

What I have said here tonight is but the prelude of much more upon the same subject that I intend to say between now and November 3rd. I conclude these remarks with this statement: That it was one of my direct ancestors who was the first settler in what later became the town of Rochester in which the Governor spoke last Monday night. And it was there that my great-great-grandfather felled the trees from the primeval forest, hewed the lumber, and personally directed the construction of the first church in that section. He became its first rector, and laid the groundwork for that moral concept which we of that District have, and which the Governor of this Commonwealth would not comprehend.

Within a stone's throw of the very building in which the Governor spoke, I have taught a Sunday-school class for a quarter of a century. And I say to you and to this Governor, that unlike him, I practice what I teach.

Eight years ago the people of that section sent me to the lower house of this Assembly. Two years later they re-elected me to that body. At the end of that term, the people of that Senatorial District elected me to the upper branch of this Legislature. And last May, by a majority of more than 2 to 1, the same people of that District re-nominated me for another 4-year term.

To this man who has attacked me with lies and misrepresentations, I say that I can rest upon my reputation as it stands. I wonder if he could say the same?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 28 (House Bill No. 19), on final passage, entitled:

An Act to amend section two and three of the act, approved the sixteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws, two hundred eight), entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax, for a limited period of time, on the net incomes of certain corporations, joint-stock associations, and limited partnerships; providing for the assessment and collection of the tax, and appeals to courts; conferring powers, and imposing duties on certain persons, corporations, joint-stock associations, limited partnerships, State, and county officers, boards, and departments; making an appropriation, and providing penalties," by further defining net income and increasing the rate of tax for a limited period of time go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 41 (House Bill No. 55), entitled:

An Act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by a newly created independent administrative commission of five members appointed by the Governor President Pro Tempore of the Senate the Speaker of the House of Representatives the Auditor General and the State Treasurer establishing a civil service system for employes of the commission transferring the existing system of free public employment offices from the Department of Labor and Industry to the commission requiring employes to pay certain contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, last week we discussed the amendments to House Bill No. 55, which were inserted by the committee. I feel, personally, and shall always feel, that the bill in its present form will not carry out the purpose of those who know something about the subject and who have their ideas on how the bill should be administered.

The problem that we have tonight is whether we should vote for this bill or against it. It seems to me that we have got to have an unemployment insurance bill, and I am firmly convinced that the provisions of this bill will not meet the situation, nor tend to the proper establishment of unemployment compensation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—certainly it will not provide for its proper administration.

Last week, when I discussed it in relation to the provisions of civil service, on which I offered amendments to the bill, the statement was made that none of the Republican Senators proposed to allow the administration of this law to be placed in the hands of the Department of Labor and Industry—even though, under the terms of the bill it is not in their hands except in a supervisory capacity; and the statement was made by the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, for the purpose of pointing out the importance of having a proper civil service law, that there were 6000 people now employed by the New York Unemployment Compensation Commission. The fact that these figures are not correct should bring home to us the importance and the necessity of familiarizing one's self with a matter of so grave import as this bill; and for the benefit of the Senators and for the purpose of making my point, I have before me a telegram from the Controller of the Unemployment Division of the New York Compensation Law Commission. It reads as follows: "We have now 160 people in the Division. This includes all personnel, permanent and emergency."

I want to say that anyone who reads the civil service provision in this bill will come to the conclusion that it is not civil service at all. I am going to vote for this bill, and I think the rest of the members of the Democratic Party of this Senate should vote for it—I hope they will—and I hope that if this bill passes, by the joint action of a committee between the House and the Senate we may get a bill which will be workable and fair.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, last week we had a little talk about whether the civil service requirements of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, or the civil service requirements that I claim to be mine constituted the better system. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, thinks one way and I another.

The PRESIDENT. May the Chair suggest to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, that he speak so the Chair can hear him.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this bill will go into effect immediately. I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, whether it is true that the civil service requirements would not go into effect until January 1st; and, if so, why?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is easy to explain. Every civil service that I know of—at least, I should not say every one, but the majority of civil service bills—give a provisional appointment right to the persons charged with setting up a new agency; and the purpose of that provision is to allow the provisional appointments until the agency is created and the Civil Service Commission or an examining board can be set up.

Mr. WOODWARD. Well then, Mr. President, I have one other question: I understand, from what the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, says, that there is no question of postponing the civil service until after the November election.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not know whether I am answering the question of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, or of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, but I can say to both of them that the man who framed these civil service amendments had no such thought in mind; he had in mind that you had to have a proper personnel in order to inaugurate this civil service, such as it is.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, because of the widespread opinion entertained by lawyers, publicists and students of government, that the Federal Social Security Act is of doubtful constitutionality in so far as it relates to unemployment insurance, it would seem to be the part of legislative wisdom for Pennsylvania to withhold any action upon this vital question until the Supreme Court of the United States has spoken. It cannot be overlooked that many of the more recent decisions of our highest Federal Court support the conclusion that the Unemployment Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act will be held to be in violation of constitutional guarantees and inhibitions.

Neither can it be overlooked that of the forty-eight states comprising the Federal Union, only twelve have passed unemployment insurance laws which have been approved by the Federal Social Security Board. Many states have refused to act and many states have rejected the proposition outright. The rejecting states represent every phase of political thought and economic condition. Adherence to the Federal plan was rejected by rock-ribbed Republican Vermont, and by Democratic Virginia, which latter state numbers among her illustrious sons the first three Democratic Presidents of the United States, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, and which today clings tenaciously to the "faith of the fathers" under the inspiring leadership of Senator Carter Glass and Senator Harry F. Byrd. Adherence to the Federal plan has been rejected, or at least not approved, by our neighboring states of New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia, and just recently it was rejected by our sister state Ohio, a state which in the extent of its industrial development is as nearly akin to Pennsylvania as any state of the Union. Likewise it has failed of approval in Nebraska and Minnesota, which may be classed as typical prairie states. These precedents command us to "stop, look and listen." We do well to ponder, whether we should commit Pennsylvania to abject surrender to an all powerful Federal Bureaucracy, set up under a Federal Act which we must conclude, in the light of recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, tramples down rights reserved to the several states, a Federal act which is oppressive, discriminatory, and unworkable in that it will commit the American people to an additional load of taxation which defies the human imagination. Experts tell us that if the present Federal Social Security Act should receive the blessing of the Courts and remain the law of the land, the operation of unemployment insurance under the Federal Act will subject the American people to a tax burden so crushing that the tax ills from which we are now suffering as a result of the present unemployment condition, will pale in insignificance as compared to the tax necessities of the "Frankenstein" put into operation under the unemployment insurance provisions of the Federal Social Security Act.

My vote against the pending bill is not predicated upon the belief which I hold that the Federal Social Security Act ought to be decreed unconstitutional. As a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania, I am bound by a presumption that a Federal statute is constitutional, unless and until such Act is held to be unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction. I shall vote against the pending bill because in my judgment it clearly violates certain provisions of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and as well certain provisions of the Constitution of the United States.

Let us say at the outset that we will proceed with this discussion upon the theory that contributions exacted from employers under the pending bill constitute a tax. Title 9 of the Federal Act expressly defines these contributions to be an excise tax. The highest Appellate Court of New York in Associated Industries vs. Industrial Commissioners, on April 15, 1936, clearly held that contributions under a similar New York law are a tax. It is very evident that the distinquished Attorney General of Pennsylvania has conceded that the contributions demanded of employers under the present bill are a tax, because he has carefully provided in the pending bill that contributions from employers of more than eight shall be on a parity with the contributions of employers of less than eight. It must not be overlooked that the pending bill is written in defiance of the Federal Social Security Act which in Title IX, Section 907 expressly provides that the term "employer" shall "not include any person, unless on each of some twenty days during the taxable year * * * the total number of individuals who were in his employ * * * was eight or more." Evidently the distinguished Attorney General of Pennsylvania prefers to risk a failure of having his bill approved by the Federal Social Security Board because of its failure to conform to the Federal Act in this important provision, rather than to risk the bill being declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. I make this statement advisedly because it is self evident that full compliance with the Federal Act in exempting employers of less than eight would render the pending bill palpably unconstitutional under the provisions of Section I of Article IX of our Constitution which requires that: "All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax."

Assuming, therefore, what is self-evident, that contributions from employers, made mandatory under the present bill, cannot be regarded as penalties or some other form of monetary exactions levied under the police power, but that they are taxes, we assert with confidence that the pending bill violates the Constitution of Pennsylvania in the following particulars:

First: It violates Section 18 of Article III of the Constitution of Pennsylvania which provides:

"No appropriation, except for pensions or gratuities for military service, and to blind persons twenty-one years of age and upwards shall be made for charitable, educational or benevolent purposes to any person or community, nor to any denominational or sectarian institution, corporation or association."

As far as my knowledge goes, only one exception to the mandatory provisions incorporated in the constitutional provision which we have just read has ever been recognized by our Appellate Courts, namely, appropriations for the relief of indigent persons. The instant bill is not in relief of poverty. According to Article IV of this bill, the qualifications required of an employe applying for compensation, relate to prior length of employment, length of unemployment and earnings during employment. The actual need of the applicant and the availability of means for his support are nowhere taken into consideration. If an applicant meets the prescribed qualifications, compensation will be paid to him whether he is a pauper or a man of independent wealth.

In Busser vs. Snyder, 282 Pa., 440 the present distinguished Chief Justice of Pennsylvania said:

"In appropriating money, the minute the historical definition of poor persons is broken through, the act enters the field of forbidden legislation through section 18 of Article III, and falls as a poor low."

In the light of the emphatic language used by the Supreme Court in the case just cited and the equally emphatic language used in the majority opinion delivered by Chief Justice Kephart in the Commonwealth vs. Liveright, 308 Pa. 35, upholding the constitutionality of the first Talbot Act, only one conclusion can be reached. The use of public funds for distribution to individuals who do not clearly fall within the description of "the indigent" violates Section 18 of Article III of the Constitution.

Second: The pending bill violates the "due process of law" clauses of the Federal and State constitutions. We need not enumerate in detail these constitutional guarantees. In the very recent case of Commonwealth vs. Girard Life Insurance Company, 305 Pa. 588, the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, speaking through Mr. Justice Schaffer has said:

"Our Constitution enjoins that 'All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects'; The Federal Constitution directs 'Nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.' As applied to questions of taxation, the constructions of the two enactments run together. That which would violate one would generally contravene the other."

Let us not overlook the fact that the Federal Act imposes a tax on every employer of eight or more persons, determined by a percentage of the total pay-roll and makes a general levy with a proviso that if any employer shall pay state taxes under a state eunemployment insurance law, the provisions of which have been approved by the Federal Social Security Board, such employer will have a credit of 90% of the Federal tax, being the full amount paid to the State. It, therefore, appears that the Federal Government with the same kind of ethics which motivates a highwayman, has pointed a gun at the Legislature of Pennsylvania and in effect says: "Do as we say and your citizens can keep 90% of the money which we will sieze from the citizens of Pennsylvania under the Federal law, but if you don't pass a bill which is satisfactory to us, we will keep your money and spend it as we please." Under the muzzle of a gun we are asked in this bill to impose taxes upon every employer of labor in Pennsylvania, which taxes are in their entirety to be transferred to Washington, and which taxes will not be used in any manner whatsoever, or upon any contingency, for the carrying on of the government of Pennsylvania or of any of its agencies. On the contrary, money raised by taxation under the pending bill, if it is returned from Washington at all, will be returned to certain classes of our citizens, denominated employes in this bill. In other words, not one dollar of the tax which will be paid by A and B and C and the other employers of Pennsylvania will be applied to the operation of the State Government or any of its governmental functions or to the payment of any of its obligations, but every cent, beyond administration costs, will be handed over to certain classes of our citizens to the exclusion of other classes of our citizens.

It has always been the law of Pennsylvania that the imposition of a tax for other than a public purpose deprives the citizen of his property without due process of law, exactly as though the government should seize and confiscate his property without compensation.

Almost a century ago the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, speaking through Mr. Justice Coulter, said in Northern Liberties vs. St. John's Church, 13 Pa. 104:

"* * * I think the common mind everywhere has taken in the understanding that taxes are a public imposition, levied by authority of the government, for the purpose of carrying on the government in all its machinery and operations; that they are imposed for a public purpose; * * *"

While the purpose of the pending bill, which is to provide unemployment compensation to certain designated unemployed persons is laudable; we cannot conclude that this purpose is a "public purpose" as defined by the Courts. Rather is it an attempt to promote the economic security of certain persons as contra-distinguished from other persons. Therein it violates the constitutional guarantee against taking property without due process of law.

But equally it violates the constitutional guarantee against inequality of taxes. It must not be overlooked that if the pending bill becomes law that the "X" employer, which always has and always will employ less than eight persons, will pay the tax demanded by the present bill but will pay no Federal tax. On the other hand "Y" employer, who always has and always will employ more than eight persons, will pay the tax demanded by the instant bill and will, in addition, pay a Federal tax. In other words, while employer "X" pays nine-tenths of the total tax, employer "Y" pays the entire tax. I know full well that it will be urged that the taxes under the present bill are uniform and the discrimination to which I am referring arises out of the Federal Act. But I feel certain that the Courts will not overlook the fact that the Federal Act and the pending bill are but parts of a scheme and that the state act will be held to be a corollary of the Federal Act. Decisions of our Courts, both State and Federal, have established the principle that in construing tax statutes and applying them to the facts in particular cases, the Courts will always regard the substance and be guided thereby, rather than by the form. Tested by this principle, in my opinion, the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, will not overlook the fact that in substance, if not in form, the employer of seven persons pays nine-tenths of the amount of the tax which will be paid by the employer of nine persons. Such a classification is unscientific, unreasonable, and in clear violation of Section I of Article IX of the Constitution.

Further citation of authority is unnecessary to prove that the pending bill is in direct violation of Section 18 of Article III and Section 1 of Article IX of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and as well in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. But I cannot forego from quoting from two opinions, one an opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States and the other an opinion of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, opinions which are among the brightest gems in the galaxy of American jurisprudence and which have adorned the pathway of American liberty.

In Loan Association vs. Topeka, 87 U. S. 655, the Supreme Court of the United States, speaking through Mr. Justice Miller, said:

"To lay with one hand the power of the government on the property of the citizen, and with the other to bestow it upon favored individuals to aid private enterprises and build up private fortunes, is none the less a robbery because it is done under the forms of law and is called taxation. This is not legislation. It is a decree under legislative forms.

Nor is it taxation. A 'tax', says Webster's Dictionary, 'is a rate or sum of money assessed on the person or property of a citizen by government for the use of the nation or state.' 'Taxes are burdens or charges imposed by the legislature upon persons or property to raise money for public purposes.'"

To like effect, in Sharpless vs. The Mayor of Philadelphia, 21 Pa., 147, one of Pennsylvania's greatest Democratic statesmen, Chief Justice Jeremiah S. Black said:

"Neither has the legislature any constitutional right to create a public debt, or to lay a tax, or to authorize any municipal corporation to do it, in order to raise funds for a mere private purpose. No such authority passed to the Assembly by the general grant of legislative power. This would not be legislation. Taxation is a mode of raising revenue for public purposes. When it is prostituted to objects in no way connected with the public interests or welfare, it ceases to be taxation, and becomes plunder. Transferring money from the owners of it, into the possession of those who have no title to it, though it be done under the name and form of a tax, is unconstitutional for all the reasons which forbid the legislature to usurp any other power not granted to them."

Convinced as I am that the taxes imposed by this bill are not for a public purpose but are for a private purpose, to wit, for the aid and assistance of a certain class of individuals at the expense of other individuals, I assert in the language of Chief Justice Black that the seizure of moneys for the purposes mentioned in this bill "ceases to be taxation and becomes plunder."

I am happy to state that in my opinion, the position which I am taking upon this bill is in accord with the promises of the Republican party contained in the Republican National Platform of 1936. That platform declares:

"Society has an obligation to promote the security of the people, by affording some measure of protection against involuntary unemployment and dependency in old age security."

Equally does the Republican platform of 1936 declare:

"The unemployment insurance and old age annuity sections of the present Social Security Acts are unworkable and deny benefits to about two-thirds of our adult population, including professional men and women and all those engaged in agriculture and domestic service, and the self employed, while imposing heavy tax burdens upon all."

As the sunflower instinctively turns to the rising sun, so the American people are instinctively turning to the rising sun of hope and opportunity in the person of the Budget Balancing Governor of a great prairie state. The promises of the Republican party and the promises of the next President of the United States are the adoption by the states and territories of honest and practical unemployment insurance laws; not a dishonest, discriminatory, unworkable and unconstitutional act, such as is now before us.

The pending bill is of little benefit to labor. Under no contingency can an employe receive benefits to the amount of $200.00 in any one year. Worthless to labor, its effect is to further "sandbag" industry by destroying more jobs while in reality it casts an additional burden upon the taxpayer, who in the end must pay the oppressive tax. I shall vote "no" on the pending bill with the hope and assurance that when the Legislature of 1937 convenes, an honest, fair and workable unemployment insurance law will be put upon the statute books of Pennsylvania by the Republican party.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, on his remarks.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I yield.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, wherein does the constitutionality of this bill differ from the constitutionality of the State Workmen's Compensation laws and the fund created thereunder?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I think that the bills are so different it would be very hard to answer the question. The only thing that immediately occurs to me is that one is voluntary and the other compulsory.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, infer that the Workmen's Compensation laws of this State are not compulsory?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, in form they have always been optional, as I understood them.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I inform the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, that they are very much compulsory? And I doubt very seriously that there is any difference in the constitutionality of the bill before us now and the constitutionality of the State Workmen's Insurance laws—State Workmen's Compensation laws, and the fund created thereunder.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, may I reply further to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, that I am still very much of the opinion that the Workmen's Compensation law is, and always has been, voluntary; and I intend to send for it, to convince the Senator.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, will the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, inform us how the State of Kansas expects to help us in this?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, as far as the State of Kansas passing legislation is concerned, I believe that is correct.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I believe that the Senator from Dauphin knows that the Governor of Kansas has called a Special Session of the Legislature to pass such legislation.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, I believe that is correct, but I am not advised if any bill, whether in form similar to this or not, is pending in the Kansas Legislature.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I feel that if there was ever a bill passed by this Senate that should be free from politics, this is the one bill, and I feel that the bill that came from the House, the Administration bill, was so clearly free from politics, that at least it was much superior to the present bill, but when it reached this Senate, the Administration's provisions were so changed and altered that the bill has been forthwith plunged into politics, and for that reason I am going to vote for this bill under protest, and I ask that if the Democratic members on this side of the House who vote for the bill, that they vote for it under protest.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not going to speak at length on the constitutionality of the act. I think that if the Federal Social Security Act is declared constitutional, the Act passed by this body will be declared constitutional; and I want to answer two things, and I cannot refrain from answering them because they are important: First, this bill does not risk the test of constitutionality, as does the Washington Social Security Act, because it has been proved, by that Committee, that it was framed in cooperation with one of their agents, who has made it his business to go around the various states and help out in framing these Acts. Secondly, I am very much interested in the statements of the Senator from Dauphin, that next year, in 1937, the Legislature of Pennsylvania, not being coerced by the Federal Government, will pass a State Unemployment Insurance Act. It was the same sort of an argument that was made by the Senator from Virginia, who came before the Committee when this bill was on public hearing, and he told us that the State of Virginia resented the entry of a foreign body, the Federal Government, to tell them what to do. My answer to both him and the Senator from Dauphin is this: In the first place, it is rather inconsistent for him, a foreigner from Virginia, to come into Pennsylvania and tell Pennsylvania what to do. And then, in the second place, the Legislature of Pennsylvania had an opportunity, as did the State of Virginia, long before the Federal Government undertook to do that, which the State itself was reluctant to do and refused to do for many years, to pass such a law; and particularly the State of Pennsylvania had an opportunity last year, before the Federal Government introduced its Act, to pass a Workmen's Compensation Bill, if they wanted to. There was introduced into this Senate a bill on the very first day that we convened, an Unemployment Insurance Bill, that never saw the light of day from the Committee, and never received the slightest consideration, and there has been the subject of unemployment compensation insurance discussed for the past ten years, I think all over this country, and never has the State of Pennsylvania moved, nor any of the Senators, to introduce a bill until last year, when I introduced the first bill that was introduced in this Senate, and now I think it comes in bad taste to criticise the fact that the Federal Government is forcing this bill, and make the statement that Pennsylvania will next year introduce a bill.

I would like to say this one thing: There was a great argument, and a valid argument, against the passage of an Unemployment Insurance bill in Pennsylvania, because it would place Pennsylvania in competition with those states which do not have an Unemployment Insurance bill. Now, when the Federal Government undertakes to correct that by making it necessary, as a practical matter, for every state to pass such a law, then the cry is raised "we won't pass such a law, because you have told us to do it." I think it is a childish argument which requires no further answer.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I agree with the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, that the unemployment compensation law of the Federal Government and the Act which Pennsylvania is proposing to pass will not be found constitutional, but I have another reason for opposing the passage of this law. It seems to me that social welfare and social security are terms which are used with various meanings; and it seems to me that a great many crimes have been committed in these names, and one crime, in my opinion, is the Federal Unemployment Compensation Act and this bill of Pennsylvania's which is proposed to supplement it.

I am not an enemy of labor; I claim to be a friend of labor—and I claim to be much more of a friend of labor than many of those who for political advantage support every so-called social welfare measure which, while purporting to help the laborers, in fact will, in the long run, make their position much worse.

Mr. President, there never was a time, since the Pilgrim Fathers came to America, when this country was not a better place for the laboring man to live than the countries of Europe; and this is, and was, true even in spite of the depression. Why then, may I ask, will people seek to inflict upon America all sorts of laws which have not made the lot of the laborer in other countries comparable to its high position here?

Take this unemployment compensation law, with its high rate of taxation upon payrolls. It seems to me it will operate like making a blood transfusion from a patient already sick to another to prevent him from becoming sick. When this bill was up in the New York Legislature Senator Fearon, from that State, pointed out what was happening in New York. He said: "Everybody that knows anything about the history of this State, knows that there is not a city from New York to Buffalo that has not lost industries because of this kind of legislation. Why, the papers have carried at least three different articles within the last two months showing the investigation that Frank Taylor, the Comptroller of the City of New York, has been conducting. And it has disclosed, that over 7,000 concerns have moved out of the City of New York and gone into one of the adjoining states by reason of the local taxes that have been imposed upon it. Now, you, who pretend to be friends of labor in this State might well pause and consider what good it will do to have unemployment insurance or a lot of these other so-called labor laws, if in truth and in fact there is no employer left to give employment. When you see this exodus of business from New York State which has been going on here for the last few years, when you see the business men in this State not taking advantage of the idle factories which they now have and which they own, building new factories in cities and villages outside of New York State by reason of the enoromus taxes and restrictive legislation that New York State has put upon them, you ought to open your eyes and realize that when you pass this kind of legislation not only the employer of labor in this State, but you likewise penalize the employee. The one can't get along and succeed without the other."

The best insurance against unemployment is to help business, and this is one of the acts which will destroy it. I doubt very much whether an Unemployment Compensation Law, in a country like American, will be of any benefit; certainly not a general act like that passed by the Federal Government, which requires the piling up of a huge fund at Washington, with a tremendous bureau to invest and manage the same. In my opinion, if an Unemployment Compensation Law is to be enacted by Congress, it should contain only the merest outline, leaving the States to work out the details and manage the same.

I do not wish to speak so much about the provisions of this act. I have tried to study the Federal Act and the bill now before us, and I must confess to a considerable amount of bewilderment in regard to the system and the way it will work out; and of all the men, inside and outside of the Legislature, who have spoken on this subject before the Committee on Insurance, I have not found anyone except, perhaps the Senator from Philadelphia, who admits he knows very much about this law.

But the United States does not need to take a leap in the dark in this matter, for Germany has tried out the plan for fifty years, and found it has not worked. We had before our committee a gentleman who had spent the greater part of his life in Germany. During the last ten years, I believe, however, he has lived here. He had observed the operation of this law in Germany, and when he saw our Government proposing to put it in effect here he felt, as he stated, that he owed it to his adopted country, where he had been so warmly received, to sound a warning as to the fallacies in the plan and the dangers which will arise therefrom.

There is also a gentleman, Mr. Gustav Hartz, whose book perhaps has been circulated among the members. He was a working man in Germany, and later a member of the Reichstag, and an economist. He made a study of this whole subject, and says it has proved an utter detriment to the people of Germany. They start out with a small rate of taxation, and it grows and grows, one thing after another is added, and it becomes a paradise for the politicians; and now in Germany it takes 17 per cent of the wages of the employes to run their compensation laws. Mr. Hartz says that if Germany had no social insurance system, but still had the benefit of her fifty years' experience, she certainly would not adopt social insurance today.

The plan which he proposes is a compulsory thrift plan, where the employes will lay aside part of their wages, which will be protected against the time of storm and stress; and the employers, if they are not mulcted by these taxes, which are bound to go up—we have already a proposition that the rate shall be 4 per cent instead of 3 per cent, and it will be increased from time to time, and that all comes off the employes—if the employers are not mulcted out of these taxes, they will be able to pay decent wages to their employes, and the employes can protect themselves better than they can be protected through this unwieldly, unworkable system which is proposed here.

Mr. President, I am asking Democrats and Republicans alike, including all those who are especially interested in the laboring man, to vote against this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 106, entitled:

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives as follows:

House Bill No. 165 (Senate Bill No. 117), entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws three hundred forty-three), entitled "Fiscal Code" as amended, by making further provision relative to the settlement, resettlement and collection of certain taxes, and further defining the powers and duties of the Department of Revenue with relation thereto.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I as unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BUCKMAN, from the Committee on Federal Relations, reported as committed, the following resolution, which was laid on the table:

In the Senate, July 10, 1936.

Whereas, On May 18, 1936, the Senate adopted a Resolution (known as Senate Resolution No. 1) authorizing the appointment of a Committee to make an investigation of the organization, administration and functioning of the Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Pursuant to said Resolution the President pro tempore of the Senate on May 18th appointed a Committee of five members of the Senate, which organized promptly and proceeded to perform its duties under said Resolution; and

Whereas, On June 3, 1936, while said Committee was conducting a hearing and examining witnesses who desired voluntarily to inform the Senate of certain abuses in the administration of the Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania, there was served upon the Committee a Restraining Order issued by a judge of the District Court of the United States for the Middle District of Pennsylvania, enjoining the Committee from further proceeding in the performance of any of its duties under said Resolution; and

Whereas, After argument the District Court of the United States granted a temporary injunction further restraining the Committee from performing its duties under said Resolution; and

Whereas, The Committee is advised by its counsel, specially retained by it to represent it in the injunction proceedings, that counsel believe that the action of the District Court would be reversed upon appeal and the injunction vacated, but that an appeal would be futile because said Resolution requires the Committee to complete its duties and report to the present Special Session of the Senate, and the appeal could not be heard and disposed of prior to the adjournment of this Session; and

Whereas, The work of the Committee prior to the issuance of a Restraining Order as aforesaid had revealed gross abuses in the functioning of the Works Progress Administration in Pennsylvania, and particularly an effort by those controlling the Works Progress Administration unlawfully and unconstitutionally to interfere with the freedom of the electors of Pennsylvania to register and vote as they please, and to impose upon persons in need of work relief, an unlawful and unconstitutional requirement that they register as members of a particular political party; and

Whereas, It is necessary in order that appropriate remedial legislation may be enacted, that the Senate obtain further information relating to these and other abuses now being perpetrated in Pennsylvania, in violation of the Constitution and laws of Pennsylvania, and in violation of the rights of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a sovereign State.

Resolved, That the President pro tempore of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint a Committee of five members of the Senate whose duty it shall be to conduct an investigation of the wide-spread reports that electoral freedom, guaranteed both by the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the Constitution of the United States, is being denied to the unemployed who require relief, and the further wide-spread reports that citizens of Pennsylvania are being compelled, in order to obtain relief or work-relief, to register as members of a particular political party, and that the elections of this Commonwealth are being corrupted by the granting of relief or work-relief to persons not in need thereof, as a consideration for partisan political activity;

Resolved, That the said Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer any question touching matters properly being inquired into by the Committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Committee may deem necessary. Provided, That the Committee shall not have power to subpoena any Federal official or any records of the government of the United States. Such subpoenas may, except as herein otherwise provided, be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said Committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to testify before such Committee and to produce any papers, books or documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the Laws of the Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That the Committee shall hold hearings in Philadelphia and in Pittsburgh, and if it deems it necessary, in other cities of the Commonwealth in which the aforesaid abuses are believed to be current;

Resolved, That said Committee shall make a report to the Senate at its next Regular Session and that the powers hereby conferred shall be exercised by the Committee during the recess of the Senate, as well as during the Sessions thereof;

Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said Committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the Senate shall be held by any Court to be unconstitutional, the said Committee shall nevertheless continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:59 P. M. until tomorrow, Tuesday afternoon, July 21, at 2 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, July 20, 1936

The House met at 9:00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend OSCAR F. R. TREDER, D.D., Rector of Saint James Church, Bedford, Pa., offered the following prayer:

Amen. Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and honor, and power, and might, be unto our God forever and ever. Amen.

Let not faltering lip nor stammering tongue of mine, O God, fail to beseech Thee that the governments and peoples of the world, and more particularly of this Commonwealth, may be increasingly willing to listen to the voice of reason, which makes for unity, as against the voices of fear, prejudice, and self-interest which make for division and strife; that the strong may help bear the burdens of the weak so that the hungry may be fed and the naked clothed; that those who have power may use it only for the establishment of justice in the manner of Jesus; that the deliberations and the work of this General Assembly may be acceptable in Thy sight, O God and Father of us all.

God, hear us! God, help us! Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Thursday, July 16, 1936.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Thursday, July 16, 1936, when, on motion of Mr. SCHWAB the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Duffort asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. ROBERT BOYD on account of illness for the remainder of the week.

Mr. Harmuth asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. COOLAHAN for tonight's session.

STATEMENT BY MR. REISING

Mr. REISING asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members fo this House, throughout the Regular Session of 1935 and the present Special Session this House has been infested with lobbyists for interests seeking special privileges and favors. The Democratic majority in this House last year passed a bill requiring registration of such persons. That bill was defeated by the Republican majority in the Senate.

Only a few days ago the people of Pennsylvania witnessed an unseemly spectacle which reflected serious discredit upon the General Assembly. I refer to the appearance in this city of Pennsylvania's super lobbyists, Joseph R. Grundy and Joseph N. Pew. I do not dispute their right to come here. I would be the first to uphold their right to petition the Legislature for redress of grievances. They have as much right to be heard as any other citizen. Nor do I object to the action of certain Republican legislators in visiting these lobbyists at their hotel. Mr. Grundy and Mr. Pew are their friends and political supporters. Such an action was reasonable and natural.

But I do object to a state of affairs which permits two men, who are not public officers and probably could not be elected to public office, dictating what the Legislature should do. We all know they told the Republican Senate what to do about relief and social security. We all know that the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia went to them, and not to the Senate, when he was attempting to bring about a settlement of the relief situation. These facts have been reported in the public press.

My concern now is with other aspects of this invisible government by lobbyists, not yet brought into the light of day. Since the House at the last session voiced its interest in disclosing the activities of lobbyists, I wish to present information which will throw further light upon the activities of these mercenaries.

One of the reasons this Legislature has been unable to get anywhere in solving the relief situation has been the influence of the lobbyists. The utility lobby says one thing, and one group of Republicans obeys. The oil lobby says something different, and another group obeys. The manufacturers' lobby has still a third group of Republican legislators under its thumb, and so it goes. Only the other day, in the Senate chamber, a group of Republican lobbyists attempted to order a Senator out of the enclosure because he was "usurping" one of their seats. A situation like that would be amusing if it were not such a tragic commentary upon the surrender of legislative functions to lobbyists by certain Republican members.

I represent the County of Beaver. One of the major industrial interests of Beaver County is the Jones and Laughlin Company. That company is one of the most important members of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

The Jones and Laughlin Company and the American Iron and Steel Institute are represented at Harrisburg by a certain William Mossman. No doubt all of you have seen him about these halls. He has taken a great interest in the present relief and social security debate. He has been in many respects instrumental in forcing the Senate to continue its obstructive tactics.

I am betraying no confidences when I make it a matter of public record that this powerful lobbyist for one of America's most reactionary interests, is an uncle of one Alfred Mossman Landon, of Kansas. The people of Pennsylvania will be interested, I think, to know that the uncle of the Republican candidate for President of the United States is the spokesman for the Pennsylvania steelmasters, who have an unbroken record of terrorism and despotism going back to the days of the Homestead massacre.

I believe the public interest will be well served if the activities of such lobbyists as Mr. Mossman, Mr. Grundy and Mr. Pew are brought into the light of day. It is important that the people should know their associations, their connections with those groups seeking special privileges and immunities. For that reason I am placing these facts upon the record.

INTERROGATION

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. REISING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising, whether he knows what Judge Harry Kalodner was doing here last week.

Mr. REISING. I do not Mr. Speaker.

INTERROGATION

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, May I interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REISING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Beaver explain to the Republican minority of this House what lobby caused the Democratic majority to vote against old age assistance at sixty-five years of age?

Mr. REISING. There was no lobby, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Beaver then whether or not the Democrats did it on their own responsibility.

Mr. REISING. They must have, Mr. Speaker, but I was not in contact with them.

STATEMENT BY MR. NAGEL

Mr. NAGEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I did not know that my colleague, Mr. Reising, contemplated or planned to make this speech, but I want to arise this evening to corroborate and substantiate some of the things that he said, especially those that relate to the Jones & Laughlin Corporation. We have this corporation within our county, and I want to submit to you that there it is an absolute monarchy by itself, a little monarchy that exercises political control over all of those who work within its bounds. They demand of those who work for them that they register Republican, not only that they register Republican, but their whole families and all their connections, so far as relationship is concerned. Then they can get a job. These men carry our flag out to the front and boast of being patriotic. They call attention to that great man Lincoln who liberated the black men during the days of slavery. But I submit to you that such procedure politically is slavery and it must be abolished. They have not used the whipping post, I will admit that, but they do use the club and the iron heel to force men to vote and work as they dictate. So, I corroborate the statement that my colleague, Mr. Reising, has made in reference to this corporation.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 165, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred forty-three), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth, and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," as amended, by making further provision relative to the settlement, resettlement and collection of certain taxes, and further defininig the powers and duties of the Department of Revenue with relation thereto.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 63.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 17, 1936.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 63, Printer's No. 151, entitled, "An Act to amend section five hundred and one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred and five) entitled 'An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds' by requiring extra fees for the assignment of special registration plates."

This bill would permit the owner of a motor vehicle to obtain special registration plates upon the payment of an extra fee of $10.00 for certain series and $5.00 for certain other series. This bill would also require that $1.00 of each such special license fee should be paid into the Motor License Fund to meet the overhead expenses of the Department of Revenue in connection with the issuance of these plates, and the balance so collected would be paid to the State Veterans' Commission, through the State Emergency Relief Board, for the assistance of Pennsylvania veterans and their dependents.

However, the title of this bill gives no indication of the purposes for which these fees are to be appropriated, but merely refers to the requiring of extra fees for the assignment of special registration plates. For this reason alone, the bill is defective because of the provision contained in Article III, Section 3 of the Pennsylvania Constitution, which requires the subject of every bill to be clearly expressed in its title. There is also some question under this same section of the Constitution as to whether the bill contains more than one subject.

I am also refusing to approve this bill because it is an attempt to perpetuate the special privilege created by previous administrations among a limited class of car owners within this Commonwealth. Such an exclusive privilege is contrary to the express policy of this administration and to the principles of true democracy. This bill would also discriminate against the great number of motorists who are financially unable to pay these extra fees.

I would be reluctant to veto this bill in view of the fact that the greater portion of the extra fees to be received thereunder would be for the benefit of Pennsylvania veterans and their dependents, if it were not for the fact that the needs of these veterans are being met, in accordance with the legislative call and my message, in other bills now pending before the General Assembly. Therefore, no serious harm will result from my refusal to approve this bill.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary nothwithstanding?

VETO AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. PARKS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE

TUESDAY, JULY 21, 1936

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. WILLIAM E. HOWARD, D. D., offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee, our Father, for friendship. Friend is one of the most beautiful words of our language; it ranks high in our vocabulary, almost reaching the lofty pinnacle whereon love sits enthroned. How frequently friendship develops into love. It is indeed a round in the ladder on which we climb up to love—and love is the greatest thing in the world. Fortunate is he who possesses friends—more fortunate is he who is a friend. Sad is the plight of the man who has no friends and is a friend of no man.

Reveal unto us, O Lord, who a friend is. He is one who knows all about us and still loves us; one who may differ with us in opinions, who can tell us of our faults, whom we can tell of his faults, who trusts us, whom we trust—yet, despite all differences, mutual affection persists. A real friend is one who comes in when all others go out.

We crave friendship, O God. Above all do we long for and need Thy friendship. As we face the problems of legislation be Thou our friend to wisely counsel and unerringly point out the right way.

We ask it in the name of that Friend who sticketh closer than a brother. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE SENATE TO HOUSE BILL No. 40

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT. (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) announced that the Chief Clerk had informed him that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 40, entitled:

An Act to provide for the commemoration by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of the Three Hundredth Anniversary of the Earliest Settlement, the First Courts of Law, and the First Capital within what is now Pennsylvania, and making an appropriation.

House Bill No. 98, entitled:

An Act to create a State Planning Board; prescribing its powers and duties; imposing certain duties upon political subdivisions; and making an appropriation.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. ARON, from the Committee on Finance, reported as committed, the following Resolution:

In the Senate, July 20, 1936.

Whereas, Moneys heretofore appropriated by this Session of the Legislature for unemployment relief will be again exhausted within a few days and further provision must be at once made to make available additional moneys for said purposes; and

Whereas, Objection to the further transfer of moneys from special funds has been made and it seems appropriate to ascertain whether other resources can be found; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance is hereby authorized to immediately ascertain whether tax anticipation notes may be legally authorized against the new taxes already imposed by this Session of the Legislature; and to contact the various boards of the Commonwealth, having moneys to invest, to ascertain what amount of money said boards may have available for investments; whether such boards will agree to advance moneys to the Commonwealth for unemployment relief pending the authorization and issue of tax anticipation notes and the rate of interest at which said boards will agree to invest said moneys;

Resolved, That said committee shall report the result of its investigation to the Senate as early as possible.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that resolutions reported from committee to lie on the table one day, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just reported from committee.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The resolution will lie on the table.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, in trying to ascertain without any possible doubt, I inquired from the Finance Committee whether or not after midnight tonight there will be any money for relief, and I was informed there was a letter sent by Dr. de Schweinitz, which I will ask your indulgence while I read.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, will state his point of order.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, is talking on the resolution, the consideration of which has been objected to.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am talking on the question of personal privilege.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, nevertheless I insist that the Senator from Allegheny is talking on the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order as raised by the Senator from Monroe is well taken.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will stand by the decision of the Chair. I merely want to inform the Senate that Dr. de Schweinitz says, in very definite, terms that relief will cease tonight at twelve o'clock.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

Mr. McCLURE, from the Committee on Finance, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 117 (House Bill No. 165), entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred forty-three), entitled "An act relating to the finances of the State government; providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus and all other accounts due the Commonwealth, the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale, the custody and disbursement or other disbursement of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth, and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth, the resettlement of accounts and appeals to the courts, refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth, auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth, and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission, and officer of the State Government, every political subdivision of the State, and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association, and corporation required to pay, assess, or collect taxes, or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes, or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth," as amended, by making further provision relative to the settlement, resettlement and collection of certain taxes, and further defining the powers and duties of the Department of Revenue with relation thereto.

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO PREPARE A PLAN OF PERMANENT ADMINISTRATION OF UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Concurrent Resolution Serial No. 103, reported from the Committee on State Government on July 16th.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 12, 1936.

Whereas, a centralized administration of relief is unsuited in some respects to a protracted program of dealing with the consequences of unemployment

Whereas, the present constituted agencies for the care of the indigent throughout the Commonwealth are inadequate at the present time to assume the burden of the distribution of funds provided for unemployment relief, and

Whereas, private industry is failing to keep re-employment abreast of industrial and commercial recovery, and

Whereas, it appears to be the duty of the Commonwealth for some period in the future to provide against the social consequences of unemployment

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House of Representatives to serve as a committee whose duty it shall be to prepare a plan of permanent administration of unemployment relief, which plan shall co-ordinate the activities of the Commonwealth and its municipal subdivisions, and to draft legislation which incorporates such plan, or plans and to report the same to the regular session of the Legislature in 1937.

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoena may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the Courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall willfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

Resolved, That the Senate and the House of Representatives will appropriate the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5000.00) to pay the expenses of the Committee in prosecuting its study of such legislation, the summoning of witnesses, postage, secretarial and clerical hire, the attendance of members at meetings and other expenses.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, to explain the resolution.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in answer to the inquiry of the Senator from Bucks, I might say that this resolution briefly speaking, is a resolution requiring the concurrence of the House of Representatives, and which, if agreed to, would require the President Pro Tempore of the Senate to appoint a Committee of three members of the Senate, the Speaker of the House to appoint three members of the House, to study between now and the next regular session of the Legislature, which convenes in January, 1937, and plan the handling of this relief problem, which has vexed us so much in the past few weeks, and to present to the legislature, in pursuance of that study, legislation which should be adopted to organize throughout the State a plan for handling of the relief, which should be placed on a permanent legislative basis. This resolution carries with it an appropriation of $5,000 for the use of the Committee in the study. This resolution was introduced by me on the 12th of May, and was reported out from committee last Thursday, July 16th. Does that answer the inquiry of the Senator from Bucks?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I fully understand the resolution, since the explanation made by the Senator from Centre, but I still cannot understand how a resolution can carry with it an appropriation when it does not take the course of a bill. I am afraid that feature of the resolution will probably kill it. It carries with it an appropriation, and every appropriation bill must take the regular course of a bill, referred to a committee, and must be read three times in each House. If this were a simple resolution, without an appropriation in it, it would be perfectly proper. I call that to the attention of the Senator from Centre.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I just want to call the attention of the Senator from Bucks to the fact that the same procedure is followed in this resolution as was followed in two or three concurrent resolutions at the last regular session, in which appropriations of this kind were made. I cannot think of the number off-hand, but I recall very distinctly one appointing a legislative committee to investigate the public school system where it was done in this manner.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, if he is opposed to changing the system of unemployment relief before the first of next January.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in answer to the inquiry of the Senator from Somerset, I think the Senator knows that my position has been explained on the floor of the Senate. I think a better plan for handling relief can be devised than the present one, but I do believe that it is untimely with only such a short period elapsing between now and the next general session, and after this present session having been protracted as long as it has been, to try to make any change at this time in the fundamental structure of the administration of relief. Mr. President, I believe that it would be better for us, after a thorough study of this situation, at the next regular session, to pass such legislation as we believe is proper to handle the administration of direct relief.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, if it were absolutely possible to change the present extravagant and wasteful system between now and the first of January, I would be in favor of this resolution, but it seems to me, if we pass this now, that it will be an indication that we do not intend to make any other effort to change this system, which is wasteful and extravagant. Therefore, I would say that it should be voted down at this time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

RESOLUTION CONTINUING SUB-COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE INDIANA STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BATCHELOR, offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government.

In the Senate, July 21, 1936.

Whereas, On June 29, 1936, the Senate adopted a resolution (known as Senate Resolution No. 3) authorizing the appointment of a Sub-Committee of five members of the Committee on Education to make an investigation of the attempts that are being made to interfere with the orderly management of educational institutions that are receiving financial assistance from the people of this Commonwealth, notably the Indiana State Teachers' College, and to report as speedily as possible to the Senate now in Extraordinary Session the results of its inquiry; and

Whereas, Pursuant to said resolution the President pro tempore of the Senate on June 30, 1936, appointed a Sub-Committee of five members of the Committee on Education to conduct said investigation; and

Whereas, Since the appointment of said Sub-Committee the press of business of the Senate in conducting its legislative activities in this Extraordinary Session has been such as to render impossible a meeting of this Sub-Committee to conduct hearings in order to fulfill its commission; and

Whereas, One of the members of the Sub-Committee has been so ill that he has been unable to participate in its activities; and

Whereas, The Sub-Committee has received such information that it deems it wise to pursue said investigation, in order that the evils complained of may be uncovered and appropriate remedies therefor suggested; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Sub-Committee of the Committee on Education heretofore appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, under and by virtue of Senate Resolution No. 3, to conduct a searching investigation of the situation complained of in said Senate Resolution, be continued and that said Sub-Committee shall make a report to the Senate at its next regular session; and be it further

Resolved, That the said Sub-Committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer any question touching matters properly being inquired into by the Sub-Committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the Sub-Committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said Sub-Committee shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the Sub-Committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to testify before such Sub-Committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the powers hereby conferred shall be exercised by the Sub-Committee during the recess of the Senate as well as during the sessions thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That in the event that the power hereby conferred upon the said Sub-Committee to subpoena witnesses and enforce its subpoenas during the recess of the Senate shall be held by any court to be unconstitutional, said Sub-Committee shall, nevertheless, continue its work and take the testimony of such persons as shall voluntarily appear before it.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. The Resolution will be referred to the Committee on State Government.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this is the corporate net income tax and I wish to offer an amendment to the bill. I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

And the question recurring

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BUCKMAN and Mr. McCLURE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Baumer,	Lanius,	Rankin,	Rupp,
Cavalcante,	Law,	Reed,	Ruth,
Frey,	McCreesh,	(Washington)	Shapiro,
Harris,	McGinnis,	Rice,	Sones,
Huffman,	Miller,	Roberts,	Thompson,
Kahle,	Pytko,	Rodgers,	(Centre)

NAYS—25

Aron,	Gelder,	Owlett,	Staudenmeier,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Pierson,	Thompson,
Bean,	Harvey,	Prince,	(Westmoreland)
Buckman,	Homsher,	Reed,	Trainer,
Chapman,	Howell,	(Dauphin)	Woodward,
Coyne,	Mallery,	Salus,	Ziesenheim,
Ealy,	McClure,	Scott,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this bill provides for about $5,000,000. It should provide for $10,000,000. I intend to vote for the bill, because it is necessary to do so. I am voting under protest, for the reason that this source should provide more money. I say I am intending to vote for the bill, with the expectation that when it gets over to the House they will disagree, and will finally put this bill up to $10,000,000.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, state whether or not the Committee on Finance is prepared to report out bills which, in the aggregate, will be sufficient to make up the necessary amount of taxes, or, rather, to produce the necessary amount of taxes which will equal the $45,000,000 for relief agreed upon, as the Senator stated last Monday night, by the Republicans and Democrats?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Committee on Finance is prepared to state that from passed Acts and present bills $45,000,000 can be provided.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I did not hear what the Senator said with regard to past Acts.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, from passed Acts, bills which have been already passed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Delaware state which of the tax-raising measures to which he refers will aggregate $45,000,000?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, this is not the time to give the information desired by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro. It is necessary for us to indicate here that we are taking steps to provide it; and because of that I ask the members of the Senate to vote for this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand, then, that there has been passed sufficient legislation, in the opinion of the Committee on Finance, which, by the taxes imposed, will realize $45,000,000?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that there has been passed or will be passed?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, together with this bill?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, together with this bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as I understand it, we have passed a tax-raising measure called the tax on liquor, which, it is presumed, will raise $7,500,000. We have passed the so-called inheritance tax bill, which taxes estates inherited by stripes, and which will yield an estimated return of $500,000. We have passed an increase on the personal property tax which, I understand, is to raise $18,000,000. These three bills will yield an estimate aggregate of $26,000,000. The $5,000,000 to be raised by the bill now under consideration will increase this aggregate to $31,000,000.

Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, refer me to any other legislation which will make up the difference between the $31,000,000 and the $45,000,000 agreed upon?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, there are other bills on the calendar, and there is other contemplated legislation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understood the Senator from Delaware to state that there are no other tax measures intended to be passed—or reported out by the Committee on Finance. Am I correct in that?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, probably at the present time we have not the tax legislation; but we have tax bills in sufficient amount in the Committee on Finance and intend to report them out, to make up the $45,000,000 for relief, and the total of $49,000,000 for all other purposes.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand, then, that the Senator's first answer to my question—that the Committee does not intend to report out any further legislation—is inadverent—any further tax legislation?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it would not be proper for the Committee on Finance to take the position today that it will not report our further bills.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senate is entitled to know whether or not this completes the program of $45,000,000. I understood, in the first answer to my question, that the Senator from Delaware stated that the tax measures already passed, together with this measure—the corporate net income tax—would aggregate $45,000,000. In order that we may understand whether that is so or not, I ask permission to repeat the question to the Senator from Delaware. Will the Senator from Delaware. Mr. McClure, permit himself to be further interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it true that the position of the Senator from Delaware, and his statement, is that the tax measures already passed, together with Senate Bill No. 28, which is the corporate net income tax, will, or is presumed, to yield $45,000,000?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is not my position.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as I have figured them up they yield $31,000,000. Will the Senator from Delaware state whatever tax measures are proposed, or are ready to be reported by the Committee on Finance, which will make up the other $14,000,000?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, that is not the thing to do at this time. This bill is before us, and an amendment has been offered to increase it to ten per cent. The amendment has been defeated and the bill is now on final passage.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to go on record now, in discussing this bill, in saying as plainly as I possibly can that if ever there was a time to answer that question that I have put to the Senator from Delaware, this is the time. I understand the Committee on Finance has received information from Dr. de Schweinitz that relief ceases tonight by reason of the fact that there is no more money in the hands of the relief board.

I listened to the Senator from Delaware, on the 13th of July, report out of the committee a certain bill which has already been passed; and I read his statement to the newspapers that the Democrats and the Republicans had agreed upon a program, as a result of which there would be reported out on the floor of this Senate within a very short time additional tax measures which, in the aggregate, would amount to $45,000,000, the agreed amount. Since that time we have been waiting, and so have the people who are interested in whether or not these funds are going to be raised have been waiting, and today we get the atounding answer that this is not the time to know whether or not the tax legislation which we were promised, and upon the faith of which a transfer was voted by the members of the House of Representatives of $3,000,000 to allow relief to go on as far as that money would take it.

I consider that this is the time that we should know what the Republicans intend to do. I consider that the a statement which the Senator from Delaware just made places the responsibility for the relief question, and for the furnishing of further money, right in the lap where I have contended it has been since the first time when we reduced the temporary appropriation and transfer measure from eleven million and some odd thousands of dollars to the $3,000,000 which they granted.

I consider that the people whom we represent are entitled to know what the Republicans intend to do about it, and I consider that it is not fair to me and to other members of this Senate who have other business, just as important to our individual selves as is the welfare of the community to the whole citizenry, to know what these people are doing and intend to do, and not be kept here waiting day in and day out, hour in and hour out, to find out what these men will do. And I consider that it is an insult to us, when we ask the question, as participants in a legislative body, as to what these men intend to do about this relief question, to be told this is not the time. Then, I say, in God's name, when is the time?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this is perhaps the next most important bill the committee has had, as far as producing revenue is concerned, is it not?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it is.

Mr. HUFFMAN. And is not this the bill, Mr. President, we have depended upon so much to secure the balance due on the $45,000,000 program?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, as the Senator from Monroe knows, I have never depended on more than $5,000,000 or $6,000,000, which, I believe, is the estimated amount it will yield.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, does not the Senator from Delaware realize that among other members of the Committee it was the consensus that it was necessary to get more than $5,000,000 from this bill, if we hope to carry this program of $45,000,000 out?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I do not think that is the opinion of the majority of the committee.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the Senator from Delaware will admit, will he not, that that has been talked over very favorably in the committee, and is the consensus of the committee so far as it could be gleaned without a vote—that this bill should produce more than $5,000,000?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, it has been discussed that this bill might yield $12,000,000 if it was increased to ten per cent; but, Mr. President, in view of the gradually increased Federal taxes on corporations, in view of the fact that a ten per cent. tax on net corporate profits is probably more than is carried by any other State in the Union, the majority of the committee feel that the passage of this bill at ten per cent. would not increase employment.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, as a matter of fact, are there bills in the committee to make up the balance if we pass this bill at $5,000,000?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the Senator from Monroe is a member of the Committee on Finance. He realizes as well as I do that we spent last week convincing the Department of Revenue that there was $3,000,000 additional money to be expected because of the passage of the eight per cent. tax under the corporate loan tax. He remained with us last night in committee until almost two o'clock this morning, when the Department of Revenue admitted that there was $9,500,000 or $10,000,000 remaining unappropriated in the liquor profits.

Mr. President, the Senator from Monroe knows the situation just as well as I do, and I believe that he can, if so minded, inform the Senate of the tax legislation that will yield $45,000,000 for relief and $49,000,000 for all purposes.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I cannot agree with the Senator from Delaware. If I had been able to figure out $49,000,000, it was always with the understanding that we would get $10,000,000 from this bill. There are not bills enough in the Committee on Finance at the present time to make up $49,000,000. If you pass this at $5,000,000, it just is not there, and we will not get it; and I think, in view of all that took place before that Committee on Finance, that this is no time for this chairman or for this committee to insist upon putting through this bill at $5,000,000.

It has been carried along on the calendar for a week—for more than a week—with the express purpose of getting more than $5,000,000 out of it; and everybody knows that it was suggested several times in the committee, and on the floor perhaps, that we make it nine per cent., which would produce perhaps two and a half million dollars in addition to the five; but I think, and I am saying it here, that this does not express good faith to this Senate and the State of Pennsylvania at this time, to try to put through this bill for $5,000,000. There is nothing else there to make up the $45,000,000 program, and if it be put through at $5,000,000 it means but one thing—that these people intend to cut down this appropriation to less than $45,000,000 for relief, because they cannot go to the liquor stores and take that money out; that has been debated before the Committee on Finance—inside the Committee and outside—and these gentlemen know just as well as the rest of us on the floor that there is no legal way to take that money out of the liquor stores at this time; and I think this Senate should defeat this bill on the basis of $5,000,000.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in my short existence I have seen some short-horned politics, but I have never seen anything to equal the maneuvering of the Republican caucus this afternoon. If we refer to our Legislative Journal of the 7th of July we will see there that the suggestion for raising this bill from eight to ten per cent. came from the chairman of the Committee on Finance; and that day, under interrogation, he advised not only the Senate of Pennsylvania but the people of Pennsylvania as to what the tax program would be for this State. At his suggestion the ten per cent. tax was suggested, and in pursuance of his suggestion, approved by the Republican caucus, it was agreed on as part of the tax program at this session.

I say to you, Mr. President, that every member of this Senate, and the people of Pennsylvania, are being short-changed this afternoon by the Republican Party. How can the people of this State believe the Republican Party when they go before the voters of this State this fall, when they cannot believe them when they stand up on the floor of this Senate and give their pledged word on a tax program?

We have heard repeated over and over again, during the past two weeks, as to what the Republican program would be and what these tax measures would be, and they uniformly included the ten per cent. corporate net income tax; and, Mr. President, the members of this Committee on Finance knew that up until noon of today, or up until two o'clock, at least, that the one tax that was agreed upon in this Committee on Finance, the one tax that would be put out and passed on the floor of this Senate today, upon which everybody agreed, was this ten per cent. corporate net income tax.

Now, this tax is not a bit better than any other tax; but I say to you, Mr. President, that the Democrats on this side of the House and every person who has listened in this Senate Chamber to what has gone on here in the past two weeks, and every citizen of Pennsylvania, can never again repose any confidence in the word of a Republican caucus or the word of the Republican Party in this State.

I say to you, Mr. President, that this is one of the biggest pieces of perfidy that has been pulled off in this session of the Senate. There was some objection raised a week or so ago when I spoke of the Republican side of this House as malingerers. If they do not like that word, Mr. President, I say they are boondogglers. We have done nothing here but maneuver around and fritter our time for two weeks. We have promised to do things, and then we do not do them.

Now, when are the members of this Senate going to learn not only to perform their oaths of office, to do their pledged duty and to keep their word? I ask you, Mr. President, are we going to go before the people of this State and say, "Ladies and gentlemen, you cannot believe a word we say"? Shall we say to them, "Two weeks ago we promised you a tax program, two weeks ago we promised you a relief program; but, ladies and gentlemen, the powers that be have put the heat on us since that time and we cannot do what we promised you; you cannot believe us"?

And I say to you, Mr. President, there is not a Democrat, on this side of the House, that is responsible for this condition. That condition lies solely on the shoulders of the Republican side of the House, and the responsibility must be placed solely on the Republican side of the House for that condition."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I cannot sit in my seat and allow to go unchallenged the extravagant statements of my friend the Senator from Centre. He first said that this corporate net income tax had never been suggested at any rate except 10%. Now, that statement is just simply not true. It has never been considered, it has never been considered on the State calendar at any rate but eight percent, an increase of from six to eight percent. Now, we on the Republican side of this Senate, are accused of bad faith because it was said that we are not bringing out tax bills to tax the people of Pennsylvania $49,000,000. I would like to take just a moment, if I may, to explain the situation as I see it. We passed last week, with the help of the Republican Senators in this Senate, and after two or three days of negotiating, when we were met by the Democratic leaders of this Senate, who said "some of our men will not vote for this three-mill tax, they are afraid to vote for it, will you not help us out? How many votes will you give us? If you give us ten votes, we will give fifteen or seventeen;" and, finally, the three-mill tax was passed. Mr. President, that bill is said, by the Department of Revenue, to produce $18,000,000. What happened? A representative of the Department of Revenue was called before the Senate Finance Committee, he was interrogated as to how he arrived at $18,000,000, his attention was called to the fact that when one mill was levied against personal property in the 1935 regular session it was estimated to produce $9,500,000. This estimate was made by Dr. King and several other experts called in by this Administration. They finally put it in the budget as producing $8,000,000, at one mill. A representative of the Department of Revenue came before the Finance Committee and said "that bill will produce as a minimum $6,500,000, at one mill, and a maximum of $8,000,000, at one mill." Whether it was because a Judge came up from Philadelphia or not, I do not know, but the next day we got a letter telling us that it would only yield $6,000,000 at one mill on personal property.

Mr. President, I think, when we get before the Senate Finance Committee a representative of the Department of Revenue of Pennsylvania, and interrogate him, and we discover that in his estimate he never included the increased corporate loans tax, a tax which we have had on the statute books for years, and which is automatically increased by the passage of this bill, which, under past experience, will produce $4,000,000, and which we have agreed and we do agree, will yield $3,000,000, so we have said to them, Mr. President, "we have passed this three-mill personal property tax bill if you say it will not produce $8,000,000, we will put it in at $7,000,000." They have not a single figure to disprove the fact that that bill brings in $7,000,000 at one mill.

How many counties do you suppose, so far since the first of this year, assessed this one-mill tax? Five counties in Pennsylvania, Adams, Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver and Bedford. They have no experience at all in the Revenue Department that will sustain the contention that it only produces $6,000,000 at one mill. It is said that last year that it had produced $8,000,000 as a conservative estimate. We will say $8,000,000 is a conservative estimate that that will produce. And so I say, Mr. President, that at the very most conservative estimate that we can obtain from the three-mill personal property tax bill that we already passed and was signed by the Governor, and is on the statute books, produces $21,000,000, and in addition to that, the Corporate Loans tax, which is automatically increased by that bill, produces $3,000,000, or a total of $24,000,000 produced by the tax bills that we have already passed against personal property.

Now, let us see what else we have done. We passed a bill levying a tax on joint estates, known as the Inheritance Tax bill. Nobody denies that that produces $500,000.

We have on the calendar and we propose to pass, as soon as proper amendments are put in, the two-mill tax on banks and trust companies, taking out the exemptions that they have enjoyed heretofore under taxation known as the Schuylkill Trust case, and that produces $2,500,000. Nobody denies that case, and that produces $2,500,000. Nobody denies that. We have passed already, and it is now on the statute books, a Liquor Tax bill, a 10% sales tax on liquor and nobody denies that that produces $7,500,000.

We have on the calendar today, and we propose to pass it, even if the Democrats will not vote for it, an increase in the Corporate Net Income tax from 6% to 8%.

The Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, says, that will bring in only $5,000,000. I think, Mr. President, the Senate ought to know the facts about that. State Treasurer Waters has made a thorough analysis of the calculations today of the Corporate Net Income tax that we passed at the last session of the legislature. His experts in that office have all gone over those figures, and they all say that on the basis of the settlement and collection, those made to date, a two percent increase in the Corporate Net Income tax will produce $6,000,000.

Now, those taxes that I have thus far outlined produce $40,500,000. Now where are we going to get the rest of the money? Forty mill, five hundred thousand dollars from all the evidence that can be obtained by this Senate will be produced by these bills.

Now, what did we find in the Finance Committee the other day? Mr. Grosscup, at the head of the Liquor Board, came before the Finance Committee of the Senate to protest a suggestion that had been made by someone that the Liquor Tax be increased five precent, and in the course of that, he "let the cat out of the bag," the fact that this year their sales in the Liquor Board will increase from forty some million dollars to seventy-five million dollars, that they will have profits in the liquor stores of Pennsylvania over and above the ten million dollars estimated, of ten to twelve million dollars. In other words, the liquor business of this state—and I am ashamed to say it—is producing for this biennium, instead of $10,000,000, which was appropriated and in the budget last year, the sum of $20,000,000 to $22,000,000, and will produce that by the end of this biennium.

Mr. President, I say, and I am not afraid to face anybody in the State of Pennsylvania, that if we had profits from liquor in this state, made by this state going into the liquor business, of $10,000,000, I, for one, do not propose to vote for taxes that that $10,000,000 will avoid. The people of Pennsylvania and the people of the United States are now bowed down, so that business can hardly continue, unemployment is being increased by the tax burdens we are putting on the people, and our friends on the other side complain, and complain bitterly, because we refuse to vote taxes when we find that there are going to be $10,000,000 in profit in the liquor business that they have not counted on, and that has not been used.

We have been here for three months. We have heard all sorts of harangues, the Governor has called us all sorts of names, but when all is said and done, we have cut down the taxes that were proposed to be expended, $25,000,000. We have saved the taxpayers that much. We have discovered in cross-examination and by inquiry $3,000,000 more that were covered up from this personal property tax bill. We discovered $10,000,000 of profit that came out by mistake in the Finance Committee the other day, in the liquor stores. Mr. President, I, for one, with these facts before us, do not propose to vote any unnecessary taxes, and that is the issue that we can go before the people on, without shame or fear from any interests in this state.

They talk about the budget not going to be balanced, that perhaps some of the revenue is not going to stand up. There hardly has been a settlement made by any manufacturing companies in this state. Nobody knows how much the manufacturing tax that we levied last year is going to produce. Our cigarette tax is running double what it was before. They raised the question that they were not giong to be able to collect the $11,000,000 floor tax levied last year. Maybe not, there is a case pending on it, but nobody can say, today, I repeat, that our budget for the present biennium is not being balanced, nobody can say that this legislature has not got a right to use the funds that we find available for this emergency, and thus avoid the imposition of unnecessary taxes. Now, if you all that liquor tax profit, which is there and nobody denies it, probably at the end of this biennium, to the taxes that were imposed and will be imposed when we pass this bank tax and corporate net income tax from six to eight percent, we will have $49,500,000, we will have $45,000,000 for relief, as promised, and we will have more than $4,500,000 for other expenses. There is no reason in the world why the program should not be accepted. We have been negotiating up to last night and all today, and they go back to some other end of the capitol and return and say we cannot change it. Now, it is pretty near time that we have a showdown. Are we going to use the money that we have available? Are we going to treat the tax program as it should be treated, and get out of here, or are we going to stay and impose a lot more taxes and build up a campaign fund for the Democratic Party? I am against it.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, talking in a loud tone does not raise taxes, and I want to try to correct some of the confusing statements made by the Senator from Tioga. First, in respect to the value of the estimates. The Revenue Department told the committee that this bill, with the three mills tax, together with the accompanying bills, would bring in $24,000,000—that was the maximum—that includes the three-mill tax passed, which included the two sister bills, so called, the bank tax bills, and it includes the corporation tax, the corporate bond tax. The trouble with the Senator from Tioga is that he is figuring those three times, $21,000,000 for one item, $4,000,000 for another, and $3,000,000 for another.

The same situation exists today as it did when we got the first statement, and I am only making this, Mr. President, for the benefit of the Senators who are not in the Finance Committee. The Senator from Tioga knows these facts. You cannot make $27,000,000 out of that bill and he knows it cannot be done. We cannot get $3,000,000 out of the corporate tax. Half of that has been settled for the year. It actually is worth only $1,500,000 at this time. In other words, the four items that he refers to are worth $24,000,000, and not $27,000,000. Why he admitted it himself—he has always admitted it. I think now the "cat is out of the bag;" that after the statement made by the Finance Committee, headed by Mr. McClure, on the 13th, is not going to be lived up to. I want to read that statement, made last Monday night: "The Finance Committee of the Senate has reported to the Senate revenue raising measures appropriating $36,000,000. It has been agreed in committee that other revenue bills will be recommended providing revenue in an additional amount of $9,000,000, making a total of $49,000,000 for the purpose of relief. This amount includes the previous appropriations made by this Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly. The balance of this sum will be appropriated to the State Emergency Relief Board and by it be allocated from month to month over the period ending February 1, 1937. This amount of $45,000,000 has been agreed upon by the Republican and Democratic members of the Senate as a compromise figure."

I want to say that nothing has "slipped out of the bag." The Senator from Tioga voted for the first bill that was passed, $7,500,000, which was ten percent anticipated income for this year. Therefore, it did not "slip out of the bag," he knew it two months ago because we passed it more than six weeks ago. I say to the Senator from Tioga he helped to pass the Act of 1935, and in that Act he pledged all of the income from this State for the biennium, including the Liquor Tax, for the borrowing of $50,000,000 —all of it—and he attempts now to use that additional Liquor Tax as collateral for another loan. That is the answer, and I dare say that the Senator from Tioga would not advise any private clients that they could do anything else but observe the legal aspect of this case, and you cannot legally take this money out of the liquor stores—you might take it out as we did by force, when we got the advancements, but I do not think we can borrow money on it. I do not think that the Attorney General of this State will say it is a legal transaction if we use it, and we will be $10,000,000 short of the amount of money necessary to take care of relief.

MOTION TO POSTPONE BILL

Mr. PRESIDENT, in view of the situation as I find it tonight, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McCLURE and Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

Ealy,	Mallery,	Salus,	Ziesenheim,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not wish to prolong this discussion on the final passage of this bill, but I do wish to point out to the members of the Senate, especially the Democrats in this body, that this bill has already been defeated one time, and if it is defeated again today, it will be dead for the session, and whatever revenue there may be in this bill will be lost for this session. I at least point out to them for their consideration that situation, in order that they may know when they vote against this bill, it is possible to be defeated, and whatever revenue there is in the bill, or may hereafter be in this bill, will be lost in this session.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, of the remarks made on this bill I canot allow to go unchallenged the statement of the Senator from Tioga that the Democratic minority of this House does not enter into a compromise with the Republican majority unless we go to another room of this Capitol and come back changed. If that were true, it would have been at least a consolation to us that we had remained upon the spot where the people of this Commonwealth want us to remain in order to work out the problems of the people, and we do not seek the secluded rooms of hotels and other luxurious offices to receive our orders.

Mr. President, in voting upon this bill, the Senator from Bucks has said, or pointed out here, that this bill had been defeated once, and a second defeat will kill the bill for this session. The Senator from Bucks may well know that it was his twenty-nine Republican Senators that voted to keep this bill where it is, and in all fairness, and if they believe in what they say and in the program that they are going to give us, then let the twenty-nine Republican Senators vote for the bill and it will not be defeated.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not want to talk on this bill again, but I do not want to sit idly by and listen to wrong statements made by the Senator from Tioga in connection with the discussion of the bill.

In the first place, coming from Philadelphia, I resent the slur that was handed to a Judge who is making a reputation for fairness and decency for himself, of which even the Republican Senators may be envious. I want on this floor to state that the gentleman happened to be in the committee, and he is in this situation because of the fact that he was invited into the committee room by the Chairman of the committee, and that gentleman is present and can make answer whether it is so or not.

I do not want to go into the figures that this gentleman has quoted, because they are so full of fallacies that I am quite sure my friends do not want to hear it. We came here this week with a statement of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, that the "Finance Committee has reported to the Senate revenue raising measures appropriating $36,000,000. It has been agreed in committee that other revenue bills will be recommended providing revenue in an additional amount of $9,000,000." Now, the Senator from Tioga "lets the cat out of the bag," and he says there will not be additional revenue bills and there will be a transfer from the liquor stores of the money which might be realized in profits. In other words, the whole question of relief will be permitted to be dependent upon whether or not the expectations of the profits of the liquor stores will be sufficient to carry the relief, in addition to which everyone in this room knows that when we made up our tax bills and our anticipated revenue last year, we included $11,000,000 anticipated from the Floor Tax. We all knew it was doubtful, and we all knew that unless that amount was realized, we would be short-changing the budget. It has developed that so far only $3,000,000 has been collected and the $8,000,000 balance is very doubtful. If they want to stand on a relief program which will be based upon such a shallow expectancy as that, it is their privilege and their responsibility. I will vote for the bill, not because I believe it is right, but because, as the Senator from Bucks has said, by reason of the attitude of the Republican Senators heretofore, this bill dies finally unless passed at this time.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in addition to what the Senator from Philadelphia has just said, I would like to say a word about the Judge of Philadelphia. The Judge was Secretary to our Governor for a number of months, he was Secretary of Revenue of this State for a number of months, and he was familiar with the revenue condition of this State. He has a brilliant mind. He was called here after the Republican side of this Senate refused to offer any program or agree to any program. If he came here on a couple trips and gave us the benefit of his brilliant mind, I do not see why he should be criticized.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Delaware to explain how Judge Kalodner came to visit the Finance Committee.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, one morning last week, I was on my way to the Capitol and met Judge Kalodner. We immediately started to discuss the tax situation as it was before us. I suggested at that time that I would be glad to have him appear before the Finance Committee any time. He came before us once or twice.

PREVIOUS QUESTION

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I call for the previous question.

The Call being seconded by five Senators,

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 43 (House Bill No. 26), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section one of the act, approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred seven (Pamphlet Laws six hundred forty) entitled "An act to provide revenue by levying a tax upon the shares of stock the companies incorporated under the provisions of section twenty-nine of an act entitled 'An act to pro-

At that time all roads and skyways lead to Allentown, the birth place of that famous American dish, ice cream.

As far back as the year 1774 a fair was held in Allentown, then known as Northampton. The charter to hold said fair was granted to John Penn.

The present great Allentown fair has been conducted successfully since 1855, by men who receive no dividends upon their memberships, but who devote all the profits which accrue from year to year to the building up of the properties of the fair.

The fair conducts one of the outstanding national poultry shows with exhibits coming from representative poultry breeders throughout the eastern part of the United States. In the cattle, sheep and swine departments the representative breeders east of the Mississippi are always represented at this fair. A parade of the prize winning animals is held daily on the race track. The Allentown race track is one of the fastest half mile tracks in the world, and holds three world's records at this time. Such great horses as Dan Patch, Peter Manning, Prince Albert Democracy, Joe Patchen, Sweet Marie, George Gano, Joe Boy, Exall, Major Delmar, Uhlan and many others have raced on this track in better than 2:10, and with a record of 1:55¼.

A comprehensive survey of attendance in 1935 disclosed that there were visitors from twenty-nine states and two provinces of Canada.

The society provides entertainment for all visitors through an unsurpassed clean show, participated in by the highest class of American and European acts.

In the midway will be found all the oddities and freaks of nature from the four corners of the world.

Near by is the world-renowned game preserve presented by General Trexler to the County of Lehigh, wherein during your visit you may see Buffalo and Elk roaming at large in a natural habitat greater in area than the city of Buffalo; therefore be it

Resolved, That in recognition of this outstanding coming event, the Members of this House of Representatives now agree, regardless of politics, race or creed, to forego all business and pleasure elsewhere, and to spend September 22nd to the 26th, 1936, at the finest county agricultural fair in the United States, and in a city second to none, there to be educated, enlightened, entertained, renewed and strengthened.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SIMON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Rinn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RINN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SIMON. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to ask the gentleman from Lehigh where Allentown is.

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Clinton, I would say that Allentown is known all over the world. It is on the map of the United States, and it is known every place people go.

For the further information of the gentleman from Clinton, Mr. Speaker, there are business people in Lock Haven who do business every month in Allentown.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh please tell the gentleman from Clinton where Allentown is?

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker, it is ninety-two miles from New York.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Clinton wish further to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh?

Mr. SIMON. No, Mr. Speaker. He has answered the question very satisfactorily, that it is ninety-two miles from New York. I can find it now.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RINN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Lehigh ever been to the York County Fair?

Mr. RINN. I have, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lehigh not concede that the York County Fair is far superior to the Allentown Fair?

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker, I will be perfectly frank with my friends. In my opinion there would not be any York County Fair at all if it was not for the Allentown Fair, because the York County Fair comes after the Allentown Fair on account of the liberality that we show the horsemen who come to the Allentown Fair, and in that way we are helping the York County Fair out.

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH. Will the gentleman from Lehigh not concede that the ladies of the York County Fair are more attractive than the ladies of the Allentown Fair?

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker, I do not concede that, because the world's most famous beauties—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. The gentleman from York, Mr. Flinchbaugh, has no right to ask a question that will tend to incriminate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the point of order is well taken.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

PROTESTING PRIVATE SALES BY DEPARTMENT OF BANKING

Mr. STONE offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 21, 1936.

Whereas, The Department of Banking in liquidating financial institutions in its possession should as a fiduciary use due diligence to protect the interests of depositors in such institutions and the owners of mortgages and other securities; and

Whereas, The present practice of selling properties and mortgages at private sale does not afford such full protection to depositors and owners: therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the House of Representatives that the Department of Banking as receiver of a financial institution, should not permit the private sale of any property or mortgage in its possession until the same has first been offered for sale at a public sale after due notice for at least ten days, and that if at such public sale no bid is offered in excess of that offered for such property or mortgage at a private sale, then that the private sale be effected;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Department of Banking by the Chief Clerk of this House.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the rules.

STATE BOARDS TO INVEST IN TAX ANTICIPATION NOTES

Mr. BLUMBERG offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent that it be read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the reading of the resolution at this time? Are there objections?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. WITKIN. Do I understand that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, objects to the reading of the resolution?

The SPEAKER. The Chair did hear objection, and consent is not granted.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Rule No. 84 be suspended for the specific purpose of having this resolution read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the only question involved here is the reading of this resolution for the information of the House, not for its immediate consideration.

I want to serve notice on this House and to the gentleman from Philadelphia that if this resolution is not read, I am going to appoint myself as a committee of one to object to every resolution introduced by you, when you ask for unanimous consent to have it read.

Common courtesy indicates that you ought to permit a resolution to be read for the information of the House, if you do not choose to extend to the membership on this side of the House that common courtesy, you will be here five hours every session that you are here.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in raising my objection I had no intention of being discourteous.

We have followed the rules pretty rigidly this year. We have objected to resolutions being read or being considered for the reason that it hampered the progress of the session.

Now, I inquire of the members before they introduce a resolution, when I know they are going to introduce it. as to the contents of the resolution. I knew Mr. Blumberg was going to introduce one, because I saw him stand up. Not succeeding in getting the floor, I inquired of him the contents and he refused to tell me. Since I usually look with political suspicion upon resolutions introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia, I objected to it, but after my objection he explained to me the contents, and, Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my objection of having it read for the information of the House.

The SPEAKER. The objections are withdrawn and the resolution will be read for the information of the House.

The resolution was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 21, 1936.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Governor and the fiscal officers be authorized to negotiate with the School Employes Retirement Board, the State Employes Retirement Board and the Workmens Insurance Board to ascertain the amount, if any, which [the funds under the control of] said boards may agree to invest in tax anticipation notes to be issued under authority of law to be enacted at this session of the General Assembly, and with the consent of the boards having the management of said funds to transfer to the General Fund for expenditure for unemployment relief purposes such sums as said boards may agree to invest in such notes.

Resolved, That the Governor and the fiscal officers be authorized to issue temporary notes of the Commonwealth to said funds for any moneys so invested and transferred until such times as definitive notes may be issued under the authority of law, such temporary notes to bear the same rate of interest as may be provided for in the definitive notes when issued.

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby pledges that it will enact appropriate legislation at this session of the General Assembly validating the action of the Governor and fiscal officers and of the boards making such investments and transfers and authorizing the issue to said boards of tax anticipation notes as of the date or dates when such investments were first made under the authority of this resolution, and also appropriating to the State Emergency Relief Board for unemployment relief purposes the sum of money so invested.

Mr. BLUMBURG. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, since the introduction of this resolution is an attempt to carry the transfer policy to funds to which even the membership does not have title, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Rule 84 be suspended for the specific purpose of considering the resolution.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BLUMBERG. The motion to suspend, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, was made for a specific purpose, so that some explanation could be offered on this resolution.

The gentleman from York has stated to the House that these funds are funds over which the House has no control. That is true insofar as the mere statement is concerned, but it has no bearing on the resolution.

The purpose of the resolution is to authorize the Governor and the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth to negotiate with the managers of the State Employes Retirement Fund, the School Employes Retirement Fund, and the Workmen's Insurance Fund for the purpose of ascertaining the amount, if any, which those boards intend to invest in tax anticipation notes. If they notify these officials that they intend to invest a certain sum—and it has been currently rumored that the Employees Retirement Fund intends to invest ten million dollars in tax anticipation notes,—then this resolution authorizes the fiscal officers to enter into an agreement with the Board or Boards providing for the payment of that money in advance into the General Fund, and by the General Fund transferred to the SERB, the fiscal officers giving to those boards now temporary notes, so that when the proper definitive notes of the tax anticipation loans go through, these temporary notes can be exchanged for the permanent notes at the same rate of interest.

In other words, this resolution is an attempt to offset the objection that is being made now to transfer funds. This resolution does not provide for a transfer of funds. It provides for a payment in advance by these boards of the investments which they will make in due course. We are not attempting to tap any fund, we are not attempting to transfer any funds. It is purely a voluntary action on the part of the boards and merely permits them to anticipate the amount of the payment or investment which they will ultimately make.

Now, it seems to me that this House cannot continue to be inconsistent in its relief attitude by taking the stand that it will not transfer special funds, and taking the stand that it will not pass the tax anticipation bill, and at the same time refusing to make any effort to secure in advance the payment of large sums of money, which ultimately would come to us.

I have heard of no plan this week which is going to prevent the stoppage of relief. Unless some plan is offered and adopted, if we do not pass the bills for the anticipation loan, then it seems to me if we do not pass this resolution, this week is going to see the same state of affairs that we so strongly deplored last week.

With that explanation I ask the House to pass this resolution.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Philadelphia has attempted to explain the purpose of this resolution. He has indicated by the presentation of this resolution the necessity of raising money by transfer or other means can be avoided by the utilization of the proposed tax anticipation note issued and the subscription to a certain amount of those tax anticipation notes by the funds that he has enumerated, namely, the State Teachers Retirement Fund, the State Employees Retirement Fund, the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

The real purpose that underlies the introduction of this particular resolution is an effort on the part of the gentleman and his friends who have concocted this idea to avoid the necessity of passing the tax legislation.

One week ago, or more, in this House a statement was read by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, which emanated from Senator McClure of the Republican Senate's Finance Committee, which indicated that $45,000,000 of tax revenue measures would be passed. The membership of this House, I am sure, has the recollection almost too fresh in its mind of the week that has just passed—a week in which this House sat, a continuous week—dillying dallying, twiddling their thumbs and accomplishing nothing, awaiting the action of the Senate. For an entire week the House reconvened, recessed, adjourned, remained at ease, and for an entire week it accomplished nothing, awaiting communications from the Senate upon which this House could act, and I might say that it was only due to the fact that the House was persistent in staying in session and calling the attention of the Senate to the fact that it was waiing for the messages of the Senate that we finally did have the opportunity to concur in one of the tax measures.

The purpose of this resolution, aside from all the logical arguments that the gentleman from Philadelphia produces, the real purpose, the germane purpose of this resolution is again to give to the Senate an opportunity for more delay, more inactivity, more aversion to action. For that reason I ask the membership of this House to take the position it has taken before, namely, to oppose these transfers until we get activity on the part of the Senate.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, were I certain that the gentleman from York was careful in the use of his language, I believe I would resent the statement that this resolution was concocted by myself and members on this side of the House. I am rather of the opinion that his use of the language was rather loose and the implication that the word conveys was not intended.

I cannot conceive, however, the position of the gentleman from York to the effect that this resolution was introduced only for the purpose of permitting the Senate to further dilly dally, as he states, in the passage of tax legislation.

I cannot for one moment come to the belief that the gentleman from York is satisfied that relief should stop in Pennsylvania and use that situation as a club to compel the Senate to act either with dispatch or with haste or with carelessness in the passage of tax legislation.

Now, the gentleman from York well knows that the Senate has already passed tax legislation in the neighborhood of some thirty odd million dollars. That money can be made available for the use of relief purposes by the passage of the tax anticipation bills, but that isn't being done.

Now, there is no political implication behind a resolution of this sort, and I am sorry that my friends on the other side of the House refuse to see it that way. I do not imagine that it is possible for you to believe that any resolution on this side of the House could be for the interests of the people of the State. You seem to feel that the monopoly for that sentiment rests wholly on your side, but let me urge you to think for a moment what you are doing. Under this resolution you are not transferring any funds, you are merely anticipating the receipt of funds and you are making an honest attempt to prevent the stoppage of the mailing of these orders again.

Now, you now that the Senate is in session and you know that they are considering the tax bills. Not only that, they are considering the social legislation bills, and acted on one of them this morning.

Now, if you men want to take the position that you are taking here and that your action is merely a club to compel some kind of action by the Senate and you are willing to take that responsibility, then I say, "Less or more power to you." Answer to those people who won't have relief for the next week or two."

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I merely want to answer one comment made by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen. He refers to the dilly dallying in the tax program. I want to say to him that the people in this Commonwealth ought to thank God that there is Republican Senate—and next session there will be a Republican House—by reason of the fact that millions of dollars of taxes have been saved to them.

Just today we ascertained that this Democratic Administration was hiding and concealing five or ten million dollars of revenue, which they were hiding and concealing from the Senate, but the Senate found out by their dilly dallying ten million dollars worth of liquor funds running over and above the estimated figure for the two years of five million dollars per year, or ten million dollars.

Well, if by dilly dallying and if by waiting patiently and if by refusing to follow the dictates of the Democratic chieftains of this State in passing seventy million dollars, the Democratic Senators and the Republican Senators and the Republican members of this House have come to the conclusion that the Governor was all wet with his seventy million dollars and they only needed forty-five million and if by dilly dallying we find ten million dollars of that, at least there is proper argument for investigation as to the ten million dollars which does not have to be raised in the form of new taxes, and if the representatives of Dr. Goodrich's Committee or the Governor, either one, are inclined to agree that if the bankers of Pennsylvania will give money upon these tax anticipation certificates to the extent of this ten million dollars, that was discovered to be concealed by the Democratic Administration at Harrisburg, then I want to say that I believe that the Senate of Pennsylvania is doing a valiant job and has done it for the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, because in their search for facts they have unearthed the facts, they are reducing taxation and yet at the same time are providing for relief. The amount has been agreed upon both by the Democratic and the Republican Senators of the same Senate as being the proper amount necessary for expenditure for relief and also the amount that His Excellency the Governor has decided is the proper amount or at least an amount sufficient to take care of relief needs, which is a reduction of twenty-six million dollars, and I also want to say that when it comes to the raising of the twenty-six million dollars, if we have to raise it, the additional taxation, you would have trouble even in this Democratic House of getting it through.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Blair will state his point of order.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, the question before the House is the suspension of Rule No. 84 and not any discussion of the resolution or matters pertinent to a resolution.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. All the speakers heretofore have failed to discuss the motion before the House and have discussed the resolution. The Chair has given considerable latitude to every speaker on this question.

Mr. AUKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that this latitude has been granted to all the speakers, I withdraw my objection.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman from Blair and I also want to say that he is absolutely correct when he says that I am not speaking on the motion, and the only reason I did so was because the gentleman from York in his argument was not talking on the motion. However, I will not take advantage of his generosity and will not pursue that argument any further.

Apparently the gentleman from York does not understand or does not want to understand the purpose of this resolution. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, has clearly pointed it out but perhaps repetition may enable the gentleman from York to understand it.

It is not a transfer of funds at all. Here is what would happen if you passed this resolution. The State Employees Retirement Fund, for example, would decide whether they were going to buy a million or two million or three million dollars of these tax anticipation notes when the tax anticipation notes were due, and that would be the end of it; or they could buy a million dollars worth, and that would be the end of it, or they could decide they would buy three million dollars worth. And now, we are not doing a thing to hinder them. We are not doing a thing to interfere with that part of it. We are not touching that fund, but we are going to give them the opportunity of meeting and deciding what they want to buy from the State of Pennsylvania. Now, if they state that they want to buy a million dollars worth, all we do is to anticipate their ability to buy it, to make the payment, and then have the money available to the State Emergency Relief Board. They may say, "we are ready to buy two weeks from now or we are ready to buy to-day." Now, we would say, "All right", and we will go ahead and give them a document to that effect, and we then turn the money over to the State. They have not been coerced nor have they been compelled, they do it voluntarily. The result is that the money goes into the General Fund, and the General Fund can make that money available for unemployment relief. What is wrong with that? It is not a transfer of funds. It is plain, ordinary, common-sense ability to get the money a little ahead of time without making anybody do it. I do not know what the gentleman from York is talking about. He talks about concoctions. I don't know what gra matter in his head can possibly concoct the imaginar theory that this resolution is a transfer of funds. To m it is most ridiculous. The same thing applies to the othe funds. Now, what does this argument consist of? Doe it hurry up the Senate. You will not hurry up the Senat because they are not going to be hurried. They ar going to find out where this money is. They are goin to get the facts. Now, you might as well make up you minds that you are faced with the problem of givin relief to the people or not giving relief to the peopl Therefore, if the Democratic majority of this House want to walk away today or tomorrow and not give relie to the people, when we already have thirty million dol lars of taxes, when we know that the money is avail able, if out of stubbornness, if out of spite, if unde orders in order to get revenge on the Republican Senate you want the people to starve, then let it be upon you conscience. If you have a conscience and you will exer cise that conscience without orders, then I say to yo suspend the rule and consider this resolution and pass it

When you do these groups can meet that situation At least they can buy these tax anticipation notes. Ther is no transfer of funds here, there is nobody hurt, an the people can eat this week.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker and members of thi House, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphi in regards to thanking God that the people of the Stat of Pennsylvania have a Republican Senate, I might sa that during my term of office here the transfer of fund by the Republican House and Senate is the reason wh we are here today, and I think it is about time that w quit thanking God for the Republican Senate and th Republican House and go along with the Democrati House and pass tax legislation, so that we will not com back here again in two or three months and find our selves in the same position. That is all.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House I think that the gentleman from Philadelphia was a littl loose with his facts in his attempt to explain the financia situation of the Commonwealth and if his ideas wer to receive any amount of publicity, an incorrect pictur of the situation would be presented.

The gentleman from Philadelphia accuses the administration of secreting ten million dollars of liquor funds Had the gentleman from Philadelphia known the facts the gentleman from Philadelphia would not have mad that statement. In an effort to elucidate—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, may I request that the gentleman's answer to this question be confined either to the motion to suspend or to the resolution rather than to the statement made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin? I believe that the widest latitude ought to be given to a discussion of the resolution, but I fear in getting to the side of the subject, we will be losing sight of the real importance of the resolution we are discussing.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has allowed a very wide latitude to all speakers and feels that it should be in the discretion of the speaker, the remarks that they make.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the indulgence of the House? I feel sure the statement coming from the gentleman from Philadelphia, particularly in the official position that he holds as minority floor leader, would indicate that there are $10,000,000 of funds which are not being utilized by the Commonwealth. It is of such importance to the membership of this House and to the entire citizenry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that an explanation should be forthcoming from somebody who has an intimate knowledge of the situation.

I ask the indulgence of the Republican membership of this House not to object if I possibly do go astray in discussing the resolution which is now under consideration.

However, the suggestion has been made by the gentleman from Philadelphia that ten million dollars of liquor store profits are being secreted by the administration and not being utilized for other purposes.

Let us pause to analyze the situation as far as the Liquor Control Board is concerned. In the first place, if the gentleman from Philadelphia and the members of this House will consult the figures on the estimated revenue for the Commonwealth for the biennium of 1935 and 1937, they will see that it was estimated there would be ten million dollars of profits from the liquor store operations and the collection of eleven million dollars in liquor floor taxes, making a total of twenty-one million dollars. What has happened? Through the very efficient administration of the Liquor Control Board, the profits for the first year alone were $10,000,000, the first year of the biennium, and in addition, during the first year of the biennium there was collected $11,165,000 in floor tax collections. The second year of the biennium we are hopeful, and I feel sure that the citizenry of the Commonwealth is hopeful, that the Liquor Store profits will amount to $14,000,000. However, there will be no floor tax collections pending the outcome of a suit which is now being prosecuted by the Attorney General in an effort to collect floor tax moneys without the necessity of having them in reality paid by the Liquor Store consumer. So, we have those three items of income from the Liquor Store for the biennium of 1935 down to 1937 of about ten million dollars profit for the first year of the biennium, fourteen million dollars for the second year of the biennium, and $3,165,000 from the floor tax collections, making a total of $27,165,000 against which we have anticipated a collection of $21,000,000, and deducting the $21,000,000 from the $27,165,000 we have an excess of income accruing to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from the Liquor Store operation of $6,165,000. So, when the gentleman from Philadelphia indicates $10,000,000, he is incorrect in that indication, for the simple reason that the figure is not ten million but in reality $6,165,000.

Now, we come to the accusation of the secreting of this fund at the end of this first year of the biennium. From impartial studies made by the Pennsylvania Economic Council, and studies by our own budget department, and studies by the fiscal officers, it would seem that the income of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania over the first year of the biennium was short the sum of $22,000,000. What caused that shortage is a question about which we naturally will be concerned. Of the $22,000,000 which we are short, $4,000,000 is represented by the fact that we didn't take over from the Liquor Store profits $4,000,000 into the General Fund. So, deducting $4,000,000 from the $22,000,000 we have now a shortage in the General Fund amounting to $18,000,000, $8,000,000 of that shortage is in reality deferred payments. At the last session of the Legislature the members here will all remember that we had passed a bill which allowed corporations a four percent discount on anticipated tax payments. Apparently the corporations did not take advantage of that four percent anticipated tax payment with the result that $8,000,000 of anticipated income in the first year of the biennium did not come into the Treasury of the Commonwealth. I wish to call attention to the fact that those moneys are not lost. Those moneys are deferred and will come in during the second year of the biennium. Deducting that $8,000,000 that did not come in through anticipated payments from the $18,000,000 which we have left after deducting the $4,000,000 from the $22,000,000 we have a balance of $10,000,000, the deficiency in the income of the Treasury of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania during the first year of the biennium.

Now, what occasioned that deficiency? The membership of this House can well remember that in the last throes of that session, in attempting to close the session, in an attempt to balance the budget, it was indicated that the Administration's estimates on income were out the sum of $20,000,000. In an effort to compromise and in an effort to get the budget in balance and in an effort to accede to the theorists who felt that business improvement would occasion an increase in taxes, the income of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was upped some $10,000,000 rather than the $20,000,000 which had been indicated, and these general revenues were held to be in an amount lower than the actual collections which resulted. However, after a year of actual experience, it is now ascertained that the Administration was 100 percent in their estimates as to the gross amount of revenue so that the boost of $10,000,000 represents the deficiency of the income in the first year of the biennium.

And now, when the gentleman from Philadelphia indicates that the Administration is trying to secrete $10,000,000 of Liquor Store profits and not to divert those profits to governmental obligations, the gentleman from Philadelphia forgets that it is necessary to have $10,000,000 of additional revenue for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in order to maintain a balanced budget. I am sure that the gentleman from Philadelphia does not desire that every tax item which is an over tax payment, every item in which our anticipation was lower than our actual tax incomes that those moneys should not be utilized for the payment of other governmental obligations.

In the case of the cigarette tax we are running away ahead in our anticipation, but on the other hand, in the collection of the corporate five-mill tax, we are running away behind, but the net result of these balances indicates that at the present time we are some ten million dollars short in actual collections over the first year of the biennium, and while we collected in the first year of the biennium in actual cash revenues an amount approximating $115,000,000, in order to keep the budget balanced over the second year of the biennium, it is necessary to collect $175,000,000 or an increase of $60,000,000 more than has been collected during the first year of the biennium.

Now, when the gentleman from Philadelphia indicates that there are hidden, secret funds that are not being utilized for governmental expenses, I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia and I ask the membership of this House, I ask the citizenry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in what manner are we secreting those funds when those funds are utilized to make up the deficiency of income in other tax revenue measures.

Let us come back now to the problem of the purpose of this resolution. The gentleman from Philadelphia maintains that it is not a transfer resolution. It is immaterial what you desire to call it. Actually what we are doing, in one instance we transfer moneys from the motor vehicle fund and from the other funds of the Commonwealth, and I have indicated that we would pass revenue measures in order to replenlish those funds. We have pledged the House to make that return. In this particular instance the gentleman from Philadelphia is asking this House that the trustee funds, the retirement funds of this Commonwealth, should be utilized to buy tax anticipation notes, on the pledge that we will issue those tax anticipation notes. In either case the transfer is based upon the pledge and the answer in both cases is the answer that has been given in this House a number of times: Pass the tax measures.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, everybody having answered everybody else, it should now be possible to bring this discussion back within the range of the pending question.

It is interesting, Mr. Speaker, to note that when we wander into parliamentary byways, we are invariably lead by the brilliant gentleman from Philadelphia, the minority leader, and the brilliant gentleman from York, the majority leader. Of course, under such brilliant leadership it is delightful to traverse the parliamentary wildernesses.—

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, will state his question of information.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state whether that was sarcastic or whether he meant it?

Mr. ANDREWS. Now, Mr. Speaker, I object to the pending motion, because it is absolutely unfair. The gentleman's resolution prescribes or calls for a series of legislation, complicated and probably unconstitutional. Certainly for a line of action that could only be undertaken on the basis of a bill or placed upon the basis of a resolution printed that can be read. I have no disposition at the present time to be bound to the course the gentleman suggests on the basis of a verbal reading from the desk and it is absolutely unfair to anyone who wants it act intelligently and honestly to ask them to make such an important decision on the basis of a document you can't have in your hand to read. There is no such compelling necessity that the gentleman cannot wait until the membership of the House is supplied with the document upon which he asks us to pass.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I absolutely agree with the gentleman from Cambria that we have gone far afield and that we ought to come back to the particular resolution that is before us and the motion that has been made to suspend the rule, in order that we may give immediate consideration to this resolution.

However, it seems to me that it is rather unfair for the other side to display or to give forth all of its arguments and for the gentleman from York to set forth all the figures pertaining to the tax question and to the fiscal question of the Commonwealth and then to say to those of us on this side that we have strayed away from parliamentary procedure and that, therefore, it should cease.

I am going to ask the indulgence of the House for just a few moments if I can confine myself to that matter, because the chairman of the Judiciary General Committee has just told me he has a hearing at two o'clock and I realize that the House is anxious to recess for that purpose. I am, therefore, not going to take the time that I had intended to answer a number of the arguments put forth by the gentleman from York. I tried to follow him through the maze of figures. We have heard them here before.

I have sat here and listened to the Democratic majority constantly talk about a tax program and that nothing would be done, whether it was a transfer of funds or anything else, until that tax program was adopted. I have sat here patiently waiting for them to put forth some program or to offer some means by which we might escape some of that tax program.

I think I said the other day on the floor of the House, and the gentleman from Westmoreland Mr. Dent answered me, when I said they had the cart before the horse, that instead of coming into this session of the Legislature with an inquiry as to the fiscal situation of the Commonwealth, it was not until the report of the Pennsylvania Economic Council that we had any clear picture as to the fiscal situation in the Commonwealth, and even yet we haven't the information that is necessary and should be necessary for any legislative body of this kind in order to determine what the tax program should be.

It is true that it is going to take about fifty million dollars to take care of unemployment relief and the necessary appropriation in this session, but it seems to me that the only idea of the Democratic side and of the administration is that when you say, "fifty million dollars" you immediately start out with a tax program.

Now, the fallacy in the statement of the gentleman from York is this: That while he talks about the moneys received during the first year from taxes falling below the amount that we anticipated we would receive, he is only talking about actual collections and not considering the very patent fact to those who are familiar with it and to those who have made an investigation of it that the difficulty lies in the fact that the Revenue Department of this State is not collecting the taxes that have already been levied and the taxes that could be collected.

While it is true that we have fallen ten million dollars behind in the first year, there is nothing in the whole program and no one on the other side has been able to point out to me the place where we will fall below the anticipated revenue.

On the other hand, I say to you that we are going to exceed the anticipated revenue of this biennium by at least fifteen million dollars. When you stop to consider that the gentleman from York has already admitted that the cigarette tax is running about double the amount anticipated, over eight million dollars, when we stop to consider that the State stores are going to make a profit of over six million dollars above the amount that was anticipated, when we stop to consider that the Corporation Tax, by reason of the removal of the exemption on the manufacturers, is going to exceed by ten million dollars the amount anticipated—when you take into consideration all these factors, you are going to come to the conclusion and you are going to find that on June first, 1937, if the Revenue Department and the Democratic Administration will get down to work and stop firing people from that department who know how to settle these taxes and who know how to put them over, and not put inexperienced and inefficient men in that department, you will find that we can exceed the anticipated revenue by fifteen million dollars.

Now, let me point out something else. It seems to me that with all the skill of the gentlemen on the other side in their anxiety to throw mud at the Senate of Pennsylvania in their deliberations in trying to work out this revenue problem of the State of Pennsylvania and to keep taxes off the backs of the people of Pennsylvania—let me point out that if the Governor of Pennsylvania would keep the promise that he made to the people of this Commonwealth during the campaign of 1934, when he said that he would reduce the cost of our State government by twenty-five percent, that we would not have any program today and we would not be here levying taxes upon the people.

The biennium appropriation for the biennium of 1933 to 1935, taking out such things as Mother's Assistance and the State employe's retirement fund and other items of that kind, was $133,347,321.30. Twenty-five percent of that would be $33,339,107.10.

Now, I, never believed that the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania could cut the expenses of our State Government by twenty-five percent or that any other group of men working upon it could cut it twenty-five percent, but in the organization of our State government and misguided perhaps by those surrounding him politically, he made that statement, that promise to the people of Pennsylvania.

For the biennium '35—'37, taking out the same items, such as old age assistance, and the blind, and so forth, the total appropriations were $138,328,164.21, or approximately five million dollars higher than the 1933-'35 appropriation. So, if the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania knew how to cut the expenses of this government twenty-five percent, he would have saved not only thirty-three million dollars but he would have saved an additional five million dollars that was appropriated in his administration, or a total of $38,000,000.

Now, in 1932 we had a special session and we were in just the same situation then as we are today. We were trying to find funds for unemployment relief by levying taxes. Governor Pinchot and the legislature got together upon a compromise and saved thirteen million dollars of the appropriation by that amount. Certainly the Governor of this State, if he could save twenty-five percent, could now save to the people of Pennsylvania ten million dollars at least on the appropriation for the balance of this biennium. If we add to that ten million dollars the fifteen million dollars anticipated revenue, we have twenty-five million dollars of the fifty million dollars of what we need, and as we now have passed tax bills amounting to approximately thirty million dollars, there is no problem here and the Democratic majority of this House are playing politics with the situation and are trying now to force further tax measures and they are trying to prevent the appropriation of money for unemployment relief, in order that they may force the hand of the Senate, if it is possible to do so.

I want to say to you, as members of this House, that I am tired of hearing these arguments about a tax program. I am tired of hearing you men talk about the Senate over there and its dallying. It is a patent fact, it is a fact that you cannot deny that through the deliberations of the Senate, as we have gone along week after week, we have discovered facts which we could not have picked out, which should have been presented to us by the Ways and Means Committee and by the Appropriations Committee of this House and by the Revenue Department of this State. They have not come forward and given us the facts.

As far back as April, when the bi-partisan committee met here in Harrisburg, we asked Mr. Evleth, of the Department of Revenue whether there were any more revenues anticipated, that would come in during the biennium than those anticipated, and he said no; that we would fall down on some and that we would go ahead on others, and yet the plain fact that has not been answered is that we have here these large increases that have already been mentioned, and which I freely predict will amount to fifteen million dollars.

Therefore, I say to you that this resolution is timely, that it is proper to stop right now and that we try to find the money that we have already appropriated and voted in tax measures of thirty-million dollars. If the Governor of this Commonwealth would go to Washington and get from Washington the moneys that the State of Pennsylvania ought to have for unemployment relief, if the Governor of this Commonwealth would get busy with the Revenue Department and speed up its collections, if you will keep some of these men who know how to settle these taxes, in order that these settlements may go through and in order that we may collect this money, if the Governor of the Commonwealth will go out and take his blue pencil and his red pencil and go over the budget and go over his departments and instead of increasing the number of employes he will cut down the number of employes, then we will have ample; we can go ahead and stop talking about the tax program, and we can go ahead and give the people of Pennsylvania the relief they deserve.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O Thou, the Father of all men, we are proud of our American heritage. When we study the early history of our land and behold the scenes enacted at her birth, set forth upon the printed page, depicted by the artist's skill or described by patriotic speakers, our hearts are thrilled. To see in retrospect the self-abasement of our forebears is to be exultant in the fact that we inherit the fruits of their labor and valor.

But is there not danger, O God, that we may become smug and inactive in our pride of national ancestry? Do we not at times forget that history is being made today and that future generations will scan the record we leave behind us, just as we review the deeds of the heroes of long ago? Lord we would be men of like caliber as our fathers. Men who realize that it is well to have good ancestors but more important to be good ancestors. Grant that we may so live that one hundred years from today our descendants may rise up and call us blessed. May Thy Name be glorified in our lives. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, some weeks ago I stated on the floor of this Senate that I entertained no hesitancy to vote for a $100,000,000 appropriation for the relief of the unemployed of this Commonwealth if certain changes were made in the system of administering the fund. The Journal sets forth my remarks pointing out the changes that this Senate should make. The Journal is also teeming with remarks of other members of this Senate on the same subject.

Whether the remarks come from members of the Republican majority or Democratic minority is of minor consequence. The major concern of the substantial members of this House, and the people they represent, irrespective of political affiliation, is the sincerity behind the remarks and the willingness to yield when yielding is the part of honesty. A man who is not ready to admit the possibility of human error in the management of our State government is neither human nor sensible. Such a man is unfit to sit in council with human beings and much less is he fit to sit as a member of this Senate representing the sincere and honest people of this Commonwealth. "To err is human; to forgive divine."

Remarks have been made in this House by members of the Republican majority that suggest a state of mind and condition of heart beastly insensible to humanity, divinity or honesty. These members are inhuman because the jingle of gold and the cries of privileged masters enslave their ears more potently than the cries of suffering humanity nailed to a cross of social injustice.

These members are unholy because their love for mammon grossly outweighs their love for the God of humanity—that same loving God to whom the Chaplain of this Senate appeals in our behalf for divine guidance.

These members are dishonest because they barter the rights of all the people for the favors of rich and privileged individuals. And then to add perfidy to their imperfections, they give to their inhumanity, unholiness and dishonesty the lying tongue of an Ananias.

Let me warn these members that the time is at hand when human rights shall be made paramount to the property rights of greedy capital.

Let me warn these members that the time is at hand when the God of humanity will use the might of human hands to stay their mad love for mammon.

Let me warn these members that the time is at hand, as it has already overtaken one of their number, when the starving people will violently remove dishonesty from the floor of this Senate.

A timely warning is also in order to those privileged lobbyists who without authority invade the floor of this Senate to practice their corrupt influences upon privately or personally interested members.

Let these lobbyists for chain stores, public utilities, oil, coal, steel and manufacturers be warned that the time is at hand when the unprivileged people of this Commonwealth will use avenging ropes to clear these lobbying rascals from the floor and halls of this Senate. Had it not been for the corruption practiced by these lobbyists the work of this special session would have ended six weeks ago.

It is common knowledge that the conduct of some members of this Senate is highly suggestive that they are in fact personally and privately interested in defeating bills and measures designed to provide proper social security and unemployment relief for the needy of our Commonwealth. I have in my possession documentary evidence showing pre-arrangement, pre-combination and collusion between members of this Senate and privileged interest to defeat bills and measures proposed and pending in this Senate. In seasonable time I shall make this evidence public.

I am not threatening. I am leveling these charges against the guilty ones, because I feel it my duty, under my oath, to point this out to all the members of this Senate for their consideration. Honesty cannot dictate otherwise.

Some may tolerate the manner the lobbyists ply their profession in this Senate chamber but no honest man should be asked to tolerate the plying of this profession by members of the Senate on this Senate floor.

This is a shameful practice and the time may soon come when the unprivileged citizen of the Commonwealth will remove it from their midst by the application of stern measures.

I trust that that day may be avoided. It can be avoided if this Senate can be induced to follow the provision of the Constitution. I now refer to Article III, Section 33, of that document which reads as follows:

"A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the General Assembly shall disclose the fact to the House of which he is a member and shall not vote thereon."

It is because members of the Senate are violating this provision of the Constitution that the program for Flood control, Unemployment Relief and Social Security is being scuttled and destroyed in malingering committees manned by malingering members. It is time that we bring this to an honorable end. A resolution was presented in this Senate to correct this evil. I now demand that that resolution be now acted upon.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that the Committee on State Government, of this Senate, be discharged from further consideration of Senate Resolution Serial No. 23, so that the same may be returned to the floor of this Senate for constitutional consideration.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I ask that the resolution be read in full; and I also ask for a roll call on the motion.

The resolution was read as follows:

SENATORS TO FILE RECORD OF THEIR SERVICE IN PUBLIC UTILITIES OR CORPORATIONS WITH CLERK OF SENATE

In the Senate, June 8, 1936.

Whereas, numerous measures or bills forwarded by the House of Representatives are now before this Senate or in the hands of its committees for consideration, and

Whereas, many of said measures or bills deal with revenue and other matters directly affecting Public Utilities and other corporations of this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, reports are current throughout this Commonwealth that the final passage of some of said measures or Bills will be defeated or unnecessarily delayed by this Senate or its committees by reason of influence exerted to that end by individuals having a personal or private interest in said measures or Bills, and

Whereas, Article III, Section 33, of the Constitution of this Commonwealth provides as follows:

"A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the General Assembly shall disclose the fact to the House of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon," and,

Whereas, it is the sworn duty of the members of this Senate to abide by the Constitution of this Commonwealth,

Now, Therefore Be It Resolved, that each member of this Senate deliver to the clerk of the Senate, on or before Wednesday, June 10, 1936, a certificate, to be spread upon the Journal of this Senate, answering truthfully the following interrogatories:

1. Are you an officer, or employe or the solicitor or attorney of a Public Utilities or corporation that will be directly affected by any measure or bill proposed or pending before this Senate?
2. Do you derive a salary, fee or wage of any kind from income of a Public Utilities or corporation that will be directly affected by any measure or bill proposed or pending before this Senate, excepting earnings derived from your ownership of stocks or bonds of said Utilities or corporation?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President and members of the Senate, I desire to state for the information of the Senate that very shortly after that resolution was referred to the Committee on State Government, of which committee I have the honor of being the chairman, at a largely attended meeting of that committee I brought this resolution to the attention of the committee. That committee consists of fifteen members, eleven Republicans and four Democrats. With practically all the members of the Committee present I brought the resolution before the committee. No member of the committee would make a motion to bring that resolution out of the committee.

Subsequently, at another meeting of the Committee on State Government, I again brought the resolution before that committee, with the statement that Senator Cavalcante had requested me to bring it before the committee. Again no motion was made by any member of that committee but by agreement it was postponed.

I simply desire to make this statement—that that resolution has been considered by the committee, has been on two occasions brought to the attention of the members of the committee, it has had as complete and full consideration as it is possible to have in any committee and I do not know of any member of the committee who is willing to make the motion to bring that resolution before the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. THOMPSON (Centre), and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17

Cavalcante,	Lanius,	Rankin,	Shapiro,
Frey,	McGreesh,	Reed,	Staudenmeier,
Harris,	McGinnis,	(Washington)	Thompson,
Huffman,	Prince,	Roberts,	(Centre)
Kahle,	Pytko,	Ruth,

NAYS—28

Aron,	Gelder,	Owlett,	Salus,
Batchelor,	Graff,	Pierson,	Sones,
Baumer,	Harvey,	Reed,	Thompson,

Buckman,	Howell,	Rice,	Trainer,
Chapman,	Law,	Rodgers,	Woodward,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend page 2, line 11 of the title by inserting after the word "time" and before the word "and" the following: "by providing that certain corporations shall not be subject to the tax"; also, section 1, page 4, line 13 by inserting after the word "approved" and before the word "shall" the following: "except any such corporations all of the shares of capital stock of which (other than shares necessary to qualify directors) are owned by a corporation which is liable to pay to the Commonwealth a tax on shares"; also page 6 by inserting between lines 4 and 5 the following new section: "Section 2 If any provision of this act relieving any corporation in while or in part from the payment of the tax imposed by this act is declared unconstitutional by final judgment order or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction or if any such provision is declared by a final judgment order or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction to discriminate against United States securities in such a manner as to require an exemption or deduction of the same proportionate or otherwise in the imposition assessment or settlement of the tax or to impose tax upon moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of this Commonwealth coming into competition with the business of national banks at a lesser rate than is imposed on shares of national banks the Legislature hereby declares its intent that any such provision shall thereupon become inoperative and inapplicable from the effective date of this act and the corporations subject to the tax imposed by this act shall for that period and thereafter be taxed to the same extent and in the same manner as if any such provision had not been enacted"; also section 2, page 6, line 5 by striking out after the word "Section" and before the word "This" the figure: "[2]" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure: "3"

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator from Tioga state the purpose of the amendments so that we may know what they are trying to do.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state the purpose of the amendments.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, these amendments provide that stock in a wholly owned subsidiary corporation or a bank is exempt. If the parent company paid the capital stock tax on that stock, then the stock in the subsidiary company is exempt from capital stock tax as provided in this Act, No. 26. In other words, these amendments in this Act reinstate the exemption which was already in the bill, but which was over-ruled by the Supreme Court in the Schuylkill Trust Company decision. I understand the amendments have been agreed upon.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ASCERTAINING WHAT MONEYS ARE AVAILABLE FOR INVESTMENT IN TAX ANTICIPATION NOTES

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of a resolution which, in the absence of a number for it, I will describe as a resolution which provides for the paving of the way to bring immediate relief to the distressed.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I ask that the resolution be read.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 20, 1936.

Whereas, Moneys heretofore appropriated by this Session of the Legislature for unemployment relief will be again exhausted within a few days and further provision must be at once made to make available additional moneys for said purposes; and

Whereas, Objections to the further transfer of moneys from special funds has been made and it seems appropriate to ascertain whether other resources can be found; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Finance is hereby authorized to immediately ascertain whether tax anticipation notes may be legally authorized against the new taxes already imposed by this Session of the Legislature; and to contact the various boards of the Commonwealth, having moneys to invest, to ascertain what amount of moneys said boards may have available for investment; whether such boards will agree to advance moneys to the Commonwealth for unemployment relief pending the authorization and issue of tax anticipation notes and the rate of interest at which said boards will agree to invest said moneys;

Resolved, That said committee shall report the result of its investigation to the Senate as early as possible.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I shall be more than glad to be interrogated.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, has the Senator from Allegheny County, Mr. Harris, made any attempt to inform himself, from these different boards, as to how much money may be available?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I have not.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, pending the time between the introduction of the resolution and the present time, has the Senator from Allegheny County made any attempt to inform himself of the situation with regard to the funds of these different boards.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I have inquired of one board, and am informed there is $6,000,000 in the Teachers' Retirement Fund.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, is that amount available for investment?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, that is my information.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, from whom did the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, receive that information?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I am always willing to answer questions, but I am not willing to answer questions that will delay relief. This resolution speaks for itself; it says very plainly and definitely that the Committee on Finance is authorized to consult with these different boards to determine the very questions that the Senator from Centre is asking me. In the resolution it provides for the very thing which he is asking.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would just like to further interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the resolution itself provide one cent for unemployment relief?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the resolution does not provide one cent, but it points the way, and the only way I know, since there is objection to making transfers.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I would further like to ask the Senator from Allegheny whether or not this resolution, which only calls for another investigation of some sort, when he has made no inquiry of these boards, does not in effect delay the solution of the relief problem rather than expedite it.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the delay on this resolution was caused by an objection from the Democratic side of this House. There was no question raised, except that they objected on Monday night. Again yesterday objection was made, and delayed the relief action. Today again we find objection to the only way that is pointed out for relief.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, has informed the Senate that since the introduction of this transfer resolution, and even beforehand, while the money was under his consideration, he made no effort to ascertain the balances in these funds. We know that if this resolution passes the information cannot be transmitted from the heads of these different funds until sometime next week at the earliest; and I cannot see how we can help the relief situation, or expedite it, or, in effect, provide any money for relief, by the passage of this resolution.

Now, whereas the gentleman from Allegheny County has neglected to inform himself of the condition of these funds, whereas if, by simple inquiry, the same could have been had, I would like to state briefly to the Senate the condition of these three funds, which has been ascertained from the members of these different boards and from the officers in charge of these funds.

The State Employes' Retirement Board has cash on hand, July 22, 1936, in the amount of $989,000. There is an estimated amount of cash to accumulate in the next thirty days of $50,000. Therefore, the State Employes' Retirement Fund will have a total, inside of thirty days, of $1,039,000. The Board has been consulted, and the Board advises that the most they could invest out of this balance of $1,039,000 is $800,000. And it did not take any resolution to find that out.

The Public School Employes' Retirement Board had cash on hand, July 22, 1936 in the amount of $1,200,000. It will have additional estimated cash in the next thirty days of $500,000. Therefore, it will have a total available amount of cash on hand of $1,700,000 in the next thirty days. Out of this the Board will have available, after meeting their obligations which will accrue in the next thirty days, not over a million and a half for investment in tax anticipation notes. And, to inform the gentleman from Allegheny further as to the condition of this fund, I would like to remind him that the Teachers' Retirement Fund now holds $5,000,000 worth of these tax anticipation notes, issued last year.

The State Workmen's Insurance Fund, which we all know is the fund which guarantees the compensation payments to the victims of industrial accidents, had on hand today, July 22, 1936, the sum of $760,901.82. It is estimated that in the next thirty days it will have additional cash accumulated in the amount of $40,000. Therefore, at the end of thirty days it will have a total of $800,901.82. Of this the Compensation Insurance Board advises that it can probably purchase $350,000 worth of tax anticipation notes.

Now, Mr. President, we have been having these smoke screen resolutions throughout this entire session, without getting down to business and making any permanent provision for relief. This resolution, in effect, only delays the solution of the relief problem. It asks for nothing but information, which, Mr. President, I have given the Senate of Pennsylvania, and which is available in written form if anyone desires to have a copy of it.

I cannot see why we should be perpetually delaying the solution of this relief problem by resolutions, by investigations of one kind or another, when a telephone call would have answered this question a week ago. If we would go to half the trouble, to pass tax legislation and appropriation legislation, that we do to take these by-paths on this relief problem, I say, Mr. President, it would have been settled two monthe ago. And I say we can only stultify the solution of this relief problem by the passage of this resolution; and I ask that it be voted down.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, there has no member of this body, either Democrat or Republican, who has voted more consistently for relief than I have. Every bill that has appeared on the calendar I have voted for; I have voted to restore every bill to its original form by amendments from the Democratic side.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, now that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, has the information for which the resolution calls, what suggestion does he have to provide immediate relief for these hungry people?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the resolution speaks for itself. If passed, it will go to the Finance Committee, which will then have a conference with the different boards to determine that question.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, according to the slow time it is a quarter to eight. I have been around here all day and I have been waiting for something to be accomplished. I have no quarrel with the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, but there is a deeper question than what he thinks is the immediate question. I propose to vote against this resolution and to state my reasons for it: I do not want to give the Finance Committee any further excuse or reason for saying they have not had time to act, or they have been busy doing something else.

If the Teachers' Retirement Fund, or if the Workmen's Compensation Fund, is affected adversely, it will mean that there will be some more people that will have to be taken care of on relief. The Teachers' Retirement Fund is based upon a four per cent. income, and these Anticipation Notes are based upon an expected interest charge of one and one-half per cent.; and there is no reason why, even if the Teachers' Retirement Fund had the money, that that should be disturbed, if the bankers are willing to lend the money at one and one-half per cent. And the most important proposition is this: This is only another method of putting off the final day of judgment. I know that all the Senators here, or most of them, anyhow, are tired of all these temporary propositions to provide relief. Let us bring out the taxes, and bring them out promptly, and the temporary measures will not be necessary. I am going to vote against any temporary measures, whether temporary appropriations or temporary investigations, or temporary acts of any kind.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, if he questions my motives in presenting this resolution, and if he thinks that I had in mind the purpose of delay.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I suggest that I do not question, and never have questioned, the motives of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris; but, if I may answer the question, I suggest this: that I think that he may have put in the resolution for a legitimate purpose, in the hope that we might find some money there. Now that we have the information, I suggest to him that I have been familiar with these figures for the last twenty-four hours, and I suggest to him that he withdraw the resolution and avoid giving the Finance Committee any further excuse for delay.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I accept the explanation of the Senator from Philadelphia that he does not question my motive, that I did not put this resolution for the purpose of delay; but I cannot take his advice on withdrawing it.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, It seems to me that this resolution should be voted down. It has no value whatever, because this is directed to the Finance Committee, which will not meet until next Monday; and I say to you that this will do no good towards furnishing relief to the people that are here.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Almighty God, Who turnest the heart of the fathers to their children, and the heart of the children to their fathers; receive, we pray Thee, our unfeigned thanks for the good land which Thou hast given us. Forgive us our transgressions; cleanse us from all things that defile our national and state life, and grant that this people, which Thou hast abundantly blessed, may keep Thy commandments, walk in Thy ways, and fear Thee. Be gracious to our times, that by Thy bounty both national and state quietness may be duly maintained. Let Thy work appear unto these Thy servants; and let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us, and establish Thou the work of our hands upon us.

Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honorable, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, let us think on these things, and may the God of peace be with us. Amen.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 92, Printer's No. 172, on page 1 of today's calendar, bill on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCREARY.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 92, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith conferring powers and imposing duties on certain county and city officers and on the State Department of Revenue and fixing penalties.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCREARY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not going to try your patience for very long, but I do want an opportunity to say just a few words about this bill, No. 92. Through a chain of unfortunate circumstances, it has been delayed and delayed and delayed until now it seems to be the last leaf on the tree. Every time this bill came up for the attention of the House, the Democrats and Republicans seemed to get into a fight and waste a whole lot of time, so that there wasn't time for anything else, and I have almost come to the conclusion that the next time I have anything to present on the floor of this House I will try to pass a motion that Rule 84 be suspended, and the Democrats and the Republicans can go down there and fight it out, to get some of the poison out of their hearts. Perhaps they will both go to the hospital, and the rest of us can pass the laws on the books and adjourn and go home.

This bill has had a great deal of opposition. It was introduced in the 1933 session but was never allowed out of committee. I introduced it again in the special session and again it was not allowed out of committee. I introduced it in the 1935 regular session and it was allowed out of committee and on the floor of the House, but just two or three days before adjournment it was smothered over in the Senate.

Members of the House, I am not asking for the passage of a new bill. This bill is not McCreary's bill. It is just simply an amendment to an old bill, older than any man in this House—ninety-two years old. It was passed in 1844, signed on the 29th of April, being Act No. 318, signed by James Ross Snowden, Speaker of the House, and by William Bigler, Speaker of the Senate, and approved by David R. Porter, Governor. I would like to to call your attention, members of the House, just a moment to what these men said. In the 38th Section of this bill—this is a long bill, having forty-nine sections, and there are several matters taken up which are included in this same bill, and one of them is the most important thing that happened in this State up to that time. This bill provided for the appointment of a revenue commission, or commissioners of revenue, one to be appointed by the common pleas judges in each county, and state treasurer, to constitute a board of revenue commissioners. They were to meet in the Capitol. This bill provides for the enforcement and collection of this four-mill property tax. That was the first time that any tax had been assessed on anything but real estate, and it was evidently an effort on the part of those men to equalize taxation. Here is the reason they give for it—I am reading from this bill, ninety-two years old, which states that "the said revenue commissioners, when duly organized, shall proceed to ascertain and determine the fair and just value of the property in the City of Philadelphia, and the several counties of this commonwealth, made taxable by law, adjusting and equalizing the same as far as possible, so as to make all taxes bear as equally as practicable, upon all the property in the commonwealth, in proportion to its actual value, and having determined the same, shall make a fair record of the said valuation."

Now, members of the House, that was an attempt, an honest attempt by fair and honest men to bring about an equalization of taxation, and you, if you stop to ponder, and every man who thinks believes that equal taxation is a desirable thing, and these men started to do that ninety-two years ago, and where are we today. This bill for the past ninety-two years has never been enforced properly, while the tax assessment on real estate has continued to be enforced all these years from then until now, until now real estate has been taxed nearly out of existence. When you come to the present day you will find that the valuation of real estate in this state is about twelve billion dollars, on which it pays ten billion dollars worth of taxes. In other words, it pays within two billion dollars of the full assessed value, while the estimated value of intangible real estate is ten billion dollars, and at the present time it pays taxes on but two billion two hundred fifty million dollars, leaving an amount of seven billion dollars of intangible wealth on which no taxes have ever been assessed or taxes collected. This is just as unfair and unequal as it can be. All that this bill No. 92 does, gentlemen, is to make those intangibles bear a stamp indicating that this tax has been paid, or their intangibles become worthless and as ashes in their hands. It has been adopted in Indiana and it has been eminently successful. It has smoked out millions of dollars in intangible wealth in Indiana, and it will do the same thing, I firmly believe, in Pennsylvania. It will make the collection of that tax automatic.

Just the other day the papers said the commissioners of Dauphin county, the bankers of Dauphin county and the revenue department of the State were all in a huddle, trying to find out how best it could enforce the collection of this tax—a tax that has been on the statute books for ninety-two years. In 1913, twenty-three years ago, this bill was amended by giving all of the tax money intangibles to the counties. Formerly it was a State tax. For twenty-three years it was a county tax and should have been assessed and collected by the county commissioners. Yet the evidence goes to prove that every one of the county commissioners, with perhaps the exception of one or two counties, have neglected this almost entirely. In my own county of Erie there is an example of it. In the Internal Affairs' office, the figures will show one hundred and forty three million dollars in taxable intangibles, and the county controller's report shows that up to last year less than forty million dollars of the one hundred and forty-three million dollars has even been assessed or collected. Therefore, in my own county four hundred thousand dollars a year, at only four mills, has escaped taxation entirely, while in that vast area through there three thousand pieces of real estate have been advertised for taxes. I ask the members of this House, when did any of you ever hear of an intangible security of any kind being sold for taxes. I have never heard of it and I doubt whether any member of this Assembly has ever heard of it—such a security being sold for taxes. Why this disparity between taxes on wealth? That is what it is; that is what this four billion dollar tax was intended to do, to equalize taxation.

Members of the House, please think about this bill; don't vote "no" on it because maybe you have a grudge against McCreary. It is not McCreary's bill. It is a bill which if you pass, with the stamp attached to it, you will smoke out, I firmly believe, millions of taxable intangibles of wealth in these counties and in the state, which has never been assessed and never paid a cent of tax. In these days of stress, when we are trying to find many new taxes—every bill that comes into this Special Session is a tax bill. Now, here is an old tax bill which has been on the statute books for ninety-two years. Now, all that this bill No. 92 does, I repeat to the members so that they get it firmly fixed in their minds, is to put a stamp attachment on here, where the owner of intangibles must himself secure a stamp and put it on his own intangible security, whatever it may be, and, therefore, he is his own assessor and he is his own collector. You will save from a million and a half to two million dollars of the estimated cost of the revenue department, and the stamp act will smoke out millions of dollars which the revenue department, the county commissioners, the assessors, and the bankers have never yet found, and we have no reason to think that they will. In my own county I have an example of it. Two weeks ago my commissioners came down here to find on the books of the revenue department one man who had paid the revenue department a one-mill tax on two hundred and fifty thousand dollars that he had not mentioned at all—a four-mill tax, in his own county. You will find that multiplied innumerable times. I hear people on every side talking about this bill. Why, when there has been a plain and simple way, by merely attaching an amendment to this bill No. 92, when you can go a long ways towards an equalization of taxation. That is what we are all striving for or at least ought to.

On the question recurring

Shall the bill pass finally?
